A FRENCH WOMAN.—The French woman's characteristics are generally that she is unexceptionably shod; that she wears inimitable gloves; that she has a toilet of two colors only, with a distracting way of wearing a shawl; that her manners are bewitching, full of small graces and delicately shaped coquetries, but never wanting in the nicest appreciation of external proprieties, to which her flirtations are always subordinate; that she has a marvelous facility of walking clean through the dirty streets of Paris, and as marvelous a knack of holding up her dress with one hand over her left hip; that she has a bewitching habit of mistaking her friend's husband for her own.

These are popular characteristics, and few people allow her credit for any other; but those who know her, know that other thoughts besides dress and flirting, work beneath those smooth bands of glossy hair, which look as if they had had a lifetime to get their present high condition of polish and intricate arrangement—and that the hands in their close-fitting gloves, can do something better than make up caps and crotchet purses; that she is not only an agreeable woman of society, but also a careful housekeeper, an affectionate mother, a submissive wife.

A French woman cleans her gloves, light boots, ribbons, silks and laces, at the cost of a few cents, with surprising success. They pass for new, on any inspection but the closest, and are worthy to do so. A French woman never buys a lining for a new dress—she cuts up her old and wornout petticoats instead. She unpicks and stiches up again, turns, irons and renews, until every inch of the stuff has served half a dozen purposes, and there is not an unworn thread in the whole garment. A French woman is always noticeable for her clean linen—cuffs and collars always white and fresh; but then she works them herself, and thus procures another great female luxury at small cost. It is the same with her table linen—napkins at breakfast, napkins at dinner, and fresh tablecloths or supper napkins, constantly renewed.

MRS. PARTINGTON'S VINDICATION.—The shadow of something dark fell on the paper we were perusing, on Saturday; and looking up, the black bonnet of Mrs. Partington brooded above our head like a detached thunder cloud. We saw at once that something was wrong. The brow of the dame was troubled like a mountain lake in November; her eye, in the cavernous gloom of the bonnet, seemed unwontedly brilliant; her voice was tremulous, as though pent feelings were struggling with some philosophical thumb that was holding them back. "See here," she said at length, and laid a Transcript before us, much soiled and crumpled, as if ashamed of itself; "see here," pointing to a paragraph insinuating that it was Mrs. Partington and not Mrs. Patterson who had been discovered at Lowell—"I can be contentious and unmovable under most things," said she, but this is an importation I can't stand, any how. What is it that I have lived so long virtuous, if I am to be treated with this vile calomel at the last? Don't you think I could level an attachment on the editor, for a label? We saw that she was excited, and not wishing to ruin the Transcript, we informed her that it was probably a typographical error, and that the editor would undoubtedly correct it. She went out to join Ike, who stood down stairs, watching the operation of Mr. Saunders's railway.—Boston Post.

A STRANGE FISH.—Dr. Gibbons has shown us a strange looking victim that has been fished out of Old Ocean, at the depth of thirty fathoms, near the Farallones. It appears to be a sort of cross between a lobster and a crab. It has ten claws, two of which are as large as the claws of the ordinary Eastern lobster and the balance half as large.—The large claws are capable of crushing an oyster in their joints. The creature is about ten inches in diameter, five inches thick, and fifteen inches from the end of the claw to the posterior of the body. It weighs six and a quarter pounds. This is the first of the species ever discovered, and will be named by the California Academy at their next meeting.—Plader Times March 24th.

POWER OF COCOA.—Professor Johnstone, in his "Chemistry of Common Life," states, that by the use of cocoa leaf, the Peruvian Indians undergo the most incredible labor. He says:—With a feeble ration of dried maize or barley crushed into flour, the Indian, if duly supplied with cocoa, under heavy burdens, day after day, up the steep slopes of the mountain passes, or digs for years in the subterranean mines, insensible to weariness, to cold and hunger. He believes, indeed, that it may be substituted for food altogether.

ALBANY STOVES.—The Albany Knickerbocker states that more stoves are made in that city than any other in the world and that the product of them this year, will amount to $2,000,000.

IMPORTANT.—Where there is danger of death from the use of Chloroform, a shock of electricity will instantly counteract the effects of the chloroform, and restore the patient to consciousness and life.

THURSDAY, APRIL 19, 1855.

NUNNERY VISITATION.

The Committee of the Massachusetts Legislature, which have been investigating the charges of the Advertiser, and the doings of the Nunnery Committee, have made a long report, of which the Courier gives the following brief view:

There are, according to the report, eight facts established: 1—That on the 26th of March, the Nunnery Committee, with ten or twelve supernumeraries, visited the Catholic School; 2—They spent from twenty to thirty minutes in examining the school, three or four hours at the dinner at the Norfolk House, and drank a "small quantity of champagne"; 3—The party was not denied admission to the school; but the ladies "claim that they were admitted for reasons that they supposed they came armed with right and power to enter"; 4 and 5—That there is no evidence that any one save Mr. Hiss, misbehaved at the school; 6—That there was complaint that the chamber of the sick girl was approached too closely; 7—That the Daily Advertiser article was based upon what was supposed to be a true set of facts; and 9—That according to the testimony of the inmates of the Catholic School no "terror was created" by the visitors.

The report considers the Visitation itself, as unconstitutional and illegal, and says of the Order, under which the Visiters acted,—

No member, either present at the time of its adoption or as he read it in the official proceedings on the subsequent day, supposed that the legislature had by its action authorized the illegal invasion of bed rooms, or the desecration of temples and altars. No reasonable being believed that therein lurked a license to an inquisition like that of ancient Spain.

We think the above quoted paragraph rather rich; as it makes the Roxbury School or Nunnery, to be at once bed-room and temple, house and altar.

The report fully sustains the right of the Advertiser and all other papers, freely to criticise all legislative action, and conduct of legislators.

It condemns the enlargement of committees by inviting outsiders, and also the costly feasting at the State's expense: but notices the fact that there are plenty of precedents for both these faults.—It does not recommend any action.

THE ADMINISTRATION AND CUBA.—It will be seen, from our Washington special despatch of this morning, that the administration has virtually backed out again at the sticking point of our controversy with Spain. There is no pluck in our man Pierce; in fact, Col. Polk was a Napoleon compared to him. Wall street, and our old fogy commercial journals, need entertain no further alarm.—The danger is over. The administration has collapsed like a bag of wind. Don't mind the bluster, bravado, and hue and cry of the Cabinet organs. It is a trick. There will be no war with Spain, if Mr. Pierce and Marcy—his good man Friday—can back out or beg off.—N. Y. Herald, 16th.

The administration is surely not responsible for all the tattle of Washington despatches and letters. That its foreign policy may have changed sometimes, we can readily believe; but that it changes so frequently and so absurdly as the reports represent, we cannot believe without better evidence.

We hope the danger is over; for we have no desire to see our commerce destroyed; and we hope President Pierce and Secretary Marcy may see their way clear to preserve both peace and honor, in spite of all the clamor made by fillibusters and braggarts.

LEGISLATIVE MORALS.—Great pains have been taken by a certain class of papers, to make it appear that a prominent trait in the distinguished advocates of total abstinence, and especially of strong liquor laws, is their drunkenness. We have seen this asserted in regard to Maine, where we know it to be false—to New York, where we suppose it to be so:—and lastly in Massachusetts. In regard to this latter State, the Boston Evening Telegraph says:

The majority of practical temperance men in the Legislature—and by this we mean total abstainers—is very large, larger than ever before known. There is an evident intention on the part of the daily press of Boston to make as much as possible out of the acts of a few liquor drinking men of the Legislature, most of whom belong in Boston. We care not how much such men are exposed and criticised. Let them be held up to public scorn, and let the men who voted for them hang their heads in shame; but let not the upright temperance men of that body who have been striving to legislate for the good of the people, be disgraced thereby.

ACTION OF THE METHODISTS RELATIVE TO JUDGE LORING'S REMOVAL.—We regret that an exaggerated statement of the action of the Methodist Conference, found its way into our columns last evening. The demonstration of three cheers alluded to did not take place during the session of the Conference, nor even at all; but after adjournment, in the vestry-room, quite a number being present, the news was imparted, when applause followed, by clapping, &c. The membership of the Conference is about one hundred and fifty.—Boston Td.

Occupations.—Ion, the Washington correspondent of the Baltimore Sun, says the favorite occupations of the American people are commerce, mechanic arts, manufactures, profession, avigation and fillibustering.

ILLINOIS CONGRESSMEN.—Readers are aware that at the election for Members of Congress last fall in Illinois, a question arose whether Messrs. Trumbull in the 8th, and Marshall (democrat) in the 9th districts, who received the majority of the votes, were eligible, they having been elected judges for a term which had not then expired, and the constitution of that State making judges ineligible to any office during the term for which they are elected. Gov. Matteson has recently determined to give a certificate, stating the facts, and leave the decision of the question to Congress. Mr. Trumbull has since been elected to the United States Senate in place of Gen. Shields, and precisely the same question arises as to his eligibility to that office. He will not claim his seat in the House. The constitution of Illinois renders them by its terms ineligible, but it is denied that a State can prescribe qualifications for a Member of Congress or a United States Senator.—Boston Courier.

The denial is right. The State has nothing to do with the matter. All these members should take their seats and hold them.

LOUIS NAPOLEON.—Mr. Appleton, editor of the Eastern Argus, being Secretary of the American Legation, at London, is writing home some readable letters for his paper. In his letter of March 30, he writes thus:—

Louis Napoleon and the Empress, it is officially announced, will visit England about the middle of April. The Royal party will be received at Windsor. The Emperor is a remarkable illustration of the instability of human affairs. The last time he came to London, he was a fugitive from the fortress of Ham. He will enter it now as the ruler of his nation, and the courted ally of Great Britain. Seven years ago he was a special constable of St. James's, and mounted guard, with the citizens of London, to protect their lives and property against disorder. Since that period he has raised himself to absolute power, and wields now with energy and ability the sword and sceptre of France. Seldom is a more striking contrast presented.

THE SIMPLICITY OF CHILDHOOD.—Everybody knows the penchant that young children have to tell all they know before company, and the awkward results which sometimes follow. The Knickerbocker relates an instance, thus:

My friend Adam S—— is a gay bachelor of some thirty five years; and though he is a devoted admirer of the ladies, yet time has shown its workings on his brow, and a 'scratch' of the latest cut and fashion now covers the place where the hair used to grow. He has a fine little nephew of four summers, who is a close observer of every thing around him, and with whom Uncle Adam is an especial favorite. While seated at breakfast one morning, the chat of the ladies, young and old, suddenly ceased, when our Willie broke the silence with, 'Ma, ma, I'll tell you something; Uncle Adam puts on his hair like a jacket!' Uncle Adam's confusion and dismay may be imagined, when it is remembered that a blooming girl of sixteen, on whom he was 'sweet,' was present.

HARVARD COLLEGE.—The Hollis Professorship of Divinity in Harvard College has long been filled by a Unitarian. Recently a bequest has been made to the College for the foundation of a new Professorship of Christian morals; and at a meeting of the Board of Overseers on Thursday, for the purpose of filling the new professorship, a resolution was offered by Dr. Blagden (Orthodox,) that the report of the committee on the new professorship be accepted, provided that the Hollis professorship be filled by an Orthodox man. This resolution was decided out of order, when Hon. Abbot Lawrence said, in order to compromise the matter, that, if the ones who supported the proposed amendment would vote for the resolutions, he and his friends would vote for the proposed amendment to all the professorship of Hollis.

The proposition was accepted.

The question was then taken upon accepting the report of the Committee, and it was accepted by a vote of 20 to 2.

The question was then taken on the resolution of Dr. Blagden, with regard to re-establishing the Hollis professorship.

Mr. Abbot Lawrence said he hoped the resolution would pass, and that a Baptist might be appointed—of whom there were plenty—and he believed such appointment would please everybody, unless it might be some bigoted Unitarians.—[Laughter.]

After some further discussion the vote was taken and the resolution passed unanimously.

Dr. Walker, Dr. Gannett, and Rev. Hosea Ballou were excused from voting.

It will be seen by this that the professorship of Divinity in Harvard College, is to pass into the hands of a different denomination.

IMPRISONMENT FOR DEBT.—Hon. Mr. Wright, of the Massachusetts Senate, has reported a bill to abolish imprisonment for debt, and punish fraud, which begins with this emphatic section:—"Imprisonment for debt is hereby forever abolished in Massachusetts." The bill is in sixteen sections, and while it jealously guards the liberty of the poor debtor, it provides for the prompt punishment of frauds. We have given the bill (says the Boston Herald) but a cursory examination, but from what we have seen of it, we are disposed to regard it with favor. No form of words can improve the sententious, ringing declaration of the first section:—"Imprisonment for debt is hereby forever abolished in Massachusetts." The people of the State owe Mr. Wright a debt of gratitude for his firm and consistent advocacy of this great principle.

What will New Hampshire do on this subject?

SCHOOL BOOKS.—In the Legislature of Massachusetts, on Monday, the House passed to be engrossed the bill concerning school books, which provides that towns and cities shall furnish books and stationery. This is a very important law, and will relieve poor people from a burdensome and vexatious tax.

LOCAL.

CONCERT.—Mrs. Wentworth's Concert on Wednesday evening, at the Temple, was in all respects successful. First, the Musical Feast was rich and rare; and secondly it was well furnished with guests—for the House was such an one as does the eye good to look upon. The solid men of Portsmouth were there, and the splendid women also; the musical critics, and the musical amateurs who don't care to criticise, but come to be pleased. And not only was the audience good, but there was a plenty of it—filling the spacious room, and replenishing the beneficiary's purse.

There is only one opinion of Mrs. Wentworth's singing among those that have heard her, viz, that the sweetness, purity and flexibility of her voice are happily exhibited and expressed in the ease and beauty of her musical execution.

Her musical aids on this occasion were of the first order of excellence, viz: Mr. Arthurson, the celebrated tenor singer from London, and the Mendelssohn Quintette Club.

The whole performance was finely executed and favorably received.

ROWDYISM.—On Tuesday evening between nine and ten o'clock, Marshal Hanscom and Police Officer Shannon entered the California Ranch, a "refreshment" saloon kept under Congress Block by Benjamin Grant, to still a disturbance there. While in the discharge of that duty, Marshal Hanscom was assaulted by John Grant, a clerk in the establishment, who inflicted a severe blow in his face. Officer Shannon immediately arrested the offender for this assault; but with the aid of the proprietor of the saloon, the culprit succeeded in escaping, and has not yet been re-arrested.

On Wednesday morning Benjamin Grant was brought before the Police Court, on complaint of the Marshal, for rescuing his brother John Grant from Officer Shannon. The complaint was fully sustained, and the respondent Benjamin Grant sentenced to pay a fine of $5 and costs. I. B. Claggett, City Solicitor, for State; Storer for defence.

It is about time that some of these fellows, who of course are not sober men, and who make so light of assaulting our officers, were themselves rapped over the head. We hope all such will feel the severity of the law to its utmost limit.

ROBBERY OF A CHURCH.—On Saturday night last, the Congregational Church in Seabrook, N. H., was forcibly entered, and the carpet, sofa, and chairs taken therefrom. The robbery is supposed to have been committed by a part of the Ladies' Sewing Circle, as they had taken a vote, the afternoon previous, to that effect, upon a suggestion that the articles be sold and the proceeds given to the widow of the late Rev. S. T. Abbott. The affair has produced considerable excitement in the village, and probably some arrests will follow.—Boston Transcript.

UNIVERSALIST QUARTERLY REVIEW. The April number of this Review has been issued by Abel Tompkins. The leading article is from the pen of the Editor, Rev. Dr. Ballou, President of Tufts College. It is entitled, "The Great Moral Conflict," and has reference to the questions involved in Dr. Edward Beecher's "Conflict of Ages,"—a work that has been honored with a remarkable degree of attention. No writer that has yet discussed the theme, has superior talents and learning to Dr. Ballou; and his article will excite much attention in theological circles. The Review contains the substance of the Rev. A. A. Miner's lecture on "Tertullian," one of the Christian Fathers, delivered before the Young Men's Christian Union. The other articles are upon "Sacrifices of the Law," "Elements of Character," "What is Will." The literary notices are unusually full. They are from the pens of Dr. Ballou, Rev. T. S. King, and Rev. J. G. Adams. The Quarterly is published at two dollars per annum. The present issue is No. 2 of Vol. XII.

NEW LIQUOR LAW.—It was rumored in the State House yesterday afternoon that Gov. Gardner had determined upon vetoing the liquor bill, and that he would return it to the House of Representatives in the course of the week, with his reasons for withholding his signature. This may be idle talk, but should he veto it there are "Maine law men" enough in the Legislature to pass it by a two thirds vote, the objections of the Governor to the contrary notwithstanding.—Boston Chronicles.

LIQUOR LAW.—We have noticed meetings of members of the liquor trade at New York city to take council with regard to the prohibitory liquor law which has recently passed the Legislature of that state. We are informed that a similar association exists in this city, which is composed of some of our most influential and respectable citizens, who have agreed to stake a sufficient sum of money to test the legality of the new Maine liquor law.—Boston Chronicle.

An Irishman and an Englishman falling out, the former threatened his opponent, that if he did not hold his tongue, he would "break his impenetrable skull, and let the brains out of his empty head."

Mr. Benjamin D. Robinson, of Meredith, died on Wednesday of last week, from injuries received at the accident at Meredith Village.

A boy three years old hearing a visitor make use of the popular saying. 'An honest man is the noblest work of God,' exclaimed with great earnestness, 'No, sir my mamma is the noblest work of God.'

A coroner's jury in Michigan were called on lately to "sit" on a hat and jacket found on the bank of the lake, and after six hours deliberation returned a verdict of Found empty.

ARE YOU SICK?

Then you can't be cured too soon. Don't delay until your complaint is incurable, and then mourn when it is too late. Four fifths of all the diseases which people the church yards might be cured by Ayer's Cathartic Pills, if taken in season. Don't go dragging through the Spring, faint, sleepy and listless, because your blood is loaded with bile. Don't wear the headache, heartburn, and their kindred disorders, because your stomach is foul. Don't parade yourself around the world, covered with Pimples, Blotches, Ulcers, Sores and all or any of the unclean diseases of the skin, because your system wants cleansing. Don't show yourself about, lean, haggard, all caved in, because your stomach and bowels need strengthening into healthy action. Ayer's Pills set these things right as surely as water quenches fire. They purify the body and blood, and restore their functions into healty activity which you can feel as quick as they are taken. They are the one great medical wonder of this age, recognized by all who know their virtues, and many thousands know them. Take the Cherry Pectoral for a Cough and the Pills for all derangements requiring a purgative medicine.

A WOLF AMONG THE LAMBS.—The Cincinnati Enquirer of the 10th, contains an exposition of a series of villanies perpetrated in that city by a reverend imposter by the name of John H. Wilson. The preacher had "killing accompaniments," and was engaged to be married to no less than eleven unmarried belles. Some of them had advanced him money to purchase articles of housekeeping. We quote the concluding part of the story:

The manner which led to the discovery of Wilson's multifarious engagements was, that a couple of the betrothed met by accident in a fashionable dry goods establishment in this city. After mutual recognition, they proceeded to examine various fabrics, and make purchases for the approaching nuptials. In the course of conversation they made mutual confessions of the contemplated marriages, and discovered they were engaged to the same man. A fainting exhibition of course followed. The disconsolate damsels returned without their purchases to the quiet village, where they speedily proclaimed the villany of the rascally pastor, who, getting wind that all was discovered, made tracks between two days during the past week.

Since his exit, it has been discovered that he sometime ago forged a draft on Mr. Elliot, of the Methodist Book Concern, which was honored. No tidings have been heard of him since his absquatulation, but we presume he will turn up under another name, when he can discover a convenient field to reap a harvest, by playing upon the credulity of the susceptible feminines who have a penchant for love and sanctity.

The death of Mr. John H. Mack, announced in our paper on Wednesday, was quite singular and melancholy. He was an engineer on the Atlantic & St. Lawrence Railroad—running between this city and the Danville Junction. Feeling somewhat unwell a few days since, Oliver Hussey took his place on the locomotive, and was accidentally killed. The circumstance preyed upon Mr. Mack's mind, and depressed his feelings very much. He continued to run down, until finally his disorder resolved itself into bilious cholic, and he died in a few days after the death of Hussey. He was, we are assured by his friends, a very likely young man, and his loss will be felt severely by his wife and children, and by a large circle of relatives and friends.—Portland Argus.

A MISSISSIPPI MIRACLE.—The Quitman (Mississippi) Intelligencer, of the 16th March, says that, a week or two previous, a woman in Kemper county, in that state, gave birth to a child covered all over with hair. It lived three hours, and spoke three distinct words—"seven years' famine." But the strangest thing about it is, half the population of Kemper believe it, and were struck with terror at the portentous warning. Cannot some of our churches send a few missionaries to that benighted region?

OSWEGO, Apr. 16. Large quantities of produce and lumber are constantly arriving here from Canada, exhibiting the effects of the Reciprocity Treaty. Since the opening of navigation, the arrivals at this port foot up 60,000 barrels of wheat and nearly half a million feet of lumber. Immense freight trains are transporting these products to the interior and New York city as fast as possible.

PHILADELPHIA, April 17th.—FATAL BOILER EXPLOSION.—The boiler connected with the cotton mill of C. Spencer & Co. at Germantown, exploded early this morning, shattering the mill, destroying the dry and dye houses adjoining, and instantly killing S. Seltzer, the engineer. Fortunately, it occurred before the commencement of the day's business.

MISS NIGHTINGALE, the British heroine, not being able to get suitable bedding for the sick at Scutari, without "regular orders," took some convalescents, stormed the storehouse, and seized upon the needed comforts for the sick soldiers. John Bull is delighted at this display of courage and good sense.

Courage is bad for health. Show us a prize fighter, and we will show you a gentleman who is troubled with a bruised head more than half his time. It is only the timid who reach old age. The man who 'ran away' at the battle of Saratoga is living yet, aged 93. His brother, who "wished to see it out," was 'run into the ground' the day after the surrender of Burgoyne, and died.

The town of Ashfield has elected for School Committee, Miss Lydia Hall, Miss Marietta C. Patrick, Joshua Knowlton, Frederick G. Howes and Alvan Perry.—Bangor Journal.

An unmarried friend declared to us, the other day, with an expression of countenance most lugubrious—"I never cared a farthing about getting married, until I attended an old bachelor's funeral."

Take this along with you.—'Tis just what you want.
The Great Specific of the Age.
OXYGENATED BITTERS!
THE ONLY SURE AND SAFE REMEDY EVER DISCOVERED
For the cure of
DYSPEPSIA,
IN ALL ITS VARIOUS FORMS,
As well as Liver Diseases, Fever and Ague, Billious Complaints, Bronchitis, General Debility, and all diseases of a kindred nature.
Read the following testimony from Dr. Henry E. Morrell, a skillful physician of N. Y. city. He says:—"The most effectual medicine to improve the tone and energy of the stomach is that prepared by Dr. George B. Green, of Windsor, Vt., and called the Oxygenated Bitters."
The Oxygenated Bitters do not contain a particle of alcohol in their composition, and are, of necessity, highly concentrated, to prevent the injurious action of the temperature of different climates. Each bottle, when diluted according to the directions, makes nearly half a gallon of medicine, as pleasant to the taste as lemonade; and as to quantity, quite the CHEAPEST MEDICINE.
I have employed them in a multitude of cases, and have uniformly found that, when used according to the directions, they gradually, but surely, remove, one by one, the various distressing symptoms which constitute the confirmed Dyspeptic, restore the stomach to its lost energies, and thus lead the patient back to the enjoyment of permanent health and strength.
It has also been used by the following persons, and received their unqualified approbation.—
Prof. A. A. Hayes, M. D., State Assayer, Boston
Prof. E. E. Phelps, M. D., of Therapeutics and Materia Medica, Dartmouth College.
Hon. Myron Lawrence, Ex-President of Massachusetts Senate.

JENNY LIND AGAIN IN PUBLIC.—A correspondent of the London Daily News says:

Jenny Lind has resumed professional life for a time, in order to raise thereby an endowment fund for an hospital in Stockholm.—With her arrival in Holland came the sad news of those recent fearful inundations, which, in the provinces of Guilderland and North Brabant, destroyed about 3,000 dwellings, and made 13,000 of their inhabitants homeless. On hearing the sad particulars, Jenny Lind immediately offered to give a series of concerts, the profits of which should be devoted to the patriotic fund now being formed for the relief of the sufferers. The first has already taken place at Amsterdam. As soon as Jenny Lind appeared in the concert room, the audience rose en masse, knowing no bounds to its enthusiasm. When she had finished her part, the orchestra struck up the Swedish National Anthem, and six children of the most distinguished families of the city advanced towards Jenny Lind, to ask her acceptance of a garland, a bouquet, and a testimony of thanks on the part of the audience, written in the Swedish and Dutch languages.

THERE are offered at these well-known Nurseries, this season, an unusually large number of FRUIT TREES of all descriptions. The collection of standard PEARS is very large, numbering, probably, more than any other Nursery in the State, and embracing over one hundred different kinds which have been proven adapted to our soil and climate. 8000 Pear trees on Seedling Pear roots, many of them being in a bearing state. 3000 Apple Trees, forty varieties, from three to six years on the bud. 1500 Cherry Trees, a good selection from two to four years old; besides Dwarf Pears and Plums—many desirable kinds. When desired, selections will be made for those ordering trees by mail, for doing which we offer an experience of twenty years.

IMPORTANT IMPROVEMENT
—IN—
Rotary Planing, Tonguing and Grooving Machines.

PATENTED NOVEMBER 21st, 1854.

THIS Improvement has been thoroughly tested and found to possess just what is necessary to perfect the rotary planer.

My machine will plane very much faster and better than any other now in use. I would particularly call the attention of those in want of machines for nice work, or for planing very thin, crossgrained or knotty material, to these machines, as it is impossible for them to tear or throw out loose knots.

My Clapboard Machine will plane and joint as fast as the clapboards can be put into the machine, and perform the work without sorting them so as to plane with the grain, upon any quality of clapboards, in a very superior manner, without tearing the thin edge.

Applications for rights and machines, or for further particulars, can be made to the Patentee,

HERTS BROTHERS, having been many years engaged in the manufacture of Metallic Pens, and during that time, having devoted their unceasing attention to improving and perfecting that useful and necessary article, the result of their unceasing efforts and numerous experiments has been the construction of a Pen on a principle entirely new, combining all the advantages of the elasticity and clearness of the Quill, with six times the durability of the Steel Pen; and thus entirely obviating the only objection that has hitherto existed against the use of Steel Pens.

This Pen will be found an invaluable article in Offices, as they never need wiping, also to Banks and Schools, as they will not spatter nor cut the thinest paper, and are warranted anti-corrosive.

CAUTION—The universal celebrity of these Pens having induced several disreputable Makers to foist upon the public a spurious imitation, it will please to be observed that each genuine Pen is stamped, "HERTS, BROTHERS' PATENT, 1853," and each box of Gold Pens will contain a label with a fac-simile of the Manufacturers' name.

DR. J. B. MARCHISI'S
Celebrated Catholicon,
FOR THE
RELIEF & CURE OF SUFFERING FEMALES.

It stands preeminent for its curative powers in all the diseases for which it is recommended, usually called

FEMALE COMPLAINTS.

Of these are PROLAPSUS UTERI, or Falling of the Womb, FLUOR ALBUS, or White, CHRONIC INFLAMMATION OF THE WOMB; INCIDENTAL HEMORRHAGE or Flooding; PAINFUL, SUPPRESSED, AND IRREGULAR MENSTRUATION, &c., with all their accompanying evils. (Cancer excepted) no matter how severe or of how long standing.

Let all interested call and obtain a pamphlet (free) containing ample proof, from the most respectable sources, of the beneficial results of its use; together with letters from highly experienced Physicians, who have used it in their practice, and speak from their own observations.

A WORD TO THE LADIES.

Should any entertain doubts as to the efficacy of the UTERINE CATHOLICON, I would respectfully state that I have for many years past, as my friends can well attest, been troubled with the disease for which this medicine is recommended, in its worst forms, and that by its use I have been entirely cured, and thus induced to accept an agency, and offer it for the benefit of others.

MRS. S. GAIT, 28 South street, Boston.

I feel it my duty to make known to the afflicted the virtues of MARCHISI'S UTERINE CATHOLICON, which has relieved me of Female Complaints of fifteen years' standing, and of so serious a nature, that latterly my physician suspected Cancer in the Womb. I suffered extremely, and at last was entirely disabled from attending to my usual pursuits. . . . . It has given me more relief than any thing I have ever used for these difficulties. I will take pleasure in giving further details of my case to any lady who will call on me at 67 Mill street.

THE WAY THE CHOIR-BOYS ARE TAUGHT IN ENGLAND.—The boys of the cathedrals, says the Musical Review, are often shamefully oppressed. It is a pitiable sight to see one of them, with tears in his eyes, trying hard to execute some awkward passage, while the presiding 'Mus. Doc.' holds over him, in terrorem, a ruler or music book. Yet this is far from uncommon. We know an instance in which the organist dealt severe blows on the head with the church-key.

This, from a work on Church Choirs, reminds us of a circumstance connected with the musical training of the boys, which we witnessed. We attended a lesson given by one of the curates of a wealthy incumbent.—After giving what he called a lesson, in which the boys appeared to take about as much interest as they would have done in being driven round on a treadmill, the teacher said, "We will now close by singing the Gloria Patri," evidently designed as a devotional exercise. The boys all rose, and at the lead of the teacher commenced singing to the One Hundredth tune, the doxology commencing, "Praise God, from whom all blessings flow." The attention of the teacher was almost immediately attracted by a poor little fellow who did not happen to get the pitch, but who was, nevertheless, trying to do his best. As soon as the offender was discovered, he was taken firmly by the collar of his jacket, and forced violently into the middle of the room by the curate, with a kind of benevolence which might have done honor to a hyena.—The poor little fellow trembled, looked round fearfully, breathed short, sobbed, and evidently expected something more severe. There were two strangers present, and perhaps to that circumstance he owed his escape.

THE NORTHERN RAILROAD ACCIDENT.—The Worcester Transcript gives an account of the accident on Monday on the Northern Railroad. The train which was thrown off consisted of a powerful 30 ton engine, two baggage and three passenger cars, and was running on a down grade in nearly a straight line, at the rate of 30 miles an hour. The cause of the accident is supposed to have been the expansion of the iron by the heat of the sun, which caused a rail to curve.

The engine was buried upside down in the sand, so as to be hidden from view entirely; and singular to relate, the engineer, fireman, and a man riding with them, unable to leap from the engine, were thrown into the corner of the cab, and in that position were plunged into the sand with the machine, head foremost. All three were got out unbruised. A baggage car, in which were the baggage master and two expressmen, in like manner, was turned over and over; boxes, trunks, and all sorts of packages tumbling over them, and yet all escaped without serious injury. But the most singular feature was in the escape of the passengers. In the foremost car were about fifty persons of both sexes, all of whom—with the exception of a lady, slightly bruised — were fortunately rescued unhurt. The rear car only remained upon the track. So remarkable an escape we do not remember to have chronicled.

SEEING THE ELEPHANT.—Passengers on the New York & New Haven cars have a fine chance to "see the elephant." Going from New York, the cars pass the farm of P. T. Barnum, a mile or so before reaching Bridgeport, Conn. On that farm, and in plain sight from the railroad, an elephant may be seen, very pleasant day, attached to a large plow, and doing up the sub-soiling in first-rate style, at the rate of about three distinct double horse teams. The animal is perfectly tractable. His attendant rides him, while a colored man guides the plow. The elephant is also used for carting large loads of gravel, in a cart arranged purposely for him, and in drawing stone on a stone-boat or drag, in piling up wood, timber, &c., and is made generally useful.

The eastern war is draining France of her soldiers. It is said that before April is ever another 10,000 of the elite of the French soldiers, will have left for the seat of war.

A QUICK CURE.—One day last week, an omnibus horse fell in a fit in Charlestown, Mass, and lay struggling, apparently in much agony. He was bled, but without benefit.—The driver then procured a phial filled with the minute grains used in homeopathic practice, and placed about thirty grains upon the tongue of the suffering animal. In a few moments they were all dissolved, and a change became evident in the animal's condition. He licked the outside of his mouth, as if to obtain more of the medicine; and in a few minutes got upon his legs, was again attached to the omnibus and driven to the stable, where at last accounts he was doing very well. Our faith in homeopathy, which before was not larger than a mustard-seed, or one of its own grains, has become considerably enlarged since this incident, and we look with a feeling of respect upon the little round spheres which have shown themselves to be such powerful aspersators.—Adv.

SAVED FROM DEATH BY FEMALE HANDS. On Tuesday, two ladies walking in Medford, on the railroad, passed a man helplessly drunk, lying across the track. They kindly removed him out of harm's way, as they supposed, when, perceiving a train coming along, they turned to see if he was secure from injury. To their horror, he had crawled again across the track, in such a manner that a portion of his personwas upon each rail. The ladies at once returned, and taking the man from the track, held him till the train passed by, when he was placed out of further danger. If the poor sot ever has a lucid moment, he will pour out his heart in thankfulness to these ladies.—Boston Telegraph.

Morning Chronicle.

FRIDAY, APRIL 20, 1855

KANSAS.

A young man from this city, Mr. Henderson, has sent us a number of the Kansas Herald of Freedom, and also a handbill, issued at "Kansas, Mo., March 26,"—a week before the election—in favor of slavery.

The latter is a curious document; addressed, as it says, not to the fanatical and ignorant hirelings of Emigrant Aid Societies and Kansas Leagues,—but to bona fide emigrants.

It speaks of the neighborhood of Missouri slaveholders and slaves, and says:—

You know that this population of which we speak do not consider their property safe in the neighborhood of men who glory in their abolition principles and practices; who pride themselves in the name of negro thieves. You know that the instinct of self-preservation will compel these Missourians to stand by and defend their rights of property guaranteed by the Constitution of the United States, and protected by the ægis of State sovereignty. You know that the constitution and the laws are set at defiance, and made the merest mockery, wherever this fanatical crew of abolitionists have the power. You know that at Chicago, Pittsburgh and Cincinnati, a master can no more expect to recapture his fugitive slave, than he could hope to have enforced his country's constitution and laws in the frozen regions of Canada, or in the heart of London. You know all these things, and that the people of Missouri are also fully informed thereof.

Under these circumstances put yourself in their places, divest yourselves of all consideration of the abstract policy of slavery. It is here as well as in Missouri, and the slave holder will not abandon his property at the dictation of foreign or domestic abolition societies.

This is the place where, we were gravely told, slavery could not go,—and where the famous Nebraska bill itself said (falsely) it was "not the intention to legislate slavery into nor out of the territory."

The closing paragraph is as follows:

You must decide this question, and let your decision be known and understood. If you vote with the abolition cohorts you cannot blame any for receiving you as embarked in the same cause. Nobody asks or expects you to abandon your principles, either in morals or religion, and if you are opposed in principle to owning slaves, you are at liberty to decline such acquisition. All we ask is the same liberty, of holding what is already our own, and holding them in safety, without the interference of others. This expectation is, we think, fair and reasonable, and we therefore call upon the honest emigrants, from all quarters, slaveholder and non-slaveholder, to unite with us in keeping from our new homes these fire brands of sedition—these conspirators of disunion and civil war—these northern importers of foreign paupers, and northern free negroes. Let your votes indicate your position on this important issue in a way not to be misunderstood. To-day tries your integrity—act like men.

Now is not this very liberal? We don't ask you to hold slaves: you may do your own work, and we and our families will despise you for it. We only ask you to vote that we may hold them, as we will not work, holding it to be a disgrace. Slavery is just as good as freedom, and has the same rights! Columbia, land of liberty!

But seriously, slavery, being a wrong, from beginning to end, can have no rights whatever: it can only have a possession of power;—and is to be treated as a wrong by freemen everywhere: to be suffered only where it must be, and escaped or destroyed as soon as may be.

ANTHONY BURNS, the freedman, does not sell oysters in Boston, as stated, but is lecturing in the western part of Massachusetts, on what subject it is not stated. We hope he may give his opinion on Rev. Dr. Adams's South Side View. It is, on the whole, not probable that Anthony stood on that side to take his view.

Anthony has made a deposition, confirming the statement that he wore irons in the Boston Court House.

Deponent further says that the irons were very tight and uncomfortable, but he does not think that his wrists were wounded by them. The scars upon the wrists of deponent were produced by irons worn by him after his return to Virginia.

Deponent further says that he worked in South Boston with Mr. Jones some days before he commenced working in Brattle street.

This latter statement fully corroborates the evidence that he was at work in South Boston when it was alleged he was in Virginia.

It is well remembered, that the only witnesses against Burns made oath that he was in Virginia on a certain day; and that unimpeached witnesses in Boston, testified that he worked with and for them in Boston at the same time. Yet, against all the laws of evidence, Commissioner Loring gave the benefit of this discrepancy, not to the man accused of being a chattel, but to the other man who swore to the falsehood about the date.

So scarce are tenements in Boston at the present time, that a gentleman has actually hired an unoccupied church at the South End as a domicil for himself and family.—Boston Herald.

SARATOGA, April 18.—The Saratoga and Washington Railroad was sold to-day under its mortgage, and bought by the owners of the mortgage, who will probably organize a new company.

NEW COALITION IN MAINE.—The Bangor Jeffersonian says a new coalition is in progress in Maine, between the Wildcats, i. e. the Hunker Democrats, and the Phebe Miles Whigs, i. e. the pro slavery Whigs. It says: "The Sachems of these two defunct political parties recently held a meeting in Augusta, at which, (the 'regular' Democratic State Committee being present, and acting in entire harmony with their 'equals,' the Feds,) a new democratic platform was erected, a fair division of the offices agreed upon, (when they shall come into power!) and the whole modus operandi of the next State campaign definitely marked out!"

Mr. Ephraim K. Smart, collector of the port of Belfast, who appears to be a leader in the new coalition, writes a very interesting letter, from which we make an extract.

The deliberations were of the utmost importance. The prominent Democrats present did not of course presume to control the action of the State Convention in advance, but they were generally united in agreeing to recommend a particular course of policy and action in the coming election. It was agreed that there ought to be no dumb Conventions—that we should have a platform—that the Convention nominating our candidate for Governor ought to adopt resolutions against Know Nothingism, against the extreme liquor legislation of the present Legislature, against the State abuses now being perpetrated, and especially against all plundering of the Treasury. Upon these points there was, we believe, very general unanimity. In relation to one proposition, there was a very full interchange of opinions. Those who have been called 'Straight Whigs' it was fully the opinion of all present should be invited to attend our convention and take part with us upon the proposed platform—and such gentlemen who might now take the places of those who have left us should be regarded as equals in all respects.

It was agreed that we should extend an invitation to 15,000 Straight Whigs to join us upon the leading issues of the day.

Upon such a platform it was thought that Senatorial and County tickets should be made up in every County from the ranks of the Democrats and Straight Whigs in just proportions—and it was further agreed that should the Straight Whigs of the State join us upon the platform proposed, that all appointments ought hereafter to be made in just proportion from the ranks of the Democrats and Straight Whigs. That after this is accomplished, all of course, would be regarded as belonging to the great national democratic party, and all in equally good standing.

To this polite and liberal invitation, Mr. Cowan, of the Biddeford Union, makes the following answer:

As one of the 15,000 Reed whigs, (there were only 14,001 of us) we most respectfully decline the invitation. We have no ambition "to be regarded as equal in all respects" with the very distinguished men who attended this meeting, and who, if Mr. Smart is to be believed, got up this programme of future political operations. We like Temperance soup and Anti-Slavery meat too well, to be seduced by fair words to take a seat at a table, upon which the most conspicuous object is a rum jug, and the most notable dish is a preparation of equal parts of Nebraskal villany and administration stupidity.

LAW.—Some censure has been bestowed by persons in conversation, if not by the public prints, upon the late Chief Justice Gilchrist, for having sent in his resignation of office, without notice to the legal profession—it having been supposed by many that a writ issued after the resignation, but bearing the teste of the Chief Justice, is invalid. To show that this impression is erroneous, the State Reporter desires us to say that in the case of Reynolds vs. Damrell, decided in Rockingham County, at the July term of the Superior Court in 1849, it was held as follows:

"Though by the constitution and the revised statutes, all writs are required to bear teste of the chief, first or senior justice of the courts from which they issue, the teste is a matter of form merely, and if defective may be amended. A suit for a just debt upon which property is attached, and in which the defendant suffers default, will not be quashed for defect in mere form, upon motion of a subsequent attaching creditor of the defendant."—Patriot.

THE AMERICAN PARTY.—Notwithstanding the severe opposition of the old parties and their presses to the Know Nothings in this State, it is reported on good authority, that the order was never more prosperous or strong than now. Without the means of certain knowledge in the matter, we feel sure that such is the case in this city, and that in the last four months they have nearly absorbed the opposition that manifested itself in one Municipal election, so that it can never be rallied again. Persons who look for the dissolution of that party before the next presidential election, will wake up the morning after that event to find what a blunder they have made. Shrewd calculators will not leave "Sam" out of the account in that way.—Newburyport Her.

BUSINESS IN BOSTON.—Sunday afternoon, between the hours of 1 and 5 o'clock, a gentleman had the curiosity to stand and count the number of visitors to a drinking house in this city, who effected an entrance by a private way, and he found them to be 386!—Supposing each to content himself with one glass, and ten cents a drink to be the price exacted by the groggery keeper, the sum received would amount to $38.60, out of which a fine of ten dollars and costs could be paid and a profit of one hundred per cent. remain. Through the vigilance of the police but few drinking places are ostensibly open on Sundays; and many who keep open secretly would not do so, only that others will not agree to shut up.—Telegraph.

EASTERN RAILROAD.—By a new arrangement for the foreign mails for Canada, received at Boston by the Cunard steamers, they are to be forwarded to Montreal over the Eastern, and Atlantic, and St. Lawrence roads, instead of over the Concord road, as heretofore. Passengers for Canada by the steamers, will be forwarded with their baggage from the Eastern Railroad depot in Boston at once, without trouble, expense, or delay of coming up to the city by other conveyance.—Salem Journal.

LOCAL.

CITY COUNCIL.

THURSDAY, April 19.

In Board of Aldermen—

Of Mr. Jarvis, asking for repairs on sewer at the Creek—referred;

Of Wm. Pettigrew and others, for a new grading of State and Pleasant streets near Rockingham Bank, so that the water may run toward the south mill pond—referred.

To extend State street west to Cass street—referred;

Respecting South Mill Pond—referred, for further examination; Ald. Wherren and Wendell added to the committee.

Committee on Streets reported a Resolution that the city purchase the lot of land on South street adjoining the gravel pit, the price not to exceed $300—adopted.

The special committee on that part of the Mayor's address relating to new High schools made a report, with the following resolutions:

Resolved, That a new building for the High Schools of this city, of sufficient dimensions to accommodate both, be built the present year, and that plans and estimates for such a building be furnished the City Council with as little delay as may be, for their further consideration.

Resolved, That the building be located where the Court House now stands, and that the Court House be sold to the highest bidder at Auction.

Resolved, That a lease be obtained of Congress Hall for a Court Room, and that the Hall be fitted and furnished for that use at the expense of the City.

Resolved, That a joint special Committee be appointed to carry these resolutions into effect.

The first and fourth resolutions were adopted, and the same committee appointed, to which was added Ald. Dearborn. The 2d and 3d resolutions were laid upon the table.

Committee on Fire Department made a report, asking for new apparatus, and recommended some change of existing regulations—referred to Finance Committee.

In Common Council—the Ordinance defining the duties of City Solicitor was reported back to the Council in a new draft—report adopted.

The resolution from the Aldermen, authorizing the purchase of addition land for gravel pit was concurred in.

The report of special committee on High schools came down from Board of Aldermen, and the 1st and 4th resolutions adopted in concurrence, and Mr. Kenney added to the committee. The 2d and 3d resolutions were laid on the table.

Both boards concurred in a resolution for a Convention next Thursday evening for filling vacancies in city offices.

A VISION BY GAS LIGHT.—Just as the lamps were lighted on the square, Uncle Toby saw a young man without his hat, hurried along by two officers, and followed by the usual rush of noisy boys, who only gave over their hooting when the poor fellow was fairly caged in the lock up. It was a sad vision, to see a face so fair, and a general appearance so good, in such a deplorable plight. But it was not a mere vision: there were sounds as well as sights, to move the heart and melt the eyes.

Am I drunk? said the victim: Am I drunk? What a world of dreadful meaning was there in this short question, as the poor fellow repeated it, in shame and in agony. He was one of those young men who despise drunkards, who think they can take care of themselves, and who spurn all dictation as to their habits or practices. The poor fellow was drunk; crazy, fighting drunk,—and did not know it, until he found himself a prisoner, to be shut up till he became sober. Uncle Toby did not say the law which punishes the drunkard is unjust: but he could not help thinking that he got the liquor somewhere, wondering where it was, and guessing whether the man who gave it knew that it carried the drinker to the watch-house.

CORRECTION.—We are requested to correct some errors in our police report in Thursday's paper:

The disturbance was not in the California Ranch, nor did the officers enter there; but the affray was in Fleet street, near Congress street, where John Grant was arrested by the officers, and rescued by his brother Benjamin and others. This happened also, at a later hour in the evening, viz., between 10 and 11. The trial and sentence were correctly reported.

LIGHT BOAT.—A Light Boat, to be stationed near Minot's Ledge, is to be built immediately at our Navy Yard. The preparatory operations were commenced on Wednesday. She will be one hundred feet long, and about three hundred tons burthen.

☞ By the new arrangement of trains on the Eastern and P. S. & P. Railroads, it will be seen that we now have three mails a day to and from Boston.

Would you have Health?

USE LAWRENCE'S VEGETABLE, PHYSical Jaundice BITTERS; and Cure your Cough with his PECTORAL. a12 tjl

THE REV. DR. LYMAN BEECHER, of Boston, late President of the Lane Theological Seminary, Cincinnati, Ohio, writes, "I have used the VEGETABLE PULMONARY BALSAM myself, with benefit, in catarrhal coughs and colds, and have known it to be used with good effect in the early stages of Pulmonary affections, in families around me."

[See advertisement in another column.]

ARE YOU SICK?

Then you can't be cured too soon. Don't delay until your complaint is incurable, and then mourn when it is too late. Four fifths of all the diseases which people the church yards might be cured by Ayer's Cathartic Pills, if taken in season. Don't go dragging through the Spring, faint, sleepy and listless, because your blood is loaded with bile. Don't wear the headache, heartburn and their kindred disorders, because your stomach is foul. Don't parade yourself around the world, covered with Pimples, Blotches, Ulcers, Sores and all or any of the unclean diseases of the skin, because your system wants cleansing. Don't show yourself about, lean, haggard, all caved in, because your stomach and bowels need strengthening into healthy action. Ayer's Pills set these things right as surely as water quenches fire. They purify the body and blood, and restore their functions into healty activity which you can feel as quick as they are taken. They are the one great medical wonder of this age, recognized by all who know their virtues, and many thousands know them. Take the Cherry Pectoral for a Cough and the Pills for all derangements requiring a purgative medicine.

STATE OF THINGS AT SAN FRANCISCO.—A highly intelligent resident at San Francisco, writing to the New York Evening Post, says:—

"Personal extravagance has been the chief cause of many of the failures there. W., of the broken house of—, lived like a Duke in every particular. H., the partner of another broken house, had horses which cost him $12,000, and lived in every other way in corresponding style."

He adds that

"The days of annual rents, in some cases equal to the whole cost of the property, and seldom less than fifty per cent annual income on the cost, have gone, never to return. No likewise has disappeared interest at from three to six per cent. per month. Labor is the next thing to come down; indeed it has already come down, and must go still lower. It was absurd to suppose that four to five dollars per day for common laborers, eight to ten for mechanics, and sixty to seventy dollars per month for farm laborers (and these latter found) could long continue in opposition to the competition, not only from the Atlantic States, but also from the rest of the new and all of the old world, the inhabitants of which would flock here by thousands and tens of thousands to participate in such rich remuneration. There is, in fact, at this moment, great distress here for want of employment, and thousands are anxiously desirous of returning to their homes in the old States if they could only find the means to do so. We have a gloomy picture ahead of us."

WASHINGTON, April 18.—The Cabinet is entirely unanimous upon the Cuban question. Commodore Mcauley's instructions are not such as to create a casus belli. He will resort to force only if a case should arise in which international law will justify it. The Administration is strongly in favor of a pacific relation with Spain. And Spain is fully advised thereof. It is thought her Cuban indiscretions and outrages against our commerce arose from the deep seated conspiracy among the Islanders, which confuses Gen. Concha, but he knows that the assault upon our commerce, and the imprisonment of our citizens must be put a stop to at once, and it is thought by the Administration that they will be stopped without the least danger of a war with Spain.

THE COURT OF CLAIMS.—The Washington Star of Monday reports that all three of the judges of this tribunal are now in Washington, Judge Lumkin, of Georgia, having finally concluded to accept the position tendered to him by the President. They were expected to organize formally on or about Thursday next.

NEW YORK, 18th.—PROHIBITORY LIQUOR ORDINANCE IN JERSEY CITY.—The Common Council of Jersey City, last evening, adopted a prohibitory liquor ordinance, by a vote of 10 to 1.

It is thought that it cannot be revoked, and that consequently no license can be granted there during the ensuing season.

This will disconcert those of our citizens who contemplated a removal across the Hudson in consequence of our prohibitory law.

VIOLENT STORM.—We were visited with a violent thunder storm about half past eleven o'clock this morning. The lightning was very vivid, and the rain descended in torrents, while for about ten minutes it became almost as dark as night. The storm seems to have extended over the whole State, and at Brockport, hail stones measuring seven inches in circumference fell.

ARREST.—Officer Dunn of Boston, arrested on Monday, an Irishman named Robert Allen, formerly in the employ of Mr. Mussey, on suspicion that he fired his barn a few nights since. He was examined at Brighton, before Justice Plummer, and the facts elicited were sufficient to hold him in $1000 for his appearance at trial in the Common Pleas Court:—he went to jail, and stands a good chance to go to the State's prison.

LOUISVILLE, April 18.—The notorious Dr. Hines, convicted in Louisiana some time since and sentenced to the Penitentiary for eleven years, and who recently escaped, was arrested here yesterday under the assumed name of Col. Hamilton.

Take this along with you.—'Tis just what you want.
The Great Specific of the Age.
OXYGENATED BITTERS!
THE ONLY SURE AND SAFE REMEDY EVER DISCOVERED
For the cure of
DYSPEPSIA,
IN ALL ITS VARIOUS FORMS, As well as Liver Diseases, Fever and Ague, Bilious Complaints, Bronchitis, General Debility, and all diseases of a kindred nature.
Read the following testimony from Dr. Henry E. Morrell, a skillful physician of N. Y. city. He says:—"The most effectual medicine to improve the tone and energy of the stomach is that prepared by Dr. George B. Green, of Windsor, Vt., and called the Oxygenated Bitters."
The Oxygenated Bitters do not contain a particle of alcohol in their composition, and are, of necessity, highly concentrated, to prevent the injurious action of the temperature of different climates. Each bottle, when diluted according to the directions, makes nearly half a gallon of medicine, as pleasant to the taste as lemonade; and as to quantity, quite the CHEAPEST MEDICINE.
I have employed them in a multitude of cases, and have uniformly found that, when used according to the directions, they gradually, but surely, remove, one by one, the various distressing symptoms which cluster around the confirmed Dyspeptic, restore the stomach to its lost energies, and thus lead the patient back to the enjoyment of permanent health and strength.
It has also been used by the following persons, and received their unqualified approbation:—
Prof. A. A. Hayes, M. D., State Assayer, Boston
Prof. E. E. Phelps, M. D., of Therapeutics and Materia Medica, Dartmouth College.
Hon. Myron Lawrence, Ex-President of Massachusetts Senate.
Hon. L. H. Arnold, formerly Governor of Rhode Island, now member of Congress.

AMERICANS ON CUBA.—We have a letter from Havana by the last arrival, which intimates that the American engineers employed in Cuba, who are quite numerous, are preparing to leave the island in consequence of the danger of arrest to which they are subject, simply because they are Americans. Their withdrawal will be a serious injury to the business interests of the island.—Washington Star of Monday.

Welcome Parmenter of Pawtucket, was found dead in Providence on Tuesday morning. He was suspended from a fence by a handkerchief, in a retired part of the city.—The surgeons who attended the post mortem examination, detected no cause of his death except strangulation, but the fact that he left home to visit Boston, where he is supposed to have obtained $100 by the sale of a bounty land warrant, and that when found he was without money, and in a bad neighborhood, afford grounds for suspicion of foul play.

Deacon Ephraim Locke of Epsom, N. H., committed suicide on Saturday last, by jumping into a well. He was about 70 years of age.

THERE are offered at these well-known Nurseries, this season, an unusually large number of FRUIT TREES of all descriptions. When desired, selections will be made for those ordering trees by mail, for doing which we offer an experience of twenty years.

IMPORTANT IMPROVEMENT
—IN—
Rotary Planing, Tonguing and Grooving Machines.
PATENTED NOVEMBER 21st, 1854.

THIS Improvement has been thoroughly tested and found to possess just what is necessary to perfect the rotary planer.

My machine will plane very much faster and better than any other now in use. I would particularly call the attention of those in want of machines for nice work, or for planing very thin, cross-grained or knotty material; to these machines, as it is impossible for them to tear or throw out loose knots.

My Clapboard Machine will plane and joint as fast as the clapboards can be put into the machine, and perform the work without sorting them so as to plane with the grain, upon any quality of clap boards, in a very superior manner, without tearing the thin edge.

Applications for rights and machines, or for further particulars, can be made to the Patentee,
JAMES A. WOODBURY.

HERTS BROTHERS
AMALGAMATED IRIDIUM ZINC & PLATINA
PENS.
WARRANTED NOT TO CORRODE.

HERTS BROTHERS, having been many years engaged in the manufacture of Metallic Pens, and observing that time, having devoted their unceasing attention to improving and perfecting that useful and necessary article, the result of their unceasing efforts and numerous experiments has been the construction of a Pen on a principle entirely new, combining all the advantages of the elasticity and clearness of the Quill, with six times the durability of the Steel Pen; and thus entirely obviating the only objection that has hitherto existed against the use of Steel Pens.

This Pen will be found an invaluable article in Offices, as they never need wiping, also to Banks and Schools, as they will not spatter nor cut the thinest paper, and are warranted anti-corrosive.

CAUTION.—The universal celebrity of these Pens having induced several disreputable Makers to foist upon the public a spurious imitation, it will please to be observed that each genuine Pen is stamped, "HERTS, BROTHERS' PATENT, 1853," and each box of Genuine Pens will contain a label with a fac-simile of the Manufacturers' name.

DR. J. B. MARCHISI'S
Celebrated Catholicon,
FOR THE
RELIEF & CURE OF SUFFERING FEMALES.

It stands pre-eminent for its curative powers in all the diseases for which it is recommended, usually called

FEMALE COMPLAINTS.

Of these are PROLAPSUS UTERI, or Falling of the Womb; FLUOR ALBUS, or Whites; CHRONIC INFLAMMATION OF THE WOMB; INCIDENTAL HEMORRAGE OR FLOODING; PAINFUL, SUPPRESSED, AND IRREGULAR MENSTRUATION, &c., with all their accompanying evils, (Cancer excepted) no matter how severe or of how long standing.

Let all interested call and obtain a pamphlet (free) containing ample proof, from the most respectable sources, of the beneficial results of its use; together with letters from highly experienced Physicians, who have used it in their practice, and speak from their own observation.

A WORD TO THE LADIES.

Should any entertain doubts as to the efficacy of the UTERINE CATHOLICON, I would respectfully state that I have for many years past, as my friends can well attest, been troubled with the disease for which this medicine is recommended, in its worst forms, and that by its use I have been entirely cured, and thus induced to accept an agency, and offer it for the benefit of others.

MRS. S. GATT, 38 South street, Boston.

I feel it my duty to make known to the afflicted the virtues of MARCHISI'S UTERINE CATHOLICON, which has relieved me of Female Complaints of fifteen years' standing, and of so serious a nature, that latterly my physicians suspected Cancer of the Womb. I suffered extremely, and at last was entirely disabled from attending to my usual pursuits. . . . . It has given me more relief than any thing I have ever used for these difficulties. I will take pleasure in giving further details of my case to any lady who will call on me at 67 Mill street.

MATRON AND BABY VS. MAIDEN.—Railway travelling would be far more wearisome than it is, but for the little scenes that occasionally occur in the cars, to relieve the monotony of the day. These are often very amusing, and sometimes quite dramatic. On the route between Albany and Buffalo, recently, all the seats in the car were occupied by two persons, save two or three which were tenanted by one passenger each, and one of these was a blooming, well dressed maiden of eighteen or twenty years. At a way station, in came a woman, "fair, fat and forty," handsomely dressed, but with a bold, vulgar expression of countenance, and bearing in her arms a "bouncing big baby." As she pushed along, looking for an eligible seat, her eye fell upon the one occupied by the damsel aforesaid, and she immediately went up to the spot and prepared to sit down; but the occupant, with a pretty toss of her head, told the matron she would "find a seat further on." She started accordingly, and, seating herself in a remote part of the car, looked back to the aristocratic lady, and exclaimed, loud enough for every body to hear, "Accommodation, certainly! I hope, my nice young woman, you'll have a dozen young 'uns yet, and every one of 'em as heavy to hold as this!" It was a terrible anathema; the maiden blushed to the very ears at the mere mention of such a thing (in public) and the ill suppressed laughter of the passengers was itself too cruel a punishment to allow its object any idea of severer retribution.

PAUL JULIEN.—This young and unapproachable artist appeared before a highly delighted audience at Huntingdon Hall last evening, and gave some new and most convincing proofs of his wonderful skill and ability as a violinist. One is at a loss which most to admire in this youth, the perfect ease with which he executes his music, or the marked control which he exercises over his audiences by his impassioned style of performance. Little Adelina Patti is most truly a little phenomenon, and appeared to very great advantage as a vocalist. She was enthusiastically applauded. The audience were quite taken by surprise at the piano forte performances of August Gockel, which certainly far exceeded anything of the kind ever produced before a Lowell audience. His great powers of execution, his magnificent contrasts, his musical lights and shades, his elegant accompaniments were all exceedingly pleasing and attractive, and not less wonderful than exciting.—Lowell Journal, 14th.

NAVAL.—Capt. Joseph Smith, Chief of the Bureau of Yards and Docks, and W. P. S. Sawyer, civil engineer, from Washington, are on a visit of inspection to the Brooklyn Navy Yard, and will leave for Boston in a day or two. There is great activity at the Brooklyn yard, not the least interesting work being the preparation of the barque Eringo for the Arctic cruise. Eighty-seven seamen were sent to the Boston Navy Yard on Monday, supposed for the sloop of war Cyane. The steamship Mississippi, from Japan, and the sloop of war Levant, from the Mediterranean, are hourly expected to arrive at the Navy Yard.

Rev. John Harvey Moore, new of Stamford, Ct., has accepted an invitation to settle over the Universalist Society in Concord, N. H. He will commence his labor the fourth Sunday of the present month. He steps into the place made vacant by the death of his lamented father. That this is a wise selection on the part of our Concord brethren, we need not say. Br. Moor is a gentleman in the best sense of the word. He has fine talents, good culture, and his speaking powers are such as to secure ample success. The high regard cherished for the father, will naturally be cherished for the not less worthy son.—Christian Freeman.

DEATH IN JAIL.—An Irishman named James Burns was committed to Boston jail on Tuesday night, as a common drunkard, and died in the lock-up Wednesday forenoon.

THE BELL EAGLE.—The Stamford (Ct.) Advocate says that recently an eagle with a small bell attached to him flew over that village, in a westerly direction. He was at an elevation of about 200 feet, and in tinkling of the bell could be heard distinctly.

Probably this is the same eagle that has been for months past round the sea shore of Maine. He was a noble fellow and had got to be quite a favourite among the shore folks. The tinkling of the bell followed every movement of his, and no one was allowed to molest or make him afraid.

HORSE KILLED.—A teamster named Jas Folsom, while on Central wharf, Boston, of Tuesday afternoon, struck his horse a heavy blow on the head with the butt of his whip, killing the animal almost instantly.

That teamster should never drive another horse. He ought to haul a hand cart.

A Western village having passed an ordinance forbidding taverns to sell liquor on the Sabbath day to any persons except travellers, the next Sunday nearly every man in town was seen walking around with a valise in one hand and two saddle bags in the other.

Rollin A. Leet has been indicted in Trumbull county, Ohio, for the murder of his sister, who was killed by accidentally drinking from a bottle containing Bitters, in which young Leet had put some strychnine for the purpose of poisoning his father.

Morning Chronicle.

SATURDAY, APRIL 21, 1855.

JUDGE MCLEAN AND THE FUGITIVE SLAVE ACT.—The Washington correspondent of the N. Y. Courier and Enquirer says that Judge McLean in his decision in the case of the United States Marshal for Ohio, who was committed to prison for contempt of the order of a State Court to release a girl claimed as a slave, affirms the constitutionality of the Fugitive Slave Act. The provision of the law authorizing Judges of the Federal Courts to appoint Commissioners with judicial powers, is also decided to be constitutional. The decision again establishes the principle that the judgment of a State court upon a writ of habeas corpus is not final, but that a person released upon such authority may be re-arrested by an officer of the United States.

This decision, if correctly stated, sets aside the Wisconsin decision, and establishes the principle that upon all questions affecting State and Federal relations, the State Courts have no authority.

We have no doubt it is so. And consequently, though our State Courts in New Hampshire may pronounce Uncle Toby a freeman, yet any State Commissioner can send him into slavery, on the oath of any two liars who may swear that he escaped from them in Virginia on a certain day. Uncle Toby may prove an alibi, so that no jury would condemn him. But if the Commissioner, who in such case is both judge and jury, is weak enough or wicked enough to lean to the southward and take his X., Uncle T. may suddenly be gone into slavery without bail or main prize.

He is not much afraid of it, in his own person—but he would, if he could, wake up the public mind to the enormity of that Unconstitutional Act, miscalled the fugitive Law.

No sound lawyer will dispute one of the above statements.

BOSTON BARBERS.—The Boston Courier says:—The barbers have been notified by the city authorities that hereafter their shops must be closed on the Sabbath. This is dealing with a minor evil pretty seriously. Let us see what the result will be. The "flying barber" system—the "peller," with his budges of napkins, soap, pewter mugs, razors, scissors, and parti-colored apron, going from house to house—will be revived, the labor on the one hand and the expense on the other increased, and no earthly good accomplished.

We can hardly believe the edict will be enforced;—and wonder, somewhat, that it is to be attempted. Thousands of the great unwashed, in that city, do not shave themselves, and seem to need a tonsor once a week at least. We question the wisdom of shutting those shops for the entire day. Some of the genteel barbers would like it. But the public, we think, would not gain, nor would church going be increased, but rather diminished. Why not keep them open till 9 or 10 A. M.?

The Boston Atlas learns from a private letter, that the whole number of votes cast at the last election in Kansas, was 6118! which is a thousand more than all the inhabitants of the Territory numbered at the last census—men, women and children. It is thought that at least 5000 illegal votes were cast, as large numbers of legal voters were deprived of their rights by the outrageous conduct of the Missourian interlopers.

This, we suppose, is an illustration of non-intervention, squatter sovereignty, and the great principle of self government! all of which are modern discoveries. This is the age of progress.

In Massachusetts there are now ten persons awaiting trial before the Supreme Court on charges of murder, viz.: four in Suffolk County, two in Middlesex, two in Bristol, one in Worcester, and one in Hampden.

If Massachusetts had abolished the death penalty, or if the Governors there had managed as those in Maine do, under a similar law;—then these ten murders would have been charged to the lenient law. But what shall they now be charged against?

BURKE PUT TO FLIGHT.—Mr. Burke, on one occasion, had just been in the House of Commons, with some papers in his hand, on the subject of which he intended to make a motion, when a rough-hewn member, who had no ear for the charms of eloquence, rudely started up and said, "Mr. Speaker, I hope the honorable gentlemen does not mean to read that large bundle of papers, and to bore us with a long speech into the bargain." Mr. B. was so swollen, or rather so nearly suffocated with rage, as to be incapable of utterance, and absolutely ran out of the house. On this occasion, George Selwyn remarked that it was the only time he had ever seen the fable realized—a lion put to flight by the braying of an ass.

If Selwyn had lived a few years later, he might have seen the sight frequently.

☞ An Anti-Slavery Convention will be held in Dover, at the Town Hall, on Tuesday next, April 24th, at half past 2 o'clock P. M., to be continued on Wednesday, for the free discussion of American Slavery. W. L. Garrison, Wendell Phillips and other distinguished speakers, are expected from abroad.

Sergeant Peter Clark, of the U. S. Marine Corps, and lately Orderly Sergeant of the Marine Guard at Pensacola, has become heir to an estate in Ireland worth six thousand pounds per annum. He has been in the U.S. army for 18 years.

A MUSICAL GENIUS.—Rev. J. G. Adams of Worcester, Mass., in an obituary notice of Mr. Emory Perry, (whose death we noticed a few weeks since,) in the Boston Trumpet, relates the following respecting a very useful life:—

Mr. Perry was a native of Holliston, Mass. and has lived in Worcester since 1825. He lead the choir in Dr. Bancroft's church for seventeen years, and afterwards in the Old South, the Baptist, and for the last six years in the Universalist church—of which he was a member—having been at his post but a few Sabbaths before his death.

In the Encyclopædia of Music, by John W. Moore, just published, it is said of him: He has taught at least three hundred schools, averaging seventy-five scholars each. He possessed a very remarkable voice, having a compass such as is seldom met with. In his best days he could sing from CC, second leger line below the base staff, to C, second line above, in the tenor—being a range of three octaves, of such uniform quality of tone that it was impossible to notice any change. His power of tone through this whole compass was very great, and the quality from C up was sweet and rich. He has sung with equally good effect, the songs of Raphael and of Uriel, in the Creation; and one would hardly know which to admire most, his tenor or bass.

A discourse was preached in reference to his death, from the text, "Man goeth to his long home." The audience was large, and the occasion deeply impressive.

THUNDER STORM.—The thunder storm on Wednesday evening, appears to have extended in various directions. In Newburyport a large two story building on Caldwell's wharf, occupied in part by Mr. Charles Pearson as a carpenter's shop, was struck by the lightning and destroyed. Loss $700, no insurance.—Mr. Pearson saved his tools. Several persons were knocked down by the electric fluid but not seriously injured, and in some places trees and fences were struck.

The Herald says, a part of the electrical discharge struck two apple trees and the fence in the rear of the Merchants Bank building, on Charter street, and was providentially conducted to the ground without injuring any one.—The shock was felt slightly in the Masonic Lodge room in the 3d story of the Merchants' Bank building, and the Tyler, who was standing outside the door with a sword in his hand, was thrown against the door, and so paralyzed that it was necessary to carry him home. We happened to be about 200 feet from the apple trees and saw the bolt descend which struck at the north end, and the discharge must either have divided in its passage from the cloud to the earth, or one of these phenomena have been the result of a return stroke.

In Merrimac street, near the building burnt, a number of persons passing through the street received a severe shock and several were knocked over. Mr. Amos Tappan, who had just left his store on State street, adjoining the Merchant's Bank, found himself upon the ground, struck down he scarcely knew how.

At the time of the storm a fair was going on at the Whitefield church, State street.—The room had just been darkened for the exhibition of some tableaux, when a vivid flash of lightning followed by a terrific crash came suddenly upon them, causing an almost universal scream of alarm from the females. A cry followed and the assembly imagining that the building had been struck, rushed for the door. Several females fainted, but no personal injury was sustained. In Charter street trees and fences were struck, and the bark of the trees as high as the branches, stripped off.

We have notices of the prevalence of the storm from New Bedford to Portland. In New York city there was a storm of thunder and lightning, on Wednesday forenoon. The Evening Post says "the sky was suddenly darkened about 11 o'clock this morning, and gas was lighted through the town for nearly an hour while a fierce thunder storm was making its transit across our island." The Calvary Church edifice in Pearl street, Brooklyn, was struck by lightning and considerably damaged.

Five of our Kansas emigrants arrived home on Wednesday, with sorry accounts of the country and the condition of the settlers. From what they say, there is no danger that Kansas will become a free or slave State, till all the rest of the earth is over peopled, for nobody that has strength to walk or money to pay for conveyance, will stop there long. The earth, they report, is actually parched and baked to the solidity of brick, by the long drought, so that it cannot be plowed, and no vegetation appears for cattle; there is no wood for building, and no water but in the rivers to be had. These emigrants are reliable men, but others equally reliable give directly contrary statements, and say that it is the garden of the world.—Newburyport Her.

A FORMAL INTRODUCTION.—An eccentric genius who delivered lectures in the Hoosier state to the general acceptance of the public, was in the habit of taking his wife along, when making his grand rounds. Sometimes she took a seat on the stand, and encouraged him by her presence. On such occasions before commencing his lecture, the male member of the firm invariably introduced his partner to the assembly. Taking her by the hand, he would gracefully lead her to the footlights, then waving his hand towards the people and looking the lady in the face, said, "Mrs. Jones—Audience." Then facing the assemblage, with a gesture indicating that it was necessary to identify the lady introduced, he added, "Audience—Mrs. Jones!" This duty accomplished, he proceeded according to the programme.—Dayton (Ohio) Journal.

WHERE SHALL WE BUILD?

Messrs. Editors:—By the published proceedings of the City Council, it will be seen that some progress has been made towards providing High Schools. The resolutions which passed have determined what kind of a building is required, and the committee have been ordered to present plans and estimates.

The next great question is, where shall it be built? The Committee, in their report, recommended the Court House lot. This plan will render necessary the destruction of the present Court House, from the fact that the building is from four to six feet wider than the streets in the neighborhood, so that a removal is impossible. Should this plan be adopted, the building would be of some little value to work into the new School House—and probably of more value to the city than to any private individual.

Should it be decided not to destroy the Court House, then some other central location must be proposed—which will, of course, involve the expenditure of a large amount of money, as there is no vacant lot near the centre of the city, of sufficient size and eligibly situated; therefore some improved lot with buildings, would have to be bought.

The question then is, which would be the most economical for the city,—to destroy the Court House, and thereby obtain a lot in all respects the best for the purpose, that can be found;—or to pay a large amount of money—equal at least to the actual value of the Court House—for some other situation. Almost any lot so purchased would require another large outlay to prepare it for the building.

The proposed plan of leasing Congress Hall is practicable, as the Courts would be provided with a beautiful and airy room, larger than their present accommodations, and away from the noise and confusion of the streets. The rent is less than the sum at present paid for the use of the Court House by the United States, and the large amount, equal to the rent, which is annually necessary to keep the present Court House in repair would be saved.

Upon due consideration, we think the proposed plan of taking the Court House lot, for the Schools would be the best arrangement that could be made. In the end, it would prove decidedly the most economical. Q.

MILL POND IMPROVEMENTS.

In addition to the remarks made in Saturday's Chronicle, by C., on the South Mill Pond, on examining the premises, he would recommend for consideration, extending the plan therein proposed, so far as to purchase the pond, and all the land between the pond and the street, lately opened, front of the house of Dr. Burroughs, which street should be continued to Auburn street.

This would give the City a lot sufficiently large for a beautiful mall, with a fine channel of water, extending through the same, which might be so arranged as to let in or out water whenever wanted, by placing two gates near the spot where the mill now stands. The gates might be so constructed as to open and shut by the pressure of water on either side, without hands, and to keep the pond so low as to prevent the water flowing over the flats even as they now are.

Yet, the plan of throwing up the banks against the channel might be as good or better; for this would give the means for raising the ground as well as forming the rivulet, and directing its course at pleasure. This may easily be done without any embarrassment to the City; and at the same time give labor to many persons who are anxious to obtain it, even at low rates of pay.

Suppose the City should hire a sum sufficient to carry out this plan: would not the land and the benefits resulting from it, more than repay the corporation for all the cost and labor.

Let this land be under cultivation for a few years, in order to prepare it for its future design, viz: for a City Common, and let it be fitly decorated with trees, shrubbery and flowers.

In this way the City would receive a seven fold reward; which will be fully acknowledged by all living, when this work is accomplished, and by generations yet unborn.

This plan will add to the inducements for placing the two high schools near by, as is now proposed by the City authorities.

For the satisfaction of all parties we would recommend that the City authorities appoint, in addition to both boards, a large number of business men of all classes of business, to meet on a certain day to examine the premises and to consult on the subject above proposed. C.

Would you have Health? USE LAWRENCE'S VEGETABLE, PHYSical Jaundice BITTERS; and Cure your Cough with his PECTORAL. a12 tjl

THE REV. DR. LYMAN BEECHER, of Boston, late President of the Lane Theological Seminary, Cincinnati, Ohio, writes, "I have used the VEGETABLE PULMONARY BALSAM myself, with benefit, in catarrhal coughs and colds, and have known it to be used with good effect in the early stages of Pulmonary affections, in families around me." [See advertisement in another column.]

ARE YOU SICK? Then you can't be cured too soon. Don't delay until your complaint is incurable, and then mourn when it is too late. Four fifths of all the diseases which people the church yards might be cured by Ayer's Cathartic Pills, if taken in season. Don't go dragging through the Spring, faint, sleepy and listless, because your blood is loaded with bile. Don't wear the headache, heartburn, and their kindred disorders, because your stomach is foul. Don't parade yourself around the world, covered with Pimples, Blotches, Ulcers, Sores and all or any of the unclean diseases of the skin, because your system wants cleansing. Don't show yourself about, lean, haggard, all caved in, because your stomach and bowels need strengthening into healthy action. Ayer's Pills set these things right as surely as water quenches fire. They purify the body and blood, and restore their functions into healty activity which you can feel as quick as they are taken. They are the one great medical wonder of this age, recognized by all who know their virtues, and many thousands know them. Take the Cherry Pectoral for a Cough and the Pills for all derangements requiring a purgative medicine.

Notice to Builders and Joiners.

THE attention of JOINERS and all engaged or interested in building is solicited to the fact that many of our finest buildings are defaced and their general appearance materially altered from the original design of the architect, by the miserably constructed, ill-contrived, and narrow contracted leaden goose-necks, or what is still worse, a skewangle continuation of the upright conductor with which the cornice is adorned—all of which may be remedied by application to J. E. CHAPMAN, PRACTICAL TIN PLATE WORKER, who will give his personal attention to the adjustment of all such defects. Specimens of Ornamental Goose-necks and Conductor Caps, on the most approved plan of modern architecture may be seen at his Tin Ware Factory, where he manufactures to order CONDUCTORS GOOSE-NECKS & GUITERS of all sizes, in the most thorough and substantial manner. NEW YORK, April 19.—In the court of Over and Terminer this morning, the bail fixed in the case of Hyler, Van Pelt and Linn, accessories to the murder of Poole, was reduced to $10,000 each. The bail was entered into and approved of, for Morissey and Hyler, and these two were liberated.

Washington Irving is suffering from the effects of a causalty which occurred yesterday. He was riding on horseback on the river road near "Sunny Side," when his horse took fright and ran away. Mr. Irving was thrown off, and taken up insensible, in in which condition he remained several hours, and is not yet entirely out of danger. Mr. Irving suffered, though less severely, from the restiveness of the same animal last summer. Several members of his family have left town for Sunny Side.

MORE PAUPERS COMING.—A Dublin paper states that the inspectors of Workhouses in the parish of Kildare, Ireland, on account of the crowded state of said workhouses, have paid the passages of 229 paupers to America, and they were to leave on the first of April via Liverpool for Boston or New York. The Marquis of Lansdowne was also about to pay the passages of a large number of poor Irish people to the United States this spring, as he did in 1852.

Died, in Dover, N. H., on Thursday, Feb. 8th, Mr John P. Sargent, aged 71 years.

The deceased has been a member of the Congregational Church for nearly forty years, giving daily evidence of the reality and vitality of his religious experience to all whose happiness it has been to associate with him, either in business capacity or in the relations of social and domestic life. A large circle of friends mourn their loss, but rejoice in his gain. Mr. S., at the time of his death, was the oldest of a family of twelve, (eight sons and four daughters) eleven of whom still survive—active members of society, all heads of families, and all save one or two, members of the church of God. The united ages of the twelve amount, in the aggregate, to about 740 years, the oldest being 71, and the youngest about 50 years. A more remarkable case of longevity in families, it would be difficult to find in the Union.—N. Y. Evangelist.

The Great Specific of the Age.
OXYGENATED BITTERS!
THE ONLY SURE AND SAFE REMEDY EVER DISCOVERED
For the cure of
DYSPEPSIA,
IN ALL ITS VARIOUS FORMS,

AS well as Liver Diseases, Fever and Ague, Bilious Complaints, Bronchitis, General Debility, and all diseases of a kindred nature.

Read the following testimony from Dr. Henry E. Morrell, a skillful physician of N. Y. city. He says:—"The most effectual medicine to improve the tone and energy of the stomach is that prepared by Dr. George B. Green, of Windsor, Vt., and called the Oxygenated Bitters."

The Oxygenated Bitters do not contain a particle of alcohol in their composition, and are, of necessity, highly concentrated, to prevent the injurious action of the temperature of different climates. Each bottle, when diluted according to the directions, makes nearly half a gallon of medicine, as pleasant to the taste as lemonade; and as to quantity, quite the CHEAPEST MEDICINE.

I have employed them in a multitude of cases, and have uniformly found that, when used according to the directions, they gradually, but surely, remove, one by one, the various distressing symptoms which cluster around the confirmed Dyspeptic, restore the stomach to its lost energies, and thus lead the patient back to the enjoyment of permanent health and strength.

It has also been used by the following persons, and received their unqualified approbation:—
Prof. A. A. Hayes, M. D., State Assayer, Boston
Prof. E. E. Phelps, M. D., of Therapeutics and Materia Medica, Dartmouth College.
Hon. Myron Lawrence, Ex-President of Massachusetts Senate.
Hon. I. H. Arnold, formerly Governor of Rhode Island, now member of Congress.

PENS,
WARRANTED NOT TO CORRODE.

HERTS BROTHERS, having been many years engaged in the manufacture of Metallic Pens, and during that time, having devoted their unceasing attention to improving and perfecting that useful and necessary article, there-suit of their unceasing efforts and numerous experiments has been the construction of a Pen on a principle entirely new, combining all the advantages of the elasticity and clearness of the Quill, with six times the durability of the Steel Pen; and thus entirely obviating the only objection that has hitherto existed against the use of Steel Pens.

This Pen will be found an invaluable article in Offices, as they never need wiping, also to Banks and Schools, as they will not spatter nor cut the thinnest paper, and are warranted anti-corrosive.

CAUTION.—The universal celebrity of these Pens having induced several disreputable Makers to foist upon the public a spurious imitation, it will please to be observed that each genuine Pen is stamped, "HERTS, BROTHERS' PATENT, 1853," and each box of Genuine Pens will contain a label with a fac-simile of the Manufacturers' name.

DR. J. B. MARCHISI'S
Celebrated Catholicon,
FOR THE
RELIEF & CURE OF SUFFERING FEMALES.

It stands preeminent for its curative powers in all the diseases for which it is recommended, and usually called

FEMALE COMPLAINTS.

Of these are PROLAPSUS UTERI, or falling of the Womb; FLUOR ALBUS, or Whites; CHRONIC INFLAMMATION OF THE WOMB; INCIDENTAL HEMORRHAGE or Flooding; PAINFUL, SUPPRESSED, AND IRREGULAR MENSTRUATION, &c., with all their accompanying evils, (Cancer excepted) no matter how severe or of how long standing.

Let all interested call and obtain a pamphlet (free) containing ample proof, from the most respectable sources, of the beneficial results of its use; together with letters from highly experienced Physicians, who have used it in their practice, and speak from their own observations.

A WORD TO THE LADIES.

Should any entertain doubts as to the efficacy of the UTERINE CATHOLICON, I would respectfully state that I have for many years past, as NEW YORK well attest, been troubled with the disease for which this medicine is recommended, in its worst forms, and that by its use I have been entirely cured, and thus induced to accept an agency, and offer it for the benefit of others.

MRS. S. GAIT, 38 South street, Boston.

I feel it my duty to make known to the afflicted the virtues of MARCHISI'S UTERINE CATHOLICON, which has relieved me of Female Complaints of fifteen years' standing, and of so serious a nature that latterly my physician suspected Cancer of the Womb. I suffered excruciately, and at last was entirely disabled from attending to my usual pursuits. . . . . It has given me more relief than any thing I have ever used for these difficulties. I will take pleasure in giving further details of my case to any lady who will call on me at 67 Mill street.

KANSAS NEWS.

We begin to get a clear idea of squatter sovereignty, as exercised in our Kansas Nebraska country, where the area of freedom has been enlarged by the extension of slavery.

On the plan of this squatter sovereignty, which we have been told is a great principle,—a thousand men might be sent down from Boston to Portsmouth the day before election in this State, squat here overnight, vote next day, override our own voters, send their men to Congress — and the third day go back again.

Something like this has been done in Kansas, as appears from various sources. An emigrant from Newburyport writes, April 1, from Lawrence, Kansas, as follows.

All the week, preceding the election, men were arriving from nearly all the slave States in the Union. Four hundred in one party came overland from Kentucky, avowedly with no other purpose than to drive the actual settlers from the polls, and choose their own men to the Legislature. From other States, over two thousand men came here, at the expense of ($20,000) each man having his passage paid, and one dollar per day besides, and their leaders from $10 to $20 down, per day.—Those from Kentucky would be absent fifteen days, none of them less than five; so said their leaders, who were not at all secret with their intentions, but said they had come here to vote, and would in spite of Governor, President, laws, and the d—l. They had men enough to outvote us, and they would do it peaceably if they could; if not, they had fire-arms and force enough to compel us to vote on their side. The whole week they were encamped all up and down the roads, like filthy plague-spots, on the face of these beautiful prairies. Drunk and loathsome, a sight to make the heart sick, over one thousand of them were in and about Lawrence during the week.

The governor being aware of all these things, had made proclamation of a form of oath which was to be administered to those whose names were not on the census list. It was, that they had come to Kansas, with the intention of making it their home, and forsaken all other residence but that in the Territory.

Well, day before yesterday came at last, as all great days will come, and every man was on tramp early for the field of action. Hardly a man could be met without his bowie knife, pistol or gun, and some with all three. I went along with the rest. Being out of the Lawrence district, I had to go about seven miles to the place of voting. On arriving there, I saw such a spectacle, as I hope I may never look on again, especially at such a place as the ballot box. There were about five hundred of the most desperate looking beings, that ever wore the human form.

I hastened to get near the box, when I heard them say, no Yankee should vote there to-day, and the first man who took the oath required by the law, should lose his life! (I use the words as I heard them.) I then felt that old Massachusetts called on me as her son, to plead her cause at the box that day. I had with me at that time, a small American flag, which I had taken along with me, not knowing but I might have some use for it.

The writer was assaulted to keep him from voting:—he unfurled his flag, and a battle ensued, with knives, pistols, &c., but though dragged from the polls, he escaped with his life.

One of the judges being on the side of the mob, some men then stole the ballot box from the other two, and ran among the mob crying "Hurra for Missouri!" The mob then chose two other judges to act with the traitor who stole the ballot box, and continued their voting while most of the legal voters went home burning with rage at the wrong which had been done to their country. There were about twenty men from free states present, while the whole amounted to about five hundred.

This was but one act of a scene which was being played all over the territory. It needs no comment from me. I ask you to make it known to your friends. Make it as public as you can; that in one of the territories of the United States, one of its citizens in whose veins runs the blood of the revolution, has been dragged from the ballot box—where he had a legal right—where he was called upon by his governor to assemble, and by tyrants who presumed to dictate to him the way in which he should vote. * * * *

It needs but a few brave hearts, from each town in old Massachusetts, to alter these things, and set them right. Come here.—Here is a soil to which none in the world will compare. It lays open to settlements. Shall it be polluted forever by the tyrants who usurped the power last Friday. No, no, let us drive back back the demons to their pandemonium.

I will just say, in conclusion, that twelve hours after the polls were closed, not one of these men could be found in the Territory.

Morning Chronicle.

MONDAY, APRIL 23, 1855.

SECRET BALLOT.—In Massachusetts, the Senate on Monday voted against the Secret Ballot; on Tuesday for the Secret Ballot, and on Wednesday against the Secret Ballot. A reconsideration of the last vote has been proposed.

This is childish. Why don't they vote for or against like men? Are Senators afraid it will damage their party? Probably they are. But let us look to the history of the secret ballot.

In the legislature which elected Charles Sumner, a Whig member seeing there were errors in the balloting, occasioned either by accident or by trick, moved to vote by ballots sealed in envelopes. A choice was at once effected.

The Coalition legislature then made a sealed ballot law, for the people: the whig papers ridiculed the law. They did not reason against it; for there is no one reason against the secret ballot, which is not also a reason against all ballots, and an argument in favor of viva voce and stand up voting.

The Whigs, when they come into power, did not repeal the law, for that would be too barefaced; but they amended it by a clause which makes it a little worse than useless.

The present legislature ought to be independent enough to re-enact the Secret Ballot Law of the Coalition, whether the Whigs laugh or cry.

P. S.—They have killed the bill by laying it on the table.

NOTES AND QUERIES.—Washington, in his farewell address to his countrymen, says, "cultivate friendly relations with all nations, as it is of the first importance." Arnold, in his history of Rome, states, that "as Cæsar was upon his way to the Senate House, upon the morning of his assassination, Artemidorus approached him with a written statement, and begged him to read it immediately, as it was of the last importance."

What is the difference, or rather why should two opposite terms be used interchangeably?—'Querist,' in the Boston Transcript.

There is no difference; and no good reason can be given why these two opposite terms should be used interchangeably, except that long usage, by authors of high reputation, has sanctioned the use of both terms.

We consider both phrases, however, as rather questionable English, in point of accuracy. The writers of both, meant to say, merely, that a certain act or thing, was extremely important; and as first and last are both extreme terms, they used them carelessly, changing the adjective important into the noun importance.

First, in some places means the chief in rank; last, in some places, means that beyond which there is no other. Thus they are extremes, and people will understand us when we use them—but the other form of expression is more simple, accurate and beautiful.

ENLISTMENT OF BOYS IN THE NAVY.—The Secretary of the Navy has completed a schedule of regulations for the enlistment and treatment of boys in the navy. They provide that only strong and healthy boys between the ages of fourteen and eighteen may be apprinticed, and in all cases the consent of the guardian is requisite. Being enlisted they must be sent to a receiving ship and instructed in seamen's duties. They are not to wait upon the officers as servants, and they are to be formed in classes, and receive instruction from the warrant and petty officers in an elementary English education. After instruction, the apprentices are to be furnished to sea going vessels, and are to be rated as first, second, or third class, according to their deserts—the pay of the first class being ten dollars, of the second class nine, and of the third eight. The boys are not to be allowed spirit rations, and will not be permitted to go on shore in a foreign port, unless accompanied by a petty officer or a reliable seaman. Three fourths of their wages are to be retained until the expiration of their term of apprenticeship, and at the same time they are to receive a parchment certificate, and to have preference for promotion over all others, if remaining in the service.

The New York Evening Post styles the Navy, a good place for bad boys, and a bad place for good boys,—and says,

The navy is a hard school for boys, but it is better than the schools in which too many of the boys in our large cities are educated, and it would be well, perhaps, if the press would give a wide circulation to the Secretary's circular.

The Portland Advertiser says this is all well as far as it goes,—but recommends that these boys may have the doors of promotion thrown open to them, not merely to be boatswainers, but Lieutenants and Captains. In other words to establish an aristocracy of merit in the Navy, instead of an aristocracy of favor.

MASSACHUSETTS.—The Boston papers inform us that Governor Gardner signed the new liquor bill on Friday, April 19.

The Boston Courier understands that before giving vitality to the measure, he obtained an opinion of the Attorney-General—endorsed by the Supreme Court of Massachusetts—to the effect that the act is constitutional. The law goes into effect in thirty days after its approval by the Governor.

THE EARTH MOVES.—These are days of progress. The North British Review, an able publication, has made an important discovery. Here it is.

"That coffee is a sufficient drink has been established over and over again. An additional proof has been afforded by the experience of the workmen at the Crystal Palace, many of whom we have observed making their coffee for dinner, having renounced all stronger liquors."

Thus some of the most enlightened and philanthropic in Great Britain have actually found out that a man can live, and work too, without rum or strong beer or wine.

How much ahead of them are we! not mere temperance men, not fanatics,—but liquor men and jug papers! Where is one in all New England now, that ever says rum is necessary for the working man? Echo answers, Where?

The complete vote for Governor of New Hampshire is as follows:—Metcalf, K: N., 32,716; Baker, Dem., 27,250; Bell, Whig, 3585; Fowler, Free Soil, 1269; Metcalf's majority over all other candidates, 612.

POLITICAL INTELLIGENCE.—In Connecticut, the total vote for Governor is as follows: Dutton, whig, 8911; Minor, k. n., 27,965; Ingham, dem, 27,324. The constitution requires the legislature in joint convention to elect one of the two candidates who have received the largest number of votes from the people. Mr. Dutton has not received votes enough to make him one of the "two constitutional candidates." Mr. Minor is almost certain to be elected Governor, next month when the legislature comes together, for the members are classed as follows:—Senate, whigs and k. n's., 19; dems., 2. House, Whigs, 26; dems. 66; k. n's., 135.

YOUNG AMERICA IN VIRGINIA.—On Sunday last, a white boy, Robert Frasier, in Gaston, Va., shot a black boy belonging to Dr. Clemens, of that place. The negro boy was playing with a cat, amusing himself in an innocent way, when this youth told the negro to leave the cat and play with him. The negro, not obeying this youth's command, turned round with his face to Frasier, and, as he turned, Frasier fired at him with his gun, the whole load lodging in the negro boy's mouth, tearing part of his nose off, knocking out two or three teeth, and injuring him very much. Frasier was arrested, but admitted to bail.

Rev. Frederick D. Huntington will deliver the oration before the Alumni at the next Commencement of Amherst College.——Wendell Phillips has been invited to address the literary societies of ten different Colleges within the past few months.——Hon. Charles Sumner is attracting immense audiences in the State of New York, where he is repeating his Anti-Slavery lecture.——Hon. Tom F. Marshall, the well known orator of Kentucky, has once more joined the order of the Sons of Temperance.

IF THE NEW LIQUOR LAW effects a change in the habits of our people from strong drinks to wine, beer, cider, and the like, some good may come from it. Possibly it may lead here to the extended culture of the vine, and the grape—and that thus the habits of the people may be turned from "red eye" and hot whiskey, to something better. We do not foresee as yet the coming day, when all mankind will consent to live on cold water—especially where, as on the lower Mississippi, the water is bad without filtration or some other process of distillation.—New York Express.

CAPE COD TELEGRAPH.—Several enterprising men have undertaken the construction of a line of telegraph from Boston to Provincetown. It is proposed by means of this line to report arrivals and departures, and to announce the approach of vessels whose arrival at Boston may be expected. By means of a complete system of signals, messages of all sorts can be interchanged between vessels and the station on the headland. The numerous conveniences and advantages which may result from this arrangement are obvious.—Boston Adv.

SEVERE SENTENCE FOR NIGHT WALKING.—In the Boston Police Court on Friday, Judge Russell sentenced Mary Jones to five years imprisonment in the House of Correction, on charge of night walking. This sentence is under the law lately passed by the Legislature. The Court upon learning that her father died Wednesday night, gave her an opportunity to forthwith leave the city, stating that if she was found here within five years, she would be immediately taken to the House of Correction. The penalty appears to us rather severe.—Bee.

THE LAW'S DELAY.—A curious incident happened yesterday in the Supreme Court. Judge Shaw was on the bench, and at the commencement of the docket, number one was the first called, but it appeared that it was not ready for trial. Upon this, the Judge arose and stated that he himself, as counsel, had entered that suit long before he became a Judge. When it is considered that he has been on the bench upwards of twenty years, the case may well be considered a parallel to Dickens' Jarndyce vs. Jarndyce.—Bos. Times.

Jeremiah Mason said, "unless a man occasionally tax his faculties to the utmost, they will soon begin to fail." President John Adams said to Mr. Quincy, who found him reading Cicero, "It is with an old man as with an old horse, if you wish to get any work out of him you must work him all the time." These two rules, so far as intellect is concerned, contain the secret of a green and vigorous old age.

COMING DOWN.—Coal from the British Provinces can now be bought for six dollars per ton. Last fall, five dollars and fifty cents per chaldron was freely paid for freight on the article to Boston.—Boston Advertiser.

The whole field $3,120, to A. W. Simpson.

On Saturday, Lot on the corner of School and High streets, 60 by 100 feet, with large Double House thereon, sold to Wm. Marvin, for $2,400.

Seven acres Land on Cutter's Lane, between the two railroads, advertised for auction on Saturday, was withdrawn, half the lot being sold at private sale, for $120 per acre.

For the Chronicle.

CAMENEUM.—The Manchester Museum Dramatic Company have during the last three weeks, been performing to very good houses, at the above beautiful hall. The company comprises several performers of talent, and the representations have elicited much applause. Those who are fond of theatrical representations, will pass an evening here very pleasantly; and will find a sure antidote to the blues, in the very amusing personations of Yankee Scoville, who appears each evening in some mirth-provoking character.

THE LUCA FAMILY.—This company of colored singers and players, four in number, and natives of Connecticut, we think, have been giving their chaste musical entertainments at Exeter, Newburyport, and other places in this vicinity—and always with good success. They performed at Newburyport three evenings last week; and the Herald says: "Their music is said to be of a much higher order than the average of the concerts of the season; and that it is appreciated, is shown by the fact that each successive concert gave an audience of increased numbers and greater musical intelligence than the last. Master Cleaveland's performance on the piano astonished all who heard him."

The Luca Family will give a Concert in Portsmouth in a short time.

A CARD OF THANKS.—The undersigned gratefully acknowledge, when about to leave their friends of the Universalist Society in Portsmouth, N. H. several valuable as well as beautiful presents,—to them doubly valuable as tokens of Christian regards, more precious than silver or gold. They will be appreciated and cherished by them as gifts of friendship from the ladies of the "Aid Society" and other Ladies, and also from the members of the Sabbath School. LEMUEL WILLIS,
Warner, April 2. A. P. WILLIS.

☞ An Anti-Slavery Convention will be held in Dover, at the Town Hall, on Tuesday next, April 24th, at half past 2 o'clock P. M., to be continued on Wednesday, for the free discussion of American Slavery. W. L. Garrison, Wendell Phillips and other distinguished speakers, are expected from abroad.

NEW YORK, April 21.—The steamship Illinois took out yesterday about $200,000 in gold coin for the U. S. Government officials in California!!

It is stated that Fletcher Webster is a sharer with Col. Kinney and Mr. Fabens, in the Central American enterprise.

Washington Irving has so far recovered from the injuries sustained by a fall from his horse on Thursday, as to be now entirely out of danger.

DETROIT, April 20.—The propeller Oregon, of Cleaveland exploded her boiler this morning, when about four miles above this place. Ten men were killed, among them the first and second engineers of the boat.—Capt. Stewert had one of his legs broken, and five or six others were more or less injured.—The propeller was completely shattered, and sunk shortly after the disaster. The explosion was caused by a defect in the boiler.

"C-o-a-l-? C-o-a-l-?" groaned out the black visaged mendicant, upon his elevated throne—"C-o-a-l?" "What does he say?" said the old lady from the rural district to her little niece. "Coal! grandmother, Coal!" said the little one, pitching her voice to the deaf ears of the old lady. "Well I don't wonder at it, stuck way up there in the storm. Poor fellow, he must be cold to groan so piteously." Bub and sis roared right out at this, to the astonishment of the old lady—and when her wondering eyes rested upon her daughter, she seemed to perceive a quiet smile lurking about her fair countenance.—Charlestown Adv.

FEMALE LOVELINESS.—Female loveliness never appears to so good advantage as when set off with simplicity of dress. No artist ever decked his angels with towering feathers and gaudy jewelry, and our dear human angels, if they would make good their title to that name, should carefully avoid ornaments which properly belong to squaws and African princesses. These tinselries may serve for effect on the stage or upon the ballroom floor, but in daily life there is no substitute for the charm of simplicity. A vulgar taste is not to be disguised by gold and diamonds.

PREPARING FOR A RAINY DAY.—The Washington Star of Wednesday last says: "From information, in which we have respect and confidence, we learn that Louis Napoleon has been investing large sums in California, in the names of other parties."

Would you have Health?

USE LAWRENCE'S VEGETABLE PHYSICAL Jaundice BITTERS; and Cure your Cough with his PECTORAL. a12 ‡1

THE REV. DR. LYMAN BEECHER, of Boston, late President of the Lane Theological Seminary, Cincinnati, Ohio, writes, "I have used the VEGETABLE PULMONARY BALSAM myself, with benefit, in catarrhal coughs and colds, and have known it to be used with good effect in the early stages of Pulmonary affections, in families around me."
[See advertisement in another column.]

ARE YOU SICK?

Then you can't be cured too soon. Don't delay until your complaint is incurable, and then mourn when it is too late. Four fifths of all the diseases which people the church yards might be cured by Ayer's Cathartic Pills, if taken in season. Don't go dragging through the Spring, faint, sleepy and listless, because your blood is loaded with bile. Don't wear the headache, heartburn, and their kindred disorders, because your stomach is foul. Don't parade yourself around the world, covered with Pimples, Blotches, Ulcers, Sores and all or any of the unclean diseases of the skin, because your system wants cleansing. Don't show yourself about, lean, haggard, all caved in, because your stomach and bowels need strengthening into healthy action. Ayer's Pills set these things right as surely as water quenches fire. They purify the body and blood, and restore their functions into healty activity which you can feel as quick as they are taken. They are the one great medical wonder of this age, recognized by all who know their virtues, and many thousands know them. Take the Cherry Pectoral for a Cough and the Pills for all derangements requiring a purgative medicine.

New York, April 20.—Mayor Wood has received a letter from Mr. Fay, our Minister to Switzerland, enclosing a circular issued by the Federal Council of Switzerland, concerning the practice resorted to by the various authorities of the Cantons in sending paupers to our shores, and prohibiting it for the future.

The extensive paper mill of B. Bradley, at Niagara Falls, was destroyed by fire last night. Loss not ascertained.

It is announced that Col. Kinney, with his Central American Expedition, will sail from here on the 7th of May, in the steamship United States, for San Juan.

Independence, Mo., April 20.—The mail from Salt Lake city arrived here yesterday afternoon. The news is unimportant. Brigham Young continues to act as Governor. The mail met with no detention or molestation from the Indians. They are peaceably disposed, and have returned some stock which they had formerly stolen; and seemed anxious to make amends for the past.

Washington, April 20.—Lieut. Beale, late Indian Agent in California, inflicted a severe castigation upon Colonel Monypenny, commissioner of public affairs, at Willard's Hotel this evening. Mr. Beale attributes the temporary disallowance of his accounts to the personal hostility of the commissioner, and hence arose the assault.

Philadelphia, April 20.—Robert Swift, convicted at the Civil County Court, for the murder of Killour in Hartford County, last August, was executed to-day, about a mile and a half from Elkton. The execution was witnessed by about 2000 persons.

New England Rum at the Crimea.—New England rum is selling at Constantinople at 80 cents a gallon. The demand is for the French army. Quite an impetus has been given to the distilleries by the general failure of the grape and by the war. The quality is doubtless somewhat improved by the voyage;—but we should think it was a pretty hard liquor to fight on.—Providence Journal.

Coolies for Cuba.—There has been for many months a project on foot for the introduction of 6000 Coolies from China into Cuba, as plantation laborers, to supply the place of negroes, the importation of whom from Africa is to be prohibited, if possible. The English capitalists having the matter in hand, have hitherto been delayed in their their arrangements by the urgent want of vessels.

Sad Affair—A Man over the Great Fall.—An accident is supposed to have occurred on the Central Railroad bridge at the Upper Falls, on Saturday evening, by which a man was knocked into the river and swept over the falls. A young man named Barker, who had been residing on the east side of the river, was about to leave for Syracuse on the 8 P. M. train of Saturday. In company with a boy, he started from his boarding house for the depot, with his baggage upon a hand cart. As he was crossing the railroad bridge, an engine backed up quite rapidly on the north track. There was not sufficient room between the track and the railing of the bridge to permit the car to pass. Barker and the boy saw this. The former jumped upon the railing to get out of the way, and the boy ran across the track to the other side. The engine struck the cart, broke it in pieces, and threw the baggage out. Barker was not seen after, and the conclusion is irresistible that he fell or was knocked off the railing into the water at the time of the collision. The river is very high, and so swiftly does the torrent leap from under the bridge over the great precipice, no human power could have saved the unfortunate man had he been seen to fall. Within thirty seconds after reaching the water, he must have passed over the falls into the boiling flood nearly one hundred feet below.—Rochester Union.

Miss Nightingale Astonishes the Fogies.—Miss Nightingale is the real hero of the present war. Lately a transport of sick arrived at Scutari. In the hospital where no bedding could be provided for them, they were laid on the wooden floor of the corridor. Miss Nightingale immediately sent to the purveyor for beds and mattresses, but got the answer that no stores could be delivered by him unless he got a regular order on foolscap, signed by the two respective officers and physicians of the hospital. Miss Nightingale sent him word again that she must have the bedding immediately, but promised that the necessary formalities should be complied with as soon as the officers and physicians should return and find time for writing.

Meeting with a second refusal, she ordered some twenty convalescents to follow her; went straight to the storehouse, had its doors forced open, and carried away the necessary articles. The store-keeper stood aghast at such uncerimonious infraction of his authority and of all official routine, but the lady said cooly:—"Report to headquarters that Miss Nightingale has forced open the door and carried away what was wanted for the protection of the life of her Majesty's sick soldiers, on her own responsibility." England is, of course, delighted at such independent and manly conduct, though the Ministry cannot openly encourage such acts of insubordination; still Lord Raglan had better learn something from Miss Nightingale, or else the second campaign will be as barren and disastrous as the first has been, when forty thousand soldiers were sacrificed to the Moloch of routine and red tape.

It appears that in the local elections in Michigan, this spring, the republican or fusion party has elected a majority of its candidates. As far as heard from the fusionists have elected 180, all others 149.

Arming the Blacks.—The government of Cuba are certainly going to extremes in arming the blacks. The fate of a nation so corrupt and so bent on destruction is inevitable. Whom the gods wish to destroy they first make mad.—N. Y. Day Book.

The Great Specific of the Age.
OXYGENATED BITTERS!
THE ONLY SURE AND SAFE REMEDY EVER DISCOVERED
For the cure of
DYSPEPSIA,
IN ALL ITS VARIOUS FORMS, AS well as Liver Diseases, Fever and Ague, Bilious Complaints, Bronchitis, General Debility, and all diseases of a kindred nature.
Read the following testimony from Dr. Henry E. Morrell, a skillful physician of N. Y. city. He says:—"The most effectual medicine to improve the tone and energy of the stomach is that prepared by Dr. George B. Green, of Windsor, Vt., and called the Oxygenated Bitters."
The Oxygenated Bitters do not contain a particle of alcohol in their composition, and are, of necessity, highly concentrated, to prevent the injurious action of the temperature of different climates. Each bottle, when diluted according to the directions, makes nearly half a gallon of medicine, as pleasant to the taste as lemonade; and as to quantity, quite the CHEAPEST MEDICINE.
I have employed them in a multitude of cases, and have uniformly found that, when used according to the directions, they gradually, but surely, remove, one by one, the various distressing symptoms which cluster around the confirmed Dyspeptic, restore the stomach to its lost energies, and thus lead the patient back to the enjoyment of permanent health and strength.
It has also been used by the following persons, and received their unqualified approbation:—
Prof. A. A. Hayes, M. D., State Assayer, Boston
Prof. E. S. Phelps, M. D., of Therapeutics and Materia Medica, Dartmouth College.
Hon. Myron Lawrence, Ex-President of Massachusetts Senate.

COLOR OF HORSES.—A proverb says: "A good horse cannot be of a bad color." Domestication appears to have the effect of multiplying the colors of animals. The prevailing color of the wild species is the bay; but Foster says that among the troops he saw in Central Asia, the dun and the greyish-brown colors were most frequent. Bell judges the chesnut to be most common in Tartarian districts. Sir Francis Head states that many of the horses of the Pampas are piebald. The black is rarely found among the Arabians. The leopard spotted is said to be frequent in China. With us (England) it ranges from milk white to coal black. Some persons are inclined to give the preference to the darker colors, from the fact that, among animals generally, the lighter the skin the weaker the energy. Lord Bacon seems to have entertained the same idea, when he asserted white to be the color of defect.

Woods' Nurseries.

THERE are offered at these well-known Nurseries, this season, an unusually large number of FRUIT TREES of all descriptions. The collection of standard PEARS is very large, numbering, probably, more than any other Nursery in the State, and embracing over one hundred different kinds which have been proven adapted to our soil and climate. 8000 Pear trees on quinting Pear stocks, many of them being in a bearing state. 10,000 Apple Trees, forty varieties, from three to six years on the bud. 1500 Cherry Trees, a good selection from two to four years old; besides Dwarf Pears and Plums—many desirable kinds. When desired, selections will be made for those ordering trees by mail, for doing which we offer an experience of twenty years.

HERTS BROTHERS, having been many years engaged in the manufacture of Metallic Pens, and during that time, having devoted their unceasing attention to improving and perfecting the useful and necessary article, the result of their unceasing efforts and numerous experiments has been the construction of a Pen on a principle entirely new, combining all the advantages of the elasticity and clearness of the Quill, with six times the durability of the Steel Pen; and thus entirely obviating the only objection that has hitherto existed against the use of Steel Pens.

This Pen will be found an invaluable article in Offices, as they never need wiping, also to Banks and Schools, as they will not spatter nor cut the thinest paper, and are warranted anti-corrosive.

CAUTION.—The universal celebrity of these Pens having induced several disreputable Makers to foist upon the public a spurious imitation, it will please to See observed that each genuine Pen is stamped, "HERTS, BROTHERS' PATENT, 1853," and each box of Genuine Pens will contain a label with a fac-simile of the Manufacturers' name.

DR. J. B. MARCHISI'S
Celebrated Catholicon,

FOR THE
RELIEF & CURE OF SUFFERING FEMALES.

FEMALE

Of these are PROFUSUS UTERI, or Falling of the Womb; FLUOR ALBUS, or Whites; CHRONIC INFLAMMATION OF THE WOMB; INCIDENTAL HEMORRAGE OR Flooding; PAINFUL, SUPPRESSED, AND IRREGULAR MENSTRUATION, &c., with all their accompanying evils, (Cancer excepted) no matter how severe or of how long standing.

Let all interested call and obtain a pamphlet (free) containing ample proof, from the most respectable source, of the beneficial results of its use; together with letters from highly experienced Physicians, who have used it in their practice, and speak from their own observations.

A WORD TO THE LADIES.

Should any entertain doubts as to the efficacy of the UTERINE CATHOLICON, I would respectfully state that I have for many years past, as my friends can well attest, been troubled with the disease for which this medicine is recommended, in its worst forms, and that by its use I have been entirely cured, and thus induced to accept an agency, and offer it for the benefit of others.

MRS. S. GAIT, 38 South street, Boston.

I feel it my duty to make known to the afflicted the virtues of MARCHISI'S UTERINE CATHOLICON, which has relieved me of Female Complaints of fifteen years' standing, and of so serious a nature, that latterly my physician suspected Cancer of the Womb. I suffered extremely, and at last was entirely disabled from attending to my usual avocation. . . . . It has given me more relief than any thing I have ever used for these difficulties. I will take pleasure in giving further details of my case to any lady who will call on me at 57 Mill street.

THE MISTAKE.

A lady whose bearing, more gay than discreet,
Enchanted a beau whom she happened to meet,
And with virtuous scorn his advances requited.
"Good lady," he answered,—most humble and meek—
While a genuine blush stole over his cheek,
"Of my obvious fault I've the painfullest sense,
And deeply regret that I gave you offence;
But then—for your own and for gentlemen's sakes,
To prevent in the future such awkward mistakes,
This piece of advice don't impertinent deem:
Pray, seem what you are, or be what you seem."

He went to the front door and the blinds were up—looked very doubtful—tried the door and found it locked—went round to the door on 25th street, and it was locked also—began to have a vague suspicion that all was not right—knocked at the door and received no answer—muttered a curse—knocked louder and rattled the door—still no answer—ejaculated a distinct "dam"—tried to get into the large beer cellar in the basement, but it was "no go"—commenced getting "riled"—went to the door again and looked into the key hole, then putting his mouth down asked in a low tone to be let in, but no response—commenced damning Mayor Wood and the "perlecee"—"cussed fool for voting for him," "wouldn't do it again," "wait till the next election and he'll get paid off, &c." Tried the door again—rattled and shouted, but it was no use—would have sworn, but couldn't do justice, and so turned away in despair. We saw him stand for a moment on the corner with his hands in his pockets, looking back at the closed doors as if he had not a friend in the world, as though his last hope on earth had vanished—he appeared to be audibly anathematizing some one, or else communing with the "departing spirits" we know not which, and as he turned down the avenue, we never saw such an exhibition of blank, hopeless despair. But he revived, went home, filled a valise with two bricks, walked two miles and a half down town, swore he was a traveller, registered his name at a hotel, and as there is no law to prevent travellers from getting something to drink, he went home two hours afterwards with his valise empty and both bricks in his hat.

It is mentioned as a curious fact that a large portion of the oldest churches in Massachusetts are now of the Unitarian faith; among them is the first church of Plymouth, the oldest church in the Union. John Calvin's church in Geneva has been for many years Unitarian. Three distinguished Trinitarian dissenters of England have lately gone over to the Unitarians: John Panton Hume, John Foster and John Darling.

It is a curious fact that three sons of the celebrated Wilberforce, who were distinguished clergymen of the Episcopal church in England, have openly gone over to Romo; and the fourth son, Samuel, Lord Bishop of Oxford, is supposed to be rapidly lapsing in the same direction. He lately said that he could see no stopping place between irresponsible rationalism and an infallible and authoritative church.

Bishop Hopkins of Vermont, has espoused the doctrine that mankind are rapidly growing worse and will continue so to do, until Christ shall come and renovate the world by miraculous interposition.

The Morning Star, a Freewill Baptist paper, says that the little success which now attends ministerial labors is attributable, to a great extent, to a lack of Biblical preaching. The ministry has retrograded into a profession of essayists, philosophical speculators, moralizing upon topics of interest generally, but wanting that clearness, authority and divine power, which pertains to the word of God, when expounded and enforced. Numerous sermons are as barren of scripture as a desert is of flowers; indeed, the text seems to be regarded as a mere motto to introduce the subject, and the positions taken are made to rest upon the assertions or speculations of the preacher.

In Buenos Ayres the anti-Catholic party is now in power. A German Protestant is at the head of the educational department—and there is a Methodist Academy with 150 native boys of Romish parentage.

S. Lee, a Methodist preacher in Canterbury, Ct., has been suspended for heresy. According to Mr. Lee's account, his heresies were "that man is a progressive being, and that a fiend cannot be instantly converted into an angel of light."

Morning Chronicle.

TUESDAY, APRIL 24, 1855.

"THE HIGHER POWER."

A DIALOGUE.

Eastern Argus.—The Portsmouth Chronicle and some other apologists of the ridiculous order of Know Nothings, continue to be exercised by our remarks upon the sudden death of two of the prominent men of the new party, and the mysterious affliction of another while engaged in making a public speech.

Chronicle.—We offer no apology for any party; but wish to see the pretensions of every party sifted and laid bare. And we always exercise ourselves on bad theology and barbarous ethics, when we get hold of them.

Argus.—The death of these men seemed like a divine admoniton to those desperate demagogues and deceived masses, whose mad efforts, &c.

Chron.—If the Argus is right here, in supposing these deaths to be a divine admonition to the K. N.'s,—must we not also infer that Messrs. Atherton and Ayer, who have died recently in New Hampshire, were struck dead for being regular Administration Democrats, and as a "divine admonition to those desperate demagogues and deceived masses" who travel on that road? But seriously,—Does the editor of the Argus really believe his own prophecy, that all persistent Know Nothings shall perish?

Argus.—We answer affirmatively, all Know Nothingism will perish, unless the Divine Ruler of the universe has ceased to reward virtue and punish evil.

Chron.—This is no answer at all. Sin may perish and yet the sinner may live. Know Nothingism as a party, or a rallying cry, may perish, or lose its power, as federalism has—but that has nothing to do, as we see, with the death or life of the men about which we were talking. So Democrat-ism, the rule and power of still another party in New Hampshire, has been stricken down; but we see quite a number of our friends who lately composed that power, still alive and well, and likely, as we hope, to last a great many years. But we would ask the editor of the Argus, in all soberness, if he really believes that there is any peculiar holiness or sacredness, in the Democratic or Whig, or Freesoil parties, to which these three men belonged, which induces God to keep their great men alive?

Argus.—We do believe there is something sacred in each of the three parties mentioned. Their acts are open and seen of all men. They are each seeking the same great objects—the best government for man, and the best means of sustaining it. But we do not recognize either of the three men as belonging to these parties after they became leaders of the new proscriptive, conscience-mocking party.

Chron.—If Argus will just cast one of his hundred eyes over our question, he will see that he has not answered it. No doubt there were things sacred, and profane also, in all three of the old parties: but the question was whether they had "such peculiar holiness or sacredness—as induced God to keep their men alive?" and if so, how it was, that such men as Atherton, Ayer and Norris, have died? In short, by what logical or theological hocus pocus, the Argus makes fish of the one class and flesh of the other? This question the Argus does not—dares not try to answer.

It does make a statement about the three old parties, containing a most remarkable puff (to come from the Argus,) for the Whig and Free soil parties! and a statement, making them about equally holy with the sacred Democratic party itself.

It is surely remarkable that these three men, with thousands of others, who were in three distinct and contesting, but sacred parties, one year ago, all seeking the same object, that is the best government—should now unitedly, be seeking the worst. It is one of the strangest things in the world, except that a few scores of the old fuglers in New Hampshire went into the order in spite of its wickedness, staid there till they found they could not control it, and then came out of it alive!—Their persons seem to have been quite sacred, whatever we may think of their principles.

But, lastly, will the editor of the Argus give a definition of what he means by the "two masters."

Argus.—Every member of the Know Nothing party is in the unhappy position of him who endeavors "to serve two masters." One, the National Constitution, which declares that "no religious test shall ever be required as a qualification to any office or public trust under the United States," and also, that "the right of the people to keep and bear arms shall not be infringed," and the other a Cabal, which seeks by secret plots and blasphemous pledges of honor, to re-interpret, or rather to re-model the very spirit of our institutions, by making a man's religion a reason for excluding him from a participation in the labors and honors of conducting, executing, or defending the government—and being such a servant, "either he will hate the one and love the other; or else he will hold to the one and despise the other;" that is, he cannot continue a member of this dangerous party, after learning its character, and be entitled to be looked upon without suspicion and distrust.—Thus we have explained what two masters Uncle Toby and his compeers are serving.

Chron.—Thus, out of this laboring mountain of words, there creeps a little mouse. The Constitution of the U. S. is one master, and the Know Nothing Wigwam is the other: and to crown the whole, Uncle Toby is represented as serving both of them. The old gentleman has promised to support the Constitution as General Jackson did, viz. "as he understands it,"—and as far as it comports with that Higher and Older Constitution of all things made by the great Governor and Judge of the Universe. But he has never promised to serve the Know Nothings, and belongs to no secret or oath bound association whatever.

The controversy begun, on the part of the Argus, by having two previously sacred men struck down in death, for joining the K. N's. And it ends, in the same Argus, by tapering off with the assertion that every member of the "dangerous party" who continues therein, must be looked upon with suspicion and distrust.

That is,—the American people, protestants and democrats though they be, must not dare to oppose either the craft of a priest, or the regular nominations of Three Old Fogy Parties—under pain of death! No, we beg pardon: not exactly that,—but of being eyed with suspicion and distrust by the Old Fogies!

Right glad is Uncle Toby to find that it is not, after all, a capital offence to speak against slavery, drunkenness or priestcraft.—If it were, his head would have gone long ago.

ARCHBISHOP HUGHES.—In a very well constructed letter to the Freeman's Journal of New York, this prelate denies that Catholics have ever taken part as Catholics in the politics of this country, or that he has been the political associate or friend of Senator Seward, although he likes him. The Archbishop don't think that the Know Nothings will act any worse than the other great parties have done.—Boston Courier.

Now that the Archbishop talks in this fashion,—let our good immigrant friends of the Roman Church plant their potatoes in peace, and eat their bread in thankfulness; shun the grogshops, and turn a deat ear to demagogues; enjoy the benefits of our laws themselves, and let their children learn to be republicans.

They need not fear the Know Nothings any more than the Archbishop. On the whole we don't think they would have been at all troubled, if some zealous patriotic pro-catholic spouters had not set up such a frightful bellowing and braying over their lost fodder, as terrified the new comers with the idea that some devouring lion must be in the streets.

Nobody will hurt them, if they conduct properly. Nobody among us wishes them ill or evil. But the American idea is, that natives, educated on the spot, are better qualified to rule here, than aliens or strangers.

DESTRUCTION OF A PRINTING OFFICE BY A MOB.—LOUISVILLE, April 21.—On Saturday last, two hundred citizens of Platte Co., Missouri, assembled at Parkville, and attacked the office of the Luminary, a paper charged with free soil proclivities, destroyed the furniture and threw the press into the Missouri river. The editor would have been tarred and feathered, had he not been fortunately absent. Resolutions were passed declaring the Luminary a nuisance, and its editors traitors, &c.; and an intention to throw them into the river if found in the place within three weeks, and to follow them and hang them if they ever went to Kansas. The freesoilers were denounced, and it was decided by the meeting that no Methodist preacher should preach in the country, on pain of being tarred and feathered for the first offence, and hanged for the second.

Another beautiful illustration is this, of the great principle of squatter sovereignty. The settler is free to advocate and establish slavery,—but not free to oppose and denounce it. Vive la Senator Douglass. Vive la Liberte!

☞ Hon. Charles Sumner will lecture on Slavery, at the City Hall, in Newburyport, on Friday Evening, 27th inst., at 7 1-2 o'clock. Tickets 10 cents.

☞ Forbes's Express room, at Newburyport, was entered on Friday night, by boring through the back door, and the boxes and desks searched, without finding any thing which the thief desired to steal.

☞ Frank Leslie's New York Journal for May, contains much interesting matter, about Prussia, Turkey, the Holy Land, &c., with numerous wood cuts.

K. N. HARMONY.—The Boston correspondent of the New York Evening Post says, "a gentleman who holds a high rank in the Know Nothing order, lately mentioned that he was constantly receiving letters, showing that the lodges were breaking up, the results of dissatisfaction and quarrels."—Providence Post.

All a hum. If you don't really, you ought to know better. Cut your eye teeth and learn a little wisdom on political inventions.—Boston Bee.

Among the novelties about to come out is jet black paper with white ink. It is said to be of great advantage to the sight to use such paper.

The Harrisburgh Union, an administration paper, says of the Kansas election:

"When we characterise this as an infamous outrage, we use the mildest terms we can think of to convey our meaning. We supported the Nebraska Kansas bill on principle; and we still believe the principle to be correct; but, in the names of justice and freedom we solemnly protest against the conduct of the Missouri ruffians, and call upon the proper authorities of Kansas to repudiate the election as illegal and fraudulent. If the actual residents of Kansas, with all the blighting influences of slavery before their eyes, decide to plant that institution in their fair territory, we shall submit, because the voice of the majority, fairly expressed, should and must govern in this country; but God forbid that either the North or the South should stand by and see it planted there by force and fraud, without raising their voice, and if need be their arms against the consummation of so gross and lawless an outrage."

The highest price that Flour has reached during the last sixty years, was in 1796, as we ascertain from a table published by the Baltimore American. Howard street Flour was sold at $15 per barrel in March of that year. In 1817 it was quoted at $14,25. In 1847, the year of the Irish famine, the highest price Flour touched in the New York market was $9,12. In 1837, Flour was quoted at $11 per barrel. The prices of Breadstuffs have reached a higher figure in 1855 than they have been known to have touched with the exception of 1796 and 1817, in sixty years. This is an interesting fact in regard to agriculture. Notwithstanding the great improvements made in the culture of land in this country and in Europe, there is either too large a proportion of individuals engaged in other pursuits, or the improvements have not resulted in increasing the aggregate production to the requirements of the population.—New York Express.

Plant Corn—plant corn!

Parson Green is in the habit, sometimes, of drawing upon a barrel of sermons, bequeathed him by his father, who was also a minister. Upon one occasion he got hold of a sermon, by mistake, which the old gentleman had once preached to the State Prison convicts. It opened well, and the congregation were becoming deeply interested, when all at once the parson suprised them with the information, that "had it not been for the clemency of the Governer, every one of them would have been hung a long time ago!"

Rather a slim story: made by some one who knows but little, either of States' Prisons or Sermons.

IS THE LABORER WORTHY OF HIS HIRE? We copy the following paragraph from the Boston correspondent of the N. Y. Journal of Commerce:

"We saw a touching letter the other day, in which the writer enclosed $2 in aid of Foreign Missions. He mentioned incidentally that he had but $250 as a salary per year, and that he had a wife and nine children to support. How this New Hampshire pastor could spare any money for missions, is a sum that we recommend to the most skilful financier."

MONASTIC INSTITUTIONS IN SARDINIA.—The bill to suppress Monastic Institutions, says the Genoa correspondent of the Newark Daily Advertiser, passed the House of Deputies at Turin, on the 4th, by the strong vote of 116 to 36, and was taken up in the Senate against an earnest opposition, by a vote of 63 to 27, which indicates that it will speedily become a law. It is only just to add, that this measure is adopted in no spirit of opposition to religion; but was, on the contrary, inspired by a determination to rescue it from the hoary abuses of superstition.

A terrible scene of alarm occured at the St. Charles Theatre in New Orleans, in consequence of the cry of fire being raised in the house. The wildest confusion ensued, and several persons were injured in their haste to get out of the building.

Teachers' Institute.

ROCKINGHAM COUNTY.

THE first Spring Session of this Institute will be held at HAMPTON, commencing MONDAY April 30th, at 10 o'clock A M.

Prof William Russell, Dr Calvin Cutter, and Messrs Wm J Whittaker and George S Houghton, have been secured as Instructors; and others will be added.

The Second session will be held at the Vestry of the Methodist Church in CANDIA, commencing MONDAY, May 7th, at 10 o'clock A M. The Board of Instruction will consist of Profs William Russell and Herman Krusi, Dr Calvin Cutter, and Messrs Edwin C Hewitt and Osgood Collester.

Each session will continue for one week.

All Instruction free. Board furnished by the citizens at reasonable rates.

There will be two Lectures each evening, particularly designed for citizens in the vicinity, and which they are earnestly invited to attend.

All Teachers and persons preparing themselves for teachers, superintending and prudential Committees, Clergymen, and others interested in Common Schools, are invited to give their personal attendance, and use their influence to have both sessions fully attended.

It is expected that Prudential Committees will postpone the commencement of their Schools until after the Institute, or adjourn them if commenced, so as to allow the attendance of the Teachers at one session at least.

The members are requested to bring with them the bible, such school song book as they may have, and a blank book or paper; and to hand to the Commissioner, immediately upon entering the Institute, their names, places of residence and number of Institutes attended, including the present.

All members entering on Monday of either week, attending punctually through the session, and conforming to the regulations, will be entitled to certificates accordingly.

Would you have Health?

USE LAWRENCE'S VEGETABLE, PHYSical Jaundice BITTERS; and Cure your Cough with his PECTORAL. a12 ⓘ1

THE REV. DR. LYMAN BEECHER, of Boston, late President of the Lane Theological Seminary, Cincinnati, Ohio, writes, "I have used the VEGETABLE PULMONARY BALSAM myself, with benefit, in catarrhal coughs and colds, and have known it to be used with good effect in the early stages of Pulmonary affections, in families around me." [See advertisement in another column.]

ARE YOU SICK?

Then you can't be cured too soon. Don't delay until your complaint is incurable, and then mourn when it is too late. Four fifths of all the diseases which people the church yards might be cured by Ayer's Cathartic Pills. If taken in season. Don't go dragging through the Spring, faint, sleepy and listless, because your blood is loaded with bile. Don't wear the headache, heartburn, and their kindred disorders, because your stomach is foul. Don't parade yourself around the world, covered with Pimples, Blotches, Ulcers, Sores and all or any of the unclean diseases of the skin, because your system wants cleansing. Don't show yourself about, lean, haggard, all caved in, because your stomach and bowels need strengthening into healthy action. Ayer's Pills set these things right as surely as water quenches fire. They purify the body and blood, and restore their functions into healty activity which you can feel as quick as they are taken. FROM EUROPE.

Steamship Nashville, at New York, brings Liverpool and London papers of the 7th, and the news of her own arrival out.

On the outward passage, second day from New York, Mrs. Rose Riley, one of the passengers by the Nashville, suddenly disappeared, and was supposed to have thrown herself overboard.

Our Liverpool correspondent writing on Saturday morning says the week's news may be briefly summed up. In politics we are just where we were, except that the feeling becomes stronger, that nothing is left but to fight it out.

The conference at Vienna adjourned to the 9th to, await the Russian ultimatum, and the arrival of the French and Turkish Ministers of Foreign Affairs in that city.

There had been a succession of sanguinary conflicts between the French and Russians before Sebastopol for the possession of the Rifle ambuscade pits, with varying success but much loss.

It being the Easter Holidays, there is little other news,—Parliament not being in session.

On the 18th a reinforcement of 15,000 men entered Sebastopol, and a body of Russians 15,000 strong were observed to march towards Mackenzie's Farm, with the intention of crossing the Tschernaya to advance upon Baidar.

Dr. Hall the Inspector General of the Hospital, reported to Lord Ragian that there was no diminution of the sick, but that the cases yielded more readily to medicine.

General Canrobert telegraphs under date of the 22d, that the Russian Admiral "Istomiro" had been killed, and that the health of the French troops was excellent. He states that in the attack of the Russians on the 22d and 23d of March, they were driven back with the loss of no less than 2000 in killed and wounded, the loss of the allies being about 600.

The official report of General Osten Sacken in reference to the same affair, states that the garrison made a powerful sortie for the purpose of putting a stop to the works of approach made by the allies near the Malakoff Tower. The General adds, that the result of the engagement was favorable, inasmuch as he succeeded in destroying the works erected by the French, not however without considerable loss.

The Russians have established two fortified camps each of 30,000 men, one between Mittau and Riga, and the other between Revel and Narva, to defend the Baltic provinces. All the harbors are being blocked up by sunken ships, so as to obstruct the entry of hostile fleets.

Some of the Liverpool ship owners who had entered into engagements with the Government, have been notified that their ships will not be required for transports this however is not regarded as any indication of peace. The Rev. Mr. Boyle, a Roman Catholic Priest, sued Cardinal Wiseman for a libel, written by the Cardinal, and published in the Univers, of Paris. A verdict of £1000 was given to Mr. Boyle.

FIGHTING FOR THEIR JUGS.

A despatch from Chicago, Saturday, April 21, says,

A serious riot occurred in this city this morning, growing out of the Maine Law and license question. One man was killed and five or six others wounded. It appears that a small procession of intoxicated Germans and Irish marched with a drum to Court House Square and there collected a crowd. The police interfered and a general fight ensued.—An immense crowd collected and knives and clubs were freely used. The principals were arrested.

A party of Germans crossed the river armed with loaded guns and knives, and marched to the Court House Square this afternoon, which was a signal for a recommencement of hostilities. A policemen was shot by the Germans, and two Germans were shot by the police and dragged to jail. James H. Rees, a prominent citizen, was wounded by a shot. The police, though increased in numbers, had a hard time, and one or two were badly beaten. The military are now out. The cause of the disturbance this afternoon was the arrest of several Germans; and their countrymen threaten to release them.

At 9, P. M. everything quiet. Swift's artillery has been planted in front of the Court House on Randolph street, and ropes are drawn across the corners of the street. Sentinels are guarding the gates of the square, and no further danger is apprehended to night. Arrests continue to be made. License suits were the origin of the affair, which it is feared is not yet terminated.

THE attention of JOINERS and all engaged or interested in building is solicited to the fact that many of our finest buildings are defaced and their general appearance materially altered from the original design of the architect, by the miserably constructed, ill-contrived, and narrow contracted leaden goose-necks, or what is still worse, a skewangle contmuation of the upright conductor with which the cornice is adorned—all of which may be remedied by application to Take this along with you.—'Tis just what you want.

The Great Specific of the Age.

OXYGENATED BITTERS!

THE ONLY SURE AND SAFE REMEDY EVER DISCOVERED
For the cure of
DYSPEPSIA,

IN ALL ITS VARIOUS FORMS, As well as Liver Diseases, Fever and Ague, Bilious Complaints, Bronchitis, General Debility, and all diseases of a kindred nature.

Read the following testimony from Dr. Henry E. Morrell, a skillful physician of N. Y. city. He says:—"The most effectual medicine to improve the tone and energy of the stomach is that prepared by Dr. George B. Green, of Windsor, Vt., and called the Oxygenated Bitters."

The Oxygenated Bitters do not contain a particle of alcohol in their composition, and are, of necessity, highly concentrated, to prevent the injurious action of the temperature of different climates. Each bottle, when diluted according to the directions, makes nearly half a gallon of medicine, as pleasant to the taste as lemonade; and as to quantity, quite the CHEAPEST MEDICINE.

I have employed them in a multitude of cases, and have uniformly found that, when used according to the directions, they gradually, but securely, remove, step by step, the various distressing symptoms which cluster around the confirmed Dyspeptic, restore the stomach to its lost energies, and thus lead the patient back to the enjoyment of permanent health and strength.

It has also been used by the following persons, and received their unqualified approbation:—
Prof. A. A. Hayes, M. D., State Assayer, Boston
Prof. E. E. Phelps, M. D., of Therapeutics and Materia Medica, Dartmouth College.
Hon. Myron Lawrence, Ex-President of Massachusetts Senate.
Hon. L. H. Arnold, formerly Governor of Rhode Island, now member of Congress.

"YELLOW BOYS" vs. YELLOW MEN.—Wendell Phillips locates the following anecdote in Portland. It savors more of Massachusetts than Maine, but is too good not to be repeated:

A merchant engaged in the West India trade, appeared at church one Sunday having with him in his pew a strange man, a mulatto. A neighbor very anxiously inquired of the merchant why he took the negro into his pew. He replied that the 'negro' was one of his best correspondents in Hayti. 'Ah, yes,' was the response, 'but he is a colored man!' 'True,' replied the merchant, 'but he is worth a million of dollars.' 'Indeed!' replied the other, 'can't you introduce me?'

The farmers in Iowa were plowing on the 9th of March, while we in the same latitude, are frozen up the middle of April.

Woods' Nurseries.

THERE are offered at these well-known Nurseries, this season, an unusually large number of FRUIT TREES of all descriptions. The collection of standard PEARS is very large, numbering, probably, more than any other Nursery in the State, and embracing over one hundred different kinds which have been proven adapted to our soil and climate. 800 Pear trees on Seedling Pear stocks, many of them being in a bearing state. 10,000 Apple Trees, forty varieties, from three to six years on the bud. 1300 Cherry Trees, a good selection from two to four years old; besides Dwarf Pears and Plums—many desirable kinds. When desired, selections will be made for those ordering trees by mail, for doing which we offer an experience of twenty years

HERTS BROTHERS
PENS.
WARRANTED NOT TO CORRODE.

HERTS BROTHERS, having been many years engaged in the manufacture of Metalic Pens, and seeing that time, having devoted their unceasing attention to improving and perfecting that useful and necessary article, the result of their unceasing efforts and numerous experiments has been the construction of a Pen on a principle entirely new, combining all the advantages of the elasticity and clearness of the Quill, with six times the durability of the Steel Pen; and thus entirely obviating the only objection that has hitherto existed against the use of Steel Pens.

This Pen will be found an invaluable article in Offices, as they never need wipping, also to Banks and Schools, as they will not spatter nor cut the thinest paper, and are warranted anti-corrosive.

CAUTION.—The universal celebrity of these Pens having induced several disreputable Makers to foist upon the public a spurious imitation, it will please to be observed that each genuine Pen is stamped, "HERTS, BROTHERS' PATENT, 1853," and each box of Genuine Pens will contain a label with a fac-simile of the Manufacturers' name.

DR. J. B. MARCHISI'S
Celebrated Catholicon,

FOR THE
RELIEF & CURE OF SUFFERING FEMALES.

It stands pre-eminent for its curative powers in all the diseases for which it is recommended, usually called

FEMALE COMPLAINTS.

Of these are PROLAPSUS UTERI, or Falling of the Womb; FLUOR ALBUS, or Whites; CHRONIC INFLAMMATION OF THE WOMB; INCIDENTAL HEMORRAGE OF Flooding; PAINFUL, SUPPRESSED, AND IRREGULAL MENSTRUATION, &c., with all their accompanying evils. (Cancer excepted) no matter how severe or of how long standing.

Let all interested call and obtain a pamphlet (free) containing ample proof, from the most respectable sources, of the beneficial results of its use; together with letters from highly experienced Physicians, who have used it in their practice, and speak from their own observations.

A WORD TO THE LADIES.

Should any entertain doubts as to the efficacy of the UTERINE CATHOLICON, I would respectfully state that I have for many years past, as my friends can well attest, been troubled with the disease for which this medicine is recommended, in its worst forms, and that by its use I have been entirely cured, and thus induced to accept an agency, and offer it for the benefit of others.

MRS. S. GAY, 167 Bowdoin street, Boston.

I feel it my duty to make known to the afflicted the virtues of MARCHISI'S UTERINE CATHOLICON, which has relieved me of Female Complaints of fifteen years' standing, and of so serious a nature, that latterly my physicians suspected Cancer of the Womb. I suffered excruciately, and at last was entirely disabled from attending to my usual pursuits.

. . . It has given me more relief than any thing I have ever used for these difficulties. I will take pleasure in giving further details of my case to any lady who will call on me at 57 Mill street.

Morning Chronicle.

A HISSING.

The Massachusetts Legislature have been unreasonably frightened; and like most frightened people they ran into danger instead of out of it.

On Saturday, the House, being on the Hiss case, in committee of the whole, went, most improperly into secret session:

The reporters were excluded, and after a session of upwards of an hour, the committee rose and reported to the House the following result:

Voted, That in the judgment of this Committee, while we are persuaded that Mr. Joseph Hiss, a member of this House, on a recent visit to Lowell, was guilty of some improprieties, yet there is no evidence sufficient to justify a censure of criminal conduct, on the part of this body.

There should be no secret or midnight session of any American Legislature or Court; all should be in open daylight.

Then again, there is no reason why the bad conduct of a legislator, in his official capacity, should not be exposed and denounced. But there is reason why all investigations of conduct which appertains to the man rather than the legislature, should not consume the time of the House, nor trouble its members as such.

The Boston Bee says:

A prominent member of last year's Senate was apprehended for gross and indecent exposure of his person in one of our most public streets. It was as deliberate as it was infamous. The presiding officer of one branch of the same Legislature went into a certain Whig Convention and endeavored to make a speech, but so affected was he by the accompaniments of a dinner, that he was incapable of going through the performance.

We have heard of members of Congress drunk in their seats, of the President of a State Constitutional Convention drunk in his,—and so on,—but the bodies to which they belonged got along as well as they could, and said but little about the shameful acts.

The Massachusetts Legislature cannot prevent Mr. Hiss from being hissed at; and their secresy makes a bad matter worse; but let them make short work with him and his case.

PLEASE CORRECT.—We perceive that some of our contemporaries have got the impression that Dr. Franklin Lane has become connected with the editorial management of this paper. That gentleman has no interest in, or control over, our columns, directly or indirectly, although he has removed to this city from Exeter, and is connected with the business management of the Argus.—Portland Argus.

All right; we make the correction, though we have not published the error. We thought the Dr. was at work on the Argus, and supposed that a fine and workmanlike summary of religious items in that paper, was a compilation of his. If he is concerned in the business any way, by all means let him have a finger in the pie of miscellaneous reading. It would not damage the Argus in the least.

SATURNALIA.—A New York despatch of Sunday evening, 22d inst. says:

The rumshops were generally open to-day, in consequence of the prevailing impression that the law recently passed repeals the previously existing enactment prohibiting the sales of liquor on Sunday, and were patronized by one all precedent.

Rev. Dan Blodgett, an eloquent clergyman of Randolph, Vt., died very suddenly on the 16th. A few weeks ago he had a call to New York city, with a salary of $4000 offered, which he declined.

This is a very solemn dispensation of the Divine Providence. We hope no person or paper will set it down as evidence that the deceased tried to serve two masters,—or as a warning to all popular preachers, not to decline loud calls and fat salaries, on pain of death.

The attention of parishes destitute of a pastor is called to an advertisement in the Louisville (Ky.) Courier, offering an opportunity to secure a permanent one on very moderate terms: "A negro man, named James Howell, belonging to the heirs of Louis Rowell, is for sale. He holds a license from the church at Simpsonville, to preach."

The Washington Union disavows being the organ of the administration in speaking upon the Cuba question, and hence its war talk is of no more importance than the editorial of any other papers.

Morning Chronicle.

WEDNESDAY, APRIL 25, 1855.

NEW LAWS IN MAINE.

By the laws of Maine, recently passed,—A married woman has complete power to dispose of her property by her separate deed "as if she were unmarried." Rather important to some enterprising husbands.

Selectmen and school committees, and assessors and ditto, are required to annually apportion ten cents of the sixty cents school money in such a way as to give the smaller districts more equal advantages with the larger. The school agent must give notice to the school committee when his school is to begin, whether master or mistress is to keep it, and how long it is going to last, or else pay one dollar for each day of the school till the notice is given. Remember this in the rural districts.

All towns are required (instead of "empowered" as heretofore) to make needful provisions regarding truant children.

Marriage is made easy: Licensed, as well as ordained ministers, may get commissions to solemnize nuptial affairs.

If any employee or passenger is killed on a railroad, or in the conveyance of a common carrier of any kind, by the fault of the corporation or carrier, and not by his own fault or carelessness, a fine of from $500 to $5,000 inures one-half to his widow and the other to his children, or the whole to the widow or the right heirs where only either exist. The same penalty is held over railroad corporations (none others) for causing the death of persons other than passengers and employers. But the deceased must not have violated the law or the reasonable rules of such corporation at the time of his death. Indictment must be prosecuted within a year of the death. It subjects one to a fine of from $5 to $20, for standing or being on a railroad track "without right," or passing over an exclusive railroad bridge—and this particular section must be posted up in every depot. Railroad corporations must not run their cars faster than six miles an hour "near any compact part of any town or city," nor obstruct any highway with their equipment, under a penalty of not exceeding $100 for each offence.

LEGAL DECISIONS.—The statement in the Courier of Saturday, that the opinion of the State Attorney upon the liquor law of this session of the Legislature was "endorsed by the Supreme Court of the State," was incorrect, though it was received from what was considered good authority. The Supreme Court had nothing to do with the matter, though the Attorney General in his opinion stated that there was nothing unconstitutional in the bill so far as previous decisions of the court had been made.—Boston Courier.

This is copied in Justice to the Courier, and also to the Court. The truth, as now stated, is about as strong as the previous statement. Courts do not like to give decisions in advance, for reasons quite obvious to a good lawyer. One most important reason is, that it is easier and better to do one thing at a time, than try to do forty things at once. Thus, a long statute, with a great variety of provisions, may present fifty points of law. No man living would apprehend all these points at one reading. But the act goes into operation: it presents a halter, and begins to draw it round the neck of some wealthy transgressor, who shakes a Thousand Dollar Bill in a lawyer's face, and says, I'll give you this, if you will pick some flaw in the statute through which I can escape. This lawyer goes to work, and if there be a weak link in the chain, no doubt will find it. And then the Court, fixing its eye on his plea, can act on one point, and settle that.

Three jails in Vermont are empty, two have but one inmate each, two others have four each, and one has six and another seven. The average is but three to each jail in the State.

Vermont, for the last 4 or 5 years, has been enjoying or suffering, under the operation of the most stringent liquor law which was ever known before the Maine law was passed. She has now adopted the latter. Whether these things have any influence on her jails, the reader will judge.

STRIKE.—The Newburyport Herald states that all the ship carpenters at the North End in that city—some three hundred—are on a strike, and that not a single man was in the yards Monday. Some difficulty has recently arisen about "chips," where the workmen thought their privileges were curtailed, and now they ask for new and definite arrangements—that the first class carpenters shall receive two dollars a day, which is an advance of fifty cents, and others in proportion.—Where the matter will end is not so clear.

A Sailors hotel, called the "Home"—a large spacious four-story building, that will accommodate 100 boarders—has been opened in Portland. Capt. Christopher Bayley, formerly of Newburyport, is superintendent. He is admirably qualified for his position.

HISSING CONTINUED.—(See outside.)—The Mass. House of Reps. have reconsidered their half-way vote, about Mr. Hiss. Joseph Hiss, in a letter to the Speaker, resigns his seat. Mr. Griffin of Charlestown, urges the House not to accept the resignation. The House makes a new committee to try Mr. Hiss. Very bad stories come out, about Mr. Hiss and his Mrs. Patterson. And the newspapers keep up a terrible hissing and spattering. If Hiss and his lady will vamose as speedily as possible, they will do the public a special favor. Mr. Griffin wants the House to expel Hiss. All right: He resigns, and then they expel him. That certainly will kill the Representative, and take off the 'Squire—leaving him plain Jo. and nothing else.

THE TIMES ON NUNNERIES.—The Boston Times says,—So far as appears, the Roxbury visitation committee did nothing that ought to have caused the fuss that has been kicked up about their action. It would have been better if no committee had been sent to Roxbury, for the nunnery seems to be a very harmless sort of place, and it is our confident opinion that no very great number of babies are roasted and eaten there, annually; but, after the committee arrived there, it does not appear that their deportment was by any means remarkable for a want of respect to the persons visited. Some members may not have behaved so politely as others, but none of them seem to have acted maliciously, as they must have done if the charges preferred against them had had even a shadow of foundation. The only thing that gives importance to the subject, at present,—the action of Mr. Hiss on a certain occasion;—had not the remotest connection with the Roxbury visit. We probably never should heard a word on the subject if the whigs had been in power.

CONGRESS.—Of the 161 members of the next Congress that have been elected, but thirty-three are favorable to the Nebraska bill, and several of these will take contested seats. Only 8 of the 44 from the Free States who voted for that measure have been returned, and one of these has his seat contested. The elections yet to take place to complete the House, do not promise any better for the administration; and a party which in the last Congress had a clear majority of 81, will hardly make a show; nor will it have any distinctive principles on which to rally—the whole issue before the people now being on the extension of slavery and the native movement. Never was a Congress so anti-slavery as the next will be; and Kansas, should it ask admission as a slaveholding State, if made so by Missouri influence, will not have the least chance of coming into the Union. If the administration interpret "squatter sovereignty" to mean that desperados and ruffians may go there and out-vote and drive from the polls the actual settlers, Congress will put a different construction on the matter. The Know Nothings will have unquestioned control of the House, and probably elect N. P. Banks, Speaker. Power has its responsibilities; and it will depend upon what they do, and how they do it, whether this will aid them in the presidential election. "Sam" will be there, and we shall take his dimensions. It is not now certain that he will be in a small minority in the Senate. Politicians are governed by popular influences, and many seek his acquaintance in a quiet way.—N. P. Her.

MURDER BY A LUNATIC MOTHER.—The inhabitants of Jericho, Vt., were excited on the morning of the 30th ult. by the announcement that the wife of Mr. Scott, Universalist minister of that place, had murdered one of her own children.—She had been partially deranged for some time, and seemed impressed with the idea that the family were coming to want, and that she was to be separated from her children. About midnight on the 29th, while her husband was absent, she procured an axe and went to the room where her four children were sleeping, intending to murder them all, and then finish the tragedy by sacrificing herself. She struck the eldest, a daughter about eleven years of age, on the head with the helve of the axe, but not hard enough to render it senseless. Not wishing to complete the deed in the presence of the other children, who had been awakened by the cries of the elder, she dragged it down stairs and despatched it, inflicting three horrid gashes—one on each temple and one on the throat. The others were saved by a revulsion of feeling on the part of the mother, consequent upon the sufferings of the first while undergoing its long and agonizing butchery. Mrs. Scott has been sent to the insane asylum at Brattleboro.—Argus.

Wolfe, the Schnapps man, is trying to have his gin exempted from the list of liquors rendered contraband by the Maine Law. He claims that it is a drug, and imparts the following information concerning it, which will be interesting and quite new to the majority of men who have 'seen life.' Mr. Wolfe says—'It is an agreeable and palatable medicine, and quite successful as a preventative of disease, when taken with hot water and sugar, with or without a squeeze of a lemon or a portion of its rind. Accompanied with a full flavored Havana cigar, the effect upon the spirits is delightful." Wolfe's Schnapps is composed of very good gin, Croton water and Stewart's refined sugar.

FRESHET.—The Merrimack, owing to the fine rain of yesterday, is pouring down an immense body of water; the freshet brings down numerous stumps, dead limbs, and scraps of bark, together with a torrent of very dirty water, showing that the snow in N. H. woods about the head waters of the rivers, is melting and running off. The water at Central Bridge is eight feet above the bottom of the wheels in the Boott Mills; many of the mills have stopped running in part, on account of the flooding of their wheels.—Lowell Courier.

A man named Christopher Murphy, fell into a well at Galena, Illinois, on Saturday evening, drunk, and stayed there until the Sunday evening following. He was sober enough when taken out.

LOCAL.

For the Chronicle.

CITY BUILDINGS.

Messrs. Editors:—In Saturday's Chronicle, 27th, Q. gives his views of Building the High School Rooms. I take the same liberty. In erecting Public Buildings for the City, we should look some years ahead, imagine the probable increase of population, and build somewhat larger than we now need. I am quite certain the citizens will not rest till we have two High School Rooms, Aldermen and Common Councilmen's Room, City Hall and Court House.

I am satisfied the Court House Lot is sufficiently large to accommodate all but the Court Rooms in one building; and that the Court House Lot is too valuable to be used for two schools alone. My plan is this: erect a building about 123 ft. long, 90 ft. or more wide, and three stories high. Set it three or four feet from the sidewalk, leaving a gateway next to Mr. Austin's land, 17 ft. wide: Divide the lower floor into three rooms from front to back; and divide one of the three by folding doors into two for Aldermen, Councilmen and others. The second story divide into three main rooms, one for Boys' High School on the East, and on the west for girls, the middle room to be divided into Dress and Recitation Rooms and back stairway; and make a City Hall over the whole. You would then have a Hall about 120 ft. long, 72 ft. wide in the clear and have two flights of stairs, and two dry rooms for the Hall on the third floor.

Then take the Hall over Brick market, Jefferson Hall, and fit it for a Court House and Jury Rooms, at a very small outlay, instead of hiring Congress Hall as is contemplated. The outlay to fit Jefferson Hall would be but very little more than the outlay to fit Congress Hall, where we must pay rent besides. If these plans could be carried out, I believe the citizens would be better satisfied than with those which are talked of by others, although the cost at first would be greater: but in the end it would be a saving of at least twenty-five thousand dollars to the city; and we should have all the Public Rooms of any note the City will need for fifty years to come.

SALES OF REAL ESTATE.—The House and Lot No. 6 Anthony street were sold at Auction, Tuesday, by G. W. Towle, for $605.—The purchaser was Richard Hilton.

The Woolen Machinery at the Bow street Hosiery Factory was sold at Auction, Tuesday, by G. W. Towle. The various articles were sold to different purchasers, and the whole brought about $2,200.

☞ The disturbance about twelve o'clock on Monday night, was caused by a fight in the jail, between two prisoners and a number of watchmen. It appears that some person outside the wall furnished the prisoners with liquor, and they became noisy;—some officers went in to stop the noise, and a fight ensued.

NEW YORK BOARD OF UNDERWRITERS.—At the recent annual meeting of the Board of Underwriters of New York, the following officers were unanimously elected for the current year, viz:—President, Anthony B. Nelson. Vice-President, T. B. Satterthwaite. Secretary, Ellwood Walter.—N. Y. Journal of Commerce.

THE PECK AFFAIR.—The steamer Black Warrior arrived at New Orleans on the 18th inst., with Havana dates to the 15th. Dr. Peck, it is now stated, was arrested in mistake. Sixteen companies of mulatto soldiers were being actively organised. The Black Warrior passed the sloop-of-war Jamestown off the Moro.

Would you have Health?

USE LAWRENCE'S VEGETABLE PHYSICAL Jaundice BITTERS; and Cure your Cough with his PECTORAL. a12 tf1

THE REV. DR. LYMAN BEECHER, of Boston, late President of the Lane Theological Seminary, Cincinnati, Ohio, writes, "I have used the VEGETABLE PULMONARY BALSAM myself, with benefit, in catarrhal coughs and colds, and have known it to be used with good effect in the early stages of Pulmonary affections, in families around me."
[See advertisement in another column.]

ARE YOU SICK?

Then you can't be cured too soon. Don't delay until your complaint is incurable, and then mourn when it is too late. Four fifths of all the diseases which people the church yards might be cured by Ayer's Cathartic Pills, if taken in season. Don't go dragging through the Spring, faint, sleepy and listless, because your blood is loaded with bile. Don't wear the headache, heartburn, and their kindred disorders, because your stomach is foul. Don't parade yourself around the world, covered with Pimples, Biotches, Ulcers, Sores and all or any of the incleun diseases of the skin, because your system wants cleansing. Don't show yourself about, lean, haggard, all caved in, because your stomach and bowels need strengthening into healthy action. Ayer's Pills set these things right as surely as water quenches fire. They purify the body and blood, and restore their functions into healty activity which you can feel as quick as they are taken. They are the one great medical wonder of this age, recognized by all who know their virtues, and many thousands know them. Take the Cherry Pectoral for a Cough and the Pills for all derangements requiring a purgative medicine.

FROM CALIFORNIA—7 DAYS LATER.

The steamship George Law, with California dates to March 31st, arrived at New York on Tuesday morning. She brings 272 passengers, and $772,000 in treasure.

The Panama Railroad was in fine order and the health of the Isthmus good.

The condition of the other banks remains unchanged.

A prohibitory liquor law had passed the Assembly. Its provisions were not very stringent, and wine from California grapes was exempted from its prohibitions.

An anti gambling law had passed the Senate.

The weather had been glorious, and the crops promised an abundant harvest.

The miners are generally reported to be doing well, although the excitement regarding the new Kern River mines had subsided.

The arrivals of gold at San Francisco continued to be retarded by the scarcity of coin to purchase it.

Sherry, Janes & M'Crea, a recently established jobbing house in San Francisco, had failed for $100,000.

CHICAGO, April 23d.—No serious disturbance occured yesterday or this morning.—The artillerry and military have been posted in front of the court house since Saturday last. Yesterday at 4 P. M. an immense crowd collected in Clark street between Washington and South Water street, but shortly afterwards dispersed. The total number of arrests made are fifty-five. The Irish have covered themselves with glory by keeping out of the affray. More trouble is apprehended at the examination of the prisoners. The German who was shot by the policeman received a ball through his back, but is still living. A special military force consisting of 500 citizens provided with the State arms, have been organized.

The city is quiet. The military is still stationed in front of the Court House, and is considerable excitement yet. Very little is required to draw out an immense crowd.

Eight or ten small fires have occurred in different parts of the city since Saturday.

The license suits are progressing and any number of belligerent rumors are afloat, but they will probably amount to nothing.

CINCINNATI, April 23d.—The Steamer Wm. Knox, from this port for St. Louis, was destroyed this morning by fire, near Flint Island, below Louisville. The boat was full of passengers for Kansas, but it is probable that no lives were lost, as a steamer came along side at the time of the conflagration.

ROCHESTER, April 23d.—As the locomotive was backing down the track in Canandagua Village this afternoon, it ran over three persons, instantly killing J. L. Hall, a lawyer, and seriously injuring Judge Phelps, and a person whose name at present has not been ascertained.

NEW ORLEANS, April 19th.—The American Theatre was destroyed by fire last night. One man perished in the flames.

J. W. CLARK has just received from Boston two new and beautiful toned PIANO FORTES, made by BROWN & ALLEN, which he offers for sale at very low prices.

Notice to Builders and Joiners.

THE attention of JOINERS and all engaged or interested in building is solicited to the fact that many of our finest buildings are defaced and their general appearance materially altered from the original design of the architect, by the miserably constructed, ill-contrived, and narrow contracted leaden goose-necks, or what is still worse, a skewangle continuation of the upright conductor with which the cornice is adorned—all of which may be remedied by applying to who will give his personal attention to the adjustment of all such defects. Specimens of Ornamental Goose-necks and Conductor Caps, on the most approved plan of modern architecture may be seen at his Tin Ware Factory, where he manufactures to order

The Great Specific of the Age.
OXYGENATED BITTERS!
THE ONLY SURE AND SAFE REMEDY EVER DISCOVERED
For the cure of
DYSPEPSIA,

IN ALL ITS VARIOUS FORMS, AS well as Liver Diseases, Fever and Ague, Bilious Complaints, Bronchitis, General Debility, and all diseases of a kindred nature.

Read the following testimony from Dr. Henry F. Morrell, a skillful physician of N. Y. city. He says:—"The most effectual medicine to improve the tone and energy of the stomach is that prepared by Dr. George B. Green, of Windsor, Vt., and called the Oxygenated Bitters."

The Oxygenated Bitters do not contain a particle of alcohol in their composition, and are, of necessity, highly concentrated, to prevent the injurious action of the temperature of different climates. Each bottle, when diluted according to the directions, makes twenty half a gallon of medicine, as pleasant to the taste as lemonade; and as to quantity, quite the CHEAPEST MEDICINE.

I have employed them in a multitude of cases, and have uniformly found that, when used according to the directions, they gradually, but surely, remove, one by one, the various distressing symptoms which cluster around the confirmed Dyspeptic, restore the stomach to its lost energies, and thus lead the patient back to the enjoyment of permanent health and strength.

It has also been used by the following persons, and received their unqualified approbation:—

Prof. A. A. Hayes, M. D. State Assayer, Boston
Prof. F. P. Phelps, M. D. of Therapeutics and Materia Medica, Dartmouth College.
Hon. Myron Lawrence, Ex-President of Massachusetts Senate.

PERJURY IN A LIQUOR CASE.—In the Court of Common Pleas, at Worcester, before Judge Briggs, Charles Wheelock of Leominster, pleaded guilty to a charge of perjury before Thornton K. Ware, of Fitchburg, Justice of the Peace. The Spy says that sentence was deferred until May upon request of the District Attorney, who said it had come to his knowledge that a rumseller named Mason Wheeler, of Leominster, had suborned Wheelock, and was therefore more guilty than he. Wheeler having been prosecuted for selling liquor to Wheelock, went to him and induced him to swear that he did not purchase any liquor from him, Wheeler, at any time. Mr. Aldrich stated that perjury had become of alarming frequency in liquor cases lately; and that the Grand Jury and prosecuting officers were determined to pursue all those who are guilty of this heinous offence. He wished delay in this case, in order that the really guilty party might be brought to condign punishment. The court granted the request, and commented severely on the demoralizing influences of rum upon all who were either engaged in the sale of it, or connected in any way with those who were.—Wheelock was held in $500 to appear in May.—Boston Telegraph.

When desired, selections will be made for those ordering trees by mail, for doing which we offer an experience of twenty years.

I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the best informed and most skilful Patent Solicitors in the United States, and have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.

HERTS BROTHERS
AMALGAMATED IRIDIUM ZINC & PLATINA
PENS.
WARRANTED NOT TO CORRODE.

HERTS BROTHERS, having been many years engaged in the manufacture of Metalic Pens, and during that time having devoted their increasing attention to improving and perfecting that useful and necessary article, the result of their unceasing efforts and numerous experiments has been the construction of a Pen on a principle entirely new, combining all the advantages of the elasticity and clearness of the Quill, with six times the durability of the Steel Pen; and thus entirely obviating the only objection that has hitherto existed against the use of Steel Pens.

This Pen will be found an invaluable article in Offices, as they never need wiping, also to Banks and Schools, as they will not spatter nor cut the thinest paper, and are warranted anti-corrosive.

CAUTION.—The universal celebrity of these Pens having induced several disreputable Makers to foist upon the public a spurious imitation, it will please to be observed that each genuine Pen is stamped, "HERTS, BROTHERS' PATENT, 1853," and each box of Genuine Pens will contain a label with a fac-similie of the Manufacturers' name.

DR. J. B. MARCHISI'S
Celebrated Catholicon,
FOR THE
RELIEF & CURE OF SUFFERING FEMALES.

It stands pre-eminent for its curative powers in all the diseases for which it is recommended, and usually called

FEMALE COMPLAINTS.

Of these are PROLAPSUS UTERI, or Falling of the Womb; FLUOR ALBUS, or Whites; CHRONIC INFLAMMATION OF THE WOMB; INCIDENTAL HEMORRHAGE OR Flooding; PAINFUL, SUPPRESSED, AND IRREGULAR MENSTRUATION, &c., with all their accompanying evils. (Cancer excepted) no matter how severe or of how long standing.

Let all interested call and obtain a pamphlet (free) containing ample proof, from the most respectable sources, of the beneficial results of its use; together with letters from highly experienced Physicians, who have used it in their practice, and speak from their own observations.

A WORD TO THE LADIES.

Should any entertain doubts as to the efficacy of the URSINE CATHOLICON, I would respectfully state that I have for many years past, as my friends can well attest, been troubled with the disease for which this medicine is recommended, in its worst forms, and that by its use I have been entirely cured, and thus induced to accept an agency, and offer it for the benefit of others.

MRS. S. GAIT, 38 South street, Boston.

I feel it my duty to make known to the afflicted the virtues of MARCHISI'S URSINE CATHOLICON, which has relieved me of Female Complaints of fifteen years' standing, and so seriously a nature, that latterly my physician suspected tumor of the Womb. I suffered extremely, and at last was entirely disabled from attending to my usual pursuits. . . . It has given me more relief than any thing I have ever used for these difficulties. I will take pleasure in giving further details of my case to any lady who will call on me at 67 Mill street.

SCHNAPPS.—Mr. Udolpho Wolfe, the concoctor of a miserable compound of stuffs, which he dignifies with the title of "Aromatic Schiedam Schnapps," claims exception of his rot-gut from the operation of the Maine and prohibitory liquor laws, passed by the several States, for the reason that it is a medicine and a tincture. At the same time he has a holy horror of the laxity of the license which has heretofore been given to the sale and use of other intoxicating liquors than his own. Perhaps Mr. Wolfe will find our law entirely applicable to the suppression of the sale of his Schnapps, which does not approach our New England rum in purity or value, either as a medicine or a tincture, and has, therefore, no right to the exception he sets up in its favor. —Boston Times.

The Supreme Court of the United States has upset the argument that an importer of foreign liquors purchases the right to sell them through the payment of duties to the general government, and decides that no such right is purchased by the importer. He cannot purchase from the government that which it could not insure him, namely: a sale independently of the laws and policy of a State, over which the federal government has no control.—Boston Times.

A NEW WAY.—A few days since, a man belonging to Millbridge, was carrying home a keg containing five gallons of rum, strung across his shoulders by a rope. In going down a hill, he slipped and fell, and brought the rope around his neck, and the weight of the keg drawing the rope, he was so strangled by the noose that he could not help himself, and if another man had not, by chance, soon after found him in this predicament, and relieved him by cutting the rope, he would have died. When discovered, he could not speak. —Bangor Mercury.

It has been mathematically proved and practically demonstrated, that the Arkansas river will no more be fit for navigation. The banks have fallen in to such extent as to widen the bed of the river immeasurably, requiring a larger volume of water than usually comes down in ordinary rises, to furnish its thirsty bars, and to fill up the bed. The only dependence now (says an Arkansas paper) is the railroad.

"EFFIE, THE MAID OF THE MILL."—The unprecedented rapid sale of this song, composed by Mr. Henry S. Thompson of Newburyport, at a time when there are so many other claims on the attention of the musical public, is a sufficient evidence of its originality and merit. Already the third edition is exhausted, and the fourth is published. Mr. Thompson has in this composition surpassed all his previous efforts, and even "Lilly Dale," pretty as she is, has been superseded by "Effie, the Maid of the Mill."—Newburyport Herald.

An African Exploring Society has been formed in England, designed to promote the exploration and evangelization of Africa.—The plan of the founders of the society is to establish an African school at Tunis, and thence to gradually extend their influence southward, endeavoring, by the circulation of bibles, and by the co-operation of native agents and missionaries, to drive out the Mohammedan religion, and establish instead the religion of the Gospel.

PRESIDENT FILLMORE & MAYOR WOOD. Ex-President Fillmore called upon Mayor Wood on Saturday, and the eminent gentlemen remained some time in friendly conversation. Mr. Fillmore is understood to have remarked to Mr. Wood that he had acquired a fame as Mayor as extensive and more enviable than that enjoyed by recent incumbents of the Presidential chair. The Ex-President was in the enjoyment of excellent health.—N. Y. Courier and Enquirer.

The judges of the election in the First Ward will testify to the truth of the following rich occurrence at the polls election day:—An Irishman presented himself at the polls and his vote was challenged. He was told to get his papers. Home he went and returned and presented to the judges his papers. What laughter convulsed their honors we need not say, when, on opening the supposed papers, they found them to be a dismissal from the New Jersey Penitentiary.

SETTLEMENT ON BIG BLUE.—L. P. Lincoln, recently from Boston, has located with a party of from sixty to seventy men on the Big Blue. He represents the country as very beautiful, and the company well pleased with their location. They propose sending back for their families as soon as they can prepare places to receive them. Mr. L. has gone back to Boston to transact some business, and will return to Kansas with another party in a few weeks.

There is not a word of truth in the story put forth by the New York Evening Post, that Fletcher Webster, Esq., is engaged in the Nicaragua "expedition with Col. Kenney," or that he is "to go out with him.—Boston Cour.

ANDOVER SEMINARY.

The New York Evening Post has the following item in relation to the Theological Seminary at Andover.

A story has for some time been current, that the heirs at law of the founders of Andover Seminary have had meetings and consultations, preparatory to taking measures to test before the courts the question whether the funds of the Seminary have not been forfeited by the teaching of doctrines contrary to those required by the founders. It is also said that their heirs intend, before they bring the question before the courts, to join in a mutual pledge, that if they succeed, the funds shall not revert to their private use, but be committed to a new board of trust, who shall faithfully execute the will of the founders.

On this, the Boston Transcript says:

We desire to express the opinion that nothing will come from the movement if it is ever started, of which we also have many doubts. The heirs mentioned by the Evening Post will get back the funds mentioned here, about the same time that the Chase family receive their millions from England, and the Jennings estate is divided among persons of that name. We shall keep a good look out to notice these events when they occur.

In order that the general reader may understand any thing about the above controversy, we state;—that the Constitution of Andover Seminary requires that the professors of Theology, when they take their offices, and once in every five years afterward, shall subscribe to a certain creed, including the doctrines of election, total depravity, original sin, &c.

That the present professor, Park, though he has subscribed, as per constitution, to these articles, yet understands and interprets them in the most liberal manner, somewhat after the sort in which General Jackson and Uncle Toby, (par nobile fratrum!) expound the Constitution of Our Glorious Union.

And lastly, that some old school theologians, at the head of whom stands the venerable and reverend Dr. Dana of Newburyport, are afflicted by the heresies of Prof. Park, and wish by some means to throw him off from the comfortable foundation whereon he sits. The proposed lawsuits, are probably to be brought on the grounds herein suggested.

We have long been convinced that paper bonds cannot bind the flight of thought, nor confine the current of faith. It is remarkable that Andover Seminary, with its close constitution, is at this moment, as to its theological influence, of the most ultra old school, quite back of Dr. Dana's day, representing a period at least 200 years past, and likely to go back into the early days alluded to in Beecher's Conflict of Ages.

We dont feel alarmed, however, at either of these cases. The men, respectively, at the head of each institution, are admirable men, and as we charitably and really believe, devout christians. They are simply fallible, like all other men; and therefore, while we would repel any imputation on their integrity, we must smile at their vagaries; letting them in their turn, smile or frown, as they please, on ours.

Extract from Dens.—E. W. Hinks & Co., publishers, Boston, have sent us a pamphlet of Extracts from Dens' Theological Works on the Roman Catholic Confession, &c. It is a startling book, and could hardly be deemed genuine or correct, were it not for the abundant and satisfactory notices on the cover. Besides the main contents of the book, which treats of dreadful impurities, there is an appendix which treats of the Blood-thirstiness of the Papal Church; Fruits of the Confessional; Comparative Morality of Protestant and Papal Countries; Avowed Intolerance of the Church of Rome.

The reader by all means should peruse the covers first;—and then, if he is curious to examine into impure details, he can read on. It is deplorable to think of:—but so goes the Church.

Higher Law.—The notion which I have combated, that slavery is to be treated with respect because it is a public ordinance, is one of many proofs that, even yet, there is but a faint consciousness of the existence of an everlasting and immutable rule of right. Multitudes, even now, know no higher authority than human government. They think that a number of men, perhaps little honored as individuals for intelligence and virtue, are yet competent, when collected into a legislature, to create right and wrong. The most immoral institutions thus gain a sanctity from law. To the laws we are indeed bound to submit, in the sense of abstaining from physical resistance; but we are under no obligation to bow to them our moral judgment, our free thoughts, our free speech. What! is conscience to stoop from its supremacy, and to become an echo of the human magistrate?—Is the law, written by God's finger on the heart, placed at the mercy of interested statesmen? Is it not one of the chief marks of social progress, that men are coming to recognize immutable principles, to understand the independence of truth and duty on the human will, on the sovereignty of the State, whether lodged in one or many hands?—Channing.

New Orleans, April 24th.—Postmaster Kendall has been arrested on the charge of purloining from a letter the sum of $300.

A FILLIBUSTER STORY.

Not long ago, the following paragraph went the rounds of the papers.

"The brig Hickman, from Boston, bound to Matanzas, was fired at three times by a Spanish cruiser, and after an examination of papers the brig was allowed to proceed on her voyage. The question has been agitating the Cabinet at Washington for some time."

The St. John's, N. B. News, has the following letter from a passenger just arrived in that port per brig Thalia, which shows the affair in another light. He says:

A story always has two sides to it. Now, Sir, the facts of the case have got to be told. I was a passenger on board the barque Thalia, for St. John. Our vessel was present during the ceremony. A Spanish man-of-war hove in sight; we at once hoisted our colors (which is a universal custom by all nations) and when the war vessel came up we turned helm and fell to the lee of her, it being a customary mark of courtesy towards a man-of-war of any nation. Our compliment to the stranger was politely answered, and so we moved on. The "Hickman, of Boston," (as the vessel turns out to be) next came within hail of the Spaniard; and instead of doing as we did, hoist his bunting, that it might be seen that he belonged to a civilized country, he doggedly attempted to move away, not disposed to tell his country. The Spaniard (not knowing but the schooner might be a pirate or a "fillibuster") fired a blank shot across his bow, to bring him to his senses. This had no effect. A second shot was fired across the stern of the schooner; and as these two hints did not produce any effect, the Spaniard pitched a ball towards the hull of the Hickman. This brought the schooner up. The suspicious vessel (a vessel that will not show her colors is certainly suspicious) was overhauled, and suffered to depart, after the officer who went on board found out she was a legitimate trader. Now, Sir, had the American shown his colors there would have been no shots fired. Had we kept our English colors to ourselves, instead of showing them to the Spaniard, we should have met with the same treatment, and deservedly so.

Perhaps some of your American cotemporaries will copy this, or explain its contents for the information of "the Cabinet sitting at Washington."

U. S. District Court.—A somewhat important decision was given by Judge Sprague, on Friday, in the U. S. District, Boston, in the case of Stratton et al vs. Babbage, master of the ship Iddo Kimball. The plaintiffs were colored seamen, who shipped at Halifax for a voyage to Europe and back to a port of discharge in the United States. The port of discharge in the United States that they were brought back to was New Orleans, where the master was not allowed by law to discharge them and send them ashore, but had to enter into bonds to bring them away in his own vessel, or see to their shipment on board of some other vessel. The wages on which they shipped were $24 per month, but, when the vessel arrived at New Orleans, wages were only $15 per month, and the master notified them that he should only pay them $15 per month from the date of arrival at New Orleans. The vessel lay there a month and more, and the master neither engaged them a passage or voyage; nor did he, though requested, obtain them a pass, so that they could go on shore and secure a passage or voyage for themselves. The vessel afterwards arrived at this port, when the two seamen were discharged. The suit was brought to recover their wages for the whole voyage from Halifax, via Europe and New Orleans, to Boston, at $24 per month.

The Judge held that "a port of discharge in the United States," as named in the articles, meant a port where the seamen could be so discharged that they could be at liberty to go on shore and disconnect themselves from the vessel, and make new contracts for themselves, and that, in this case, the port of New Orleans was not a port where the captain would have had a right to discharge these men and send them on shore if he had been inclined to. The Court therefore held that he was bound to pay them the wages named in the original shipping articles, to wit: $24 per month until they arrived at Boston.—Times.

Mrs. Patterson.—We doubt, after all, if there is such a being. Surely if there were, and if she were no worse than she is represented, she would not submit in silence to the indignity of being placed on record, on the book of the hotel in Lowell, as a member of the Massachusetts Legislature. She would bring an action of slander against Hiss.—Providence Journal.

Our Rhode Island friend may be assured that Mrs. Patterson is well known in Boston, and this fact has added not a little to the excitement about the Nunnery Committee. The Navy Agent at this port received a letter by the last California mail from her husband, who is a musician in the naval service of the United States, and is now attached to the U. S. ship Susquehannah. We have seen this letter. Mr. Patterson states therein that he made an allotment of five dollars a month to his wife, but as she has not written him for the past ten months, he supposes she has not drawn the money, and requests that it be remitted. But the money has been drawn. Strange as it may appear, the man's name is "William Patterson." He was at one time a member of the orchestra in one of the theatres here.—Boston Times.

Chose not to go to Law.—Patrick Meeguire was fearful on Saturday that the police were hovering about his establishment for no good purpose, so Patrick seized an axe and broke two heads (rum barrel heads!)—Portland Advertiser.

Thus, Patrick killed the two witnesses, and kept clear of the jail.

The Washington Sentinel calls the pioneers from New England who have gone to Kansas to settle there "hireling vagrants," "gutter vagabonds," and as the climax of all, "abolitionists;" the persons who went over from Missouri to vote down the legal electors, and force slavery upon a territory where they did not want it, the Sentinel calls "sturdy, honest and intelligent."

ANOTHER PROJECT.

Messrs. Editors:—As there seems to be a great desire on the part of some persons to improve the South Mill Pond, a private piece of property, at the public expense, I would suggest another private enterprise at the expense of the city, as our taxes are a mere nothing, and as the business of the place has increased so much during the past year.

It would benefit the owners of Puddle Dock very much, if the city would dig it out, and cut a canal from thence through the Mill Pond to Auburn street, of sufficient depth to admit a vessel of 100 tons, where private enterprise would establish yards for coal, plaster, &c. The country trade could then be supplied without coming into the heart of the city, where the business is so great that it is not safe for them to come. There would also be another advantage; it would take away the filth twice in twenty four hours, and make it smell as sweet as the South Mill Pond does now.

But before anything is done to tax the people for private benefit, it would be well for those scribblers to go to Boston, say next July, and spend a month in the docks on board a vessel, and then they would come home and know that they now live in a clean place.

I would inquire why there seems to be such a strong desire, at the present dull time, by a few writers, to spend so much over the current expenses. Tax Payer.

☞ The Alarm of Fire on Wednesday forenoon, came from the Portsmouth Steam Factory, where the roof of the boiler house, in the rear of the large Mill, No. 1, took fire, from the heat of the boilers as is supposed. The fire department assembled promptly, and put out the fire. The roof was considerably injured; but the mill is so separated from the boiler house, that the work was not suspended, and the damage was confined to a small spot.

Pretty Good for Pat.—The other day the conductor of a train, on the Boston and Maine railroad, discovered an Irishman in a car soon after starting from Exeter, and demanded his fare. Pat declared he had no money. The conductor, after lecturing him, told him to leave at the first stopping place, not far distant. Accordingly Pat was one of the first to get off at the next station. But judge of the conductor's surprise and wrath, to find him aboard when fairly on the way. "Did I not tell you to get off?" "And sure I did." "Why, then, are you here again?" "And sure did you not say "all aboard." This was too much for the worthy conductor, and notwithstanding the decree against "dead heads," he was allowed to pass.

Ecclesiastical.—The Maverick Society, of East Boston, have raised the salary of their pastor, Rev. Rufus W. Clark, to $2000 per annum.

Rev. Mr. Chambre, the Universalist minister in East Boston, has accepted the call of the Universalist church in Newark, N. J., and will leave East Boston in June.

It appears from an elaborate article in the N. Y. Courier & Enquirer, on the resources of Russia, that the revenue of that empire is over $300,000,000. The Church, too, is enormously rich, and furiously patriotic. Whatever motives Russia may have for desiring peace, lack of the sinews of war is not one of them.

Anonymous Donation of Five Thousand Dollars.—The incident recorded in the following paragraph from the New York Courier and Enquirer will remind the readers of the delightful story of "Grace Lee" of some of that heroine's exploits in munificence:—

Delicate Munificence.—On Sunday last, among the contributions at the Church of the Holy Communion to the funds of St. Luke's Hospital, was a roll of five one thousand dollar bills. They were dropped so quietly into the plate that not even the gentleman who received them knew from whom they came. The giver is to be envied; less for his ability to spare such a sum than for the disposition which led him to bestow it on such a cause in such a way.

Secret Societies in Canada.—A few weeks ago a paragraph went the rounds, asserting that secret armed lodges were springing up throughout Lower Canada, their design being to bring about the annexation of Canada to the United States. This story had some foundation to rest upon, although it was not entirely correct. A letter says that in Quebec, and a few other peculiarly situated localities, a new order of secret lodges is being formed, under the name of "Know Nothing" or "Protestant Protective" Societies. But, as the name indicates, their object is not the overthrow of British institutions, but to raise a counter power which shall cope with the alleged rowdyism of the Irish Roman Catholic element in the Canadian population. Their basis, in fact, is almost identical with that of the Know-Nothing organization in the United States.

Circumstances.—To know how bad you are you must become poor; and to know how bad other people are you must become rich. Many a man thinks it is virtue that keeps him from turning rascal, when it is only a full stomach. Be careful and not mistake possessions for principles.

Curious Incident.—While the barque Odd Fellow, of this port, was lying in the harbor of Havana, a swarm of bees settled on her deck, and there being a person on board who understood hiving the "critters," a box was obtained and they were carefully brought to this port.—Portland Argus.

Seizures.—We understand that the new police made a foray yesterday among the liquor dealers, and captured several articles containing the article.—Portland Argus.

Would you have Health?
USE LAWRENCE'S VEGETABLE, PHYSical Jaundice BITTERS; and Cure your Cough with his PECTORAL. a12 tjl

The Rev. Dr. LYMAN BEECHER, of Boston, late President of the Lane Theological Seminary, Cincinnati, Ohio, writes, "I have used the Vegetable Pulmonary Balsam myself, with benefit, in catarrhal coughs and colds, and have known it to be used with good effect in the early stages of Pulmonary affections, in families around me."
[See advertisement in another column.]

ARE YOU SICK?
Then you can't be cured too soon. Don't delay until your complaint is incurable, and then mourn when it is too late. Four fifths of all the diseases which people the church yards might be cured by Ayer's Cathartic Pills, if taken in season. Don't go dragging through the Spring, faint, sleepy and listless, because your blood is loaded with bile. Don't wear the headache, heartburn, and their kindred disorders, because your stomach is foul. Don't parade yourself around the world, covered with Pimples, Blotches, Ulcers, Sores and all other of the unclean diseases of the skin, because your system wants cleansing. Don't show yourself about, lean, haggard, all caved in, because your stomach and bowels need strengthening into healthy action. Ayer's Pills set these things right as surely as water quenches fire. They purify the body and blood, and restore their functions into healty activity which you can feel as quick as they are taken. They are the one great medical wonder of this age, recognized by all who know their virtues, and many thousands know them. Take the Cherry Pectoral for a Cough and the Pills for all derangements requiring a purgative medicine.

SEVEN DAYS LATER NEWS.

HALIFAX, April 25.

The steamship Africa, from Liverpool the 14th inst, arrived at this port last night.

The news is of no importance. The latest dates from Sebastopol are to the 6th inst; and although skirmishes were still taking place, the condition of affairs had undergone no change of moment.

The Vienna Conference reassembles on the 8th, but with what result has not transpired.

In Breadstuffs the demand had been quite limited, except for Indian Corn, which continued in good demand for Ireland. Prices of all descriptions were somewhat easier, tho' not quotably lower.

SORRY PLIGHT.—Br. steamship Brisbane, sixty-two days from Glasgow, of and for Sidney, S. S. W., was spoken 25th ult., lat. 6 south, lon. 34 40, by Capt. Hall, of whale ship Natchez, at New Bedford. The steamer was in a very bad situation, the captain having been intoxicated all the time since leaving port. Her chronometer was broken, and they had no latitude or longitude; there was no steam on, and the vessel was drifting ten or fifteen miles to leeward every day.

CUBA.—A correspondent of the New York Commercial Advertiser says in 1762 the English Government fitted out a fleet of 19 ships of the line, 20 frigates, 10 sloops of war and 200 transports. On board were 22,000 sailors and marines, and 10,000 picked soldiers. They beseiged Moro Castle and after twenty-two days captured it, but with a loss of 10,000 men and many ships. This is history. He asks: "Now what is the chance for two or three steamers, filled with one thousand filibusters? Let every thinking man make his own calculations.

THE THREATENED WAR.—The country has been much relieved by the announcement that the bluster of the Union against Spain, and the threats of immediate war, had no better foundation than the print in which they appeared; that the Union had no authority to speak for the administration, and that the directions which have been given to Commodore McCauley were of such prudent character as to command the assent of all the members of the Cabinet, some of whom, it is well understood, would not agree to measures of unnecessary violence, undertaken not with the real intention of defending our maritime rights, but to draw upon them such fresh aggressions as would force the country into a war without the assent of Congress.

ICEBERGS.—A ship-master just arrived at Liverpool, writes back to his owners, under date of April 7th—"I would advise vessels running to this port to keep well to the South. In latitude 43.30, from longitude 50 to 48, I found the water 31 deg. while the air was 32." The above is a pretty sure indication of the vicinity of a large quantity of ice.

SINGULAR ESCAPE.—In Worcester, on Saturday, as a lady named Almira Wilson was crossing the track of the Worcester and Nashua Railroad, an engine came up, unperceived by her, striking her, and laying her prostrate between the rails, while the engine and tender passed directly over her as she lay in that perilous situation, without doing her the least injury.

The President has made the promotions in the Navy, consequent upon the death of the officers lost in the Albany.

Notice to Builders and Joiners.

THE attention of JOINERS and all engaged or interested in building is solicited to the fact that many of our finest buildings are defaced and their general appearance materially altered from the original design of the architect, by the miserably constructed, ill-contrived, and narrow contracted leaden goose-necks, or what is still worse, a skewangle continuation of the upright conductor with which the cornice is adorned—all of which may be remedied by application to
J. E. CHAPMAN,
PRACTICAL TIN PLATE WORKER,
who will give his personal attention to the adjustment of all such defects. Specimens of Ornamental Goose-necks and Conductor Caps, on the most approved plan of modern architecture may be seen at his Tin Ware Factory, where he manufactures to order

The Great Specific of the Age.

OXYGENATED BITTERS!

THE ONLY SURE AND SAFE REMEDY EVER DISCOVERED
For the cure of
DYSPEPSIA,
IN ALL ITS VARIOUS FORMS,
As well as Liver Diseases, Fever and Ague, Billious Complaints, Bronchitis, General Debility, and all diseases of a kindred nature.
Read the following testimony from Dr. Henry E. Morrell, a skillful physician of N. Y. city. He says:—"The most effectual medicine to improve the tone and energy of the stomach in that prepared by Dr. George B. Green, of Windsor, Vt., and called the Oxygenated Bitters."
The Oxygenated Bitters do not contain a particle of alcohol in their composition, and are, of necessity, highly concentrated, to prevent the injurious action of the temperature of different climates. Each bottle, when diluted according to the directions, makes nearly half a gallon of medicine, as pleasant to the taste as lemonade; and as to quantity, quite the cheapest medicine.
I have employed them in a multitude of cases, and have uniformly found that, when used according to the directions, they gradually, but surely, remove, one by one, the various distressing symptoms which cluster around the confirmed Dyspeptic, restore the stomach to its lost energies, and thus lead the patient back to the enjoyment of permanent health and strength.
It has also been used by the following persons, and received their unqualified approbation:—
Prof. A. A. Hayes, M. D., State Assayer, Boston
Prof. E. E. Phelps, M. D., of Therapeutics and Materia Medica, Dartmouth College.
Hon. Myron Lawrence, Ex-President of Massachusetts Senate.
Hon. L. H. Arnold, formerly Governor of Rhode Island, now member of Congress.

—IN—

Rotary Planing, Tonguing and Grooving Machines.

PATENTED NOVEMBER 21st, 1854.

THIS Improvement has been thoroughly tested and found to be just what is necessary to perfect the rotary planer.

My machine will plane very much faster and better than any other now in use. I would particularly call the attention of those in want of machines, to see work, or for planing very thin, cross-grained or knotty material, to these machines, as it is impossible for them to tear or throw out loose knots.

My Clapboard Machine will plane and joint as fast as the clapboards can be put into the machine, and perform the work without sorting them so as to plane with the grain, upon any quality of clap boards, in a very superior manner, without tearing the thin edge.

Applications for rights and machines, or for further particulars, can be made to the Patentee,

76 State st, oppo. Kilby st, Boston.

IMPORTANT INFORMATION TO INVENTORS. The Subscriber (late Agent of the U. S. Patent Office, under the Act of 1837) determined to present advantages, in applying for Patents, superior to those offered to inventors by others, has made arrangements whereby on applications prepared and conducted by him, THIRTY DOLLARS (instead of twenty, as paid back by others,) will be remitted by him in case of failure to obtain a patent, and the withdrawal through him within thirty days after the rejection. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments and all necessary papers and drawings, for procuring patents in this and foreign countries prepared, and advice rendered on legal and scientific matters respecting inventions, and infringement of patents.

Inventors can not only here obtain their specifications on the most reasonable terms, but can here avail themselves of the experience of 20 years' practice, an extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and correct accounts of patents granted in this and other countries, besides being saved a journey to Washington, the usual great delay there, as well as all personal trouble in obtaining their patents. Copies of claims of any patent furnished by remitting one dollar.—Assignments recorded at Washington.

R. H. EDDY,

Solicitor of Patents.

"During the time I occupied the office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, did business at the Patent Office, as Solicitor of Patents. There were few, if any persons acting in that capacity, who had so much business before the Patent Office; and there were none who conducted it with more skill, fidelity, and success. I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the best informed and most skilful Patent Solicitors in the United States, and have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.

EDMUND BURKE,

Late Commissioner of Patents."

HERTS BROTHERS, having been many years engaged in the manufacture of Metallic Pens, and during that time, having devoted their unceasing attention to improving and perfecting that useful and necessary article, the result of their unceasing efforts and numerous experiments has been the construction of a Pen on a principle entirely new, combining all the advantages of the elasticity and clearness of the Quill, with six times the durability of the Steel Pen; and thus entirely obviating the only objection that has hitherto existed against the use of Steel Pens.

This Pen will be found an invaluable article in Offices, as they never need wiping, also to Banks and Schools, as they will not spatter nor cut the thinest paper, and are warranted anti-corrosive.

CAUTION.—The universal celebrity of these Pens having induced several disreputable Makers to foist upon the public a spurious imitation, it will please to be observed that each genuine Pen is stamped, "HERTS, BROTHERS' PATENT, 1853," and each box of Genuine Pens will contain a label with a fac-simile of the Manufacturers' name.

DR. J. B. MARCHISI'S Celebrated Catholicon,

FOR THE

RELIEF & CURE OF SUFFERING FEMALES.

It stands pre-eminent for its curative powers in all the diseases for which it is recommended, and usually called

FEMALE COMPLAINTS.

Of these are PROLAPSUS UTERI, or Falling of the Womb; FLUOR ALBUS, or Whites; CHRONIC INFLAMMATION OF THE WOMB; INCIPIENT HYPOMENORRHOEA or Flooding; PAINFUL, SUPPRESSED, AND IRREGULAR MENSTRUATION, &c., with all their accompanying evils. (Cancer excepted) no matter how severe or of how long standing.

Let all interested call and obtain a pamphlet (free) containing ample proof, from the most respectable sources, of the beneficial results of its use; together with letters from highly experienced Physicians, who have used it in their practice, and speak from their own observations.

A WORD TO THE LADIES.

Should any entertain doubts as to the efficacy of the URINEUS CATHOLICON, I would respectfully state that I have for many years past, as my business well attest, been troubled with the disease for which this medicine is recommended, in its worst forms, and that by its use I have been entirely cured, and thus induced to accept an agency, and offer it for the benefit of others.

MRS. S. GAIT, 33 South street, Boston.

I feel it my duty to make known to the afflicted the virtues of MARCHISI'S URINEUS CATHOLICON, which has relieved me of my Female Complaints of fifteen years' standing, and of so serious a nature, that latterly my physician suspected Cancer of the Womb. I suffered extremely, and at last was entirely disabled from attending to my usual pursuits.

. . . . It has given me more relief than any thing I have ever used for these difficulties. I will take pleasure in giving further details of my case to any lady who will call on me at 67 Mill street.

PROTECTION AGAINST LIGHTNING.

As the season of the year has arrived when thunder and lightning becomes frequent and as Newburyport is a favourable resort of the lightning, I have deemed it well to remind your people of the evidences I have gathered during a long series of years, showing that metallic lightning conductors reared for the purpose of protection, afford absolute protection to life against that fearful meteor.

First.—No case has been met with where life has been lost by lightning in a building or vessel furnished with metallic lightning-conductors of any kind.

Second.—No instance of loss of life by lightning in a steamboat, or Iron vessel of any kind, or in a railroad car, or Iron building, or building containing Iron castings or bar Iron in large quantity.

The first shows that lightning-conductors afford absolute protection to human life, and the second evidence that metals do not so attract lightning as to render a contact with them dangerous during thunder showers.

It will be a comfort to many persons who are alarmed by the severity of thunder storms to know that they are safe in steamboats and in railroad cars—safe in buildings and vessels furnished with lightning conductors, safe in Iron vessels and Iron buildings and safe in ware-houses filled with Iron castings or Bar Iron. The knowledge of these facts were sure to calm the minds of such during violent storms.

Lightning rods one hundred feet in length made of No. 1, or No. 2, Iron wire in one entire piece, cost less than one dollar each.—And person of ordinary capacity can put up lightning rods.

We have a printed sheet giving particular directions for putting up lightning rods, which we will send to any person wishing a copy, free of postage, that will enable them to purchase the wire and put up conductors at a very little cost. Our only object in circulating the printed sheet is to afford protection to life. We are not engaged in manufacturing or putting up rods.

Persons struck down by lightning should be drenched freely with cold water. If animation is not restored after three hours—continue the drenching. In one case animation was restored after six hours drenching with cold water—this fact should stimulate effort.

In the month of July 1854, we recorded the deaths of thirty-nine persons by lightning during twenty-seven thunder storms which we registered in that month within the field of our research.

E. MERIAM.
BROOKLYN HEIGHTS, N.Y., Apr. 20, 1855.

BURGLARY IN BOSTON.—On Tuesday morning about 3 o'clock, says the Advertiser, some of the residents of Leverett street were aroused by the cry of murder. Two young gentlemen near by hastily dressed themselves, ran into the street and discovered that the cries came from an elderly woman on the balustrade of house No. 109 Leverett street, occupied by Mr. A. Lewis and another family. After exchanging a word or two with the woman one of the young men went to the Station House for aid, but before the officers arrived, the neighbors had assembled and guarded every avenue of egress from the house. The officers entered the house and found that nearly every room had been ransacked and things left in great disorder, but found no person but the lawful inmates of the house—the burglar having probably escaped through a rear window which was found open. On enquiry, it was ascertained that the burglar visited the rooms occupied by three young men, and taking their wallets from their pockets, locked the occupants in their chamber. He also went into a chamber occupied by an elderly lady, and going to her bed, seized her by the throat, threatened her with death if she did not lie still, at the same time brandishing a knife over her head, and demanded money. She told him she was old and had no money. He repeated his threat of violence if any noise was made, and then entered a chamber occupied by a young lady about 18 years of age, went to her bed and placing the blade of a knife on her forehead threatened her with instant death if she made any noise. She screamed, caught hold of his whiskers with one hand, while with the other she caught hold of the knife, which was instantly wrenched from her by the burglar, who made his escape. This scream induced the other female to give the alarm from the balustrade. The burglar had placed a few silver spoons in the kitchen, but in his haste to escape left them behind. The wallets belonging to the young men who were locked in their rooms, were found in the kitchen, robbed of their contents. The burglar obtained only about $10, and an overcoat.

GRAPE CULTURE.—Two natives of Baden have bought a small farm in the town of Walpole, N. H., and, judging the climate there much the same as at their native place, have imported grape cuttings from thence, and devoted some acres to growing them. They commenced their vineyard last season, and intend to increase it this. These people are uncle and nephew. They have been always engaged in the grape culture, and are sanguine of success.

Morning Chronicle.

MORE "JUDGMENTS."

The Dover Gazette comes to the rescue of the Eastern Argus, on the Divine Judgments.

Dover Gazette.—Now it may be—we make the suggestion at any rate—that these are divine judgments—not on the men themselves, who may have been very excellent men—but on the party with which they happened to be in some sort of connexion.

Chronicle.—That is, God is the special guardian of one political party, and the special foe of another. If this be so, it is wonderful that victory perched on the wicked side.

D. G.—We say at all events that there is something very remarkable in the death of Mr. Moore and Mr. Barton, at that particular time.

C.—So there was; but it did not make one hair white or black, either as to the result of the election, or the issues involved therein. Mr. Moore was an able advocate of temperance, an earnest opponent of slavery, a noble defender of christianity against priestcraft and foreign domination. He died; but his principles can never die. Col. Barton, as we infer from the Argus, was advocating similar sentiments at the very moment of his demise—but there is no reason to believe that these solemn events changed one vote. Why should they? They had nothing to do with any principle,—they settled no question.

D. G.—The anti-democratic party has for years past suffered greatly from similar judgments.

C.—Indeed! has it? Then the Argus is all wrong, for it says, "We do believe there is something sacred in these three (Democratic, Whig and Free Soil) parties!"

D. G.—Is it not probable, then, that a providence, or a judgment, has fallen upon the infamous Hindoos in the death of prominent men who had acted with them?

C.—And is it not probable, in the same sense, that a providence has befallen another, we will not say infamous, but defeated and prostrate party, who justly mourn such men as Atherton, Ayer and Norris? Has any one ever undertaken to say that the deaths of these three men were special "judgments on the infamous" party with which they acted?

Why then, should men who know better, bring up such humbug bugbears, fit only to be believed by the most superstitious of mankind?

D. G.—The death of Gen. Harrison did prevent the consummation of the great measure of re-establishing a United States Bank. Capt. Tyler vetoed the measure, and there never has been a time since that it could be carried through Congress. Consequently the death of Harrison enacted the Sub-Treasury law. And what dangerous anti-slavery movements were defeated by the death of Gen. Taylor is equally among the mysteries of Divine Providence. It is certain, however, that a change occurred in the administration of affairs at Washington. Mr. Fillmore was not, like Gen. Taylor, the subservient tool of abolitionist leaders. * * * *

We have no wish to speak irreverently; but we say there is, in the events above named, matter for serious consideration and serious admonition to the party in power in this State. They are certainly admonished to act with prudence, lest heavier judgments fall upon them!

C.—That is, in plain English: Be prudent you Know Nothings in New Hampshire; God is the special patron and guardian of Slavery, of the Sub Treasury, and of old fogyism generally. Don't utter a word against intemperance; don't dare to nominate a Senator or make a speech that is not agreeable to the President or the Pope—for if you do, heavier judgments will fall and kill every one of you!

Hon. Matthew Ives of Westfield, says the Springfield Republican, died on Tuesday, of a severe and distressing tumor on his neck which had grown up within three weeks past. He was Postmaster of Westfield for twelve years, a State Senator in 1840, a member of the House at various times, and a leading and influential man in the Democratic party.

We hope no one will make out this case to be either a punishment or a warning.

Governor Reeder.—St. Louis, April 25.—A copy of a handbill, headed "People's Proclamation," and dated "April 9th," has just been received from Kansas. It was not circulated until after the departure of Gov. Reeder.

The document declares that whereas, Gov. Reeder has shown himself incompetent and unfit for the duties of his position; and whereas the appointment of a man to the Governorship without consulting the wishes of those to be governed, is an arbitrary exercise of power.

The citizens of Kansas have resolved to hold an election at Leavenworth on the 28th, to select a person to be the successor of Reeder, whose removal will be solicited.

The proclamation calls for delegates from each district to meet at Leavenworth on the 28th, to decide in regard to a suitable person to fill the office, whose name will be forwarded to the President for appointment.

☞ The United States Magazine for April, is the best number we have seen yet. It contains portraits and notices of John Jay, and Alexander Hamilton; an engraving of Mother Bailey's patriotism; Indian Scenes; Likenesses of Nine Russian Czars and Czarinas; and other valuable engravings. New York: J. M. Emerson & Co., publishers.

NUNNERY COMMITTEE.

The Massachusetts Legislative Committee on Nunneries, &c., have made their report. Their action was based on this order:

Ordered, that the joint special committee on the inspection of Nunneries and Convents be authorized and instructed to visit and examine such theological seminaries, boarding schools, academies, nunneries, convents and other institutions of a like character, as they may deem necessary, to enable them to make a final report on the subject committed to their consideration.

This order was adopted, without a dissenting voice in either branch of the Legislature.

The Committee say they understood it merely to sanction their visits as a legislative committee, and not as giving them power to enter any institution without the full permission of those having the control thereof.

They visited the College of the Holy Cross at Worcester; and the convent and school at Roxbury, where they were conducted over the whole premises.

At the Lowell school and convent, the lady said she was pleased to see us, and conducted us through the school room, chapel, sitting room, &c., and then informed us that there were some rooms, which no one but the priest or some one authorized by him was allowed to enter. * * * * The gentleman soon made his appearance, and when the lady superior stated to him the position of affairs, he said that, as guardian of the house, he should not consent to have any one enter those rooms. * * *

The committee were refused the favor of hearing any recitations, or witnessing any of the exercises of the school; the reason assigned was, that it was one of their rules to exhibit the school to none but catholics. The number of pupils was stated to be about 500.

From the evidence that has been presented to the committee, and from what they have seen of the institutions themselves, they do not find sufficient cause to warrant legislation in reference to them as convents. * * *

Viewed from another point, these establishments are of the deepest interest to the community; we refer to the schools connected with them. As has already been stated, they number from 12 to 500 pupils; and the testimony of the teachers of the public schools, goes far to prove the fact that little progress in knowledge is made in them. They say that children are often taken from the public schools, and sent to these private schools a year or two; and on returning to the public schools, show that they have made no progress whatever.

The reason given by the priests for keeping these children out of the public schools, is that they are there taught infidelity. * * *

The Committee on Education having reported a bill concerning examination of private educational institutions, we would recommend its passage, believing it to meet all the exigencies of the case.

The whole labors of the committee, of the Daily Advertiser, and of the Legislature, are well repaid, by the possession of this single fact, as stated by the priest at Lowell, viz. that their rules forbid the exhibition of the school to any but Catholics.

Men, whose wives visit the confessional freely and frequently,—and whose children are committed to the uninspected and irresponsible priestly school,—may not be blameworthy,—but they are surely to be pitied.

And American citizens, if they encourage such things, are to be blamed, and not pitied. Liberty of conscience, says our constitution, must be sacred; but we must not, on this pretext, harm our neighbor.

Pawtuckaway Bank.—The bills of this new bank, which has recently gone into operation at Epping, have made their appearance in our market. "The fives" are very neatly executed, and have upon them a fine likeness of Col. Jesse A. Gove of Concord, who has recently been appointed by the President, an officer of the army under the late act of Congress.

Fatal Railroad Accident.—On Wednesday noon, as Jonathan Akerman, of Ipswich, a track repairer on the Eastern Railroad, was riding between Ipswich and Rowley, in a hand-car attached to a freight train, his clothes caught in the crank which was revolving with great velocity, hurling him head foremost against the timbers of a bridge, whence he fell into the water. His body was soon recovered, when his skull was found to have been sufficiently fractured to produce instant death. He leaves a wife and two children.

The ship-carpenters of Buffalo, N. Y., are on a strike. On Wednesday they organized, and a procession of six or seven hundred men paraded the streets with a band of music.—The strikers appear disposed to interfere with those who are inclined to work, and trouble is apprehended.

The ship carpenters in Newburyport, continue their "strike," without present appearances of a settlement.

Paris, we learn, is about to be favored by the presence of Lola Montez, who, it is said, is married the —† time. The present worse half is, it is said, a gold digger, whom the Comtesse de Lanafeld picked up at Grass Valley, and whose millions she proposes to dispose of in the French capital; this done, the gold digger will doubtless be disposed of in his turn—qui no nous regarde pas.

Louisville papers contain the particulars of the burning of steamer Wm. Knox. No lives were lost. The books, money and papers of the boat were lost. There were 150 passengers on board, mostly emigrants for Kansas. The work of destruction did not occupy over fifteen minutes. Many of the passengers jumped into the river and swam ashore.

The ordinance defining the duties of City Solicitor passed, and was sent up for concurrence.

Both Boards were invited by the Mayor to visit the Alms House next Tuesday afternoon—accepted.

Tuesday morning, the different manufacturing corporations in Manchester, N. H., commenced work under what is called the eleven hour system.

At the election of town officers in Andover and North Andover, Mass., occasioned by the division of the town, the Know Fothings swept the board, stronger than ever.

Rev. Mr. Smithett, of Christ's Church, Boston, has sued the Boston Bee for libel. Damages are laid at $10,000. Whew!

Would you have Health?

USE LAWRENCE'S VEGETABLE, PHYSICAL Jaundice BITTERS; and Cure your Cough with his PECTORAL. a12 1jl

The Rev. Dr. LYMAN BEECHER, of Boston, late President of the Lane Theological Seminary, Cincinnati, Ohio, writes, "I have used the Vegetable Pectoral Balsam myself, with benefit, in catarrhal coughs and colds, and have known it to be used with good effect in the early stages of Pulmonary affections, in families around me." [See advertisement in another column.]

ARE YOU SICK?

Then you can't be cured too soon. Don't delay until your complaint is incurable, and then mourn when it is too late. Four fifths of all the diseases which people the church yards might be cured by Ayer's Cathartic Pills, if taken in season. Don't go dragging through the Spring, faint, sleepy and listless, because your blood is loaded with bile. Don't wear the headache, heartburn, and their kindred disorders, because your stomach is foul. Don't parade yourself around the world, covered with Pimples, Blotches, Ulcers, Sores and all or any of the unclean diseases of the skin, because your system wants cleansing. Don't show yourself about, lean, haggard, all caved in, because your stomach and bowels need strengthening into healthy action. Ayer's Pills set these things right as surely as water quenches fire. They purify the body and blood, and restore their functions into healthy activity which you can feel as quick as they are taken. They are the one great medical wonder of this age, recognized by all who know their virtues, and many thousands know them. Take the Cherry Pectoral for a Cough and the Pills for all derangements requiring a purgative medicine.

THERE is no article now before the public that contains the medical properties of PRESTON'S CATHOLICON, and as a Spring

Ship Nonpariel, Capt. Dunn, arrived at Liverpool from Philadelphia, on the 11th, having made the passage in 14 days. [The Nonpariel was built in Frankfort, Me.]

The War.—Nothing important is received from Sebastopol up to April 8th. The position of both armies were unchanged. As usual, night skirmishes on a small scale are continued. The weather was fine and dry. An Armistice of three hours was had to as to bury the dead.

An important statement is made, that the allies, changing their tactics in the Crimea, will fortify and hold, as material guarantee, the strong position of Kamiesch, with 20,000 men, and supported by the fleets.

Great Britain.—Parliament not now in session.

It was announced on the evening of Friday that the government had brought out a loan, amount and terms were unknown, but supposed to be £15,000,000 sterling. Funds immediately fell to 91 1-2.

The Emperor Napoleon and the Empress would reach London on Monday the 16th, and stay one week with the Queen. The tone of the British public is extravagant in adulation, very different from a year since.

The propriety of raising the siege of Sebastopol is freely and favorably talked of.

A court martial was investigating the cause of the loss of the steam frigate Tiger.

The earl of Carlisle has entered the Vice Royalty of Ireland, and was well received in public.

The movement respecting a newspaper stamp is taking a direction in favor of a halfpenny postage stamp. The Brazil mail steamer "Solent" arrived at Southampton, reports the frigate "Constitution" at Cape Verde, to leave April 1st—all well.

France.—The Paris Moniteur contains a remarkable official document, in which the military conudct of the allied governments since the opening of the war is explained; also promises that the phases, motives, and objects of the negotiations shall be known. The documents, occupying five long newspaper columns, state that the plan of campaign was first, "either to march and meet the Russians on the Balkan, secondly to take possession of the Crimea," or in the third place to land at Odessa or some other point on the Russian coast, and not proceed farther than the Danube unless Austria joined the alliance. Gallipoli was first occupied with an intention to check the advance of the Russians to Constantinople, but the retreat of the Russians from Sillistria, rendered the further occupation of Gallipoli and Varna unnecessary.—The allies could not have operated in Bessarabia without the aid of Austria; and, not to remain inactive, the expedition against Sebastopol was undertaken. The remainder of the document is occupied in pointing out the immense difficulties to the siege, and in exonerating the Emperor, who planned the campaign. It also contains a copy of Marshal St. Arnaud's private instructions. The document has excited much interest at home and abroad, and is regarded as an apology for soon raising the siege.

Spain.—The Spanish government has remitted to London the document on which the recal of Lord Howden was demanded, in consequence of his interference in religious matters. Excitement had subsided, and Madrid was tranquil. The government has borrowed from capitalists forty million reals, at 10 pr ct.

Portugal.—Arrivals of Indian corn at Lisbon had dispelled the fears of bread riots. The Provinces were quiet.

Austria.—The Emperor of Austria's coronation will take place on the 18th of August.

Sickness is reported to prevail in the Austrian army, and is given as a reason why it is not ready to take the field.

Italy.—The Russian Count Potocki is visiting all the Italian States except Sardinia, assuring them of the friendship of Russia. He is said to have the assurance of neutrality from Tuscany and Naples.

It is reported that the Duke de Grammont, the French Minister at Turin, will proceed to Rome to mediate in the difficulty between the Pope and Sardinia.

The Pope has had a narrow escape of his life, by the accidental fall of a beam. Two Cardinals were injured. Particulars not yet received.

Notice to Builders and Joiners.

THE attention of JOINERS and all engaged or interested in building is solicited to the fact that many of our finest buildings are defaced and their general appearance materially altered from the original design of the architect, by the miserably constructed, ill-contrived, and narrow contracted leaden goose-necks, or what is still worse, a skewangle continuation of the upright conductor with which the cornice is adorned—all of which may be remedied by application to

J. E. CHAPMAN,

PRACTICAL TIN PLATE WORKER,

who will give his personal attention to the adjustment of all such defects. Specimens of Ornamental Goose-necks and Conductor Caps, on the most approved plan of modern architecture may be seen at his Tin Ware Factory, where he manufactures to order

CONDUCTORS GOOSE-NECKS & GUITERS of all sizes, in the most thorough and substantial manner. All orders left with him will receive immediate attention.

OXYGENATED BITTERS!

THE ONLY SURE AND SAFE REMEDY EVER DISCOVERED

For the cure of

DYSPEPSIA,

IN ALL ITS VARIOUS FORMS, As well as Liver Diseases, Fever and Ague, Bilious Complaints, Bronchitis, General Debility, and all diseases of a kindred nature.

Read the following testimony from Dr. Henry E. Morrell, a skillful physician of N. Y. city. He says:—"The most effectual medicine to improve the tone and energy of the stomach is that prepared by Dr. George B. Green, of Windsor, Vt., and called the Oxygenated Bitters."

The Oxygenated Bitters do not contain a particle of alcohol in their composition, and are, of necessity, highly concentrated, to prevent the injurious action of the temperature of different climates. Each bottle, when diluted according to the directions, makes nearly half a gallon of medicine, as pleasant to the taste as lemonade; and as to quantity, quite the cheapest medicine.

I have employed them in a multitude of cases, and have uniformly found that, when used according to the directions, they gradually, but surely, remove, one by one, the various distressing symptoms which cluster around the confirmed Dyspeptic, restore the stomach to its lost energies, and thus lead the patient back to the enjoyment of permanent health and strength.

It has also been used by the following persons, and received their unqualified approbation:—

Prof. A. A. Hayes, M. D., State Assayer, Boston

Prof. Chas. E. Phelps, M. D., of Therapeutics and Materia Medica, Dartmouth College.

Hon. Myron Lawrence, Ex-President of Massachusetts Senate.

Hon. L. H. Arnold, formerly Governor of Rhode Island, and member of Congress.

Chloroform has been used in a singular manner, in Iowa, to effect a robbery. The house of Jacob Fees was entered through a window, small rolls of paper saturated with chloroform or opium were thrown into the room, by which the inmates were thrown into sleep; then linen clothes, wet with the article, were placed over the faces of Mr. Fees and his wife, and they were kept unconscious while eight hundred dollars were taken from between the straw and feather beds where they were sleeping.

Mr. Eli Hamilton, of Derby, Ct., aged 67, came to his death in a very singular manner a few nights since. His son, a young lad, was gurgling pepper tea for a sore throat, when his father wanted some to drink. He took a swallow, which strangled him so much that his friends gave him some tea, which apparently relieved him, but in a few moments he complained of feeling bad. His family, seeing that he changed fast, sent for the nearest neighbor, but before he got there Mr. Hamilton was dead. He had ruptured a blood vessel in his lungs, which caused his death.

The Legislature of Connecticut meets on the 7th of May. Two important amendments to the Constitution which were acted upon last year, are to be passed upon by the present Legislature. They are, the striking the word white out of the qualifications for suffrage, and the confinement of the privilege of voting to those who can read. Those amendments passed. This year they must have a vote of two thirds of both houses in their favor before they can be presented to the people for their acceptance or rejection.

HERTS BROTHERS
PENS.
WARRANTED NOT TO CORRODE.
HERTS BROTHERS, having been many years engaged in the manufacture of Metalic Pens, and during that time, having devoted their unceasing attention to improving and perfecting that useful and necessary article, the result of their unceasing efforts and numerous experiments has been the construction of a Pen on a principle entirely new, combining all the advantages of the elasticity and clearness of the Quill, with six times the durability of the Steel Pen; and thus entirely obviating the only objection that has hitherto existed against the use of Steel Pens.
This Pen will be found an invaluable article in Offices, as they never need wiping, also to Banks and Schools, as they will not pointer nor cut the thinest paper, and are warranted anti-corrosive.
Caution.—The universal celebrity of these Pens having induced several disreputable Makers to foist upon the public a spurious imitation, it will please to be observed that each genuine Pen is stamped, "Herts, Brothers' Patent, 1853," and each box of Genuine Pens will contain a label with a fac-simile of the Manufacturers' name.

DR. J. B. MARCHISI'S
Celebrated Catholicon,
FOR THE
RELIEF & CURE OF SUFFERING FEMALES.
It stands pre-eminent for its curative powers in all the diseases for which it is recommended, usually called
FEMALE
COMPLAINTS.
Of these are Prolapsus Uteri, or Falling of the Womb; Fluor Albus, or Whites; Chronic Inflammation of the Womb; Incidental Hemorrhage or Flooding; Painful, Suppressed, and Irregular Menstruation, &c., with all their accompanying evils. (Cancer excepted) no matter how severe or of how long standing.
Let all interested call and obtain a pamphlet (free) containing ample proof, from the most respectable sources, of the beneficial results of its use; together with letters from highly experienced Physicians, who have used it in their practice, and speak from their own observation.
A WORD TO THE LADIES.
Should any entertain doubts as to the efficacy of the Uterine Catholicon, I would respectfully state that I have for many years past, as my friends can well attest, been intrusted with the discovery for which this medicine is recommended, in its worst forms, and that by its use I have been entirely cured, and thus induced to accept an agency, and offer it for the benefit of others.
MRS. S. GAIT, 33 South street, Boston.
I feel it my duty to make known to the afflicted the virtues of Marchisi's Uterine Catholicon, which has relieved me of Female Complaints of fifteen years' standing, and of so serious a nature, that latterly my physician suspected a tumor in the Womb. I suffered extremely, and at last was entirely disabled from attending to my usual pursuits. . . . It has given me more relief than any thing I have ever used for these difficulties. I will take pleasure in giving further details at my case to any lady who will call on me at 67 Mill street.

KANSAS MATTERS.

The Kansas Herald of Freedom, of April 7th, says that Gov. Reeder has determined to submit the recently contested election case in that Territory, to the United States Attorney General, for his opinion.

This paper says that the Missourians waited on Gov. Reeder in person, and told him he had the choice of one of three things—to sign the certificates of election in fifteen minutes, to resign, or hang. The response was ready: "Gentlemen, my mind is made up, without further advisement—I shall hang." He had friends in the crowd who would have been at home in case of an attempt at practical enforcement of this threat.

The Squatter Sovereign, a pro-slavery paper published in Atchison, Kansas, advises the formation of vigilant committees to protect slavery property in Kansas, by lynch law if necessary: and further recommends that the inhabitants of Lawrence be driven out of the Territory forthwith. The same paper, which is dated April 10th, contains resolutions passed "at a large and enthusiastic meeting held at Nicholas K. T., on the 17th inst.," nominating Thomas Johnson for Governor, to be voted for in every district at the coming election; and declaring that the action of the people in the premises, is "to be considered as a petition to the President to remove A. H. Reeder, and commission the man they elect."

Governor Reeder has addressed a pungent letter to Mr. Monypenny, the Commissioner of Indian Affairs, in reply to the charges made in his official report in January last, that the governor had been taking an improper advantage of his official position to speculate in lands. He admits that he bought lands, but insists that he paid what they were worth, to parties as competent as he or Commissioner Monypenny to transact business. He concludes by saying that either he or the commissioner is unfit for his place, and proposes that the commissioner agree that unless he makes good his charge by or before a specified time, the President dismiss him, and if he does, that the President dismiss Governor Reeder. Whether the Commissioner will accept this challenge or not, has not yet transpired.

The Washington correspondent of the Missouri Republican writes as follows, under date of April 11th:

Had the new Territories been left to abide their time, without any attempt to force or foist upon them a population to effect sectional purposes, the impression here is that they would eventually become free territory. As it is, however, the seal of slavery is fixed upon Kansas; and the Nebraska position of the administration is in high pleasure at the result. Quite a rejoicing came off at the white house on the day the news reached us.

In a recent discourse before one of the associations auxiliary to the American Bible Society, the Rev. Dr. Bethune said:

If I remember rightly, sir, at the beginning of this century, the number of spoken languages of mankind—that is, languages that had been brought under the grammar and the educationary systems—could not have amounted to more than forty. May I ask you, sir, if it be not true that on your shelves the Scriptures are in very nearly a hundred and fifty languages?—certainly over a hundred and forty. Look at this! In little more than fifty years, one hundred languages have been added to the intercommunion of the nations of the earth! Now, sir, I challenge all the Universities and all the Colleges in the world to produce such a triumph as this. All mankind, with all their universities and schools, in 1800 years, had only accomplished forty languages; and Bible societies have accomplished a hundred, in addition to this forty.

MORE GOSSIP.—The Boston Times of the 25th inst. speaking of Mr. Hiss's Mrs. Patterson says,

The Mrs. Patterson above referred to was formerly Priscilla Blood, and was married to Mr. Patterson shortly after the trial of Albert J. Tirrell for the murder of Maria Bickford. Mr. Patterson and Miss Blood were both in the house where the murder was committed, on the night that it took place, and the lady figured somewhat conspicuously at the trial. The gentleman in question was a flutist, a member of the National Orchestra, and also of the Musical Fund Society, but was expelled shortly after his marriage, he having been sent to the House of Correction for being guilty of indecent conduct upon the Common.

The Philadelphia Ledger says:—Some time since, the ship Edwin Forrest was in distress on our Eastern coast, and the tow boat Ajax, from New York, went to her assistance. She had on board three pilots—one from Sandy Hook, another from Hell Gate, and a third from the Sound. The Ajax was never heard from, and the pilots are supposed to have found a watery grave. To the widows of the three pilots, Mr. Forrest, unsolicited, sent each a check for $1000.

Morning Chronicle.

SATURDAY, APRIL 28, 1855.

PASTORAL JUBILEE.

The 24th of April was the fiftieth anniversary of the ordination of Rev. Brown Emerson, D. D., over the South Congregational Church in Salem. The occasion was appropriately observed by the Church and Society, by public services in their church. In the afternoon a very large congregation, including representatives from most of the religious societies of the city, and the pastors of the churches of Salem and neighboring towns, assembled to hear the semi-centennial discourse of the Rev. Pastor, who stood before them in all the freshness and vigor of a matured old age; his person erect, and his voice and action scarcely at all enfeebled by fifty years ministerial service. The text selected was Paul's address to Agrippa—Acts 26: 22,—"Having therefore, obtained help of God, I continue unto this day," and the discourse was mainly historical. There was a meeting in the evening,—"a social gathering," which was very fully attended, and which lasted until 11 o'clock.

Speeches were made by clergymen and laymen of various denominations and opinions: among them were Rev. Israel E. Dwinell, colleague of the aged pastor, Hon. C. W. Upham, Rev. Dr. Worcester, Deacon Grecle, Rev. Dr. Thompson, Rev. Messrs. Allen, Kimball, Briggs, and others.

Presents, (prepared without the old gentleman's knowledge,) were brought in, viz, a silver Pitcher, Goblet and Salver, with suitable inscriptions.

Dr. Emerson is now in his 78th year. His brother, Rev. Reuben Emerson, of South Reading, who was present and took part in the services, is in his 84th year, and is the only surviving minister of the Ordaining Council.

The music was grand beyond conception. The choir was composed of between sixty and seventy vocalists, volunteers from the choirs of the several churches of the city, and several past members who have removed to other places, and the swelling harmonies of New Jerusalem, Psalm 34th, Billings' Jordan, St. Martin's and Old Hundred—favorites of the fathers—were poured out with a gush of melody, a fervor of feeling, and a volume of sound, truly inspiring.

The Register says:—

Among the auditors we noticed the venerable Judge Punchard, who has, within a few weeks, entered his 93d year; Benjamin Cox, Esq. the only living proprietor of a pew in the old house and who has continued a proprietor of the present structure during the entire period of Dr. Emerson's ministry; Dea. Nathaniel Frothingham and Robert Brookhouse, Esq. of this city, and Josiah Caldwell, Esq. of Ipswich, the only other surviving original proprietors of the present house. Mr. Caldwell was a member of the choir at the time of the Ordination of Dr. Emerson in 1805, and took his place, with other former members, in the orchestra, and united his voice with the singers on Tuesday.

HISS-OLOGY.—The Hiss committee of the Massachusetts Legislature are investigating anew, but don't seem to find much new matter. In the testimony of Sister Mary Aloysia, otherwise called Lady Superior of the Roxbury Convent School, it appears that Peleg W. Chandler, Esq. drew up the Sisters' statement.

Mr. Butler—Where was it written? A. In our house.

Mr. Butler—When? A. In the evening of the day when we were summoned to appear before the former committee.

In answer to further questions, the witness stated that the Bishop, Mr. Samuel May and Mr. Chandler came to the house in company. The statement was intended to give an exact relation of all the principal things. The sisters understood in signing it that each assented to its truth so far as her own knowledge extended.

Mr. Butler asked her to whom she first repeated this conversaton with Mr. Hiss. She said that after the departure of the visitors the sisters talked the matter over in conversation. In the afternoon Rev. Mr. Gallagher called with an old man to see the school, and she told him, and asked him to tell the Bishop. The next day the Bishop called and she told him herself. She told it also to their physician, Dr. Flint—to Mr. Charles Hale, when he called—to her confessor, Father McElroy—to Rev. Mr. O'Byrne, clergyma of the parish.

Mr. Butler—Is either of these gentlemen a member of the Society of Jesus? A. Father McElroy is.

BEGINNING OF THE FALL. Wednesday's Albany Register says that in that city on Tuesday the choicest samples of table butter were sold at 25 cents per pound, and fresh eggs at 16 cents per dozen. May the good movement spread to other regions.

The New York Times state that on Tuesday a flare up occured in Brooklyn, which resulted in Col. Jack, a lawyer, challenging a professional brother, named Schoonmaker, and that the latter declined accepting the invitation, "unless the Colonel would fatten himself up sufficiently to be a mark to be shot at."

Editors of the Chronicle:—We are "all aboard," now, and our gallant ship is moving down the harbor in tow of the steam tug Hector. The day is fine and our prospects fair. In a few hours I expect to bid farewell to my native shores for the first time, and commit myself to the mercy of the "bounding billows" for a time. All our state rooms are full of passengers, and there are about one hundred foreigners, second class passengers, on board, returning to their "father land." Some of them appear intelligent and well bred. America probably has not proved to them the paradise they anticipated. How full of hope and how full of disappointment is life.

Farewell, THOMAS HOLMES.

CHOICE LITERATURE.—The New Hampshire Patriot of April 25, contains the following item:

The scurvy puppy of the Meredith Gazette seems to be mad because we convicted him of deliberate forgery! Well, we are glad to perceive that the foul-mouthed fellow has some sense of shame left.

A correspondent of the same paper, signing himself Bow, says:

The Hindoos in New Hampshire and throughout the country, have just sense enough, just decency enough and just impudence enough to indulge in the beautiful and gentlemanly practice of hissing in public meetings. * * * They may, with the strictest regard for the fitness of things, be denominated the Hissing Hindoos!

Another correspondent, (*) says:

How forcibly and how constantly were the people of this State reminded of the corrupting tendency of Know Nothingism, during our last political campaign. Truth, justice, honor, were all counted as of nothing worth, by the Hindoo leaders of New Hampshire. Democratic meetings were forcibly broken up, democratic speakers were shamefully hissed and insulted, democratic men and women were groaned at in their quiet dwellings, by these boasted conservators of the public morals. Argument and reason were met, by the rowdy cohorts of "Sam," with falsehood and deception. Ministers and other men, who before stood above reproach in the public esteem, became corrupt and false to a degree justly alarming.

This correspondent closes thus:

We are devoutly thankful to Him who has ordained that everything human must come to an end, and that the "latter end" of Know Nothingism is rapidly drawing nigh!

We do not offer any comment on these extracts; but merely present them to such of our readers as do not see the Patriot, as fair specimens of that class of newspaper literature, at the head of which stands the Patriot with its numerous contributors, who furnish columns of similar matter, week by week.

If any friend out of the State should ask us the cause or occasion for such an outpouring of language,—we must answer, Really, we don't know any other call for it, than the simple fact that the Patriot and the party which it represents, have lost some of their power by one or two popular elections, in which the democratic principle of majority rule, happened to turn against them.

☞ Putnam's Monthly, for May, has a spirited and graphic article on The Compensation Office, which must be read and felt, to be understood. The Dames of Virginia; the Turks two hundred years ago; and a Cruise in the Flying Dutchman, are also readable articles. The story "Twice Married," is not bad, except that it breaks off, provokingly, in the middle, as Magazine stories are wont to do.

Dix & Edwards, publishers, New York: sold by Fetredge & Co. Boston; J. F. Shores, Jr., Portsmouth.

☞ Peterson's Magazine for May, has just come to hand, from Federhen & Co., Boston, via J. P. Morse, Portsmouth. Embellishments—Il Penseroso, Les Modes Parisiennes, Miss Nightingale at Scutari, and Fashions in abundance. The contributors are numerous and able.

DANCING.—Dr. Channing says;—Let families discountenance public balls, but dance at home. A small party at home is easily, conveniently, and cheaply got up, and is far more social, more happy and more healthful than any possible pudlic ball.

The editress of the Woman's Temperance Paper, in an interesting account of a visit to Blackwell's Island, states that the inmates of the Alms House, Lunatic Asylum and Penitentiary, the proportion of intemperate persons is fully seven eighths.

Oh! let the children play more, dance more, work more. Let them breathe deeper and grow stronger. And what they learn, let it be suitable to their years, enlightening to their minds, and adapted to their destinies.

Mrs. Nichols, better known as Miss Bronte, still better known as Currer Bell, but most known as the author of Jane Eyre, one of the best novels of modern times, died at Haworth in Yorkshire, on the 31st of March.

Rosetta Armstead, the slave girl liberated by the laws of Ohio, has been adopted by a wealthy lady and will be educated in New England.

For the Chronicle.

THE PROPOSED CITY BUILDINGS.

Messrs. Editors:—Permit a correspondent, who seldom meddles with municipal affairs, but who has the interests of the city and its schools very much at heart, to offer a suggestion as to the contemplated building for the High Schools.

If the Girls' and Boys' High Schools are to be accommodated under the same roof, it is of obvious importance that they should have separate entrances; if possible, on different streets. The lot now occupied on State street by the old brick school house, and on Court street in part by the engine house, is of about the requisite size for the proposed building; and being central, easily accessible and dry, is well adapted for school occupancy. It is of ample width on either street for a first class school house. Let a substantial brick building be erected on that lot, with one front on State street and one on Court street, and with a partition of solid masonry in the middle. Let the Girls' High School occupy the portion fronting on State street. Let there be a basement or lower story of ten or twelve feet in height, in which should be the entrance from the street; in the rear of the entrance the furnace room; on one side of it a dressing room, rooms for retirement, &c.; and on the other side a spacious play room, all which apartments could be moderately warmed, when necessary, by lateral flues from the furnace. Let the second or main story contain a hall large enough for any probable future number of scholars, with two commodious recitation rooms in the rear, which might be lighted either by sashed partitions or from above. Let the portion of the building on Court street be finished for the Boys' school, in similar style, except that, the nature of the ground admitting of a higher basement, and the nature of boys craving street room rather than a play room, the engine might be housed on one side of the entrance, or one or more apartments for some other city use might be located there.

In case of the adoption of this plan, the room now occupied by the Girls' High School might be taken for the Boys' Grammar School of District No. 2; it would be an improvement upon its present locality, and would satisfy the public till such time as the state of the city treasury will admit of the erection of a suitable district school house.

It is believed that the plan above suggested can be carried out at less cost, with less disturbance of things as they are, and with less danger of interfering with the interests and wishes of individual citizens, or with the value of private property, than any other which has been proposed. *

☞ The Maine Telegraph Company are about constructing a new line from Boston, through Newburyport and Portsmouth, to Portland, intersecting with all lines in the United States.

This movement will bring us out into the World again, and put us in communication with the rest of mankind.

The Company have leased the premises of Mr. E. P. Rosch, near the Depot of the Eastern Railroad, as a Telegraph Station.—E. O. Laughton, Esq., well known in this business, will remove to this place, and operate here, assisted by his daughters,—commencing about the middle of May.

DANCING.—By our advertising columns, it will be seen that Mr. Papanti, nephew of the old and well known teacher of that name, will commence a term of lessons in dancing, this afternoon, at Congress hall.

Mr. Lamprey also announces his usual summer term, to commence next Wednesday afternoon, at Rechab hall. He is well known to our citizens as a thorough gentleman and an excellent teacher—and well deserving the liberal patronage always bestowed upon him by his fellow townsmen.

☞ Prof. Guyot, of Cambridge, will be present at the Teachers' Institute at Hampton, one day of the session, and deliver three lectures, on Physical Geography. This will be an additional attraction; as the lecturer is of wide celebrity and great ability.

The Institute commences on Monday.—All who wish to attend can procure tickets over the Eastern Railroad at half price.

☞ See Auction column, for rare opportunities to invest to-day.

USE LAWRENCE'S VEGETABLE PHYSICAL Jaundice BITTERS; and Cure your Cough with his PECTORAL. a13 ‖1

THE REV. DR. LYMAN BEECHER, of Boston, late President of the Lane Theological Seminary, Cincinnati, Ohio, writes, "I have used the YORK WAKE PULMONARY BALSAM myself, with benefit, in catarrhal coughs and colds, and have known it to be used with good effect in the early stages of Pulmonary affections, in families around me." [See advertisement in another column.]

ARE YOU SICK?

Then you can't be cured too soon. Don't delay until your complaint is incurable, and then mourn when it is too late. Four fifths of all the diseases in the church yards might be cured by Ayer's Cathartic Pills, if taken in season. Don't go dragging through the Spring, faint, sleepy and listless, because your blood is loaded with bile. Don't wear the headache, heartburn, and their kindred disorders, because your stomach is foul. Don't parade yourself around the world, covered with Pimples, Blotches, Ulcers, Sores and all or any of the unclean diseases of the skin, because your system wants cleansing. Don't show yourself about, lean, haggard, all caved in, because your stomach and bowels need strengthening into healthy action. Ayer's Pills set these things right as surely as water quenches fire. They purify the body and blood, and restore their functions into healthy activity which you can feel as quick as they are taken. They are the one great medical wonder of this age, recognized by all who know their virtues, and many thousands know them. Take the Cherry Pectoral for a Cough and the Pills for all derangements requiring a purgative medicine.

Prepared by DR. J. C. AYER, Lowell, Ms., and sold by every respectable Druggist in New England.

Agents in Portsmouth, W. R. PRESTON, J. H. THACHER, and D. MINHALL, and sold by the Druggists throughout the United States. 2m a2 d&w

BUY THE BEST SPRING MEDICINE.

THERE is no article now before the public that contains the medical properties of PRESTON'S CATHOLICON, and as a Spring

Blood Purifier and Appetiser,

It has no equal. The experience of thousands, and its constant manufacture since 1848, fully prove all that can be written or said in its favor. Numerous artic es are offered for all diseases that flesh is heir to; many of them are worthless compounds, and put up to evade the Maine Liquor Law—consisting of poor Rum or Gin, sweetened with molasses, strongly flavored with Sassafras and Stoughton Bitters, and thus the innocent who wish to purchase an article of Medicine of real worth, are duped by the extravagant advertisements of a worthless article and spend their money for that which is naught.

Purchase a Bottle of GREAT FIRE IN BOSTON.—We learn from Jackson & Co.'s Express, that a fire broke out about 2 o'clock on Friday afternoon, on Battery Wharf, at the North end of Boston, and swept all before it to Union Wharf, including two ships, and six or eight of the firemen's tubs. At 4 o'clock, when the Express left, the loss was reported to be at least half a million of dollars, even if the flames were then stayed. The wind blew very fresh.

MASSACHUSETTS.—On Friday, April 27, the Senate passed the address for the removal of Judge Loring, by a vote of 27 to 11.

A TERRIBLE CALAMITY.—The New York Staats Zeitung contains, among the news brought by the Nashville, a heart-rending tale from Dantzic, dated the 31st of March, as follows:

The breaking up and floating down of the ice on the Vistula, which has been so often the source of great damage to the surrounding lowlands, has this spring taken place with such terrible violence as to surpass anything of the kind within the last fifty years.

The strong dykes, constructed at an immense cost along the banks of the river, have been swept away in many places by the infuriated element; and four hundred square miles of the most fertile plains, the best wheat-producing district in the world, are now covered by water and have the appearance of a lake.

One hundred human corpses had already been picked up near a single place ('Tiegenhoff) when the above report was sent off.

Mr Gerhard, the editor of a German paper in New York, calls upon all Germans to contribute liberally towards a fund for the relief of the thousands who have been bereft of their all by this overwhelming calamity.

FILLIBUSTERISM.—The New York Tribune says:

"The Fillibusters have opened offices in Broadway and other thoroughfares, for the enlistment of men to serve in "the war with Spain," and we hear that applications are quite numerous. The remnant of the Mexican Volunteers, and a squadron of office holders from the Custom House, stand god-fathers to the new army, which is to be called the "Worth Legion." So far from preventing forays upon Cuba, it seems that the Government at Washington is the special patron of the business."

We do not credit the latter part of the statement; but give it as we find it.

APRIL IN THE INTERIOR.—The driver of the Sandwich stage informs us that last week he was compelled to change vehicles four times between Sandwich and Farmington: from runners to wheels twice and back again—the snow being too deep on a portion of the route for the one, and not enough of it on the other portions for the other. So late as last Monday he passed over snow drifts eight feet deep. —Dover Enq., April 26.

TO MARINERS.—Mr James Small, keeper of the Highlgnd light, Cape Cod, states that the sand bars extend further from the shore than formerly, and cautions Mariners against approaching too near. A brig recently got upon one about 4 miles North West from Highland Light. On 5th inst., a ship got on near the same spot, and on 6th, a steamer.—They all got off after being exposed several hours. Mr. S. notices many vessels passing along the back of the Cape, having very little water under their keels.

The Great Specific of the Age.
OXYGENATED BITTERS!
THE ONLY SURE AND SAFE REMEDY EVER DISCOVERED
For the cure of
DYSPEPSIA,
IN ALL ITS VARIOUS FORMS,
AS well as Liver Diseases, Fever and Ague, Bilious Complaints, Bronchitis, General Debility, and all diseases of a kindred nature.
Read the following testimony from Dr. Henry E. Morrell, a skillful physician of N. Y. city. He says:—"The most effectual medicine to improve the tone and energy of the stomach is that prepared by Dr. George B. Green, of Windsor, Vt., and called the Oxygenated Bitters."
The Oxygenated Bitters do not contain a particle of alcohol in their composition, and are, of necessity, highly concentrated, to prevent the injurious action of the temperature of different climates. Each bottle, when diluted according to the directions, makes nearly half a gallon of medicine, as pleasant to the taste as lemonade; and as to quantity, quite the CHEAPEST MEDICINE.
I have employed them in a multitude of cases, and have uniformly found that, when used according to the directions, they gradually, but surely, remove, one by one, the various distressing symptoms which cluster around the confirmed Dyspeptic, restore the stomach to its lost energies, and thus lead the patient back to the enjoyment of permanent health and strength.
It has also been used by the following persons, and received their unqualified approbation:—
Prof. A. A. Hayes, M. D., State Assayer, Boston
Prof. E. E. Phelps, M. D., of Therapeutics and Materia Medica, Dartmouth College.
Hon. Myron Lawrence, Ex-President of Massachusetts Senate.
Hon. I. H. Arnold, formerly Governor of Rhode Island, now member of Congress.
Hon. J. F. Simmons, U. S. Senator from R. I.

HERTS BROTHERS, having been many years engaged in the manufacture of Metallic Pens, and during that time, having devoted their unceasing attention to improving and perfecting that useful and necessary article, the result of their unceasing efforts and numerous experiments has been the construction of a Pen on a principle entirely new, combining all the advantages of the elasticity and clearness of the Quill, with six times the durability of the Steel Pen; and thus entirely obviating the only objection that has hitherto existed against the use of Steel Pens.

This Pen will be found an invaluable article in Offices, as they never need wiping, also to Banks and Schools, as they will not spatter nor cut the finest paper, and are warranted anti-corrosive.

Caution.—The universal celebrity of these Pens having induced several disreputable Makers to foist upon the public a spurious imitation, it will please to be observed that each genuine Pen is stamped, "Herts, Bronzed Patent, 1853," and each box of Genuine Pens will contain a label with a fac-simile of the Manufacturers' name.

DR. J. B. MARCHISI'S
Celebrated Catholicon,
FOR THE
RELIEF & CURE OF SUFFERING FEMALES.

It stands preeminent for its curative powers in all the diseases for which it is recommended, and usually called

FEMALE COMPLAINTS.

Of these are Prolapsus Uteri, or Falling of the Womb; Fluor Albus, or Whites; Chronic Inflammation of the Womb; Incipient Hemorrhage or Flooding; Painful, Suppressed, and Irregular Menstruation, &c., with all their accompanying evils. (Cancer excepted) no matter how severe or of how long standing.

Let all interested call and obtain a pamphlet (free) containing ample proof, from the most respectable sources, of the beneficial results of its use; together with letters from highly experienced Physicians, who have used it in their practice, and speak from their own observations.

A WORD TO THE LADIES.

Should any entertain doubts as to the efficacy of the Uterine Catholicon, I would respectfully state that I have for many years past, as my friends can well attest, been troubled with the disease for which this medicine is recommended, in its worst forms, and that by its use I have been entirely cured, and thus induced to accept an agency, and offer it for the benefit of others.

MRS. S. GAIT, 38 South street, Boston.

I feel it my duty to make known to the afflicted the virtues of Marchisi's Uterine Catholicon, which has relieved me of Female Complaints of fifteen years' standing, some of so serious a nature, that latterly my physician suspected Cancer of the Womb. I suffered extremely, and at last was entirely disabled from attending to my usual pursuits. . . . It has given me more relief than any thing I have ever used for these difficulties. I will take pleasure in giving further details of my case to any lady who will call on me at 67 Mill street.

Morning Chronicle.

CUBA AND THE SOUTH.—The Journal of Commerce, the other day, gave extracts from the letter of a southern man against the annexation of Cuba, on the ground that it would increase southern weakness rather than strength. The abolition of slavery in Cuba he thinks would be beneficial to American planters, since it would ruin that island, as it has Hayti and Jamaica, and transfer her productions to Louisiana, Florida and Texas, where coffee and sugar can be grown as well as in Cuba.

Every man at the North, who supposes the whole Southern people to be fillibusters, or annexationists, or slavery propagandists,—does himself as well as the South, great injustice.

To be sure, there are some men at the South, as mean as the meanest—but the South has also had noble men, like Crawford of Georgia, and Grimke of South Carolina; aye, and doubtless she has them now.

Humanity, justice and liberty, have good friends on the plantations, in the cities, on the mountains and in the swamps of the South. There is a sunny South Side view, not of slavery itself, but of the people and the territory injured by it.

FIRE! FIRE!! FIRE!!!—The Boston Chronicle has a correspondent who signs himself One of the Assessors, and asks whether he must consider wines and liquors as property, and so tax them, or whether he must omit them. The Chronicle answers thus:

Wines and liquors are property, always have been property, so long as they have been in existence, and always will be property in the hands of any private citizen, corporation or copartnership, any so-called law, that declares them to be contraband in the hands of everybody except the agents of municipal corporations, to the contrary notwithstanding. If the State takes wines and liquors from a private owner and pours them upon the ground, or sells them and pockets the money, as the new liquor law allows it to do, the State is a plunderer and a robber, and a crisis has arrived when the citizen is absolved from his allegiance to the government, when he should fall back upon his reserved rights.

The Washington correspondent of the St. Louis Republican says the Hon. Stephen A. Douglas lately left that city for his home in Illinois, in fine health and spirits. Although the Little Giant is uncompromisingly opposed to the Know Nothings, he thinks they have the next Presidential election in their keeping, and that they will bestow it upon Sam Houston of Texas.

A late writer says that every created thing has a brain, has a memory, has a past, and applies its experience for the benefit of its future happiness. An old dog in a bear hunt is as cautious of Bruin's teeth as an old broker is of suspicious stocks, and both act on the same principle—the recollection of being bitten "in a previous transaction."

Sam Houston closed one of his despatches, when at the head of the Texan army, with "let the people plant corn." That ought to be the cry now. There are too many consumers for the producers; and though the wheat crop promises to be above the average this year, there will be little fall in flour before the new crop comes off.

The children of the Jews, in Boston, are sent to schools supported by that religious body, at an expense of from twenty five to thirty dollars for each pupil, because they will not allow their children to attend the public schools, where their religious faith will be shaken. They object to having their children taught to pray to Christ, or to read the New Testament as of divine origin.

FLOUR.—The Boston Herald says, we have before us two bills for flour; one is dated November, 1817, and is for one half barrel of flour, which is charged at $8! The other bill is dated July, 1819, and is for one barrel of flour, which is charged at $4! In a period of 20 months, flour fell from $16 a barrel to $4—a fearful fall—the latter price being as much too low as the first price was too high.

Morning Chronicle.

MONDAY, APRIL 30, 1855.

THE NEW LIQUOR BILLS.—There seems to be a defect in the Liquor bill in New York. The fourth section of the law declares the violation of the law to be misdemesnor. But a recent act of the legislature declares that the Court of Special sessions shall have exclusive jurisdiction of misdemeanors. Yet the fifth section of the liquor bill provides that the Justices of the Peace, Police Justices, &c., shall have jurisdiction in liquor cases. Here is a conflict of statutes which must somewhat embarrass the operations of the law. States about to pass similar laws should profit from these mistakes.—Manchester American.

We hope the representatives elect in this State will attend well to this matter, and be prepared next June to give us a liquor law that shall be as arsenic to the traffic, and as noiseless in its operations as a homeopathic pill.—Great Falls Journal.

In relation to the new law in Massachusetts, the Boston Advertiser says:

Upon the fourth page will be found the new "act concerning the manufacture and sale of spirituous and intoxicating liquors" which now being the law of the land, all good citizens are presumed to know its provisions and are bound to obey them.

But the Boston Chronicle says:

There are as many rumors afloat about the Maine Law as there are about Sevastopol. How many times has it been given out that on a certain day Sevastopol was positively to be bombarded by the Allies and taken. Sevastopol still stands, five times as strong as it was at the opening of the siege. At last, its capture has been given up by the French Emperor himself. So with regard to the enforcement of the Maine Law, which is just as much an impossibility as the capture of the Crimean fortress.

The Chronicle may overrate the strength of the liquor interest in Boston,—as we are pretty certain that temperance men generally underrate it.

Ten or twelve millions of capital, paying immense profit, are employed in it there. One thousand men are interested in its manufacture and sale. And at least twenty thousand tipplers, male and female, uphold it with their influence, their money, and their ardent devotion.

On the other hand, the lovers of temperance, order, peace and truth, seeing the terrible crimes and the enormous expenses generated by intemperance, are willing to use any lawful means to abate an evil so monstrous. These temperance men may not be more learned in the law than others, nor is it certain that all their measures are wise; but they are surely in earnest; and they don't believe that the utter destruction of the liquor trade would do much mischief, if the thing were possible. Certainly they are not afraid of doing injury by cutting it down as much as they can.

THE RIDICULOUS.—The new Hiss Committee, at Boston, on Friday, examined the clerk of the Hotel at Lowell.

Most of the names of the party were put on the hotel register by Mr. Hiss, including that of Mrs. Patterson; but the witness was confident that the dots against her name, which indicated her as "of the House," were not made by Mr. Hiss, but appeared there some days afterwards. Mr. Hiss ordered her a private supper, and the bill to the State, which was paid by Mr. Hiss, and amounted to $18.75, included her expenses, and about $5 for liquors and cigars for the party.

The clerk made it clear that the identification of "Mrs. Patterson" is not yet known to the public. He testified that the Mrs. Patterson known as the witness in the Tirrell murder case, (who was present) was not the woman upon whom Mr. Hiss bestowed his attentions. That lady appeared "under a veil," and was richly but not "fanefully" dressed.

Mrs. Patterson herself was "very sure" she was not at the hotel, and never saw Mr. Hiss (to know him) till yesterday.

She seemed to enjoy her notoriety hugely, and admitted that she was the person who "had been talked about in the newspapers," but didn't exhibit any indignation at what had been said. Her testimony was entirely convincing.

So it seems, Mrs. Billy Patterson is not the Mrs. Patterson of Hiss; the latter seems to be known to the Boston Mail; but we fancy she will not come before the great and general court this year.

B. F. Butler is counsel for Mr. Hiss.

ESCAPE OF SLAVES.—Within the past few days a number of slaves from this state have escaped into Ohio, and are now on their way to Canada via the underground railroad.—Four of the slaves belonged to Harvey Williamson, of Union county; five belonged to Joseph Harris, of Bracken county; and two owned in Boone county. They came to Cincinnati, by taking passage on a float down Licking River, and hence to a point half a mile below Sedamsville, where, by the aid of friends, they got off to Canada.—Louisville Courier.

THE MINOT'S LEDGE LIGHT HOUSE.—We understand that First Lieutenant R. S. Alexander, of U. S. Engineers, has been assigned to duty as superintendent of construction on the Minot's Ledge light house, the most important work of the kind ever undertaken by this government. Lieutenant Alexander has also been assigned to the superintendence of the construction of the new Marine Hospital at Chelsea, Mass.—Washington Star.

Mayor Wood reiterates his determination to publish, immediately after the 1st of May, the names of the owners of all property let for gambling houses or dens of lewdness, in New York.

LOCAL.

REPORT ON SCHOOL HOUSES.

The following report of the Joint Committee on School Houses, will be read with interest, as it is the ground work of the present and prospective action of the City Government on the subject.

To the Honorable City Council:

The Joint special Committee to whom was referred that part of the Mayor's address which recommends the erection of a new building for the High Schools of this city, having had the subject under consideration, would respectfully present the following Report:

The committee are unanimous in the opinion that a suitable building for these schools is urgently demanded; that it should be commenced as soon as possible, and that it should be of sufficient size to accommodate both the male and female high schools. Having settled this point, they turned their attention to the selection of a suitable lot to be recommended as the site for such a building.

On this point, also, after the examination they were able to give the subject, they were unanimous in the conclusion that the lot on which the Court House stands is altogether the most eligible. It is recommended by its central position. A lot at any considerable distance either north or south of this would be too far removed from the great body of the pupils for whom these schools are intended.—The Court House lot is sufficiently spacious, likewise, to give ample room for the building, and the yards around it.

The only objection to taking this lot which your committee could see, arises from the necessity which it imposes of providing new accommodations for the Courts. To meet this necessity, the following plans were proposed and discussed:

1st. It was proposed to secure a new location in another part of the city for the Court House, and remove the present building; but upon measurement, it was found that the width of our streets would not admit of the removal of the building. We were compelled therefore to abandon this plan.

2d. A second proposition was to purchase a lot in the rear of the present location of the Court House, and remove the building on to that, and lay out a street leading to it.

The estimated cost of this is $3500. But in the minds of your committee there are serious objections to this plan. It would leave the Court House in an awkward position, and one which would not, we think, suit the taste of our citizens, and it would only be abating, not removing, a serious objection which now exists, arising from the proximity of the Courts to the schools. We can see, therefore, no way of disposing of the Court House, but by sale at auction.

If this plan were adopted, the question still returns, where shall the Courts be accommodated?

The Pleasant street Church is for sale, and your committee have examined it. They find it can be purchased for $4500. It would cost, as nearly as they can estimate $700 to make the alterations that would fit it for a Court House—making the total expense $5200. It is an objection to this plan, that the location is at a distance from the centre of the city, and from the public houses, and it is a more serious objection that there is no land connected with the church except that on which it stands.

Another project, and the last to which your committee would call your attention, and to them the most practicable, is to obtain a lease of Congress Hall for a term of years, to be used as a Court Room. On examining the Hall we think it well adapted to the purpose, and think it would require but a trifling expense on the part of the city to make the necessary alterations. We learn that a permanent lease can be obtained at about $225 a year.

Your Committee would therefore embody the result to which they have arrived, in the following resolutions:

1. Resolved, That a new building for the High Schools of this city, of sufficient size to accommodate both, be built the present year, and that plans and estimates for such a building be furnished the city council with as little delay as may be for their further consideration.

2. Resolved, That this building be located where the Court House now stands, and the Court House be sold to the highest bidder at auction or otherwise.

3. Resolved, That a lease be obtained of Congress Hall for a Court Room, and that the hall be fitted and furnished for that use at the expense of the city.

4. Resolved, That a joint special committee be appointed to carry the foregoing resolutions into effect.

As we have already stated, the 1st and 4th resolution passed both boards; the 2d and 3d lie on the table.

For the Chronicle.

Messrs Editors I see by the report of the Committee on the high School that they recommend the sale of the Court House and to hire Congress Hall, for the courts.

now it appears strange to many tax payers what this is for some have conjectored that congress hall dount pay, and that there may have been some pipe laying. but i would ask any member of the committee if they would give for the court house to remove it, what it cost to paint it last November. now i think it will do verry well for the courts, and if we are to have a new school house, which is verry much doubted that we want one, and if the city council will do as the board did a few years ago, go and examine the school rooms in school hours as they did, they many come to the same conclusions, which was that we do not want a new high school House.

And as i was saying about the court house take the school room and make a market of it, for the city seams to be verry desirus to have a good many markets, that do not pay, as is the case of the brick market, which for the two last has not paid the alterations that the occupents have had done for there benifit. they now ask for further alterations.

the whole market lets for 80 dollars pr year now the two first Stalls is worth 100 dollars pr year each.

all the people ask of there servants, to do the city buisness as well and as economical as they do there own, and if they do they will build no buildings, clear no mans mill pond, have no scientific survey of the streets verry soon. SAM.

☞ The above communication comes to us through the Post Office; and we give it as we find it.

We differ from the author, toto cœlo, about the High School, and all other schools, especially the School of Orthography.

By the way, we know no reason why all our school-houses should be in one small space. Why not go out half a mile, on Islington or Middle Road, and buy a good sized lot? Why not take a lot on Wibird's Hill? It would injure no boy or girl, to walk half a mile, or a whole one.

"Sam," as he calls himself, is for a masterly inactivity,—but the city council unless we much mistake them, will build a good School House this year;—and in so doing, meet the views of the tax payers generally.

That they should suit every body, is not to be expected.

SHIPWRECK UP RIVER.—The Dover Gazette informs us, that

The schooner Josephine, Capt. Card, belonging to the Dispatch Line of Packets, bound for New York, was run on to a rock just below the Gulf, on Wednesday morning at about 7 o'clock, and bilged. She was freighted with an invoice of Oil Cloth Carpetings amounting to some four or five thousand dollars, from the factory of Abram Folsom, Esq., a lot of valuable Household Furniture belonging to a gentleman about removing to New York, and the balance of her cargo was made up of wood. Before she could be lightened of her cargo, she filled with water, by which a part of the Carpetings were considerably damaged, and the Furniture to the amount of about one hundred dollars, a quantity of bedding, &c., being completely saturated with water. The schooner was righted yesterday, but at the time of our present writing, she remains filled with water, and consequently the amount of damage to the vessel cannot be ascertained. She will probably be taken to Portsmouth and placed upon the Dry Dock, for repairs.

MASONIC CELEBRATION.—We learn that the two Lodges of Free Masons in this city, (St. John's and St. Andrew's,) are to publicly celebrate St. John's day, the 24th of June, by a procession with music, and other observances usual on such occasions. A large number of the Order from abroad will join, and no effort will be spared by the committee of arrangements to render the festivities worthy of the occasion. As the 24th of June is Sunday, the celebration will take place on Saturday or Monday, probably the latter.

NEW YORK, April 27th.—The Loss by the Fire Yesterday, in Messrs. Ward & Co.'s drug store, will not fall short of $50,000, as they had a stock valued at about $100,000 on the premises. Their loss is covered by insurance.

There was an immense gathering of the friends of the prohibitoty liquor law at the Metropolitan Theatre last night, and the proceedings were of the most enthusiastic character. Eloquent speeches were made by Prof. Mattison, Henry Ward Beecher, Rev. Dr. Tyler, and others. A series of appropriate resolutions were adopted.

While this meeting was in progress, one of quite a different character was taking place in Brooklyn, where the Liquor dealers met in convention, and organized an association to act in concert with their New York brethren in opposition to the law. They resolved to buy no goods from or support in any way any person who aided in passing or advocating the principles of the fanatical anp oppressive prohibitory law.

The mass meeting of the Anti-Maine Law men comes off to-night at Tammany Hall.

HEAVY VERDICT.—In the Kings County Circuit, John M. Butler, a gentleman well known in sporting circles, on yesterday obtained a verdict of $5000 against Wm. Shaw and James Irving for assaulting him in September last.

PAINESVILLE, Oo, April 27th.—The railroad bridge over the Grand River at this place was entirely destroyed by fire last night, caused by a spark from the locomotive. It was one of How's trussed work bridges, 700 feet long and 80 feet high.

POTTSVILLE, Pa., April 27th.—George Lawe's extensive brewery at this place was totally destroyed by fire last night. Loss about $30,000; insured for $10,000.

An extensive fire is now (11 o'clock) raging at Mt. Carbon, and it is beleived to be the hotel.

FROM ST. DOMINGO.—We have intelligence that a conspiracy for getting up a revolution with a view of securing the recall of the exiled President Paez, had been discovered. The conspirators numbered about one hundred, and were betrayed by one of their companions. They were all arrested.

A STRONG MINDED WOMAN.—The Boston Traveller states that a woman in South Braintree having been robbed of a breastpin, went on Thursday to the house of the thief, armed with a revolver, and compelled him on pain of instant extermination to rise out of bed, dress himself, find the breastpin, accompany her home, and deposit it on her dressing table, whence he had taken it. He was then suffered to depart.

Would you have Health?

USE LAWRENCE'S VEGETABLE, PHYSical Jaundice BITTERS; and Cure your Cough with his PECTORAL. a12 1jl

THE REV. DR. LYMAN BEECHER, of Boston, late President of the Lane Theological Seminary, Cincinnati, Ohio, writes, "I have used the VEGETABLE PULMONARY BALSAM myself, with benefit, in catarrhal coughs and colds, and have known it to be used with good effect in the early stages of Pulmonary affections, in families around me."
[See advertisement in another column.]

ARE YOU SICK?

Then you can't be cured too soon. Don't delay until your complaint is incurable, and then mourn when it is too late. Four fifths of all the diseases which people the church yards might be cured by Ayer's Cathartic Pills, if taken in season. Don't go dragging through the Spring, faint, sleepy and listless, because your blood is loaded with bile. Don't wear the headache, heartburn, and their kindred disorders, because your stomach is foul. Don't parade yourself around the world, covered with Pimples, Blotches, Ulcers, Sores and all or any of the unclean diseases of the skin, because your system wants cleansing. Don't show yourself about, lean, haggard, all caved in, because your stomach and bowels need strengthening into healthy action. Ayer's Pills set these things right as surely as water quenches fire. They purify the body and blood, and restore their functions into healty activity which you can feel as quick as they are taken. They are the one great medical wonder of this age, recognized by all who know their virtues, and many thousands know them. Take the Cherry Pectoral for a Cough and the Pills for all derangements requiring a purgative medicine.

Prepared by DR. J. C. AYER, Lowell, Mss., and sold by every respectable Druggist in New England.

Agents in Portsmouth, W. R. PRESTON, J. H. THACHER, and D. KUNRAN, and sold by all Druggists throughout the United States. 2m a2 d&w

BUY THE BEST SPRING MEDICINE.

THERE is no article now before the public that contains the medical properties of PRESTON'S CATHOLICON, and as a Spring

Blood Purifier and Appetiser,

It has no equal. The experience of thousands, and its constant manufacture since 1848, fully prove all that can be written or said in its favor. Numerous articles are offered for all diseases that flesh is heir to; many of them are worthless compounds, and put up to evade the Maine Liquor Law—consisting of poor Rum or Gin, sweetened with molasses, strongly tinctured with Sassafras and Stoughton Bitters, and thus the innocent who wish to purchase an article of Medicine of real worth, are duped by the extravagant advertisements of a worthless article and spend their money for that which is naught.

FIRE IN BOSTON.

On Friday afternoon, about half past two o'clock, a fire broke out in a wooden building on Battery wharf, used for the storage of cotton. The wind was blowing a gale from the northwest, and the flames spread with rapidity. The buildings on the wharf, twenty-five or thirty in number, all of wood, were in a short time totally destroyed with their contents, including about 6000 bales of cotton, and large quantities of provisions, salt, &c.—Messrs. Harrison Fay & Co. had about $25,000 worth of beef, pork, hams, and shoulders stored in one of the buildings, which were all destroyed. Fay & Co. were fully insured.

The ship Diana, valued at $12,000, was almost totally destroyed, with her cargo. She had just arrived from New Orleans, with a full cargo of cotton, provisions, hemp, &c.

The ship Pharsalia, valued at $14,000 was totally destroyed. She had no cargo on board.

The ship Gen. Berry had her foremast and bowsprit burnt, and was otherwise damaged.

The heat now became so intense, and the fire having extended south across the dock to a range of buildings on the south side of Ferry avenue—the enginemen who were at the foot of Battery wharf were driven from the machines. The flames raged with great fury. Ferry avenue is what was formerly occupied by the Marine Railway Co. The block of nine handsome wooden store-houses was burnt. It was just completed for Arnold W. Taylor, and delivered to him on Wednesday,—the builder's insurance expiring on Saturday, and the owner's commenced on Friday, at the Hamilton office, Salem. The buildings were estimated to be worth $6000—insurance $3500. The whole property of the People's Ferry Co. at the end of the wharf, which has been finished with great regard to the accommodation of a new steam ferry to East Boston, was destroyed. Loss $50,000—insured.

On Constitution wharf, a two story wooden building—owned by E. Train & Co. occupied in the lower part by Ballou & Dillon, junk dealers, and in the second story by Harris & Dillon, sail makers,—was burned.

On Lincoln's wharf—The junk shop of Alexander McKenna, with its contents were consumed; also Noah Lincoln's wood and coal establishment. There was over one hundred cords of wood and a large quantity of coal—and all was destroyed. Also, building filled with bark. Cleaveland & Nason's blacksmith shop; Noah Lincoln's stable; E. D. Chase, tin-plate worker, building and stock; Delano, ship-wright and caulker, building and stock.

The fire stopped on Lincoln's wharf.

The Battery, north and south side, and the People's Ferry, are pile wharves, and they are badly burnt. The tide was out when the fire commenced, and this rendered it impossible for the vessels lying in the docks to escape.

A hose carriage was burnt. The Barnicoat with two other engines, were reported either burnt or thrown overboard, but this we believe is a mistake.

Several small explosions were heard in the course of the afternoon, probably from saltpeter. Detachments of the fire department remained on the ground, the mass of coal, cotton, and other goods continuing to burn all night.

A young man named Wm. A. Russell, a musician, was struck on the head by a beam, and was seriously injured. This was the only severe accident that came to our knowledge.

It is impossible to state with any degree of certainty the amount of the loss. It has been variously estimated at from $500,000 to $1,000,000, and upwards.

Engines were present from Chelsea, Charlestown, Cambridge and Roxbury, and performed good service.

"Where is the steam fire-engine?" was the question asked by every one during the progress of the conflagration, and of all the answers given, that of a smutty-faced boy was the best: "She don't play only on exhibition days—she is a Fourth of July ingine."

The Courier says: Upon a second visit to the scene of the conflagration, we learned from a mechanic who was engaged about Battery wharf during the forenoon, that men were delivering cotton in the morning, with lighted pipes in their mouths, and he thought that they caused the fire.

P. S.—The Atlas says, Perkins Engine Co. No. 2 hauled their machine on board the ship Diana, in order to subdue the flames, but they spread so rapidly, that the men were obliged to abandon her, some of them narrowly escaping with their lives. They subsequently got her off in a damaged condition. We are sorry to record the loss of engines Nos. 6 and 7, of this city, and No. 2 of Chelsea, all of which were destroyed by the fire, in spite of the exertions of the firemen.

Take this along with you.—'Tis just what you want.
The Great Specific of the Age.
OXYGENATED BITTERS!
THE ONLY SURE AND SAFE REMEDY EVER DISCOVERED
For the cure of
DYSPEPSIA,
IN ALL ITS VARIOUS FORMS,
AS well as Liver Diseases, Fever and Ague, Bilious Complaints, Bronchitis, General Debility, and all diseases of a kindred nature.
Read the following testimony from Dr. Henry E. Morrell, a skillful physician of N. Y. city. He says:—"The most effectual medicine to improve the tone and energy of the stomach is that prepared by Dr. George B. Green, of Windsor, Vt, and called the Oxygenated Bitters."
The Oxygenated Bitters do not contain a particle of alcohol in their composition, and are, of necessity, highly concentrated, to prevent the injurious action of the temperature of different climates. Each bottle, when diluted according to the directions, makes nearly half a gallon of medicine, as pleasant to the taste as lemonade; and as to quantity, quite the CHEAPEST MEDICINE.
I have employed them in a multitude of cases, and have uniformly found that, when used according to the directions, they gradually, but surely, remove, one by one, the various distressing symptoms which cluster around the confirmed Dyspeptic, restore the stomach to its lost energies, and thus lead the patient back to the enjoyment of permanent health and strength.
It has also been used by the following persons, and received their unqualified approbation:—
Prof. A. A. Hayes, M. D., State Assayer, Boston
Prof. E. N. Phelps, M. D., of Therapeutics and Materia Medica, Dartmouth College.
Hon. Myron Lawrence, Ex-President of Massachusetts Senate.
Hon. L. H. Arnold, formerly Governor of Rhode Island, now member of Congress.
Hon. J. F. Simmons, U. S. Senator from R. I.
Hon. Samuel S. Phelps, U. S. Senator from Vt.
Hon. Wm. Upham, U. S. Senator from Vt.
Hon. Solomon Foote, Member of Cong. from Vt.
Hon. H. D. Foster, Member of Cong. from Pa.

—IN—
Rotary Planing, Tonguing and Grooving Machines.

PATENTED NOVEMBER 21st, 1854.

THIS Improvement has been thoroughly tested and found to possess just what is necessary to perfect the rotary planer.

My machine will plane very much faster and better than any other now in use. I would particularly call the attention of those in want of machines for nice work, or for planing very thin, crossgrained or knotty material, to these machines, as it is impossible for them to tear or throw out loose knots.

My Clapboard Machine will plane and joint as fast as the clapboards can be put into the machine, and perform the work without sorting them so as to plane with the grain, upon any species of clapboards, in a very superior manner, without tearing the thin edge.

Applications for rights and machines, or for further particulars, can be made to the Patentee,

PENS.

WARRANTED NOT TO CORRODE.

HERTS BROTHERS, having been many years engaged in the manufacture of Metalic Pens, and during that time, having devoted their unceasing attention to improving and perfecting that useful and necessary article, the result of their unceasing efforts and numerous experiments has been the construction of a Pen on a principle entirely new, combining all the advantages of the elasticity and clearness of the Quill, with six times the durability of the Steel Pen; and thus entirely obviating the only objection that has hitherto existed against the use of Steel Pens.

This Pen will be found an invaluable article in Offices, as they never need wiping, also to Banks and Schools, as they will not spatter nor cut the thinest paper, and are warranted anti-corrosive.

CAUTION.—The universal celebrity of these Pens having induced several disreputable Makers to foist upon the public a spurious imitation, it will please to be observed that each genuine Pen is stamped, "HERTS, BROTHERS' PATENT, 1863," and each box of Genuine Pens will contain a label with a fac-simile of the Manufacturers' name.

DR. J. B. MARCHISI'S
Celebrated Catholicon,

FOR THE
RELIEF & CURE OF SUFFERING FEMALES.

It stands pre-eminent for its curative powers in all the diseases for which it is recommended, and usually called

FEMALE COMPLAINTS.

Of these are PROLAPSUS UTERI, or Falling of the Womb, FLUOR ALBUS, or Whites; CHRONIC INFLAMMATION OF THE WOMB; INCIDENTAL HEMORRHAGE, or Flooding; PAINFUL, SUPPRESSED, AND IRREGULAR MENSTRUATION, &c., with all their accompanying evils. (Cancer excepted) no matter how severe or of how long standing.

Let all interested call and obtain a pamphlet (free) containing ample proof, from the most respectable sources, of the beneficial results of its use; together with letters from highly experienced Physicians, who have used it in their practice, and speak from their own observations.

A WORD TO THE LADIES.

Should any entertain doubts as to the efficacy of the UTERINE CATHOLICON, I would respectfully state that I have for many years past, at my friends and well attest, been troubled with the disease for which this medicine is recommended, in its worst forms, and that by its use I have been entirely cured, and thus induced to accept an agency, and offer it for the benefit of others.

MRS. S. GAIT, 38 South street, Boston.

I feel it my duty to make known to the afflicted the virtues of MARCHISI'S UTERINE CATHOLICON, which has relieved me of Female Complaints of fifteen years' standing, and of so serious a nature, that latterly my physician suspected Cancer of the Womb. I suffered extremely, and at last was entirely disabled from attending to my usual pursuits. . . . . It has given me more relief than any thing I have ever used for these difficulties. I will take pleasure in giving further details of my case to any lady who will call on me at 67 Mill street.

FERMENTATION AMONG THE N. Y. LIQUOR DEALERS.—Accounts from the city of New York represent the liquor sellers as in a terrible state of excitement. The different classes of dealers have formed associations, and are holding nightly meetings to organize measures to resist the new prohibitory law in New York. The "mouth piece of the liquor dealers in the city," as the New York Herald calls Capt. Richard French, predicts the utter ruin of the city of New York as a place of business, if this law goes into operation. He threatens to sell all his city lots under the hammer at once, rather than run the risk of the terrible depression of real estate which is to follow the enforcement of this new law.

But at the same time, with admirable consistency, he proposes a plan by which the liquor cases shall be thrown upon the courts in such numbers as utterly to clog them, and prevent all other business. He says that the law can never be enforced; that nine tenths of the military are directly interested in the liquor business, and that it is nonsense to think they will put down a liquor riot; they will fraternize with the rioters, and if there is an attempt to enforce the law blood will flow; four regiments of the twelve are composed exclusively of foreigners, who have loose ideas of liberty under law, especially where their appetites are in question. Such is Capt. French's story, as told by the Herald.

When we look at the statistics of the liquor trade in New York, furnished by the Herald, we can see why there should be a fermentation among the traders. The whole number of licensed places for selling liquor in the city is now 5,536, and of unlicensed about 1,570, making a total of over seven thousand liquor shops in the city! The estimated profits of the liquor trade to the hotels alone, is set down at over $600,000 a year. The profits of the four principal hotels is given as follows: St. Nicholas, $50,000; Metropolitan, $45,000; Astor, $45,000; New York, $30,000. The average value of each bar room in the city is given at $1,200. A vast amount of property is of course interested in this question whether or not the law shall be maintained.

But would it not be well for the dealers to look at another view of the matter—to consider for one moment, what millions are squandered in order to make these thousands of liquor shops and bar rooms profitable to their owners and keepers! Squandered too, absolutely, and for which no value received, whatever, can be shown! Then think of the poverty, misery, crime, which are induced and perpetrated by this same liquor trade—these same bar rooms and groggeries—and strike the balance.—Boston Traveller.

NEW YORK, April 27.—Mayor Wood has this day issued an able address to the public, relative to the prohibitory liquor law, in which he says his action in the matter is necessarily concluded by the opinion of the Counsel to the Corporation and the District Attorney, who are constituted the legal advisers of his opinions and must control his actions until the Court reverse them. They state emphatically that the Mayor is not empowered to hear and determine the charges and punish offences arising under its provisions;—that he is not authorized to perform other duty under that, more than to require policeman to perform the duties enjoined upon them, and to caution them against the seizure of imported liquors; that after the first of May no licenses can be issued, that liquor can be sold the same as any other commodity, and that the only penalty for selling on Sunday is the old civil one of $2,50 for a day's traffic. Under this advice he has no discretion to assume any other line of conduct without being charged with an illegal assumption of power, the provisions of the act being virtually nullified by the opinion of Counsel, until decided otherwise by the Court. That he is ever ready to enforce all laws which he is empowered to do; and he appeals earnestly to the moral sense of the community, at the same time asserting his determination to prevent the sale of liquor on Sunday.

DIGNIFIED DIALOGUE.—A correspondent sends us the following:

George Young, that prince of caterers at the Cornhill Coffee House, met Gov. Gardner yesterday, when they shook hands and the following conversation ensued:

Gov. George, I did not think you would shake hands with me after I had signed that liquor bill.

George. Well, Governor, aren't you a pretty fellow to sign such a law as that?

Gov. Why, George, the fact is, the Attorney General said it was constitutional, so I had to sign it; but don't be frightened, George —the Jury bill kills the law!—Boston Trans.

Morning Chronicle.

TUESDAY, MAY 1, 1855.

LIFE IN MISSOURI.—The outraged lovers of slavery, in Parkville, Mo., on the 14th of April, avenged themselves on the wicked advocates of liberty, by throwing overboard a printing press on which the Industrial Luminary had been printed. They intended to tar and feather the printers, Park & Patterson; but Park ran away, and the mob, in pity to Mrs. Patterson, voted by a small majority to let him run. They then passed the following resolutions, unanimously.

Resolved, 1. That the Parkville Industrial Luminary is a nuisance, which has been endured too long, and should now be abated.

2. That the editors, to wit: G. S. Park and W. J. Patterson, are traitors to the State and county in which they live, and should be dealt with as such.

3. That we meet here again, on this day three weeks, and if we find G. S. Park and W. J. Patterson in this town then, or at any subsequent time, we will throw them into the Missouri River, and if they go to Kansas to reside, we pledge our honor as men, to follow and hang them wherever we can take them.

4. That, at the suggestion of our Parkville friends, we will attend to some other Free Soilers not far off.

5. That we will suffer no person belonging to the Northern Methodist Church to preach in Platte county, after this date, under penalty of tar and feathers for the first offence, and a hemp rope for the second.

6. That we earnestly call on our sister counties throughout the State to rise in their might and clean themselves of Free Soilism.

7. That our peace, our property and our safety requires us at this time to do our duty.

8. That we request every pro-slavery paper in Missouri and Kansas to publish the above resolutions.

In remarking on the above transaction, the New York Journal of Commerce says:

We care not how severely the perpetrators are censured and denounced, from one end of the Union to the other; but at the same time we wish it to be remembered that riots equally disgraceful, and some of them more brutal and diabolical, because they added murder to violence and outrage, have been perpetrated in non-slaveholding States, without eliciting from a numerous class of men any of those expressions of horror and indignation which they will utter so feelingly on the present occasion. The blood of Gorsuch, Batchelder, &c., was worth as much in the eye of the law and of heaven as was Park and Patterson's printing press.

The blood of any man is truly worth more than printing presses, or cotton presses. And it seems to us also to be true, that there is some difference between martyrdom on the right side, and martyrdom on the wrong, of any question or controversy.

A burglar breaks a house; the householder fights in defence of his home and children, but falls and is killed by the burglar; we lament the man and hang the burglar if we catch him.

Another burglar breaks another house; the householder spikes him down and calls the watch to see him bleed and die; but we do not hang the man; and the verdict in the court says the act was justifiable homicide, or in plainer, stronger English, he served the burglar right.

Here are two martyrs; in the "eye of the law and of heaven," their blood was of equal value—but in the eye of common sense, the differing circumstances of right and wrong make out two widely different cases, between which we leave the reader to judge.

WILL IT STAND?—Many persons who wish the Know Nothing party did not exist, and some who would like to join it if it would pay—are anxious to know whether the concern will live or die.

The Manchester Stars and Stripes says—

We are sometimes asked if we believe that the Know Nothing Party is going to last long. Now, we have to say, that we don't care whether it does or not, so far as its present form of organization is concerned. Its principles, as avowed by the originators and real friends of the movement, are the principles of the masses of the people. They are the principles of immortal truth, and must finally prevail. We care not under what name they may find utterance; but the principles of the American party, as we understand them, can never die.

DEATH OF ANOTHER MERCHANT.—Thomas Wigglesworth, Esq., one of the oldest and most wealthy merchants of Boston, died at his residence in Franklin Place on Friday, at the advanced age of 79 years. The deceased was one of the last of the merchants of Boston who commenced business previous to the present century.

LOCAL.

PROTRACTED MEETINGS.

Dear Uncle Toby:—Probably no one is more familiar with the data of the Religious history of Portsmouth, for, say thirty years past, than you are.

In your memory refreshed concerning the Rise, Progress, Instrumentalities, and Substantial Results of Protracted Meetings, which may have been held within any of the churches of this city, within a period not exceeding the time mentioned—thirty years?

And if so, will you be kind enough to give us such facts, connected with the points named, as may occur to you?

There is some discussion in some Religious Papers, published contiguously to us, relative to the matter of Protracted Meetings—their advantages and disadvantages, and some of us would like to have some statements of facts thereto pertaining, so far as the churches in this city are concerned.

Yours, truly,

At first, the above request seemed extraordinary, and Uncle Toby was doubtful what reply to make, and so for some days made none at all. But upon further reflection he deems the request reasonable, and offers the following statements and reflections, which, while they may not be without interest in themselves, will, he trusts, induce other writers to supply deficiencies or correct errors.

The first protracted meetings held in Portsmouth within our recollection, were not called by that name, and they were held more than thirty years ago. They were the Yearly, the Quarterly, and occasional meetings of the Christian denomination, under the lead of its founders, Elias Smith, Abner Jones, Elders Fernald, Colby, and others.

These meetings, two or three days at a time, were commonly held here for several years, while that denomination was new, its preachers not numerous, nor its meeting houses generally commodious.

Their effect was, beyond question, to call out hearers who would not have left their usual meetings on a Sunday; to impress them with the earnestness and zeal of the preachers; to increase the number of adherents to the new church, and in various ways to strengthen it, and give it progress.

The Methodists, also, in their early days here, held some meetings of two days' duration, which were successful in gathering converts; and they have, since, had a few camp-meetings in the vicinity, though not in this city.

The thirty years, spoken of by our enquirer, carry us back to the middle period of the ministry of Rev. Israel W. Putnam, in the North Church in Portsmouth. He was here 20 years, from 1815 to 1835. During his ministry there were some extra efforts, and several extra meetings, including two sessions of the New Hampshire General Association. These two sessions, attended as they were by numerous clerical and lay brethren, were productive of increased interest in religious concerns, in the church and society where they were held.

Rev. Henry Smith, a native of Durham, but settled in New York State, visited Portsmouth at two distinct visits, in both of which he preached largely in Portsmouth and many neighboring towns, and he and his visits are well remembered at this day in many of these places. His visits and labors were a protracted meeting in their nature and effect, if not exactly in form. He labored in season and out of season; indeed, almost incessantly—and at the close of his second visit went home and died of fever,—a martyr, as we now suppose, to his efforts here, and to similar efforts at home.

His visits and labors, we believe, strengthened and encouraged the orthodox ministers and churches in this region, more than any single, visible instrumentality, which was used among them for many years.

Mr. S. was sincere, earnest, devoted,—and all this was apparent in his preaching. He was also sympathetic. He instructed some, warned some,—but warmed and won a great many, to his views, and his church.

In later years, after the Pleasant street church was built, Four Days' Meetings appeared in other parts of the country, and were quite fashionable. These were copied in this vicinity, but called by the name of Protracted Meetings. They were not held exactly four days, but two or three. Such a meeting was held in Portsmouth, by the two orthodox churches, attended by Rev. Messrs. Winslow, Twining of Great Falls, and others; was productive of much feeling at the time, and of an increase of church members.

Passing over some years, and not a few meetings of various societies, we notice the Advent Meetings in the winter of 1839-40, when the Rev. Wm. Miller delivered his well known lectures, which produced a more general sensation and excitement on religious subjects and scriptural studies, than we ever knew to pervade the mass of our citizens before or since.

These lectures were followed by meetings more or less protracted, in most of the churches. In the North Church, where Rev. Mr. Holt was pastor, many additions were made.

In the Baptist Church, Rev. Freeman G. Brown, pastor, employed Rev. Mr. Himes, (not the Adventist, but a Baptist brother,) who preached every day and evening for two weeks or more, occasioning much feeling, some additions, and above all, the unsettling of the pastor, who resigned his place, and became an Advent preacher.

Mr. Brown, with Rev. Mr. Barry of the Chestnut street Christian church, labored as adventists, and they and others protracted their meetings, at intervals, till the fall of 1844, when their fixed time for the World's conflagration having come and gone, the interest died away, and we have not seen much in this place, of protracted meetings, for these ten years.

Different societies here, have had their Associations, Conventions, &c., lasting sometimes more than one day: and their exercises have often been interesting to the hearers:—but nothing like the old protracted meetings have been seen here, during these latter years.

Concluded to-morrow.

☞ Died in this city, on Monday morning, April 30, FREDERICK W. FERNALD, ESQ., aged 44 years, of the firm of Fernald & Pettigrew, ship-builders. Mr. Fernald's death was probably caused by the rupture of a blood vessel, in the act of coughing; and in this respect may be considered sudden, as he was abroad within a very few days. But he had been troubled for two years with nervous and other complaints, not improbably tending to such a close.

It is worthy of remark, that by this death, added to that of Mr. George Raynes, there are now three ships on the Piscataqua, which are to be finished or otherwise to be disposed of, on account of the estates of deceased persons, the loss of whose active enterprise will be severely felt.

Mr. Fernald was a Representative elect, from the second ward in this city, to the General Court, a member of the Mechanics' Association, and a Member of Piscataqua Lodge, No. 6, I. O. of O. F.

MUSICAL.—A correspondent, subscribing himself "Anti-Humbug," sends us a keen criticism on Mr. Arthurson's singing at Mrs. Wentworth's Concert, stating that in singing his first song, after a short passage which he sung without accompaniment, he ended below the right pitch,—and that in the same song, he delivered the words, "We may be happy yet," as if they were written, We may be-ah-happy yet!

"Anti-Humbug" significantly asks "Mein Hers," who praised Mr. A.'s singing most extravagantly, whether all this is very refined, correct and elegant. And he suggests that Mr. A. with a fine tenor voice, musical knowledge, and high artistic pretensions, ought to see and correct such faults,—while musical critics or puffers would do well to cultivate their taste and tune their ears, before they go into the newspapers.

Other persons who heard the Concert, have made to us remarks of a similar character.

For the Chronicle.

Messrs. Editors:—The writer who signed himself "Sam," is an ignoramus, as his communication shew, and should attend one of our primary schools a quarter, before he again attempts to write for the press. What he said against building a new school house, is not worth noticing, as none but the meanest and most ignorant men object to it. But he made a statement in regard to the Brick Market, which is incorrect; he said the market for the last two years had not paid for the alterations made for the benefit of the occupants. In this he is much mistaken: the market was unoccupied for some time, and had the present occupants been as far behind the age as 'Sam' is, it would have remained so to this day. But they were men of enterprise; they hired the market, and fitted it up almost entirely at their own expense, and we are glad to learn that they do a good business. T.

☞ At an unusually large meeting of the Parishioners of the South Parish, held on Monday afternoon, the salary of Rev. Dr. Peabody was raised from $1500 to $1800, by a unanimous vote.

☞ In the Police Court in this city, on the 27th. ult., George Evans was proved to be a common drunkard, and sentenced to ninety days in the House of Correction.

☞ The Teachers' Institute for Rockingham County opened its session at Hampton, on Monday, under the direction of Horace Webster, Esq. School Commissioner, assisted by Profs. Russell, of Elocution; Whitaker, of Drawing; Payson, of Music and English Grammar. The sessions are held at the Congregational Church. The students in this class are mostly young ladies, who will not fail to profit by the tuition. On Wednesday, Prof. Guyot will lecture.

Would you have Health?

USE LAWRENCE'S VEGETABLE PHYSICAL Jaundice BITTERS; and Cure your Cough with his PECTORAL. a12 tjl

THE REV. DR. LYMAN BEECHER, of Boston, late President of the Lane Theological Seminary, Cincinnati, Ohio, writes, "I have used the VEGETABLE PULMONARY BALSAM myself, with benefit, in catarrhal coughs and colds, and have known it to be used with good effect in the early stages of Pulmonary affections, in families around me."

[See advertisement in another column.]

ARE YOU SICK?

Then you can't be cured too soon. Don't delay until your complaint is incurable, and then mourn when it is too late. Four fifths of all the diseases which people in the church yards might be cured by Ayer's Cathartic Pills, if taken in season. Don't go dragging through the Spring, faint, sleepy and listless, because your blood is loaded with bile. Don't wear the headache, heartburn, and their kindred disorders, because your stomach is foul. Don't parade yourself around the world, covered with Pimples, Blotches, Ulcers, Sores and all or any of the unclean diseases of the skin, because your system wants cleansing. Don't show yourself about, lean, haggard, all caved in, because your stomach and bowels need strengthening into healthy action. Ayer's Pills set these things right as surely as water quenches fire. They purify the body and blood, and restore their functions into healty activity which you can feel as quick as they are taken. They are the one great medical wonder of this age, recognized by all who know their virtues, and many thousands know them. Take the Cherry Pectoral for a Cough and the Pills for all derangements requiring a purgative medicine.

BUY THE BEST SPRING MEDICINE.

THERE is no article now before the public that contains the medical properties of PRESTON'S CATHOLICON, and as a Spring

Blood Purifier and Appetiser,

It has no equal. The experience of thousands, and its constant manufacture since 1846, fully prove all that can be written or said in its favor. Numerous articles are offered for all diseases that flesh is heir to; many of them are worthless compounds, and put up to evade the Maine Liquor Law—consisting of poor Rum or Gin, sweetened with molasses, strongly tinctured, with Sassafras and Stoughton Bitters, and thus the innocent who wish to purchase an article of Medicine of real worth, are duped by the extravagant advertisements of a worthless article and spend their money for that which is naught.

Purchase a Bottle of

PRESTON'S CATHOLICON,

And if you are not satisfied with its effects, call upon the Agent and receive your money again.

Manufactured and sold by WM. R. PRESTON, Druggist, Portsmouth, N. H., to whom orders for Agencies may be addressed. a26 3w2p.

126 ALBERT A. PAYNE.

NEW YORK, April 29th.—A cold disagreeable wind from the north-east continues, with strong indications of a heavy storm.

There was a disposition manifested to-day by the more respectable liquor dealers to heed the recommendations of Mayor Wood, and close their bars on Sunday, but the low groggeries were open in every direction.

Fifty-six laborers were discharged from the U. S. bonded warehouses on Saturday by order of Collector Redfield; no employment for them. Eighty were retained

Col. Kinney has written a letter to the Courier and Inquirer relative to his recent indictment and arrest in which he says "in consequence of the legal proceedings which have been instituted against me, an unfounded impression may be produced that the expedition may be frustrated or materially retarded.—In view of the injury which such an impression may work and of what I know to be the true character of the enterprise, I am justified in expressing my confident opinion that the departure of the expedition under my charge can be delayed but a few days." He disclaims contemplating any violations of the neutrality laws. No preparations of a military nature have been made, and he has strictly complied with the instructions contained in Mr. Marcy's late letter to him.

WASHINGTON, April 28th.—SPANISH DIFFICULTIES.—The Union this morning has a long article on the state of our affairs with Spain. It states that the President regards the recent bringing to and examination of American vessels as violations of international law, indignities to our flag, and aggressions upon our rights which will not be tolerated.

Com. McAuley is not to argue with Spanish cruisers as to the right of search or visitation, but to say to them: "You can claim no right of search, visitation, or examination of any vessel rightfully bearing our flag upon the high seas, under any guise or pretext, in my presence, or within my reach. If you attempt it, the act will be done at your peril."

The Union further says that the Spanish Government have the issue of peace or war in their own hands. If they persist in their aggression, war is inevitable.

COL. KINNEY.—At New York on Friday, April 27.

In the United States District Court, before Judge Hall, the Grand Jury brought an indictment against Col. Kinney, of the celebrated American expedition, for a violation of the neutrality laws, and a warrant was issued for his arrest.

It is stated that Col. Kinney and Consul Fabens are under arrest, and that the steamship United States, in which the so called American colonists were to embark, has been attached.

NEW HAVEN, April 28th.—Willard Clark, a young grocery merchant, this evening at 7 o'clock, shot through the head Richard White, 24 years of age, in White's dwelling house on Sherman avenue. White had some time ago married a Miss Brogart, to whom Clark had been attached, and the murder originated, it is said, from this circumstance. All parties were of good character, and the distress of the wife and her mother created great sympathy. The murderer has been arrested. White still breaths, but will soon die.

$50 Reward.

THE above reward will be paid to any person or persons who will give information sufficient to convict the person who on the morning of the 27th dropped deadly poison on or near my premises for the purpose of injuring me.

The Great Specific of the Age.
OXYGENATED BITTERS!
THE ONLY SURE AND SAFE REMEDY EVER DISCOVERED
For the cure of
DYSPEPSIA,
IN ALL ITS VARIOUS FORMS, as well as Liver Diseases, Fever and Ague, Bilious Complaints, Bronchitis, General Debility, and all diseases of a kindred nature.

Read the following testimony from Dr. Henry E. Morrell, a skillful physician of N. Y. city. He says:—"The most of medical treatment to improve the tone and energy of the stomach is that prepared by Dr. George B. Green, of Windsor, Vt., and called the Oxygenated Bitters."

The Oxygenated Bitters do not contain a particle of alcohol in their composition, and are, of necessity, highly concentrated, to prevent the injurious action of the temperature of different climates. Each bottle, when diluted according to the directions, makes nearly half a gallon of medicine, as pleasant to the taste as lemonade; and as to quantity, quite the CHEAPEST MEDICINE.

I have employed them in a multitude of cases, and have uniformly found that, when used according to the directions, they gradually, but surely, remove, one by one, the various distressing symptoms which cluster around the confirmed Dyspeptic, restore the stomach to its lost energies, and thus lead the patient back to the enjoyment of permanent health and strength.

It has also been used by the following persons, and received their unqualified approbation:—

Prof. A. A. Hayes, M. D., State Assayer, Boston
Prof. E. E. Phelps, M. D., of Therapeutics and Materia Medica, Dartmouth College.
Hon. Myron Lawrence, Ex-President of Massachusetts Senate.

FATAL RAILROAD ACCIDENT.—On Thursday evening, a man named Dolan attempted to escape the cars on the Providence Railroad, at "Hog Bridge," by standing close to the wall of the abutment. The space between the wall and the cars proved too limited, and as the train whirled past, it struck and instantly killed the unfortunate man.

Poverty runs strongly to fun. An Irishman is never so full of jokes as when he is reduced to one shirt and two potatoes.—Wealth is taciturn and fretful. Stock brokers would no sooner indulge in a hearty laugh, than they would lend money on a "second mortgage." Nature is a great believer in compensations. Those she sends wealth she saddles with lawsuits and dyspepsia. The poor never indulge in woodcock, but then they have a style of appetite that converts a No. 3 mackerel into a salmon, and that is quite as well.

HERTS BROTHERS

PENS.

WARRANTED NOT TO CORRODE.

HERTS BROTHERS, having been many years engaged in the manufacture of Metalic Pens, and during that time, having devoted their unceasing attention to improving and perfecting that useful and necessary article, the result of their unceasing efforts and numerous experiments has been the construction of a Pen on a principle entirely new, combining all the advantages of the elasticity and clearness of the Quill, with six times the durability of the Steel Pen; and thus entirely obviating the only objection that has hitherto existed against the use of Steel Pens.

This Pen will be found an invaluable article in Offices, as they never need wiping, also to Banks and Schoolsas they will not spatter nor cut the thinest paper, and are warranted anti-corrosive.

CAUTION.—The universal celebrity of these Pens having induced several disreputable Makers to foist upon the public a spurious imitation, it will please to be observed that each genuine Pen is stamped, "HERTS, BROTHERS' PATENT, 1853," and each box of Genuine Pens contains a label with a fac-simile of the Manufacturers' name.

DR. J. B. MARCHISI'S

Celebrated Catholicon,

FOR THE

RELIEF & CURE OF SUFFERING FEMALES.

It stands pre-eminent for its curative powers in all the diseases for which it is recommended, and

FEMALE COMPLAINTS.

Of these are PROLAPSUS UTERI, or Falling of the Womb; FLUOR ALBUS, or Whites; CHRONIC INFLAMMATION OF THE WOMB; INCONTINENCE OR FLOODING; PAINFUL, SUPPRESSED, AND IRREGULAR MENSTRUATION, &c., with all their accompanying evils, (Cancer excepted) no matter how severe or of how long standing.

Let all interested call and obtain a pamphlet (free) containing ample proof, from the most respectable sources, of the beneficial results of its use; together with letters from highly experienced Physicians, who have used it in their practice, and speak from their own observations.

A WORD TO THE LADIES.

Should any entertain doubts as to the efficacy of the UTERINE CATHOLICON, I would respectfully state that I have for many years past, as my friends can well attest, been troubled with the disease for which this medicine is recommended, in its worst forms, and that by its use, I have been entirely cured, and thus induced to accept an agency, and offer it for the benefit of others.

MRS. S. GAIT, 38 South street, Boston.

I feel it my duty to make known to the afflicted the virtues of Marchisi's Uterine Catholicon, which has relieved me of Female Complaints of fifteen years' standing, and of so serious a nature, that latterly my physician suspected Cancer of the Womb. I suffered extremely, and at last was entirely disabled from attending to my usual pursuits. . . . . . It has given me more relief than any thing I have ever used for these difficulties. I will take pleasure in giving further details of my case to any lady who will call on me at 67 Mill street.

RECEPTION OF GOV. REEDER.

EASTON, PA., April 30th.—The Hon. A. H. Reeder, Governor of Kansas, arrived here to-day from the West, and met a very enthusiastic reception from his friends and neighbors. He reached Phillipsburgh at noon, and was met and escorted to the Court House Square by a large concourse of citizens of all parties, accompanied by the Easton Band.—

On arriving at the Court House, Gov. Reeder was welcomed by the citizens with hearty cheers, and a formal welcome was then extended in an eloquent and impressive speech by the Hon. J. M. Porter, who complimented Gov. Reeder on the manly and courageous as well as able manner in which he had discharged the duties of his difficult and responsible office. He went into a hasty narrative of the growth and progress of the slave question, attributing its dangerous and threatening character at the present time to the fanatical abolitionists of the north, but admitting also that slavery men had in their turn become as fanatical and wrong as the abolitionists themselves. He went through the old routine of apology for the south, saying that they had slavery entailed upon them, and asserting in full the broadest pro-slavery claims, and declared that Gov. Reeder had done his duty ably, and would and should be sustained both by Pennsylvania and the country at large.

Governor Reeder in reply expressed in a feeling manner, and eloquent terms, the grateful impression made upon him by the warm and enthusiastic reception given to him by so large an assembly of his fellow-citizens. He referred to the report of fraud and outrage upon the part of slavery-men in the Kansas election, and emphatically confirmed the very worst statement of them which had preceded his arrival.

He said his opinion on the subject of popular sovereignty had undergone no change, but that the conduct of the people of the border counties of the north of Missouri, had astonished and amazed him, by their reckless disregard of all laws, compacts and constitutions; that the Territory of Kansas, in the late election, had been invaded by a regular organized army, armed to the teeth, who took possession of the ballot boxes, and made a Legislature to suit the purposes of the pro-slavery party. Kansas was subdued, subjugated, conquered, by armed men from Missouri; but her citizens were resolved never to give up the fight for their freedom and the independence of their soil from foreign control or influence.—The State of Missouri would be called upon to disavow all sympathy with these border ruffians; if she refused, the South would be called on to discountenance her; if the South refused, the solemn duty would devolve upon the North, to take up the matter, so that the rights of her sons, who had settled in Kansas on the faith of solemn contracts, shall be vindicated and sustained.

He declared that the accounts of the fierce outrage and wild violence perpetrated at the election, and published in the northern papers, were in no wise exaggerated. He concluded by saying that Kansas was now a conquered country, conquered by force of arms; but that her citizens were resolved never to yield their rights, and relied on the North to aid him by demonstrations of public sentiment, and all other legal means, until they shall be fully and triumphantly vindicated.

STRACUSE, April 30.—As the 6 o'clock accommodation train from Rochester, over the old road, was coming into this city at 10 o'clock last night, it ran over a horse, throwing the last car from the track, and down an embankment a distance of about twenty feet, smashing it to pieces. The car contained 8 persons, only one of whom escaped injury.—M. O. Wilder, a lawyer of Canandagua, was instantly killed; S. H. Ingersoll of New York, was seriously injured; four others badly hurt.

ALBANY, April 30.—We are in receipt of late dates from the far West. On the 29th ult, two companies of military under command of Col. Fauntleroy, met ninety Utahs and Apaches, well mounted and armed, in Cowhatch Pass. An encounter took place, in which five Utahs were killed, and two dragoons wounded. On the next day, some Apaches were fallen in with, who retreated in two bodies, one under command of Ahacon, and the other under Hoso, after an encounter in which six of the Indians were killed and some taken prisoners. The troops had all returned to Fort Massachusetts, but expected to go to Rio Grande on the 13th.

On the 22nd ult., as Kit Carson, Lieut. Magruder and Capt. Williams, were leaving Poncho Pass, they saw a party of Utahs, pursued them, and killed one and wounded another.

The command, including a battalion of volunteers, was to recruit for fifteen days at Fort Massachusetts and then proceed on a second expedition against the Utahs.

We happen to know that DR. AYER'S Cherry Pectoral and Cathartic Pills are good medicines, and shall proclaim it because we know it. We confidently believe there is a vast amount of relief from suffering for our afflicted fellow men wrapped up in these skilful preparations, and we shall freely use our little influence to make them known to those who need them.—Philadelphia Sunday Times.

WEDNESDAY, MAY 2, 1855.

PROTRACTED MEETINGS.

NO. II.

Having briefly spoken of the meetings, as we recollect them, let us now, with due caution, say a few words of "the substantial results," looking back upon them and upon the meetings, as we now do, with a sober and calm review, and upon many of the actors in those scenes as departed friends, whose faces are no longer seen among us, but whose memory is fresh and green.

We may say, with no doubt of our correctness, that so far as we have observed, the members added to the churches in masses, and as the fruits of these efforts, walked quite as well as did other members, of the same churches, who were added one by one.

We suppose it to be true, also, that not a few of those who came in with the mass, had really been desiring, but hesitating, to come in before, under the ordinary ministrations, and so tarried till the tide rose, which they seemed to swell.

It is not certain that as large a number of members, in any ministry of 10 or 20 years, might not have come in without as with these extra meetings.

It was a common thing in public meetings, a dozen years ago, to hear a minister speak of a very dull, languid state of things in his church, under the reflux influence of a protracted meeting, or of a revival of religion. Such a result was viewed as undesirable, but deemed almost a necessary evil.

There can be no doubt, that gathering a large assembly of people from neighboring towns, keeping them together for several days, and addressing them several times each day, on a particular subject or class of subjects, will produce a strong mental effect, if the speakers have intellectual power. If, besides this, the speakers have warm hearts, of pity and love for their sinful fellow mortals, and a devotional spirit, as did Henry Smith and Edward Payson, the religious emotions and affections of the assembled people will flow out and become visible. Then, if we engage these people, thus moved, in social worship, in exhortation, in prayer and song, we see a revival! and if these people use their social and sympathetic powers on their neighbors, the work will spread.

But reaction comes. It seemed desirable, one moment ago, to have daily, constant worship—to be more and more spiritual. But there are stern, cold, bitter, palpable realities in life. Bread, to be eaten, must be earned. It does not come by miracle now: and as the protracted meeting probably did not distinctly keep up the idea that our common, every day drudgery is closely connected with spiritual life,—so those who must now take hold of active, common duty, soon lose their relish for devotion, in the false idea that the two things or employments are incongruous or incompatible.

Now, as we believe, heaven and earth, the worlds seen and unseen, are not far apart; and pray that our Father's will may be done on earth, even as in heaven; we cannot see the least harm to come out of protracted or perpetual worship and instruction, provided needful labors and proper recreations are not omitted or crowded out of time and place.—The nice adjustment of these things, however, is not so easy in actual practice, as it may appear to be on paper. The difficulty arises from human infirmity, causing errors in doctrine and practice; from self-deception, making men seem better or worse than the reality; from hypocrisy, calling good evil and evil good.

Ignorance, fanaticism and folly, in preachers or hearers, especially in the former; accompanied by a harsh and vindictive enunciation of terrible doctrines; operating for several successive long days and evenings, on tender consciences and warm hearts, on lively imaginations and morbid sensibilities—have fired the brains and shattered the nerves of not a few victims—but of large numbers of the best and purest, but not the strongest, men and women. Reason and life have thus fallen a sacrifice to the efforts of zeal without knowledge, put forth by itinerant adventurers and operators, whose vocation it was to stir up the passions and promote excitement, without much regard to consequences.

With these practical difficulties in full view, most of the discreet and permanent pastors whom we have known, preferred the regular, stated ministrations, as a general thing: but the same pastors, when the general opinion and feeling in their own churches and in their denomination called for such meetings, responded to the call, and engaged in them, with the best help they could procure.

Extra services, extra efforts, judiciously managed, and as judiciously kept within bounds, must benefit every organized body. Religious societies form no exception to the general rule. And if there are any subjects on which earnestness is wise and apathy foolish—then religion, which includes all the relations and obligations of man to God and man to man, is surely one of these subjects, and by far the most important.

We are quite willing to have any man think earnestly on these things, four days together. Nay, we would that every man should think on them soberly through all his years. For, as the man thinketh in his heart, so is he.

Having said so much on this subject, we close by referring the enquirer, for valuable opinions, to Rev. Dr. Putnam, now of Middleboro', Mass., and Rev. R. W. Clark, now of East Boston—both of whom were pastors here for years; and to Rev. Dr. French, of North Hampton, who was a pastor close by us for half a century. And to them we would also refer our statements for correction, if erroneous.—Their communications on this subject, if they see fit to make any, would of course be cheerfully given through our columns.

"NO MORE WHIG VICTORIES."—We hear of no more whig victories. There are know nothing triumphs and Democratic triumphs, but no more whig victories. The whigs are often lost sight of in other combinations, the Democrats never. It is this marked contrast between the two parties that renders the Democracy unconquerable, and that impels thousands to its standard who grow weary of the shifting and changing policy of the whigs. —Washington Union.

Well, if the whig party be really dead, bury it decently and let it rest. Immediately after this ceremony, the unconquerable Democracy of New Hampshire will form a hollow square, and give three cheers for the weary thousands who have flocked to its standard from the fickle whigs, since the recent Democratic triumphs.

A PREACHER HUNG IN EFFIGY.—There was considerable excitement in the town of Lagrange, Tenn., last Monday, and a minister of the place was hung in effigy. It seems that the parson had bought up a note or judgment upon a well-known mechanic of the place, and proceeded at once to sell out to the highest bidder the unfortunate debtor's movables. As soon as the sale commenced, the citizens raised the amount of the mechanic's indebtedness and paid it over to the hard-hearted creditor. On Monday morning the parson found himself hung in effigy, with some very significant expressions written thereon, in front of his own store.

The parson keeps store, then. Perhaps it is the storekeeper who is hung, and not the parson.—Some readers may remember an old story about a swearing Lord Bishop, who said that he swore as a lord, and not as a bishop. But, said a bystander, when the ——— gets the lord, what will become of the bishop?

PREPARE FOR A FAMINE.—The New York Tribune predicts that next winter all kinds of breadstuffs and meats will be fifty per cent higher then they are now, and that as a consequence will be beyond the reach of masses of the poor who are doomed to starvation.—It says:

"The only cheap article of food is sugar, and that can be bought for a less price per pound than flour. It should be more largely consumed as a matter of economy. Let the poor eat more sugar, rice, tapioca, farina, maccaroni, hominy and dried fruits; and less meats, and much less crude vegetables. Let the farmer resolve to grow more, and the consumer waste less, or the present prices will prove only the beginning of sorrow."

We do not know on what data these gloomy prospects are based.

HUMAN TESTIMONY.—A few days ago, a dead body was found near Milwaukee, and public opinion generally became satisfied that it was the remains of John Dwyer, a sailor well known there. Three women, with whom Dwyer had boarded in Milwaukee during the last four years, all identified the body as that of their late boarder. It appears that Dwyer left the city a few months since for the interior, on a job of wood chopping, and that recently a man named Harrison came in, saying Dwyer had sent for his clothing, which was given. Officers started off in pursuit of Harrison, that he might be forced to give an account of poor Dwyer, and he did, for he carried the police where D. was at work. The latter gentleman assured the officers that he was not dead, had not been murdered, and was in excellent health. The coroner's jury, in the face of this evidence, had to reject that of the women, who conscientiously and honestly, yet mistakingly had testified to the identity of the body.—Eastern Argus.

Letters have been received in this city announcing the death in Constantinople, on the 24th of March, of Mr. Oliver H. Underwood of this city. Mr. Underwood was a confidential clerk of the late Arthur L. Payson, Esq., and went out supercargo o' the ship Eagle last fall. On the death of Mr. Payson, the settlement of the Mebiterranean affairs devolved on Mr. Underwood, who had far advanced in the work, when on the morning of March 24th, he was found dead in his bed.—Over exertion and anxiety are supposed to have caused congestion of the brain and instant death.—Boston Journal.

MURDER IN MILTON.—The body of an apparently German sailor, some 40 years of age, was found in the woods near Milton Lower Mills, Sunday noon, with every indication that he was murdered. His skull was fractured so that the brain was exposed, and his lower jaw and one arm were broken. There were appearances that a violent fight had taken place, and deceased grasped a stone in one of his hands. In his pockets were found a few cents, a pipe and a cigar, and an umbrella and cane laid a short distance from the body. He was a stranger in the vicinity.

LOCAL.

☞ In conformity with an invitation extended to the editors in the city, we visited the Alms House, with the Overseers, Mayor, and a large delegation of the City Council, on Tuesday—when we found the establishment as it should be, in regard to order, cleanliness and comfort. It is to be considered that there is a farm of 160 acres to be cultivated; an alms-house family to be fed; the sick made comfortable; insane paupers to be restrained; and criminals in a house of correction to be governed. All these departments are to be superintended by one head, whose duties are thus onerous and arduous. We cannot truly say less, than that these duties appear to be all faithfully performed by the present superintendent, Mr. Scott, with the indispensible and valuable aid of the matron. Age, misfortune and poverty, find there a quiet refuge and a decent home: for which the worthy but unfortunate inmate is devoutly thankful.

TEACHERS' INSTITUTE, HAMPTON.—There were two lectures on Monday evening, which were well attended. The first by Prof. Russell, on Prominent Points of Recitation, which he rendered more interesting by some very fine recitations from ancient and modern poets; the second, on The Teachings of Nature, was by Prof. Whittaker, who embellished his topic with botanical, concological, geological, and bugological (not humbug) illustrations.

The Institute opened on Tuesday morning, with Scriptural reading and prayer. 1st exercise on Articulation, under the direction of Prof. Russell; 2d, in Drawing—Prof. Whittaker instructor. 1st lesson in the afternoon, by Prof. R. on correct Rendering of Poetry; 2d, on Music, by Mr. Payson; 3d, by Prof. R. on Orthography.

Prof. Guyot lectures three times to-day, on Physical Geography.

Messrs. Editors,—My opinion as to the location of the proposed school house may be as valuable, as that of any other person.—Were I to be the judge, I should propose to move the Court House to the West side of the present lot, and build the School House in the centre of the remainder, which would leave a space of about 25 feet on each side of the building, and plenty of yard room in the rear. We thus save the Court House and yet use the lot for the Schools. Brevity.

☞ Our statement that F. W. Fernald Esq., was an Odd Fellow, was incorrect. He was not connected with the order. The funeral of Mr. Fernald will take place at his late residence, on Court Street, on Thursday afternoon at half past two o'clock. The Mechanics Association, of which he was a member, will meet at Br. Samuel Shackford's, next to the Court House, at 2 o'clock.

ROCKINGHAM FAIR.—A meeting of the Trustees of this Society was held on the 25th instant, for the purpose of selecting a day for its next annual exhibition, making up a list of premiums, and for the transaction of various other business.

The Board appointed Thursday, the 27th day of September next to be the day when the "Fair" shall be held, to be continued for one day only—but the place for holding the same is not yet determined upon,—and its location will be left an "open question" for the present.—Exeter News Letter.

Would you have Health?

USE LAWRENCE'S VEGETABLE, PHYSical Jamaica BITTERS; and Cure your Cough with his PECTORAL. a12 tjl

THE REV. DR. LYMAN BEECHER, of Boston, late President of the Lane Theological Seminary, Cincinnati, Ohio, writes, "I have used the VEGETABLE PULMONARY BALSAM myself, with benefit, in catarrhal coughs and colds, and have known it to be used with good effect in the early stages of Pulmonary affections, in families around me."

[See advertisement in another column.]

ARE YOU SICK?

Then you can't be cured too soon. Don't delay until your complaint is incurable, and then cry out when it is too late. Four fifths of all the diseases which people the church yards might be cured by Ayer's Cathartic Pills, if taken in season. Don't go dragging through the Spring, faint, sleepy and listless, because your blood is loaded with bile. Don't wear the headache, heartburn, and their kindred disorders, because your stomach is foul. Don't parade yourself around the world, covered with Pimples, Blotches, Ulcers, Sores and all or any of the unclean diseases of the skin, because your system wants cleansing. Don't show yourself about, lean, haggard, all caved in, because your stomach and bowels need strengthening into healthy action. Ayer's Pills set these things right as surely as water quenches fire. They purify the body and blood, and restore their functions into healty activity which you can feel as quick as they are taken. They are the one great medical wonder of this age, recognized by all who know their virtues, and many thousands know them. Take the Cherry Pectoral for a Cough and the Pills for all derangements requiring a purgative medicine.

Patents.

AMERICAN AND FOREIGN OFFICE.

Agency for business with US Patent Office, Washington,

76 State st, oppo. Kilby st, Boston.

IMPORTANT INFORMATION TO INVENTORS. The Subscriber (late Agent of the U. S. Patent Office, under the Act of 1837) determined to present advantages, in applying for Patents, superior to those offered to inventors by others, has made arrangements whereby on applications prepared and conducted by him, THIRTY DOLLARS (instead of twenty, as paid back by others,) will be remitted by him in case of failure to obtain a patent, and the withdrawal through him within thirty days after the rejection. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments and all necessary papers and drawings, for procuring patents in this and foreign countries prepared, and advice rendered on legal and scientific matters respecting inventions, and infringements of patents.

Inventors can not only here obtain their specifications on the most reasonable terms, but can here avail themselves of the experience of 20 years' practice, an extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and correct accounts of patents granted in this and other countries; besides being saved a journey to Washington, the usual great delay there, as well as all personal trouble in obtaining their patents. Copies of claims of any patent furnished by remitting one dollar.—Assignments recorded at Washington

R. H. EDDY,

Solicitor of Patents.

"During the time I occupied the office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, did business at the Patent Office, as Solicitor of Patents. There were few, if any persons acting in that capacity, who had so much business before the Patent Office, and there were none who conducted it with more skill, fidelity, and success. I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the best informed and most skilful Patent Solicitors in the United States, and have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.

EDMUND BURKE,

Late Commissioner of Patents."

"PATENT OFFICE, ———.

"R. H. EDDY, Esq., Boston, Mass.

"SIR:—Your facilities for the prosecution of any business connected with this Office, are equal to those of any other agent I am very respectfully, Yours, &c. THOMAS EWBANK, Commissioner of Patents."

IMPORTANT IMPROVEMENT

—IN—

Rotary Planing, Tonguing and Grooving Machines.

PATENTED NOVEMBER 21st, 1854.

THIS Improvement has been thoroughly tested and found to possess just what is necessary to perfect the rotary planer.

My machine will plane very much faster and better than any other now in use. I would particularly call the attention of those in want of machines for nice work, or for planing very thin, cross-grained or knotty material, to these machines, as it is impossible for them to tear or throw out loose knots.

My Clapboard Machine will plane and joint as fast as the clapboards can be put into the machine, and perform the work without sorting them so as to plane with the grain, upon any quality of clapboards, in a very superior manner, without tearing the thin edge.

Applications for rights and machines, or for further particulars, can be made to the Patentee,

Take this along with you.—'Tis just what you want.

The Great Specific of the Age.

OXYGENATED BITTERS!

THE ONLY SURE AND SAFE REMEDY EVER DISCOVERED

For the cure of

DYSPEPSIA,

IN ALL ITS VARIOUS FORMS, AS well as Liver Diseases, Fever and Ague, Bilious Complaints, Bronchitis, General Debility, and all diseases of a kindred nature.

Read the following testimony from Dr. Henry E. Morrell, a skillful physician of N. Y. city. He says—"Your most effectual medicine to improve the tone and energy of the stomach is that prepared by Dr. George B. Green, of Windsor, Vt., and called the Oxygenated Bitters."

The Oxygenated Bitters do not contain a particle of alcohol in their composition, and are, of necessity, highly concentrated, to prevent the injurious action of the temperature of different climates. Each bottle, when diluted according to the directions, makes nearly half a gallon of medicine, as pleasant to the taste as lemonade; and as to quantity, quite the CHEAPEST MEDICINE.

I have employed them in a multitude of cases, and have uniformly found that, when used according to the directions, they gradually, but surely, remove, one by one, the various distressing symptoms which cluster around the confirmed Dyspeptic, restore the stomach to its lost energies, and thus lead the patient back to the enjoyment of permanent health and strength.

It has also been used by the following persons, and received their unqualified approbation:—

Prof. A. A. Hayes, M. D., State Assayer, Boston
Prof. E. E. Phelps, M. D., of Therapeutics and Materia Medica, Dartmouth College.
Hon. Myron Lawrence, Ex-President of Massachusetts Senate.
Hon. L. H. Arnold, formerly Governor of Rhode Island, now member of Congress.

a17 LA FAYETTE LAIGHTON.

At New York, a woman named Grady, residing at No. 20 Pearl street, while under the influence of liquor, jumped out of the third story window. Her husband caught her dress as she went through the window, and succeeded in keeping her from falling to the ground some three minutes. Officer Cronin and a young man named Madden braced their knees against the wall of the house, and as the woman fell caught her, and all parties escaped unharmed.

On the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad the trucks of the cars have stout semi-circular straps or guards, firmly bolted to the frames. If an axle breaks, this guard prevents the wheel from leaving the track, and cases have been known where the breakage of the axle has been only accidentally discovered after the car had been running a long distance.

The Herrings have come, and being more than usually plenty, are comparatively cheap. It is said that none have yet been caught in Wareham, and we suppose the immense shoals now in the streams will not depart thither until every family in Sandwich obtains at least one barrel of them—the number to which they are entitled by time-honored usage and a recent vote of the town.

HEETS BROTHERS, having been many years engaged in the manufacture of Metalic Pens, and during that time, having devoted their unceasing attention to improving and perfecting that useful and necessary article, the result of their unceasing efforts and numerous experiments has been the construction of a Pen on a principle entirely new, combining all the advantages of the elasticity and clearness of the Quill, with six times the durability of the Steel Pen; and thus entirely obviating the only objection that has hitherto existed against the use of Steel Pens.

This Pen will be found an invaluable article in Offices, as they never need wiping, also to Banks and Schools, as they will not spatter nor cut the finest paper, and are warranted anti-corrosive.

CAUTION.—The universal celebrity of these Pens having induced several disreputable Makers to foist upon the public a spurious imitation, it will please to be observed that each genuine Pen is stamped, "HEARTS, BROTHERS' PATENT, 1853," and each box of Genuine Pens will contain a label with a fac-simile of the Manufacturers' name.

DR. J. B. MARCHISI'S
Celebrated Catholicon,
FOR THE
RELIEF & CURE OF SUFFERING FEMALES.

It stands pre-eminent for its curative powers in all the diseases for which it is recommended, usually called

FEMALE COMPLAINTS.

Of these are PROLAPSUS UTERI, or Falling of the Womb; FLUOR ALBUS, or Whites; CHRONIC INFLAMMATION OF THE WOMB; INTERNAL HEMORRAGE OF Flooding; PAINFUL, SUPPRESSED, AND IRREGULAR MENSTRUATION, &c., with all their accompanying evils, (Cancer excepted) no matter how severe or of how long standing.

Let all interested call and obtain a pamphlet (free) containing ample proof, from the most respectable sources, of the beneficial results of its use; together with letters from highly experienced Physicians, who have used it in their practice, and speak from their own observations.

A WORD TO THE LADIES.

Should any entertain doubts as to the efficacy of the URINARY CATHOLICON, I would respectfully state that I have for many years past, as my friends can well attest, been troubled with the disease for which this medicine is recommended, in its worst forms, and that by its use I have been entirely cured, and thus induced to accept an agency, and offer it for the benefit of others.

MRS. S. GAIT, 58 South street, Boston.

I feel it my duty to make known to the afflicted the virtues of MARCHISI'S URINARY CATHOLICON, which has relieved me of Female Complaints of fifteen years' standing, and of so serious a nature, that latterly my physician suspected Cancer of the Womb. I suffered extremely, and at last was entirely disabled from attending to my usual pursuits.

It has given me more relief than anything I have ever used for these difficulties. I will take pleasure in giving further details of my case to any lady who will call on me at 67 Mill street.

Deck-Reefing Gear.

By the application of this GEAR, the Topsails of any vessel may be Reefed from the deck with remarkable facility, and carry sail much longer than when rigged in any other way. This Gear can be readily applied to any old rig, and at less expense than any other now in use.

The following is an extract from a letter recently received from Capt. Pickering, of the ship Ocean Rover, of Portsmouth, concerning its merits:—

"It has given me perfect satisfaction, and I have only to regret that it is not applied to all the topsail yards. On the passage to this port, (Charleston, S. C.,) I experienced strong gales from the S. W. and had occasion to use it several times, and on every occasion it worked finely."

CATHOLIC DIFFICULTIES.—A correspondent of the New Haven Palladium writes from Middletown, Conn., an account of some troubles which have occurred among the Roman Catholic population of that place, caused by the resignation of Mr. Brady whom the Bishop threatened to depose, because of the part which he took in the funeral obsequies of his uncle, the late Mr. Brady, of Hartford. On Sunday morning last bars were nailed across the doors, and at the principal entrance was posted the following: "Let no man take this down till the Bishop gives a reason for removing Mr. Brady from his beloved congregation. Let no man dare to." When the new priest, Mr. Marion, arrived, he tore the paper from the door, and asked the cause of the excitement. An elderly member of the congregation replied that they thought the Bishop had outraged their feelings, in removing Mr. Brady without giving a reason to his people. Mr. Marion said that he knew nothing about that, and that it was not incumbent upon the Bishop to give any reason to them, as he was delegated by Almighty God to take charge of their souls, and if he should give a reason for his action he would be no longer Bishop. He then procured a hatchet and opened the Church for service.

We presume this statement to be correct;—and the acts of the Bishop, and of Mr. Marion, to be in strict accordance with the spirit and usage of the Romish Church.

To the priest, who deems himself a heaven appointed overseer, doubtless it seems all right; and it may appear so to those who bow in reverence to a priestly edict. But to us it seems a hateful case of domineering, as contrary to the gospel as it is to courtesy and common sense.

The men who build the church should own it; and open and shut it as they please; taking care never to let the fee simple go out of their own hands.

A HUNGRY CARPET BAG.—The Buffalo Express relates an amusing incident which occurred at Erie a few days since. A gentleman left Cleveland for New York at an early hour in the morning, without his breakfast, and being very hungry, upon the arrival of the train at Erie, entered the dining room, and placing his carpet bag upon a chair, sat down beside it and commenced a valorous attack upon the viands placed before him. By and by the proprietor of the establishment came round to collect fares and upon reaching our friend, ejaculated, "Dollar, sir!" "A dollar!" responded the eating man, "a dollar—thought you only charged fifty cents a meal for one—eh? "That's true," said Meanness, "but I count your carpet bag one, since it occupies a seat." (The table was far from being crowded.) Our friend expostulated, but the landlord insisted, and the dollar was reluctantly brought forth. The landlord passed on.—Our friend deliberately arose and opening his carpet bag, full in its wide mouth, discoursed unto it, saying, "Carpet Bag, it seems you're an individual—a human individual, since you eat—at least I've paid for you, and now you must eat,"—upon which, he seized everything eatable within his reach, nuts, raisins, apples, cakes, pies, and amid the roars of the bystanders, the delight of his brother passengers, and discomfiture of the landlord, phlegmatically went and took his seat in the cars. He said he had provisions enough to last him to New York, after a bountiful supply had been served out in the cars. There was at least $8 worth in the bag—upon which the landlord realised nothing in the way of profit. So much for meanness.

Cardinal Wiseman has lately had a verdict of one thousand pounds rendered against him in the English courts, for libel. The plaintiff was a Rev. Mr. Bayle, a Catholic Priest, belonging to a party antagonistic in certain principles to those held by the cardinal.

A VETO.—On Monday, Gov. Gardner of Massachusetts returned to the House of Representatives the bill to loan the Vermont and Massachusetts Railroad the State credit to the amount of one million of dollars, with his veto message attached to the instrument.—The Governor states in his message that his objections to the bill are founded in no particular hostility to the road in question, but from the necessity which will arise, if this bill is allowed to pass, of granting similar loans to other roads that have applied for like aid, and by so doing endanger the financial credit of the Commonwealth.

The Governor also is of the opinion that the granting State aid in this manner, to roads already finished, is without a precedent in our legislation, and clearly unconstitutional. The bill in question passed in both the branches by a vote of more than two-thirds. In the Senate, the vote stood 22 to 6, and in the House the vote was 183 to 77. A similar vote in both branches would pass the bill over the Governor's veto.

BALTIMORE, April 30.—New Orleans papers of Tuesday are received. The arrest of postmaster Kendall, caused a great commotion. His examination was private, and the testimony against him is said to be of the strongest character. A motion was made before the Commissioner to set aside the affidavit on the ground of insufficiency to cause the arrest.

Morning Chronicle.

THURSDAY, MAY 3, 1855.

THE ADMINISTRATION AND KANZAS.—The New York Tribune has a despatch from Washington, dated Monday, which says:—"The Administration is sorely perplexed about Kansas affairs. Secretary Davis, who is the ruling member of the Cabinet, takes sides with the Atchison party against Governor Reeder. President Pierce has spoken his mind freely in condemnation of the new working of squatter sovereignty, but it is believed that he will ultimately be influenced by Davis. Governor Reeder is hourly and anxiously expected at the capital."

We place no reliance whatever, on these Washington despatches; and have no clearer idea of what President Pierce's policy will be, about Gov. Reeder and Kansas, than of what it is in regard to Cuba.

NEGATIVE ACTION.—In the Massachusetts Legislature, on Tuesday, the bill to create a State agent to purchase liquors for the town agencies, was indefinitely postponed. [As it ought to be.]

The bill relative to the examination of private schools, which had been reported by the Committee on Education, and an endorsement of which constituted the entire result of the investigations of the nunnery committee, was killed by an indefinite postponement.

This was a harmless idea nevertheless, and might, we think, have been a useful law, if properly drawn.

PHILADELPHIA, May 1.—The propeller for the Kane expedition was launched this afternoon in fine style.

The returns from the election for City Treasurer indicate the election of Hoges, supported by the Whigs and Democrats in opposition to the Know Nothings.

Indeed! Why somebody said the whig party was dead;—but it seems to be alive in Philadelphia, and fraternizing in brotherly love with the democratic party. Don't mention a coalition, lest somebody should be frightened.

☞ Harper's New Monthly, for May, has been received from the publishers by mail,—and also from Fetridge & Co., Boston, via J. F. Shores, jr., of this city. The first article, illustrated, consists of Sketches in Brazil. It treats of Collecting Alms for the Holy Ghost, and other church matters. At the Feast of the Holy Ghost, a certain paper is published, containing various notices.

"Notice to the Illustrious Preparers of the Festival of the Holy Spirit: In Silversmith Street, No. 78, may be found a beautiful assortment of Holy Ghosts, in gold, with glories, at 30 cents each; smaller sizes, without glories, at 40 cents. Silver Holy Ghosts, with glories, at 6 1-2 dollars per hundred; do., without glories, 3 1-2 dollars. Holy Ghosts of tin, resembling silver, at 75 cents per hundred.

Mary Rankin is a good story.

The New York market is glutted with potatoes, and we notice within a few days there has been an immense quantity re-shipped from New York to the interior.

People here have learned to get along with 1-10th of the quantity they formerly used.—Such persons as have kept them back for greater prices than they have been bringing, will not find their neighbors weeping much, over their loss.

MASSACHUSETTS.—On Monday, the constitutional amendment, making a residence of twenty-one years in this country a requisite to eligibility to office, was rejected in the House during the afternoon session. The rejection excited much feeling among the members.

☞ The Newburyport Herald says that Charles Sumner's lecture in that city, on Friday evening, filled the City Hall with the most intelligent audience that has there collected this season. He spoke two hours and twenty minutes, during which time the most profound attention was given, and all went away pleased with the address and proud of the man.

MR. SOULE.—The friends of Hon. Pierre Soule, at New Orleans, recently held a meeting to divise some method making a public demonstration in his behalf. The meeting finally adjourned to his residence, where he addressed them as follows:—

"I thank you, fellow citizens, for this flattering demonstration of your kind feelings towards me. It gladdens my soul to be thus cheered home by friends who forget not, and who know so well how to value the humblest devotion even when fraught with disappointment, or rendered abortive by that mockery of pandence so often mistaken for wisdom. Of the part which it was my lot to act during the time I was absent from you, it behooves me not to speak, though this much I may, perhaps, be permitted to say, that it will be found to bear the test of the most severe scrutiny.—I came back to you with a heart undaunted by the ire which the mere mention of my name has had the privilege of provoking in the torpid breast of the crowned cut-throat who rules over France; and with a brow on which the most abject and reckless calumnies have not yet been able to start a blush."

His speech was received with great applause by the crowd, who shouted, "Hurrah for Soule!" "Hurrah for Cuba!" "Hurrah for Alexander II!" "Three groans for the assassins of Europe!" "Three cheers for the Ostend Conference!" "The groans for the Vienna Conference!" and the like.

LOCAL.

THE SCHOOL HOUSE.—The reader will perceive this days' paper to be pretty well filled with School Houses and Court Houses. The City Government, we suppose, will have the Chronicle before them, and pick out the plan which suits them best.

For the Chronicle.

HIGH SCHOOLS.

Messrs. Editors:—Please allow me to give mine opinion on the above subject, as I am not satisfied with any of the projects yet published, and as I take some interest in the expenditures as well as in the accommodations for the schools. All the plans proposed as yet, are expensive, and neither of them should be adopted, if a better and less expensive plan can be suggested, which is what I now propose to do.

In the first place comes the High Schools for Boys and Girls: now my plan is to raise the Court House four or six feet, and extend it south, making suitable rooms for the accommodation of both schools.

The boys and girls should attend in one room, and have one principal and three assistant teachers. This plan has been adopted in Manchester, and in Dover, with the most satisfactory results. The influence of females on the male scholars is most happy; a remarkable cleanliness is among the best effects; good behavior, attention to tasks, and punctuality, predominate. This plan requires one less teacher, thereby allowing better compensation. It is unnecessary to dwell on the good influence of females on the male character, as all admit it; but just to recall the effect to mind, I would ask any one to look back to schools of mixed character, such as that formerly kept at Christian Shore, and others.

So much for the High Schools. Mr. Senter's school and that at Rev. Dr. Burroughs' building, should be accommodated in two rooms in the basement of the High Schools; the yards, &c., could be easily adjusted in regard to the times of recess, &c. I think this plan would dispose of the four schools in a prudent, pleasant and permanent manner.

Now let us bring up the Courts, and try them as we wish them to try us, viz.: in a prudent and prompt manner. Let the building now occupied by the High School for boys be so modeled as to accommodate the Court, City Council, &c., and ornament the city. The expense of the above will be, for four schools on the Court House lot, about $2,500; for Court Room and City Rooms, $2,500; interest of these sums $300; deduct for rents saved $360, which will allow $1000 extra expense, and then be equal to the present expenditures. The writer will make other estimates when he has half an hour to spare, thereby saving the expense of sending a committee to Boston for that purpose; all of which is respectfully submitted to the tax payers of the city, by PRUDENCE.

COURT HOUSE, & SCHOOL HOUSE.

That a School House spacious enough for male and female high schools, should be erected, is a point generally conceded. There is some diversity of opinion in respect to the most suitable location. The present Court House lot is about 140 feet on Court street. The Court House can be removed near to the easterly or westerly line of the lot, leaving ample space to erect a new School House, and land sufficient southerly for a yard or play ground, which should be ornamented with trees. A high fence or brick wall should make a complete separation between the Court House and the School House. A preferable location for both cannot be had without a large outlay for another lot, and at this time, some regard should be had to economy. But should it be determined to have a different location for a Court House, we would suggest the propriety of widening Jefferson Hall ten or fifteen feet, northerly and southerly; and lengthening it easterly, for jury and other rooms. By thus being enlarged, it would be spacious enough, and could also be used for a City Hall, now much needed. It would not be necessary to remove the walls of the basement story. The projection north and south could be supported by brick arches, or stone pillars. The lower story must be kept for a market according to the original grant of the lot, as it is understood. For a Court House or a public Hall, we think there is no better location in the city, and the requisite enlargement would be attended with far less expenditure than to purchase a lot and erect a suitable building. The third story of Congress Block, and the Pleasant Street Church, have been mentioned for a Court House.

To the first, there are several radical objections, and a third story would not answer.—The distance of the second to the public boarding houses is a sufficient objection, although to the building itself there may be no objection.

We must consider that the public will have some voice in respect to a Court House and its location, and if not satisfactorily accommodated, the Legislature would remove the Courts to some other place. It will be recollected that there have been attempts made for their removal. That the next Legislature will restore the sessions of the Superior Court to be held in the several counties, as heretofore, is highly probable. Should the sessions of both Courts, and of the U. S. Courts, be held elsewhere, it would be a serious inconvenience as well as loss in many respects.

Our city authorities will do well to take these subjects into mature consideration, prior to any hasty decision. A CITIZEN.

For the Chronicle.

ANOTHER LOT.

Messrs. Editors:—Permit me to suggest another plan for School and Court House accommodation. Let the city buy the lot now used for a Stable, nearly opposite the Rockingham House; and build a brick Court House, with city offices, thereon. Then bring the seats, desks, and school furniture of the High School for Girls, up from the cellar into the present Court Room, and the work is done.

The neighbors, near the stable, will contribute $1000 toward this project. I will give $100 for my share. A NEIGHBOR.

For the Chronicle.

LONDON, May 3, 1855.

My Dear Uncle Toby:—As you have been the Chronicle of the times for the past 50 years, will you be so benevolent as to relate to Young America the business that formerly came here from the interior of the State and Vermont—the number of the merchants who bought and sold cargoes, whose ships crowded the wharves from Rindge's to Liberty Bridge, covering them with molasses, iron, hemp, hides, salt, and other merchandise; when the business of the town was well done by a board of five selectmen, and the expenses not exceeding from 16 to $20,000.—Then point to the forest of masts now extending from Boiling Rock to Little Harbor; the increase of our country trade; how many million dollars have been added to our wealth by the Bleachery, Stocking Factories, Steam Mill, Sagamore, and Factories in neighboring towns; P. & C. Railroad, Transportation Stock, Preferred Stock, and Eastern Railroad, and convince the people that we have grown to a prodigious great and wealthy city, and our expenses should be in proportion. For a City Hall $20,000 should be at once appropriated, and $30,000 spent, and $40,000 for new School Houses.

Now a word in sober earnest. If the inhabitants of this town of wooden houses do not desire to weep over the ashes of their hearth stones, they must at once awake to a sense of their danger. We only escaped destruction the past year by the fire being discovered at an early hour, and favorable weather. It is a matter of proof that during these fires water could not be drawn from the Aqueduct a short distance from the immediate neighborhood. (Who took up the Pumps?)

Either $30,000 must be appropriated for Reservoirs, or the city had better buy out the Aqueduct Company, who have made, I am informed, over 200 per cent.; to be sure, they support an overseer and several men, in removing rotten logs, and in other repairs. The investment would pay the city 6 per cent.—Large iron pipes should be laid through all the principal streets, and smaller through the others; then we shall not not be annoyed by our streets being dug up, and shall have what we should never be deprived of, an abundance of water for domestic purposes, and to protect our lives and property from fire. CATO.

TEACHERS' INSTITUTE, HAMPTON.—The lectures on Tuesday evening was well attended. The first, commencing at 7 1-2 o'clock, by Prof. Russell: subject—How best to bring forward and cultivate the qualities of the Mind. The second, commencing at 8 1-2, by Prof. Whittaker: subject—Pestolozzi, and his method of instruction. The exercises of the evening were concluded by a Poetical Recitation by Prof. R.

The Institute opened on Wednesday morning in the customary manner—reading of the scriptures and prayer; after which the various committees made their reports. 1st lesson by Prof. R. in Grammar, succeeded by a lecture by Prof. Guyot, on Physical Geography.—Last lesson of the morning, by Prof. R. on the Training of the Voice, after which he took leave of the class. The 1st lesson in the afternoon was in Drawing, by Prof. W. The next exercise was in Geography, by Prof. Guyot, followed by an exercise in Music, for a recreation, under the direction of Mr. Payson; after which Prof. G. resumed his lecture on Physical Geography, which concluded the exercises of the afternoon session.

The attendance all day was larger than on either of the preceeding days. Quite a delegation from Portsmouth attended in the afternoon.

☞ We are requested to state that there is to be a Dramatic performance at the Cameneum this (Thursday) evening. The Misses Emmons will appear in characters, and dances, songs, &c. In common with other aggrieved individuals here, several members of the Theatrical Company would like to have their bills cashed by their late manager—but as he has "left," this entertainment in given by the company for themselves.

NEW YORK, May 1.—The Evening Post publishes letters from Buenos Ayres, received by an arrival at Salem, giving another account of the firing into the U. S. steamer Water Witch by a Paraguyan Fort, on the river Parana. It is stated that a boat, from the Fort, put off, and tendered a Spanish document to the officer in command of the Water Witch, which was refused, and the boat ordered off. The firing then took place on both sides; the Water Witch retiring badly damaged, with her Quarter Master mortally wounded. She proceeded to Buenos Ayres, and from thence to Montevideo, to await the arrival of the Commodore, and report the state of affairs.

A negotiation is said to be on foot between the British and the Argentine Government, for the tract of country known as "Grand Chaco," the British looking to it as a resource for the supply of cotton, in case of any difficulty with the United States.

HARTFORD, April 27.—The jury did not agree in the Clark liquor case, recently on trial. It is said that eight were for releasing the liquor, and four for conviction. The liquor remains, as before, in possession of the officer. The case was looked upon with a good deal of interest, on account of the large amount of liquor at stake—some two or three thousand dollars worth,—and also the standing of the defendants, the firm being one of the largest dealing in liquors in the State previous to the passage of the law.

COTTON BURNED IN LAWRENCE.—Saturday P. M. at the freight depot in Lawrence, a train of 15 cars all loaded with cotton for the Atlantic mills, was set on fire by a passing locomotive, and the cotton was nearly all consumed; Sunday forenoon the firemen were still playing on the smouldering heaps, and will have to continue on the ground for a day or two longer. On account of the high wind, none of the cars or cotton could be saved. The Boston and Maine Railroad is the loser, amount from $9000 to 10,000.—Lowell Courier.

NEW BUTTER.—We have been informed by produce dealers that within the past two weeks there has been an unprecedented decline in the market price of butter of all grades. From Northern New York and Vermont there have been, for this season of the year, large and increasing arrivals of new butter, and the increase is so great in New York city that it is sent to this city for sale. The result is a decline of some 12 1-2 cents a pound. Wholesale rates are now 25 and 27 cents, with a still further declining tendency; and dealers do not feel safe to have but a few tubs on hand, anticipating that they can purchase soon at from 18 to 20 cts., at which rates the consumption will be much greater than at the late extravagant prices of 35 to 40 cents.

NEW YORK, May 2.—The steamship Pacific sailed to-day with 226 passengers—among them Hon. A. C. Dodge, Minister to Spain. She takes out $1,313,000 in specie.

HIGH PRICES.—Flour is selling at Montreal at $11 per barrel, and at Quebec it commands $12 and $13. At Quebec butter is quoted at 40 cts; beef at 15 a 20 cts. per lb. and pork at $25 per brl. Lrbor commands 2s currency or 40 cts. per day.

Take this along with you.—'Tis just what you want.
The Great Specific of the Age.
OXYGENATED BITTERS!
THE ONLY SURE AND SAFE REMEDY EVER DISCOVERED
For the cure of
DYSPEPSIA,
IN ALL ITS VARIOUS FORMS, As well as Liver Diseases, Fever and Ague, Bilious Complaints, Bronchitis, General Debility, and all cases of a kindred nature.
Read the following testimony from Dr. Henry E. Morrell, a skillful physician of N. Y. city. He says:—"The most effectual medicine to improve the tone and energy of the stomach is that prepared by Dr. George B. Green, of Windsor, Vt., and called the Oxygenated Bitters."
The Oxygenated Bitters do not contain a particle of alcohol in their composition, and are, of necessity, highly concentrated, to prevent the injurious action of the temperature of different climates. Each bottle, when diluted according to the directions, makes nearly half a gallon of medicine, as pleasant to the taste as lemonade; and as to quantity, quite the CHEAPEST MEDICINE.
I have employed them in a multitude of cases, and have uniformly found that, when used according to the directions, they gradually, but surely, remove, one by one, the various distressing symptoms which cluster around the confirmed Dyspeptic, restore the stomach to its lost energies, and thus lead the patient back to the enjoyment of permanent health and strength.
It has also been used by the following persons, and received their unqualified approbation:—
Prof. A. A. Hayes, M. D., State Assayer, Boston
Prof. E. E. Phelps, M. D., of Therapeutics and Materia Medica, Dartmouth College.
Hon. Myron Lawrence, Ex-President of Massachusetts Senate.
Hon. L. H. Arnold, formerly Governor of Rhode Island, now member of Congress.

a17 LA FAYETTE LAIGHTON.

IS IT POSSIBLE?—The London correspondent of the N. Y. Times says "the Empress Eugenie will be the real "observed of all observers," and then "lets on" as follows:

And then, the comparisons to be drawn between her and the Queen! What a field for feminine conversation. I am rather afraid for poor Victoria. She is too much criticised even now, without being compared to any one else. She looks sulky, ill-natured, rather passe, very common, proud, and a great deal more. She drinks, she beats her children—she is awfully jealous, so as to once have locked our Prince Albert, who went home a little after ten—she is most tyrannical to her servants, and boxes their ears, &c.

I have heard all those remarks, not once, but a thousand times—not in one rank of society, but in all ranks. What will it be, when she shall be looked at by the side of the smiling, beautiful and young Empress, who has not been a Princess!

A FALSEHOOD NAILED.—The reports industriously circulated far some days past, in relation to members of the Legislature and others drinking wine at Blackstone, on the late railroad excursion, are false in every respect. We are enabled to state positively and authoritively that no ardent spirits of any kind whatever were drank.—Boston Bee.

HEARTS BROTHERS, having been many years engaged in the manufacture of Metalic Pens, and during that time, having devoted their unceasing attention to improving and perfecting that useful and necessary article, the result of their unceasing efforts and numerous experiments has been the construction of a Pen on a principle entirely new, combining all the advantages of the elasticity and clearness of the Quill, with six times the durability of the Steel Pen; and thus entirely obviating the only objection that has hitherto existed against the use of Steel Pens.

This Pen will be found an invaluable article in Offices, as they never need wiping, also to Banks and Schools, as they will not spatter nor cut the thinest paper, and are warranted anti-corrosive.

CAUTION.—The universal celebrity of these Pens having induced several disreputable Makers to foist upon the public a spurious imitation, it will please to be observed that each genuine Pen is stamped, "HEARTS, BROTHERS' PATENT, 1855," and each box of Genuine Pens will contain a label with a fac-simile of the Manufacturers' name.

DR. J. B. MARCHISI'S
Celebrated Catholicon,

FOR THE
RELIEF & CURE OF SUFFERING FEMALES.

It stands pre-eminent for its curative powers in all the diseases for which it is recommended, and usually called

FEMALE COMPLAINTS.

Of these are PROLAPSUS UTERI, or Falling of the Womb; FLUOR ALBUS, or Whites; CHRONIC INFLAMMATION OF THE WOMB; INCIDENTAL HEMORRAGE or Flooding; PAINFUL, SUPPRESSED, AND IRREGULAR MENSTRUATION, &c., with all their accompanying evils, (Cancer excepted) no matter how severe or of how long standing.

Let all interested call and obtain a pamphlet (free) containing ample proof, from the most respectable sources, of the beneficial results of its use; together with testimony from highly esteemed Physicians, who have used it in their practice, and speak from their own observations.

A WORD TO THE LADIES.

Should any entertain doubts as to the efficacy of the Female Catholicon, I would respectfully state that I have for many years past, as my friends can well attest, been troubled with the disease for which this medicine is recommended, in its worst forms, and that by its use I have been entirely cured, and thus induced to accept an agency, and offer it for the benefit of others.

MRS. S. GAIT, 38 South street, Boston.

I feel it my duty to make known to the afflicted the virtues of MARCHISI'S UTERINE CATHOLICON which has relieved me of Female Complaints of fifteen years' standing, and of so serious a nature, that latterly my physician suspected Cancer of the Womb. I suffered extremely, and at last was entirely disabled from walking or using any exertion.

It has given me more relief than any thing I have ever used for these difficulties. I will take pleasure in giving further details of my case to any lady who will call on me at 67 Mill street.

FOSTER'S PATENT

Deck-Reefing Gear.

By the application of this GEAR, the Topsails of any vessel may be Reefed from the deck with remarkable facility, and carry sail much longer than when rigged in any other way. This Gear can be readily applied to any old rig, and at less expense than any other now in use.

The following is an extract from a letter recently received from Capt. Pickering, of the ship Ocean Rover, of Portsmouth, concerning its merits:—

"It has given me perfect satisfaction, and I have only to regret that it is not applied to all the topsail yards. On the passage to this port, (Charleston, S. C.,) I experienced strong gales from the S. W. and had occasion to use it several times, and on every occasion it worked finely."

WHAT IS SALERATUS?—Wood is burned to ashes, ashes are lixivated—ley is the result. Ley is evaporated by boiling—black salts is the residuum. The salts undergo purification by fire, and the potash of commerce is obtained. By another process we change potash into pearlash. Now put these in sacks and place them over a distillery wash tub, where the fermentation evolves carbonic acid gas, and the pearlash absorbs it and is rendered solid; the product being heavier, drier and whiter than the pearlash. It is now saleratus. How much salts of ley and carbonic acid a human stomach can bear and remain healthy, is a question for a saleratus eater. Some people say saleratus will not harm the stomach. It is a ley!

MADAME SONTAG.—Accounts from Hamburg to April 3, mention the arrival there of the Danish brig Juno, Capt. Bohn, from Laguna, with the remains of the Countess Rossi. The corpse—which is preserved in three coffins, one within the other—was forwarded by railroad to Berlin, in the first instance, where Count Rossi was accredited formerly as the Envoy of the King of Sardinia. While in this country, Madame Sontag invested $20,000 in U. S. stocks, in her own personal name. This stock, with any dividends thereon, Count Rossi (after her death) gave his agent in New York a power of attorney to dispose of. Administration upon this property was also granted to said agent by the Surrogate of New York. It has since, however, been decided that Count Rossi cannot thus dispose of this property, because the distribution of the estates of decedents is governed by the personal, not the local statute, and depends in this case on the lex domicilii—that is of Austria. He must, therefore, be empowered by Austrian authority before he can possess his late wife's personal investments.

A LONG SUNDAY.—There was a law enacted in the days of King Edgar in England, that the Sabbath should begin on Saturday at three o'clock in the afternoon, and continue till break of day on Monday morning.

Charles Lamb hit the hydropathist, when he said: "Water is old as the deluge, only that the first great application happened to kill more than it cured."

WHAT IT COSTS TO CALL A MAN A NEGRO. Allusion was made in the Journal some time since to the libel case of William T. Dove against J. H. McBlair, which was on trial at Washington—the libel complained of being the circulation of a report by McBlair, during the municipal election canvass of 1852, that the plaintiff was tainted with African blood. We now learn from the National Intelligencer that the case has been decided in favor of the plaintiff, and that the jury returned a verdict for ten thousand dollars damages!—being the full amount claimed. Mr. Dove has made arrangements by which the money, after the expenses of the suit are paid, will be divided between the two orphan asylums—Catholic and Protestant—of the city.—Boston Jour.

Morning Chronicle.

FRIDAY, MAY 4, 1855.

MORE CHOICE LITERATURE.—Below, we give some choice extracts from the Portland Temperance Journal.

A Mare's Nest.—That brainless biped who edits the State of Maine newspaper, true to his instincts of "pimp" and "spy" has fished up from somewhere, a circular which, as he says, was issued some two years since by the State Temperance Committee. We have to say in regard to it, that we never saw the circular nor heard of it, till we saw it in the State of Maine.

* * * The common inquiry is, Is the man a fool?

* * * We tell this John A. Poor, whose moral character is rottenness itself, that we defy him. For such a fellow to attack a man's moral character, and prate about religion and morality, bah!

That Nut.—The editor of the State of Maine attempts to invalidate our statements with regard to the pauper vote. With his usual quantity of gas, and rather more than his usual mendacity, and with any quantity of pompous declamation, he stoutly denies the truth of what we said. He even threatens us with a suit at law.

We re-affirm what we have already said, the shilly shally, verbose, and unauthorized nonsense of John A. Poor to the contrary, notwithstanding. When the four Alderman in question shall deny in an authorized way, the truth of what we said, it will be time enough for us to make good our words, or take them back; in the meantime, John A. Poor will understand that we regard him as the mere toady and parasite of men who look upon him with utter contempt.

The last Augusta Age has "fits." It is almost as bad as the Argus. It will have it that the R. N.'s, the Republicans, and the Abolitionists are all dead—dead as Marly, and yet it sees one in every leaf, and cries out, "why come to torment us before our time?"

When we copied some extracts of a like character, from the N. H. Patriot, we supposed the writer in that paper indulged in such lofty strains of invective, because they were defeated in an election. But there is no such excuse for the Portland Journal.

The advocates of temperance need not use any such weapons. The cause does not require it, and cannot be benefitted by it.

A MODEL ALDERMAN.—The Boston Journal, speaking of the Steam Fire Engine, which was not used at the late fire, says:

We learn, from inquiry at the proper place, that there is no injunction whatever against the use of the new steam fire-engine. This is as we expected. The fault of her not being placed in the hands of the Fire Department undoubtedly belongs to the Committee on the Fire Department, which consists of three Aldermen, who are known to be opposed to the use of the machine on the ground that it is not needed.

It is asserted that the chairman of this committee has repeatedly predicted that the machine would never be worked in Boston while he was a member of the City Government!

If it be true that any Alderman, by his mulish obstinacy prevented the use or the trial of this machine at the late fire,—then the sufferers, insurers, &c., ought to have a general meeting and roast the alderman over a slow fire of resolutions, groans and hisses. The names of all three of the committee ought to be published, that the people may avoid putting them into any office hereafter. Mr. Latta, the maker of the engine says in a letter,—

"I was astonished to hear the Chairman of the Committee on the Fire Department express his opinion in regard to the Steam Fire Engine, after it had been tried and paid for. He thought that it was all that had been claimed for it, and well calculated to answer the purpose for which it was intended, but in his opinion, Boston had no need of any more protection, than she had at that time, therefore he thought he should offer a resolution to advertise the engine for sale. Why he has not done so I do not know, but should like to have him express his opinion now. Either the department was inefficient or the fire was too large for them. The steam engine has been standing in the city stables since I left Boston, waiting to be put in a house, and equipped for service, but as there was no need for it until now, it was a matter of little consequence, but while the fire was raging, it would have saved thousands had it been put in service. Boston has as good an organization as any other city, but her hand apparatus is no better. * * *

"If you want to see fires put out, you must come to Cincinnati. We have put-out fires in three lumber yards and one pork house. This is something that has never been done before. I don't ask any favors of the city of Boston in regard to the engine; only to give it a fair chance, and it will show for itself; but if you keep it in its present position, without having any men, or horses or house, it will not do much service for Boston.

CRUNCH TROUBLES.—In relation to the Catholic Church in Hartford, a Middletown, Conn. paper thinks the effect of this persecution will lead, it is said, to the passage of the Church Property Bill in Connecticut, like that passed in New York.

We entertain no doubt, the coming Legislature will settle this business of Bishops hunting after property, and being encumbered with such sordid cares. Had a corporation of laymen held the property of St. John's Church, it is hardly likely that their pastor would have been so unceremoniously torn from them, after a residence of ten years in this city, where he has conducted the affairs of his church with great energy, and has always exerted himself on the side of order and for the welfare of his people.

UNEXPECTED SERVILITY.—We are informed on good authority that Mrs. Webb, who is giving a series of readings at the present time in Boston, under the alias of the "Black Siddons," a lady of education, talent and refinement, upon her arrival in town, took lodgings at the Marlboro' Hotel, having heard of the reputation of that house for order and quietude. Her surprise may be imagined when she was informed that she could not be admitted to the public table for her meals, but that she could be furnished with them at her private room, at an extra expense! Even the usual courtesy, upon which the Marlboro' has prided itself so much, of inviting its guests to the morning religious exercises, was omitted towards her! And this, because this gifted lady, as she truly is, in every sense of the word, has a dark skin. It is needless to add, perhaps, that Mrs. Webb speedily changed her lodgings, and found within the less pretentious walls of the Winthrop, that attention to company and equality of hospitality which is the highest recommendation of a well-ordered hotel.—Boston Telegraph.

The landlord of the Marlboro' has made a mistake, which will not probably put money in his purse.

NEW YORK HOTELS.—The Astor, St Nicholas, New York and Clarendon hotels have raised the price of board from $2,50 to $3. This addition is put on probably to make up for the difference in their profits which will be occasioned by the operation of the liquor law.

Well: who cares? No poor prudent man would put up at either of them at $2,50.—The rich, and extravagant poor, need not mind the 50 cts. advance.

The N. Y. Express in an excellent article on hotel life, says:—

"The day is about over, or if not all over, about to be over—when they who make a breakfast of bread and tea, that costs a shilling, must pay for the omelettes, steaks, and other varied fancies of those, for whose breakfasts two dollars would scarcely pay."

That is right: let every one pay for what he eats and drinks, and for so much show as he wishes to make.

☞ The Portland "State of Maine" newspaper, informs us that Mr. E. N. Doe, of China, Me., came to Portland on Tuesday, April 24, with his daughter,—and then disappeared suddenly and mysteriously. No suspicions of either foul play or suicide are ascertained,—as he had no great sum of money with him, is not now engaged in any extensive or hazardous business, and is not known to be in any mental condition to cause depression.

A MORMON COLONY.—The ship Siddons, which arrived at Philadelphia on Friday night from Liverpool, had on board 425 Mormon emigrants, destined, as the marks upon their baggage indicated, for "Salt Lake City."—They were composed of British families, and all appeared well dressed, healthy, and intelligent. The women, especially, had that fine, robust, rosy, British look about them, of which we hear so much. They were to proceed immediately, by railroad and steamboat, to the Western frontier, and there start, overland for their new home in the valley of the Salt Lake, where the leaders of the Mormons seem fast gathering a populous and flourishing community, mostly accumulated from the European hive of nations.

Governor Young, in his manifesto, objects in toto to the appointment by the President of young bachelors as officers to be sent to Utah. The saints, in most cases, have a plurality of wives ranging from five to forty, and even seventy, but outsiders are not to infer from this that they have any to spare. A saint with twenty or thirty wives in a dozen different cottages is in danger from intriguing interlopers, and the government should act accordingly.

Whoever lives a few years, will see a grand blow up and general fight among the Mormons and their neighbors, induced by this return to the patriarchal folly, in which Solomon, the wise, went beyond all modern fools.

ABOLITIONISM.—The world would be in a beautiful state, morally and politically, if the views of the Anti Slavery fanatics were to be carried out, Church and State would both suffer, for everything sacred and precious is called in question by these wild dreamers.—Boston Mail.

The Church is safe now,—the Mail has come to the rescue.

☞ Miss Lucy Stone, the well known and eloquent orstrix, was married on May Day, at West Brookfield, Mass., to Mr. Henry B. Blackwell, by Rev. F. W. Higginson of Worcester.

The import of potatoes at the port of Boston, for the week ending April 21st, as appears by the Merchants' Exchange Books, amounted to 18,285 bushels, from the British Provinces alone, and their value is estimated at $12,928, 10 or, 70 cents a bushel. Large supplies have also been received from other sources. The retail prices of potatoes still remain at 30 a 38c per peck, or $1,20 a $1,50 per bushel, giving to the retailer the snug little profit of 50 to 80 cts. per bushel.

Consumers can go to the potato vessels and purchase one bushel and upwards for about 75 cts. a bushel. Why would it not be a good plan for neighborhoods to club together and buy a load? They could be distributed without much expense, and would not certainly cost more than 80 cts. a bushel delivered.—Boston Herald.

FROM MEXICO.—BALTIMORE, May 2nd.—New Orleans papers of Thursday are at hand.

The correspondent of the New Orleans Bee at Mexico, asserts that Santa Anna was so seriously ill that he was not expected to live, his malady being an affection of the head, causing a perfect stupor. The bad news from the South is supposed to have exaggerated his sickness.

LOCAL.

CITY COUNCIL.

THURSDAY, May 3.

In Board of Aldermen.

Petitions—of E. S. Wendell, for relaying ing sidewalk; of R. Gray and others for drain in Cass street; of Ayers estate, to open drain—granted; of Wm. Rand and others for a sidewalk in Elm street—referred.

The joint committee on High Schools offered a substitute to the 2d and 3d resolutions (before published), which was adopted.

The resolution provides that the Court House be moved to the West side of the lot, and the School House be built near the centre of the remainder. This resolution will come before the Common Council next week.

Common Council.—The petition to suppress drinking houses, was referred to a joint special committe, consisting of Ald. Senter and Wharren, and Messrs. Spinney, Robbins and T. H. Odiorne.

An ordinance, providing for additional compensation of City Marshal, Street Commissioner and Superintendent of City Farm, (sent down from Alderman) was read and referred.

The resolution from Board of Aldermen, referring the South Pond matter to a joint special committee, was taken from the table and passed; Messrs. Beck, Folsom, Brown and Robbins were appointed on the part of the Council.

☞ We learn that a steamer is to be run between here and the Shoals, during the coming summer, commencing her trips on the 20th of the present month. She is capable of carrying about three hundred passengers.

PIERCE'S ETHIOPIAN MINSTRELS.—This band of negro singers will give one of their popular concerts at the Temple this evening. They sang in Lynn on Wednesday evening. The Bay State newspaper says: Mr. J. W. Pierce was formerly connected with the far famed Christy's Minstrels, and his name given to a troupe of minstrels is a guarantee of their excellence. The programme will consist of Ethiopian melodies, instrumental music, spirit rappings and fancy dances. Go and hear them.

COURTS IN MAY.—8th, U. S. Circuit; Probate, Portsmouth;—9th, Probate, Exeter.

The Eastern Railroad Company are erecting a large car house, three tracks in width, on the easterly side of their road at Prison Point bridge. This leads us to speak of an improvement of the same company in their depot accommodations on Causeway street, Boston, where we may now suppose that they are permanently located. In addition to commodious waiting rooms for ladies and gentlemen on the lower floor, the second story over them has been fitted up mainly for the accommodation of passengers who may arrive from New York in the early morning trains, and who, if they are bound east, prefer to go from one depot to another without stopping elsewhere. For this purpose convenient private rooms for ladies, with sofas and lounges, have been fitted up, proper refreshments have been placed for sale under the direction of a female, and a chambermaid has been employed to attend to their wants and see to their comfort. This is a new feature in railroad accommodation, and will be a great convenience to those for whom it was designed.—Boston Chronicle.

LARGE AND VALUABLE CARGO.—The ship Frank Pierce, Captain J. Leach, cleared at this port to-day by Messrs. A. Low & Co., for Liverpool, has on board 4,207 bales Upland Cotton, weighing 1,872,115 lbs., valued at $176,694 45, and 498 bales Sea Island Cotton, weighing 155,656 lbs., valued at $31,820 90—making an aggregate of 4,705 bales, weighing 2,027,771 lbs., and total value of $208,014 35! This is one of the largest, if not the largest, cargo of cotton ever cleared from this port.—Savannah Journal.

THE OXYGENATED BITTERS—Sold by J. H. THACHER, Apothecary, corner of State and Pleasant sts. m4

THE VEGETABLE PULMONARY BALSAM has become the most popular medicine ever put forth, for the cure of Coughs, Colds and Consumption. That it is worthy of its high reputation is made sufficiently evident by the immensity of its annual sales.—Messrs. Reed, Cutler & Co. are above quackery, depending alone upon the intrinsic virtues of their medicinal preparations for their disposal.—Humbug is so plentiful that it gives us real pleasure to offer this trifling and gratuitous tribute of our recommendation to a Medicine we know to be of real merit.—Vermont Burlington Sentinel.

Would you have Health?

USE LAWRENCE'S VEGETABLE PHYSical Jaundice BITTERS; and Cure your Cough with his PECTORAL. a12 tjl

ARE YOU SICK?

Then you can't be cured too soon. Don't delay until your complaint is incurable, and then mourn when it is too late. Four fifths of all the diseases which people the church yards might be cured by Ayer's Cathartic Pills, if taken in season. Don't go dragging through the Spring, faint, sleepy and listless, because your blood is loaded with bile. Don't wear the headache, heartburn, and their kindred disorders, because your stomach is foul. Don't parade yourself around the world, covered with Pimples, Blotches, Ulcers, Sores and all or any of the unclean diseases of the skin, because your system wants cleansing. Don't show yourself about, lean, haggard, all caved in, because your stomach and bowels need strengthening into healthy action. Ayer's Pills set these things right as surely as water quenches fire. They purify the body and blood, and restore their functions into healty activity which you can feel as quick as they are taken. They are the one great medical wonder of this age, recognized by all who know their virtues, and many thousands know them. Take the Cherry Pectoral for a Cough and the Pills for all derangements requiring a purgative medicine.

FROM CALIFORNIA.

ARRIVAL OF THE STAR OF THE WEST—FOUR DAYS LATER.

SANDY HOOK.—Wednesday evening.—The steamship "Star of the West" has arrived, bringing California dates to the 9th of April, 500 passengers, and $302,000 in specie.

The U. S. sloop-of-war Jamestown was at Key West on the 28th.

The miners generally were doing well, and the accounts from the Kern River district were as contradictory as ever.

In Sacramento City, the Municipal Election resulted in the triumph of the whole Know Nothing ticket, except one Alderman. James L. English is elected Mayor.

The scarcity of coin created much trouble in every branch of trade. The annual report of the operations of the San Francisco mint, shows a total of $7,660,000 in coin and $6,434,000 in bars.

About half the the town of Jackson had been destroyed by fire. Loss $20,000.

The bill providing for the districting of the State passed the Assembly with an amendment, which will render a special election for Congressmen necessary in December next,—and (says the Alta Californian) deprive the State of its Representatives in Congress for two or three months, as Messrs. Denver and Herbert can never get their seats.

Advices from Utah of March 1st., mention that Col. Steptoe's appointment to succeed Brigham Young causes great discontent, and petitions were in circulation praying for the reappointment of Young.

PHILADELPHIA, May 2nd.—The returns of our election yesterday are conflicting, and the result will not be known with certainty until the official returns are published. It is generally thought the reform candidates for Treasurer and Commissioner, supported by Democrats and Whigs against the Know Nothings, were elected by a majority of 150, and that the Councils will stand as follows:—

Select Council—9 Democrats, 15 Know Nothings. Common Council—39 Democrats, 38 Know Nothings. On the other hand the Whig papers elect Norton, American, for Treasurer, and slightly vary the complexion of the Councils from the above figures.

NEW YORK, May 2.—The Mayor of Jersey City last evening vetoed the prohibitory liquor law, passed by the Common Council. An attempt to-enact the ordinance over the veto was lost.

Provisions of all kinds are coming down in New York. Butter is quoted at 11 and 14 cents for old, and 24 and 28 for new.

BUY THE BEST SPRING MEDICINE.

THERE is no article now before the public that contains the medical properties of PRESTON'S CATHOLICON, and as a Spring
Blood Purifier and Appetizer,
It has no equal. The experience of thousands, and its constant manufacture since 1848, fully prove all that can be written or said in its favor. Numerous articles are offered for all diseases that flesh is heir to; many of them are worthless compounds, and put up to evade the Maine Liquor Law—consisting of poor Rum or Gin, sweetened with molasses, strongly tinctured with Sassafras and Stoughton Bitters, and thus the innocent who wish to purchase an article of Medicine of real worth, are duped by the extravagant advertisements of a worthless article and spend their money for that which is naught.
Purchase a Bottle of
PRESTON'S CATHOLICON.
And if you are not satisfied with its effects, call upon the Agent and receive your money again.
Manufactured and sold by WM. R. PRESTON, Druggist, Portsmouth, N. H., to whom orders for Agencies may be addressed. a26 3mos.

Take this along with you.—'Tis just what you want.
The Great Specific of the Age.
OXYGENATED BITTERS!
THE ONLY SURE AND SAFE REMEDY EVER DISCOVERED
For the cure of
DYSPEPSIA,
IN ALL ITS VARIOUS FORMS,

AS well as Liver Diseases, Fever and Ague, Bilious Complaints, Bronchitis, General Debility, and all diseases of a kindred nature.
Read the following testimony from Dr. Henry E. Morrell, a skillful Physician of N. Y. city. He says:—"The most effectual medicine to improve the tone and energy of the stomach is that prepared by Dr. George B. Green, of Windsor, Vt., and called the Oxygenated Bitters."
The Oxygenated Bitters do not contain a particle of alcohol in their composition, and are, of necessity, highly concentrated, to prevent the injurious action of the temperature of different climates. Each bottle, when diluted according to the directions, makes nearly half a gallon of medicine, as pleasant to the taste as lemonade; and as to quantity, quite the CHEAPEST MEDICINE.
I have employed them in a multitude of cases, and have uniformly found that, when used according to the directions, they gradually, but surely, remove, one by one, the various distressing symptoms which cluster around the confirmed Dyspeptic, restore the stomach to its lost energies, and thus lead the patient back to the enjoyment of permanent health and vigor.
It has also been used by the following persons, and received their unqualified approbation:—
Prof. A. A. Hayes, M. D., State Assayer, Boston
Prof. E. E. Phelps, M. D., of Therapeutics and Materia Medica, Dartmouth College.
Hon. Myron Lawrence, Ex-President of Massachusetts Senate.

A Most Worthy Deed.—We are informed through the politeness of Mr. Postmaster Kent, that last Saturday a gentleman of this city called upon him and paid the required postage upon all letters delayed at the office for want of pre-payment. We do not know the name of this good Samaritan, or the amount expended. That is of little consequence; it is the kind thought which prompted the act, the generous good-will to those who will probably never know of the benefit, the thoughtful benevolence towards those who are far away and strangers to himself which make this deed so beautiful. We do not know the name of this true gentleman (who has before now in three instances paid the postages on Sandwich Island letters similarly detained) nor do we regret that we cannot give it publicity. He who would do such kindly Christianities, would be best pleased to remain unknown.—New Bedford Mercury.

The inquiry has been frequently made why was not the steam fire engine brought out and used at the fire, but no one seems to be able to give a satisfactory answer. It has been stated that an injunction has been laid upon its use, on the alleged ground that Mr. Latta, the builder of it, has infringed upon the patent right of a Mr. Shawk, of Cincinnati, who threatens that he shall commence an action against the city if it is used. It has also been said that the engine has never been delivered over into the possession of the city. However that may be, the city has paid for it, as we were informed some time since by the Treasurer.—Boston Adv.

HERTS BROTHERS, having been many years engaged in the manufacture of Metalic Pens, and during that time, having devoted their unceasing attention to improving and perfecting that useful and necessary article, the result of their unceasing efforts and numerous experiments has been the construction of a Pen on a principle entirely new, combining all the advantages of the elastine and clearness of the Quill, with six times the durability of the Steel Pen; and thus entirely obviating the only objection that has hitherto existed against the use of Steel Pens.

This Pen will be found an invaluable article in Offices, as they never need wiping, also to Banks and Schools, as they will not spatter nor cut the thinest paper, and are warranted anti-corrosive.

Caution.—The universal celebrity of these Pens having induced several disreputable Makers to foist upon the public a spurious imitation, it will please to be observed that each genuine Pen is stamped, "Herts, Brothers' Patent, 1853," and each box of Genuine Pens will contain a label with a fac-simile of the Manufacturers' name.

DR. J. B. MARCHISI'S
Celebrated Catholicon,
FOR THE
RELIEF & CURE OF SUFFERING FEMALES.

It stands pre-eminent for its curative powers in all the diseases for which it is recommended, and usually called

FEMALE COMPLAINTS.

Of these are Prolapsus Uteri, or Falling of the Womb; Fluor Albus, or Whites; Chronic Inflammation of the Womb; Incontinence; Hemorrhage or Flooding; Painful, Suppressed, and Irregular Menstruation, &c., with all their accompanying evils. (Cancer excepted) no matter how severe or of how long standing.

Let all interested call and obtain a pamphlet (free) containing ample proof, from the most respectable sources, of the beneficial results of its use; together with letters from highly respected Physicians, who have used it in their practice, and speak from their own observations.

A WORD TO THE LADIES.

Should any entertain doubts as to the efficacy of the Uterine Catholicon, I would respectfully state that I have for many years past, as my friends can well attest, been troubled with the disease for which this medicine is recommended, in its worst forms, and that by its use I have been entirely cured, and thus induced to accept an agency, and offer it for the benefit of others.

MRS. S. GAIT, 38 South street, Boston.

I feel it my duty to make known to the afflicted the virtues of Marchisi's Uterine Catholicon, which has relieved me of Female Complaints of fifteen years' standing, and of so serious a nature, that latterly my physician suspected Cancer of the Womb. I suffered extremely, and at last was entirely disabled from attending to my usual pursuits.

It has given me more relief than any thing I have ever used for these difficulties. I will take pleasure in giving further details of my case to any lady who will call on me at 67 Mill street.

FOSTER'S PATENT
Deck-Reefing Gear.

By the application of this GEAR, the Topsails of any vessel may be Reefed from the deck with remarkable facility, and carry sail much longer than when rigged in any other way. This Gear can be readily applied to any old rig, and at less expense than any other now in use.

The following is an extract from a letter recently received from Capt. Pickering, of the ship Ocean Rover, of Portsmouth, concerning its merits:—

"It has given me perfect satisfaction, and I have only to regret that it is not applied to all the topsail yards. On the passage to this port, (Charleston, S. C.,) experienced strong gales from the S. W. and had occasion to use it several times, and on every occasion it worked finely."

A FORTUNE IN WAITING FOR SOME ONE. The Quincey (Ill.) Herald says a "snug little fortune" of $100,000 can be obtained by the legal heirs whenever they call for it, at least so they are informed by Daniel Stout, of Rock River, Illinois. It appears that it was left by John Stout, of South Carolina, in the war of the Revolution, to his brother, St. Leger Stout, and his sister, Nancy Stout, then of New Jersey, but subsequently of Virginia, somewhere in the neighborhood of Tygert's Valley, where they resided for years and where they died. Nancy Stout during her lifetime, married a man by the name of Hart, and St. Leger a woman named Barklow.—As these parties never made any demand for the money, it is said to be now waiting the order of their heirs, who can address Daniel Stout, Rock River, Illinois, on the subject.

Mr. Wise, whilst addressing a very large audience at Richmond, remarked in a taunting tone, that, although he had heard a great deal about the Know Nothings, he had never to his knowledge seen one. "So now" added he, "if there is any one present of that sort, I hope he will rise to his feet and let me see him;" and thereupon the whole assembly rose with the exception of seven or eight individuals. "I have seen him," said Mr. Wise doolly, and then continued his speech.

There is a paper published in Bangor, called the Journal, which is essaying to revive the old Whig party, professing to be such a very straight Whig that it cannot coalesce with the opposition elements in that State. The N. Y. Tribune says it should as soon think of seeing a paper started to revive the old Federal party of 1812, as to engage in the task in which the Bangor Journal seems to have embarked.

STILL THEY COME.—The emigration from the Ohio continues unabated. The Granite State, Castle Garden, Emma Dean, Kate Cassel, Mansfield and Tropic have arrived since Saturday noon, bringing at the lowest computation, fifteen hundred people, about one-half of whom are bound for Iowa, and the other half for Illinois, Kansas and Nebraska. The Granite State alone had not loss than five hundred passengers, and brought little else besides themselves, and their stock and plunder. The entire emigration from the Ohio this season, cannot fall short of 15,000 to 28,000 souls.—St. Louis News, 16th.

NEW YORK, May 2nd.—Letters from Key West mention that the brigantine Horatio of Thomaston, Me., was picked up at sea, abandoned and stripped of nearly all her valuables, and taken into Key West on the 22nd ult.—The arrangements of her decks, the large number of water casks on board, and the strength of her hold indicated that she had been successfully engaged in the Slave trade, and probably was cast adrift, after having landed her living cargo in Cuba.

Her name had been painted over, but was discovered from a portion of an old log book found on board. She cleared from New York on the first of November, under the command of Capt. Martin, for the coast of Africa, where she is spoken about two months after.

THE NEW HAVEN MURDER.—Richard W. Wight, the young man who was shot in New Haven, Ct., last Saturday evening, by Willard Clark, died on Tuesday morning. A post mortem examination discovered that the bullet, flattened by contact with the skull, had remained in his brain. The coroner's jury returned a verdict to the effect that he came to his death by a pistol wound in his brain, inflicted by Willard Clark.

The Scientific American cautions its readers against the use of painted pails, and says the oxide of lead, with which pails are painted, is a dangerous poison, and has been known to be productive of evil in many cases.

NEW YORK, May 2.—Miss Buckley of Nunnery celebrity, publishes a card cautioning the public against a book about to be published concerning her case, with which she has nothing to do, and charging that her manuscripts have been surreptitiously obtained and withheld from her for the purpose of getting up the work. She promises her own developements.

DROWNED.—In Kingston, Monday, 23d ult. Mr. Frederick Holt by falling out of a boat, while crossing a small stream. He was, at the time, in a state of intoxication. "Let him that standeth take heed lest he fall."—Independent Democrat.

Morning Chronicle.

SATURDAY, MAY 5, 1855.

DEATH PENALTY. — The Massachusetts House of Representatives, on Thursday, voted to abolish capital punishment. There were two reports—a majority report against changing the laws on this subject, and a minority report with a bill to abolish the death penalty.

The latter was adopted by a vote of 136 to 110.

The Advertiser says

The matter has been so often discussed in our legislative halls, and with the uniform result against the abolition, that we are surprised that the present legislature should undertake its consideration at so late a period of the session, and especially that a majority of the House should be in favor of so serious a change in a policy as old as the world, and at such brief notice supplant one of the oldest of written laws. "Whoso sheddeth man's blood, by man shall his blood be shed" is a maxim of law, which if it have not the sanction of the awful voice of the Deity to sustain it, or the authority which attaches to divine revelation, at least has the sanction and authority of antiquity;—and common prudence dictates that it should not be set aside by a know-nothing legislature in the last gasp of its existence, against the deliberate report of a committee, after a couple of hours' debate, composed of half-a-dozen speeches limited to fifteen minutes each. We trust the bill may not be hurried through at this session.

The plea of antiquity is precisely what we should expect from the Daily Advertiser, but the sneer or pun at the Know Nothing legislature is exactly what we ought not to expect from a paper so generally courteous. The Advertiser can give no reason why such an act, if passed at all, should not be done by a K. N. legislature, as by a Whig, or Democratic, or Coalition legislature.

The argument from Scripture, from Antiquity, from Moral Tendency, may surely be as well understood by clergymen, who abound in this legislature, as by lawyers and politicians.

By the way,—the present law of Massachusetts, on the death penalty, was borrowed from Maine, where there has been no hanging since the present law. It was doubtless intended to have the same effect in Massachusetts:—but a scrupulous governor of the latter State, asked the Judges what he must do. The Judges said, You must hang the rascals. And so they hang, not on the strict letter of the law, obliging the Governor to execute, but upon the judges' construction.

Nobody in Maine has ever complained of this law. But there are some complaints against another law of Maine, which no doubt prevents some murders!

THE AMERICAN PARTY IN NEW HAMPSHIRE.—The Manchester American publishes a series of resolutions which were passed by the State Council of the American party of New Hampshire at a meeting held at Concord, on the first and second days of May. The resolutions are designed to solve the doubts which exist respecting the position of the party in regard to the slavery question, and after expressing the conviction that our forefathers intended slavery to be only sectional and temporary, proceed as follows:

Resolved, That as a political party, pledged to regard and watch over the best interests of the whole Union, and to labor for its integrity and perpetuity, we solemnly protest against the repeal of the Missouri Compromise, the Kansas-Nebraska Bill, and the Fugitive Slave Law, as violations of the Constitution, and tending to disunion and the destruction of the free institutions of the country.

Resolved, That we never will, under any circumstances, consent to the admission of slavery into any portion of the territory embraced in the compact of 1820, and from which it was then excluded by the mutual agreement of both the Northern and Southern States.

Resolved, That any attempt to commit the American party of New Hampshire to the advancement of the interest of slavery, to ignore it as a political question, or to enjoin silence upon us in regard to its evils and encroachments, deserves, and shall receive, our earnest and unqualified disapprobation.

NEW YORK HOTELS.—The hotel business in New York is dull and desperate, and has been so for sometime. Two or three have recently passed into the hands of the sheriff. The leading houses—those looming up like the Metropolitan, St. Nicholas, New York Hotel, Astor, Collamore, and others — are doing a good business, though the past season has not been a money making one. "Hotel business is hard," in the general phrase. The passion for hotel life, which so feverishly affected the New Yorkers a year or two since, is over. The same story is true elsewhere as many of our Landlords can testify. Better times are ahead we trust and believe.—Boston Mail.

We hope so: The passion for combined economy and comfort, is far better than that for mingled expense and discomfort.

LEGISLATIVE DAILIES.—Daily papers will be issued from the offices of the N. H. Patriot, Statesman, and Independent Democrat, at Concord, during the coming session of the Legislature.

AN EDITOR A JUDGE.—Henry Carter, Esq., the editor of the Portland Advertiser, has been appointed Judge of the new Police Court of that city.

NO SMOKING ALLOWED IN THE STREETS. In the Police Court Thursday, one of our most prominent lawyers was brought up on a charge of smoking in the streets, and having pleaded guilty, he was fined $2 and costs.—This is the first conviction of this description that has been had for a long time past; and, like all others of a similar nature, had its origin in the use of improper language to the officer.—Boston Mail.

Thirty five years ago, the by-law against smoking was so well enforced in the town of Boston, that it was a rare sight in the streets; but the influx of Irish and Germans with their pipes, has kept genteel smoking in countenance, till it is quite common.

A tobacco smoker is supposed to have kindled the great fire in Boston a week ago.

TEMPERANCE IN THE NAVY.—Lieut. D. D. Porter, commanding the United States storeship Supply, which is going to the Eastern world after a load of camels, has made an arrangement by which his crew is to be shipped with the agreement that no grog shall be served on board. The men are to receive commutation for the liquor at the rate of sixpence a day.

Lieut. Porter is not afraid of the camels, but he wishes to keep his crew out of the way of the elephant.

BUTTER.—Now that butter is sold for the monstrous price of 40 cents a pound, some attention to economy in the use of that article seems necessary. To do without it entirely would, we suppose, be altogether beyond the present development of the virtue of self-denial; and if the article should get to be, in due course, more valuable than gold itself, we might be driven to the importation of the vegetable butter which Mungo Park told of, made in Africa of the fruit of the shea-tree, and said to be richer in taste than any butter made of cow's milk. By the way, the ancient Grecks knew nothing of the use of butter for a long time, and the early Romans employed it only as a medicine—never as food. In Ireland, once, in 1675, there was a heavy shower of butter, or at least a thick heavy dew, having all the medicinal properties of butter, was deposited on the earth. A similar shower at this time would melt every heart having a drop of the milk of human gratitude in it.—Salem Gazette of last week.

The Marshal and aid visited Andrew McGlinchy the other day, in quest of liquor, which was seen to go out of a chamber window while they were searching below.

Several places on Fore street were looked into yesterday afternoon, and several hundred gallons of ale seized. Most of this, together with a demijohn of whiskey, were found at one place.—Portland Adv.

THE LIQUOR LAW IN BANGOR.—The Mercury says that the sanctity of the Swampscot House was invaded several days since, by Marshal Weaver, in pursuit of liquors spirituous in whole or in part. The Marshal has been very busy also in making liquor searching visits in other directions.

THE LIQUOR LAW IN LAWRENCE.—The mayor of Lawrence, Mass., Albert Warren, has issued a proclamation saying that the new liquor law leaves him no discretionary power, and that the law must be executed.

NEW HAMPSHIRE.—The Democratic party of New Hampshire have concluded to pass by the recommendation of the last Democratic Convention in that state, to hold its next State Convention during the sitting of the Legislature in June, but to pospone the meeting to the fall and winter, and in the meantime to watch the principles and practices of the new party which has come into power in the state, and endeavor to find its weak side.

HAVANA.—The Havana correspondent of the Journal of Commerce, writing under date of April 25, says that Commodore McCauley does not seem to be occupied in any official investigation. The same writer also mentions the arrival at Havana, in the British barque Roebuck Castle, from Amoy, of five hundred and seventy-five Asiatic laborers—made "volnntary emigrants" from their home, and "apprentices" in Cuba, much after the fashion in which the negroes of Africa are made slaves.

JUDICIAL FEROCITY.—The most determined case we have known was that of Judge Miller at Milwaukie, in the case of Booth the Editor; the jury could not agree, but Miller would not discharge them, leaving no stone unturned to lead them to a conviction of the prisoner; at length, after being confined to their room nearly fifty-three hours, he gave them a lecture for their contumacy and dismissed them.—Mail.

DEATH OF REV. CHARLES H. HALSEY.—NEW YORK, May 3.—Yesterday, as the Rev. Charles H. Halsey, Rector of Christ Church, and one of our most exemplary and respected clergymen, was inspecting the work on the new edifice in course of erection for him, he fell through a window space to the ground, a distance of some sixty feet, and died about half an hour after.

FORTUNATE CHARTER.— The ship Great Republic has been taken up at Liverpool by the French government, for transport service at 17 shillings a month per ton. She measures 3,500 tons, so that the charter will yield nearly $15,000 a month, or $500 a day.

WASHINGTON, May 2.— S. York Attlee has been removed from the clerkship in the sixth auditor's office, Treasury department. The cause assigned for his removal is "Know Nothingism."

PHILADELPHIA, May 3rd.—The official majority of Morton, the American candidate for Treasurer, is 434.

BALTIMORE, May 3rd.—Powel, charged with stealing money in the Post-office, has been acquitted. The jury returned a verdict of "not guilty," without leaving their box.

LOCAL.

THE PROPOSED CITY BUILDINGS. — In the Board of Aldermen on Thursday evening, Ald. Rundlett offered an order, requiring that before final action was taken upon the subject of locating and erecting a new schoolhouse for the high schools, a public meeting of the citizens should be called at Jefferson Hall to consider the matter and indicate their preference in regard to the plan to be adopted. This order was supported by Ald. Rundlett and Senter, upon the ground that although the City Council had the power, the wishes of the citizens ought to be ascertained if practicable, in a matter involving so large an outlay, and govern the action of the authorities. Ald. Dearborn and Yeaton opposed it, because, as they thought, the wishes of the citizens could not be ascertained in that way, and because in the mind of Ald. Y. such a course would indicate cowardice on the part of the City Council.—N. H. Gazette.

We are informed that a petition for the Mayor and Aldermen to call such a meeting, was circulated on Friday, for signatures.—According to the city charter, fifty legal voters may cause a meeting to be called. Of course the people can do nothing, save through the City Council; but their advice will be valuable.

A NEW HIGH SCHOOL HOUSE. — The Chronicle devotes a lgrge portion of its space daily to the engrossing topic of the location of the location of the new High School House for Girls. Enough has been elicited to show that the city need not comit the supreme folly of destroying other useful buildings to accomplish this much needed object. The project of tearing down the Court House is eminently worthy of the dignified know nothings who proposed it, and we are glad that the good sense of a portion of the Aldermen nipped this silly plan in the bud. We presume the Hindoos wish to tear down our Court House in anticipation of their promised reform in the judiciary system, which accomplished, it is understood there will be no further need of law or lawyers.—Gazette.

The Gazette is respectfully informed that neither the School House, Court House, nor the location for either, is or can be made the hobby of any existing political party.

The chairman of the School House Committee, who reported the resolution to sell the Court House, and who was himself decidedly in favor of that measure, will not thank the Gazette for the complimentary titles of Know Nothing and Hindoo, as he happens to be one of the two aldermen of the democratic party.

TEACHERS' INSTITUTE, HAMPTON.—Wednesday evening.—Prof. Guyot's lecture on Alpine Scenery, and The Glaciers, was a treat to all admirers of landscape painting. The Professor was emphatically at home with his subject, and as a native of Switzerland, his enthusiastic delineation placed so vividly before his audience, an artistically colored and complete panorama of sublime and delightful scenery, as to leave but little work for the imagination, and the latter part of his subject was treated with a warmth hardly to be expected from so cold a theme. The structure and geological features of the Glaciers and the Alps, described, and seeming phenomena, scientifically and philosophically accounted for, by Prof. G.; and by the relation of anecdotes and description of some amusing modes of locomotion adopted by Alpine travellers, mingled instruction and entertainment with a happy facility.

All the teachers of the Institute blend the two in the most agreeable manner.

Thursday's exercises commenced as usual—reports read, &c. 1st lesson by Prof. W. on Drawing. 2d, of half an hour's duration, by Mr. Payson in Music. 3d, by the same gentleman, in Grammar. Concluding lesson of the morning in Arithmetic, by Mr. Houghton.

Afternoon. 1st lesson on Anatomy, by Dr. Cutter. 2d, Arithmetic, by Mr. Houghton; an exercise in Singing, and an hour's instruction in Grammar, by Mr. Payson; last lesson in Drawing, by Prof. W.

At the close of the afternoon session, resolutions were read before, and adopted by, the Institute.

BROWN'S DIOPTRIC VIEWS.—This beautiful collection of transparent paintings opens on Monday evening next, at the Temple.—Mr. Brown exhibited his views for 216 nights, in Boston, where they were exceedingly popular, having been spoken of by the entire Boston press, in the highest terms of commendation. The Russian War, Uncle Tom's Cabin, dissolving views of great beauty, including views in Europe and America, comic scenes and farces, interspersed with vocal and instrumental music, forming, says the Boston Journal, one of the most pleasing entertainments ever offered in our city. Mr. Brown remains only three nights, and offers a varied programme each evening. On Wednesday afternoon, at 3 o'clock, there will be an exhibition for schools. Our readers should visit the Dioptric Views, by all means.

PROLIFIC.—There is now living at Great Falls, N. H., a married lady who is the mother of 18 children, the oldest being but 20 years of age. She has had two pairs of twins, a boy and a girl at each birth, and at one time triplets. All the children are alive, and the prospect is good for an addition to their number.—Life Illustrated.

ORDINATION.—Rev. David Brenner, a graduate of Andover Seminary, was ordained as pastor of the Second Orthodox Congregational Church in Rockport on Wednesday. The sermon on the occasion was preached by Prof. Park.

ARE YOU SICK?

Then you can't be cured too soon. Don't delay until your complaint is incurable, and then mourn when it is too late. Four fifths of all the diseases which people the church yards might be cured by Ayer's Cathartic Pills, if taken in season. Don't go dragging through the Spring, faint, sleepy and listless, because your blood is loaded with bile. Don't wear the headache, heartburn, and their kindred disorders, because your stomach is foul. Don't parade yourself around the world, covered with Pimples, Blotches, Ulcers, Sores and all or any of the unclean diseases of the skin, because your system wants cleansing. Don't show yourself about, lean, haggard, all caved in, because your stomach and bowels need strengthening into healthy action. Ayer's Pills set these things right as surely as water quenches fire. They purify the body and blood, and restore their functions into healty activity when you can feel as quick as they are taken. They are the one great medical wonder of this age, recognized by all who know their virtues, and many thousands know them. Take the Cherry Pectoral for a Cough and the Pills for all derangements requiring a purgative medicine.

SEVEN DAYS LATER NEWS.

ARRIVAL OF THE ATLANTIC.

SANDY HOOK, May 4.—The steamship Atlantic, from Liverpool, has arrived, with dates to April 23d.

The Vienna Conference has been broken off. Russia rejects the demands of the allies.

The Emperor Napoleon and the Empress, have been a week in England, immensely glorified.

The British loan of £16,000,000 had been taken by the Rothschilds, at £100 (consols) and 14s 6d, in the shape of an annuity terminable in 30 years. Taxes increased. On Spirits, tea, coffee, sugars and stamps proposed.

Bombardment of Sevastopol, with 500 guns, commenced on the 9th and continued incessantly until the 15th. Assault was not practicable. The intention was to storm if possible.

From the seat of war we learn that during the first two days of the bombardment the fire of the allies was superior to that of the city, and much damage was done to the Russian works. It is stated that during the night of the 13th the left attack of the allies obtained a considerable advantage over the Russians. They were twice dislodged from a strongly fortified position which remained in the hands of the French. This position enables the allies to fortify the summit of the ravine, which is of great importance.

Since the siege began five of the seven admirals of the Russian fleet at Sevastopol have died or been killed.

Gortschakoff has published an address to the garrison, in which he states that matters look more encouraging to the besieged.

NEW YORK, May 3.—Consul Fabens was brought up in the U. S. Court to-day, and ordered to find bail in $10,000. His trial is set down for Monday.

Miss Bunkley, the escaped Emmetsburgh Nun, has applied to the U. S. Circuit Court for an injunction to restrain Messrs. DeWitt and Davenport, and others, from publishing a certain book, containing the particulars of her case, &c., she not having consented to the use of her manuscripts, which are withheld from her.

The steamship Ericsson, late of Caloric celebrity, went down our bay to day on a trial trip.

Edward Boyle offered to become security for Consul Fabens in the sum of $20,000, the amount required, but was refused.

Miss Bunkley's case in the U. S. Court, will be heard next week.

Benjamin W. Kimball, charged with being implicated in the Martha Washington case, was arrested and held to bail in the sum of $2500.

HARTFORD, May 3.—The Legislature this morning elected Wm. T. Minor, (American,) Governor of the State for the ensuing year. The vote was for Mr. Minor, 177. Mr. Ingham (dem.) 70. The other State officers were also elected. The Governor is delivering his message this afternoon. We have a very fine military parade here today.

The message of the Governor was delivered this afternoon. He recommends that the proposed amendment to the Constitution, extending the right of suffrage to colored persons, and requiring persons to be able to read and write before being admitted electors, should be allowed to go to the people. He also recommends an appropriation in aid of the State Agricultural Society. He says the income of the school fund for the past year has been $129,800, making a dividend of $1.25 for each scholar, and he thinks it the duty of the legislature to encourage education in every way; is in favor of giving meritorious school districts a copy of Webster's unabridged dictionary; says he should regard the modification or repeal of the liquor law, as detrimental to the best interests of the State. He also says, the effect of the law has been such as to recommend it to general favor, and that by it crime has been lessened, poverty alleviated, and the happiness of many a fireside restored.

PATTERSON, N. J., May 3rd.—The new bridge recently erected over the Passaic River above the falls fell, this morning, at the time a test of twenty tons was applied. There were about thirty persons on the structure at the time it gave way, the most of whom were precipitated into the water, two of them seriously injured, and it is feared there are yet some persons among the ruins, as some are missing. Workmen are busily engaged clearing the wreck away. This is the second suspension bridge which has peen put over the river at this point within a year.

Notice to Builders and Joiners.

THE attention of JOINERS and all engaged or interested in building is solicited to the fact that many of our finest buildings are defaced and their general appearance materially altered from the original design of the architect, by the miserably constructed, ill-contrived, and narrow contracted leaden goose-necks, or what is still worse, a skewwarje continuation of the upright conductor with which the cornice is adorned—all of which may be remedied by application to

BUY THE BEST SPRING MEDICINE.

THERE is no article now before the public that contains the medical properties of PRESTON'S CATHOLICON, and as a Spring
Blood Purifier and Appetiser,
It has no equal. The experience of thousands, and its constant manufacture since 1848, fully prove all that can be written or said in its favor. Numerous articles are offered for all diseases that flesh is heir to; many of them are worthless compounds, and put up to evade the Maine Liquor Law—consisting of poor Rum or Gin, sweetened with molasses, strongly tinctured with Sassafras and Stoughton Bitters, and thus the innocent who wish to purchase an article of Medicine of real worth, are duped by the extravagant advertisements of a worthless article and spend their money for that which is naught.
Purchase a Bottle of
PRESTON'S CATHOLICON,
And if you are not satisfied with its effects, call upon the Agent and receive your money again.
Manufactured and sold by WM. R. PRESTON, Druggist, Portsmouth, N. H., to whom orders for Agencies may be addressed. a26 3wsn.

Take this along with you.—'Tis just what you want.
The Great Specific of the Age.
OXYGENATED BITTERS!
THE ONLY SURE AND SAFE REMEDY EVER DISCOVERED
For the cure of
DYSPEPSIA,
IN ALL ITS VARIOUS FORMS,
As well as Liver Diseases, Fever and Ague, Bilious Complaints, Bronchitis, General Debility, and all diseases of a kindred nature.
Read the following testimony from Dr. Henry E. Morrell, a skillful physician of N. Y. city. He says:—"The most effectual medicine to improve the tone and energy of the stomach is that prepared by Dr. George B. Green, of Windsor, Vt., and called the Oxygenated Bitters."
The Oxygenated Bitters do not contain a particle of alcohol in their composition, and are, of necessity, highly concentrated, to prevent the injurious action of the temperature of different climates. Each bottle, when diluted according to the directions, makes nearly half a gallon of medicine, as pleasant to take as lemonade; and as to quantity, quite the CHEAPEST MEDICINE.
I have employed them in a multitude of cases, and have uniformly found that, when used according to the directions, they gradually, but surely, remove, one by one, those distressing symptoms which cluster around the confirmed Dyspeptic, restore the stomach to its lost energies, and thus lead the patient back to the enjoyment of permanent health and strength.
It has also been used by the following persons, and received their unqualified approbation:—
Prof. E. R. Phelps, M. D., of Therapeutics and Materia Medica, Dartmouth College.
Hon. L. H. Arnold, formerly Governor of Rhode Island, now member of Congress.

IMPORTANT INFORMATION TO INVENTORS. The Subscriber (late Agent of the U. S. Patent office, under the Act of 1837) determined to present advantages, in applying for Patents, superior to those offered to inventors by others, has made arrangements whereby on applications prepared and conducted by him, THIRTY DOLLARS (instead of twenty, as paid heretofore by others,) will be remitted by him in case of failure to obtain a patent, and the withdrawal through him within thirty days after the rejection. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments and all necessary papers and drawings, for procuring patents in the U. S. and foreign countries prepared, and advice rendered on legal and scientific matters respecting inventions, and infringement of patents.

R. H. EDDY,
Solicitor of Patents.

"During the time I occupied the office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, did business at the Patent office, as Solicitor of Patents. There were few, if any persons acting in that capacity, who had so much business before the Patent Office; and there were none who conducted it with more skill, fidelity, and success. I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the best informed and most skilful Patent Solicitors in the United States, and have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure for them early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.

IMPORTANT IMPROVEMENT
—IN—
Rotary Planing, Tonguing and Grooving Machines.

PATENTED NOVEMBER 21st, 1854.

My machine will plane very much faster and better than any other now in use. I would particularly call the attention of those in want of machines for sale, or for planing your thin, crooked or knotty material, to these machines, as it is impossible for them to tear or throw out loose knots.

My Clapboard Machine will plane and joint as fast as the clapboards can be put into the machine, and perform the work without sorting them so as to plane with the grain, upon any quality of clapboards, in a very superior manner, without tearing the thin edge.

Applications for rights and machines, or for further particulars, can be made to the Patentee,

HERTS BROTHERS'
PENS.
WARRANTED NOT TO CORRODE.

HERTS BROTHERS, having been many years engaged in the manufacture of Metalic Pens, and during that time, having devoted their unceasing attention to improving and perfecting that useful and necessary article, the results of their unceasing efforts and numerous experiments has been the construction of a Pen on a principle entirely new, combining all the advantages of the elasticity and clearness of the Quill, with six times the durability of the Steel Pen; and that entirely obviating the only objection that has hitherto existed against the use of Steel Pens.

This Pen will be found an invaluable article in Offices, as they never need wiping, also to Banks and Schools, as they will not spatter nor cut the thinst paper, and are warranted anti-corrosive.

CAUTION.—The universal celebrity of these Pens having induced several disreputable Makers to foist upon the public a spurious imitation, it will please to be observed that each genuine Pen is stamped, "HERTS, BROTHERS' PATENT, 1853," and each box of Genuine Pens will contain a label with a fac-simile of the Manufacturers' name.

FOSTER'S PATENT

By the application of this GEAR, the Topsails of any vessel may be Reefed from the deck with remarkable facility, and carry sail much longer than when rigged in any other way. This Gear can be readily applied to any old rig, and at less expense than any other now in use.

The following is an extract from a letter recently received from Capt. Pickering, of the ship Ocean Rover, of Portsmouth, concerning its merits:—

"It has given me perfect satisfaction, and I have only to regret that it is not applied to all the topsail yards. On the passage to this port, (Charleston, S. C.,) experienced strong gales from the S. W. and had occasion to use it several times, and on every occasion it worked finely."

AN ANCIENT HOUSE.—Visitors to Hampton Beach will remember the old "Philbrick House," standing with its gray, mossy front towards the north, about a mile and a half from Boar's Head. This house, the oldest in the State, and built long before an axe was swung or a tree felled in Hillsborough county, was demolished a few days since. It was probably not far from two hundred years old, and has been in the Philbrick family for six generations. It was a garrison house, and was a strong hold for the early settlers in the Indian wars. It was never painted, and presented a singular appearance, having never been re-modelled.

Its last occupant, Mr. Joseph Philbrick, carefully preserved for many years its ancient peculiarities—the wooden latches, the old port holes for watching the savages, the old oaken furniture made in Queen Bess' time, and above all, the old family Bible, printed in London in 1583, and which had passed thro' many perils.

In this house were also several articles brought from England by the first settlers of the town of Hampton. A gentleman in quest of antiquities visited the house shortly before it was demolished, and in examining an ancient chest of drawers, discovered a secret drawer, in which, on opening, he found a gold ring and a bunch of keys. To whom the articles belonged, or why they were thus concealed, is of course a mystery, that will never be unravelled. They were kept as choice relics by the antiquarian, who has also preserved other articles of rarity. Portions of the timbers of the house are to be made into canes as mementoes of the old structure.

THE WORLD COMING TO AN END.—Dr. Cumming, an eloquent Scotch preacher, and a popular theological writer, has published a work on the "Signs of the Times," in which, respecting the question of Time, he affiliates very closely with the views of the Millerites.

His theory is, that Christ will come in 1864—that the advent will be what is called premillennial, or, in other words, that Christ will come before the millennium, and the millennial glories will consist of Christ's personal reign on earth for a thousand years—that the Jews will be literally gathered to Jerusalem to be converted—that the Moslem power is about to expire, not by destruction of the Turks, but by conversion and absorbtion into the Church—that Popery will be destroyed by Christ's coming, and not before it. Such are a few of the leading points in his somewhat loosely expressed theory of adventism.

HEAVY DAMAGES.—W. B. Scebers, a young man of good character, had the misfortune, last summer, in Memphis, under the operation of a city ordinance, to be sentenced to the chain gang, in atonement for some trivial offence wherewith he was charged. Whilst working on the bluff, with a chain around his ancle, a heavy pile of dirt fell on him and broke his leg. Thereupon he brought suit against the city, claiming $50,000. The jury found a verdict for the plaintiff, and awarded him $25,000 damages.

MONDAY, MAY 7, 1855.

THE REPUBLICAN PARTY.

The Augusta Age, a large and very able paper of the democratic party in Maine, has an amusing and instructive article on Maine politics, which we would gladly copy in full, only that it is too long for us.

Meeting with Noah Smith, (last year, whig Speaker under Crosby's administration) we asked him if he belonged to the Republican party and if he could tell us what it was. But he boggled on the first question. 'When I am in Augusta, I rather think I do,' said he; 'but when at home, running for Congress, I think I don't!'

Mr. Torsey was questioned. He was supposed to have acquaintance with those persons that used to call themselves Morrill Democrats. We expected a direct answer from him, but he said: 'the Republican party is the one that has infused a moral element into politics!' As he had just been tricked out of an appropriation of $8000 intended for his Methodist Seminary, and the amount turned over to double the donation intended for another school whose friends had given more pulpit service to Morrill in the election, we feared to press the inquiry further, lest we might get somebody into a quarrel. We concluded that, at all events, Mr. Torsey could not mean the party represented by a majority of this legislature.

Mr. Dow lectured on temperance, a theme that it was said was interesting to Republicans; and as he stood among its advocates like Saul among the prophets, we fancied we might get from him some authoritative definition. But Mr. Dow was heard to declare that the great movement of which he was the head, would never find its culmination until the crime of selling liquor should be punished by death. Then we knew that Mr. Dow was no Republican; for the same condition of popular improvement which should hang for this offence, would abolish the ex post facto restraint, and then what would become of—a great many who lead in this Republican movement?

Tired of chasing after men, we turned again to the press. The Bangor Mercury was scanned. Its editor is a well informed man—made a speech at a temperance meeting when he was over here, and so forth. That paper denies the existence of any such thing as a Republican party. It belongs to the people. It is willing to help anybody into office that it likes, but utterly refuses to stand sponsor for the incumbent afterwards. It is bad enough to join in the election.

The Portland Advertiser, on being questioned, testified that Republicanism was a game to seduce crooked whigs and to cheat and betray straight ones. But this reply was utterly contradictory of the 'moral element' hypothesis of Mr. Torsey, and so, wanting confirmation.

The files of the Ellsworth Herald were examined. That is a journal that has recently had a most extensive and flattering testimonial of confidence from the people of Hancock county - a county which contributed a majority of nearly two thousand for Mr. Morrill in September. This journal, thought we, will surely tell us What is the Republican party? Well, this is its testimony: 'It is a mass of crooked, unsightly, powder posted timber, huddled together by log-rolling;' a 'deformed nondescript' —'an egg brought forth by the enemy'—&c.

Was ever questioner on such a wild goose chase? * * * *

If there is such a thing as the Republican party, those who think that they know it can only certify of it as the six witnesses bore testimony to the color of the chamelion. May we be allowed to suggest that they who place their faith in it will find their fruition when the followers of the South Sea bubble get their dividends. Those who lead on its enterprise will hereafter write Barnum and Burnham biographies.

We believe we are indebted to another for the suggestion that the party, if it be a party, of which we have been inquiring, finds its only similitude in history in a dream. Nebuchadnezzar had a vision of an image composed of incompatible materials, the head of which was of gold, the thighs of brass, and the feet of iron and clay. The case admits of many obvious forms of comparison, so accommodating is the idea with which we deal, —but sufficient is it for our purpose to say, that the head of gold corresponds to the greed for gain which is its leading characteristic, the spoils being its principal attraction. The thighs of brass—where could its editors and orators find a better likeness! and the feet of clay mingled with iron, well illustrates the brittle nature of its support. To follow up the story—a stone shall smite it and it shall crumble to pieces, the gold and the iron, and the clay together, for they shall not cleave the one to the other.

The dream is splendid in its imagery; and the new interpretation by the modern Daniel of the Age, is second in ingenuity only to that of the Adventists.

In writing down his prophecy of the Republican party, the editor of the Age has unconsciously written in brief, the history of all the older parties in our country. They were each made on some principle; they did their work, had their day, outlived their distinctive principles, and then crumbled in pieces,—to be succeeded by fresher, better parties, which in their turn will pass away for like reasons.

The Republican party in Maine is not an exception to this general rule. The Age, in its good humored caricature, shows conclusively, that the Republican party is not a one idea concern,—but that each great man in it has his own idea of it. Some think it based on temperance; some on liberty; some on the American principle. A union, or coalition, or fusion, of such men, made the party and gave it power. We have no idea that it is spotless or free from follies or faults,—nor that it will be perpetual! There must always be parties, but they will be always changing with changing circumstances.

If the present ruling party in Maine rules well, promoting temperance, resisting slavery, and maintaining liberty of conscience, we hope it will rule long;—but if not, we hope it will be defeated this year, and destroyed the next.

THE "OLD FOLKS" are awake, all about the country. In Newburyport, on May Day evening, a choir of one hundred and fifty singers and players gave fifteen hundred hearers a good taste of the ancient psalmody. The occasion was a Fair in aid of the Old Ladies' Society—and the Herald says was "the most pleasant, most profitable, and most brilliant affair of the kind ever had in the city." The singers had mostly reached the age of threescore and ten. Mr. Geo. W. Hale was leader; and some of the hymns were "deaconed" by Joshua Coffin, Esq. The Herald gives the names of some of the most venerable of the gentlemen; and says, "we might name some of the old ladies, but as they never grow old—that is, never go beyond a reasonable age—their names are omitted." "A. L.'s" beautiful Song of the Old Folks was sung, and gave keen delight to all, especially the performers. The Herald says, "We know not what may be the effect [of the singing] at their time of life; but when we left the hall, we began to think that some of them were about to be translated." Splendid Tableaux by the young folks were interspersed in the performances.

An Old Folks' Concert was also given at Great Falls on Tuesday evening last, under the direction of Mr. Wm. W. Nason. The choir comprised sixty performers. A friend has sent us the programme, with the remark that it was a medley of the old and the new—some of the latter being peculiarly inappropriate. "Watchman, tell us of the night," "Arrayed in clouds," a modern Scotch song, &c., are all very good, "each in its proper station;" but don't seem so appropriate here as the Song of the Old Folks, above mentioned—which was given a place in full in the programme, next the closing Old Hundred. No Old Folks' Concert is complete now without that incomparable Song.—The Organ was also used throughout the concert, with an orchestra—each part being opened with a voluntary.

By a notice in the Gloucester, Mass., Telegraph, we perceive that a concert of the ancient sacred music was to be given in that place on Sunday evening the 6th inst.

TEACHERS' INSTITUTE, HAMPTON.—The first lecture, on Thursday evening, was by Dr. Cutter, on the Structure of the Human Form—clear—concise—forcible—practical;—at its close, he gave some suggestions relative to the preservation of health. Prof. Guyot lectured on Physical Geography. Dr. Cutter's lecture might with propriety be said to be on Geographical Physiology. This lecture was followed, after an intermission of a few minutes, by one of a different character, from Prof. Whitaker,—Subject—Culture of the Beautiful, Graceful, Pleasing,—and abounding in religious and practical sentiment.

Institute opened Friday morning, with reading, singing and prayer. 1st lesson, in Arithmetic, by Mr. Houghton. Next by Mr. Payson, in Grammar. 3d, by Prof. Whitaker, in Perspective. Last, by Dr. Cutter, on the Vocal Organs.

Afternoon,—1st lesson—Arithmetic—by Mr. Houghton. 2d—Physiology—by Dr. Cutter. 3d—Drawing—Prof. Whitaker, instructor. Final lesson, in Grammar, by Mr. Payson, closed the afternoon session.

The first lecture on Friday evening was by Mr. Lamprey, Principal of Hampton Academy, on Common Schools—sound, vigorous views, energetically delivered. The second, by Mr. Houghton, on the Marine Currents.

After the lectures, a vote of thanks for attentions, &c. were tendered by the officers and members of the Institute to the citizens of Hampton, which were responded to by one of the citizens.

Singing, under the direction of Mr. Payson. Final lesson, in Drawing, by Prof. Whittaker. The latter gentleman made a few remarks to the class, relative to the objects of Teachers' Institutes, after which all joined in singing Old Hundred.

This session of the Institute was then closed with Prayer, by Rev. J. C. Fletcher.

MARINE DISASTER.—The Atlantic brings news that the new ship Sierra Navada, belonging to Messrs. Glidden & Williams of Boston, in attempting to enter the Wellington Dock at Liverpool, grounded on the sill and broke her back. She still remains in the same position, with the tide flowing into and ebbing from her. She was loaded with guano from Chincha Islands via Hampton Roads. The Sierra Navada is 1942 tons burden, and was built less than a year ago by Messrs. Tobey & Littlefield of this city.

SCHOOL HOUSE LOT.

Messrs. Editors:—It seems to be settled that the Court House shall remain on its present lot: but the propriety of removing it to the western side of the lot, and building a school house on the eastern side, is not yet deterimed upon.

I, for one, hope such an arrangement will not be made. Is it absolutely necessary that all our public buildings of importance should be located within a stone's throw of Market Square? Would it be injurious the health of the children attending our High Scools, should some of them be obliged to walk a little farther than they now do?

The best location in the city, for a School House, is the site of the Catholic Church, which can probably be bought at a reasonable price; the lot in the rear can also be obtained—thus giving ample room for the school house and all necessary play grounds and out buildings. The access to this spot is through our pleasantest and best paved streets; the ground is high and dry; streets are on three sides; there is nothing in the neighborhood to render the air in the slightest degree disagreeable. It is nearer the geographical centre of the town than any other lot that has been proposed; and in the course of a few years, judging from the present tendency of things, it will be about the centre of population.—Before long, a bridge must be built across the North Mill Pond, to accommodate the residents of Christian Shore; and a new road from some point in Pleasant street to Auburn, and thence to Middle street, will soon be demanded; when these avenues are laid out, the lot proposed would be still more accessible to the extreme parts of the town than it now is The Church can be altered so as to accommodate the schools, or at least be made available towards another building, as the frame is large and new.

Next to the lot above named, the stable lot, extending from State to Court street, is most desirable; the School House can be placed back from each street a few feet, and the boys and girls can have separate streets, and by means of a high brick wall, all communication between them can be as effectually prevented as if they had school houses a mile apart.

It is understood that it will cost $1000 to remove the Court House to the western side of its lot; this sum, added to what can be obtained from citizens interested in the matter, would purchase the stable lot.

When the late F. W. Fernald, Esq. erected his beautiful dwelling house on Court street, he did so, with the expectation that the Court House lot would always remain as open as it now is, and thus allow him a view of the pond and the green fields beyond. This closing of the view would seriously depreciate the value of his estate.

Again, it is well understood that one of our most valuable citizens, residing in the neighborhood of the Court House, whose property would be injured by the carrying out of the proposition to erect a school house by the side of the court house, would dispose of his property here, should such a scheme be determined on.

Let us have some regard to the property of others, and let us spare one of the few green spots that are left in the heart of the city.

X. Y. Z.

REPRESENTATIVE FROM WARD 2.—It is well known that a vacancy now exists in our representation, occasioned by the decease of a Representative elect.

Our Constitution provides for such a case, Part II. Sec. 16.

All intermediate vacancies in the House of Representatives may be filled up from time to time, in the same manner as annual elections are made.

This clause makes a special election necessary:—and the fact that our Legislature meets on the 6th of June, renders it needful to give notice of the election almost immediately.

Should the Selectmen of Ward No. 2 decide to call a town meeting for the above purpose, the vacancy in the Common Council will also be filled at the same time, as an order to that effect passed the board at its last meeting.

FRESH FISH.—For the past year or two, there has been great grumbling among the lovers of good cod fish, that, from some cause, their finships had taken French leave of our river and harbor; and on the part of the fishermen a disposition to complain to the City Government against nuisances, such as the Gas works,—the latter, in their opinion, being one of the causes of disgust in the finny tribe. But we are happy to learn that our friends—Cod and Cunner, Haddock and Halibut, have returned in great numbers to our waters, and we have never seen them in a better condition: as frolicksome as ever on our market tables, ready for anything from a fry to a chowder. Two cents a pound only for fine codfish; a dinner for ten cents. This is the best feature of these dollar-and-a-half-a-bushel,—fifty-cents-a-pound,—fifteen-dollars-a-barrel times. No one need to go without a good dinner, while friend Randall stands ready to serve him with "fine fresh cod, haddock and halibut," from three cents to thirty for enough for a family of ten.

PIERCE'S ETHIOPIAN MINSTRELS gave two entertainments, excellent of the kind, at the Temple in this city, on Friday and Saturday evenings. The singing and playing were good—some of it extra, the comicalities really laughable, and the dancing not to be beat. The whole was perfectly chaste, and gave much satisfaction to the highly respectable audiences.

"BROWN'S DIOPTRIC VIEWS."—Remember this recherche entertainment opens at the Temple this evening, and the programme presents unusually varied attractions,—something to please all. Only three nights, and Wednesday afternoon.

ARE YOU SICK?

Then you can't be cured too soon. Don't delay until your complaint is incurable, and then mourn when it is too late. Four fifths of all the diseases which people the church yards might be cured by Ayer's Cathartic Pills, if taken in season. Don't go dragging through the Spring, faint, sleepy and listless, because your blood is loaded with bile. Don't wear the headache, heartburn, and their kindred disorders, because your stomach is foul. Don't parade yourself around the world, covered with Pimples, Blotches, Ulcers, Sores and all or any of the unclean diseases of the skin, because your system wants cleansing. Don't show yourself about, lean, haggard, all caved in, because your stomach and bowels need strengthening into healthy action. Ayer's Pills set these things right as surely as water quenches fire. They purify the body and blood, and restore their functions into healty activity which you can feel as quick as they are taken. They are the one great medical wonder of this age, recognized by all who know their virtues, and many thousands know them. Take the Cherry Pectoral for a Cough and the Pills for all derangements requiring a purgative medicine.

New York, May 4th.— A Washington despatch says "a distinguished Virginian now in Washington states, the President can decide the Virginia election in favor of Mr. Wise by removing Gov. Reeder and appointing Judge Loring of Mass. in his place. He is urging the Administration to pursue that course.

It is stated that Gov. Reeder will resign his office, unless President Pierce agrees to sustain him against invading hordes from Missouri."

The Booth Case.—Washington, May 4th.—In the case of the U. S. vs. Booth of Wisconsin, for violation of the fugitive slave law, a writ of error was obtained, returnable to the Supreme Court of the U. States, for the purpose of determining the question of the limits of the jurisdiction between the Courts of the States and those of the United States.

Washington, May 4th.—Judge Lumpkin peremptorily declines the Judgeship in the Court of Claims.

Josiah F. Polk, a relative of the late President, has been removed from a clerkship in the Treasury Department, because of his anti-Catholic proclivities. He had seen "Sam."

England.—A writer in the last number of "Household Words" says—"When I hear people talking about the decline of England, I generally go for a day or two to Portsmouth. It is so pleasant to see the fleet of a third rate power big and heavy-metalled enough to hold its own against all other navies whatsoever, and to feel that though sunk, it is into insignificance of a very peculiar kind—consisting of a hundred sail at Spithead, mounting upwards of two thousand guns. So sinks a great Lord into poverty, when his creditors make him an allowance of a hundred thousand a year; so sinks Lucullus into fasting and abstinence, when his table is reduced to four courses and a dessert."

The Maine Law.—If we can judge from the proclamations of the mayors of the cities in Maine, the new liquor law recently enacted by the Legislature of that State will at least have a fair trial, so far as they are concerned. The mayor of Bath, following the example of the mayor of Augusta, has issued directions to the city marshal to show no partiality or favor in its execution to one class of offenders above another, but to let its severity be felt by all—the places of fashionable resort, as well as humble shantees, where cheap poison is despensed from barrel head counters.—Abate not its force, but let it have a literal execution. The city marshal pledges himself to obey the instructions.

Hiss.—A meeting of the new Hiss committee, was held on Friday, P. M., in the State House, Boston, which was attended by Mrs. Gerry of Stoneham, who has been reported to be the Mrs. Patterson. She testified to having been introduced to Mr. Hiss in the gallery of the House of Representatives; but Mrs. Carpenter, the Lowell chambermaid, who was also summoned, testified that she was not the woman who spent the night of March 29 at the Washington House in Lowell.

There is much distress in Emanuel county, Georgia. Thirty five persons are indicted for murder, and the landlady of the principal hotel in Swainesborough advised Judge Holt to adjourn the court, as there was no water in the town to cook food.—Exchange paper.

We would recommend a change in the name of the county, and the commitment of those indicted, to well digging, for a term proportionate to the amount of water wanted. —Great Falls Journal.

Not a drunken man has been seen in this city during this week as far as we can learn, save and excepting some military gentlemen whose devious path indicated a serpentine course. They might have been tired, though. —Portland Journal.

Notice to Builders and Joiners.

THE attention of JOINERS and all engaged or interested in building is solicited to the fact that many of our finest buildings are defaced and their general appearance materially altered from the original design of the architect, by the miserably constructed, ill-contrived, and narrow contracted leaden goose-necks, or what is still worse, a direct wanton continuation of the upright conductor with which the cornice is adorned—all of which may be remedied by application to
J. E. CHAPMAN,
PRACTICAL TIN PLATE WORKER,
who will give his personal attention to the adjustment of all such defects. Specimens of Ornamental Goose-necks and Conductor Caps, on the most approved plan of modern architecture may be seen at his Tin Ware Factory, where he manufactures to order

BUY THE BEST PRESTON MEDICINE.

THERE is no article now before the public that contains the medical properties of PRESTON'S CATHOLICON, and as a Spring
Blood Purifier and Appetiser,
It has no equal. The experience of thousands, and its constant manufacture since 1848, fully prove all that can be written or said in its favor. Numerous articles are offered for all diseases that flesh is heir to; many of them are worthless compounds, and put up to evade the Maine Liquor Law—consisting of poor Rum or Gin, sweetened with molasses, strongly tinctured with Sassafras and Stoughton Bitters, and thus the innocent who wish to purchase an article of Medicine of real worth, are duped by the extravagant advertisements of a worthless article and spend their money for that which is naught.
Purchase a Bottle of
PRESTON'S CATHOLICON,
And if you are not satisfied with its effects, call upon the Agent and receive your money again.
Manufactured and sold by WM. R. PRESTON, Druggist, Portsmouth, N. H., to whom orders for Agencies may be addressed. a26 3w12

This is no exaggeration—it has been fully tested by responsible individuals in this city, who have been severely afflicted and they have been thoroughly cured.

Take this along with you.—'Tis just what you want.
The Great Specific of the Age.
OXYGENATED BITTERS!
THE ONLY SURE AND SAFE REMEDY EVER DISCOVERED
For the cure of
DYSPEPSIA,
IN ALL ITS VARIOUS FORMS,
AS well as Liver Diseases, Fever and Ague, Bilious Complaints, Bronchitis, General Debility, and all diseases of a kindred nature.
Read the following testimony from Dr. Henry E. Morrell, a skillful physician of N. Y. city. He says:—"The most effectual medicine to improve the tone and energy of the stomach is that prepared by Dr. George B. Green, of Windsor, Vt., and called the Oxygenated Bitters."
The Oxygenated Bitters do not contain a particle of alcohol in their composition, and are, of necessity, highly concentrated, to prevent the injurious action of the temperature of different climates. Each bottle, when diluted according to the directions, makes nearly half a gallon of medicine, as pleasant to the taste as lemonade; and as to quantity, quite the cheapest medicine.
I have employed them in a multitude of cases, and have uniformly found that, when used according to the directions, they operate gradually, but surely, remove, one by one, the various distressing symptoms which cluster around the confirmed Dyspeptic, restore the stomach to its lost energies, and thus lead the patient back to the enjoyment of permanent health and strength.
It has also been used by the following persons, and received their unqualified approbation:—
Prof. A. A. Hayes, M. D., State Assayer, Boston
Prof. E. K. Phelps, M. D., of Therapeutics and Materia Medica, Dartmouth College.
Hon. Myron Lawrence, Ex-President of Massachusetts Senate.
Hon. L. H. Arnold, formerly Governor of Rhode Island, now member of Congress.

—IN—
Rotary Planing, Tonguing and Grooving Machines.

PATENTED NOVEMBER 21ST, 1854.

THIS Improvement has been thoroughly tested and found to possess just what is necessary to perfect the rotary planer.

My machine will plane very much faster and better than any other now in use. I would particularly call the attention of those in want of machines for nice work, or for planing very thin, cross-grained or knotty material, to these machines, as it is impossible for them to tear or throw out loose knots.

My Clapboard Machine will plane and joint as fast as the clapboards can be put into the machine, and perform the work without sorting them so as to plane with the grain, upon any quality of clap boards, in a very superior manner, without tearing the thin edge.

Applications for rights and machines, or for further particulars, can be made to the Patentee,
JAMES A. WOODBURY.

The following is an extract from a letter recently received from Capt. Pickering, of the ship Ocean Rover, of Portsmouth, concerning its merits:—

"It has given me perfect satisfaction, and I have only to regret that it is not applied to all the topsail yards. On the passage to this port, (Charleston, S. C.,) I experienced strong gales from the S. W. and had occasion to use it several times, and on every occasion it worked finely."

BEAUTIES OF MORMONISM.—In a late Address or Sermon, Brigham Young, after speaking against some new comers, says:

Such characters may cry aliens, aliens; the Mormons are all hostile to the government, —and they may cry it until they are in hell.

Corrupt men cannot walk these streets with impunity, and if that is alienism to the government, amen to it. The constitution of the United States we sustain all the day long, and it will sustain and shield us, while the men who say we are aliens, and cry out, Mormon disturbance, will go to hell. There have been officers here who were not fit to live in our midst, and they ran home and raised the cry of Mormon disturbances, Mormon rebellion, Mormon war, and treasoners; but their day is over.

When a man professes to be my friend, and the friend of this people, he will take my counsel, instead of stirring up strife, and practising iniquity. I dislike the willfully corrupt, and by and by I will come out thunder-like, as I have done upon others when practising iniquity; and as I did upon a certain individual when he made his glorious speech, and insulted this people from the highest to the lowest. I chastised him, and he ran off and reported things which I did not say. It was told him, while he was on the plains, that President Zachary Taylor was dead and dammed, and it has gone through the states, from side to side, that I said so. It was first given out that the Mormons said so, and then that Brigham said so; well, I backed it up, because I knew it was true. I have just as good a right to say that President Taylor is in hell, as to say that any other miserable sinner is there. Was he more than flesh and blood? I have as good a right to canvass him, in a religious point of view, as I have to canvass the peasant upon his dung-hill. He has gone there, and so have many others; and the Lord Almighty is removing the bitter branches, as foretold in the Book of Mormon.

DINING OUT IN BOLIVIA.—At the dinner table, a young family of fourteen were seated, full of life and gayety. Our place was next the lady of the house, who presided. She was very intelligent, and had greater advantages of education than most of her countrywomen. She seemed particularly fond of the United States—asking many questions—expressing her admiration of the people, but disapproving of some of their actions. She thought the country too warlike; and although we had conceived our answers satisfied her, with regard to Texas and California—of which she had very incorrect ideas—she asked me to explain to her the meaning of all the articles she saw published in the newspapers of La Paz, upon the subject of Cuba. Turning suddenly, she looked up and said; "What are you doing here, Senor Gibbon; do you want Bolivia, also?" After setting forth the advantages of trade through the rivers of Bolivia and the difficulties the people of her country now labored under to avail themselves of foreign commerce, she approved of the enterprise, and expressed herself friendly to it; but concluded by saying—"I believe the North Americans will some day govern the whole of South America!

Our conversation was disturbed by the entrance of an Indian servent girl, with her mistress' youngest child, which was seated between us. The Indians teach the children their own language. The habits of using the most easily pronounced words in Aymara and Spanish has produced a very curious mixture. The Aymara for baby, is "wawa." A gentleman seated opposite inquired, if I was fond of them. Never having heard the word "wawa" before, and believing he said "guavas"—a fruit upon the table—he was answered in the affirmative, with the addition, that they "were much better perserved, then when eaten raw." This brought forth a shout of laughter.

The daughter of the lady, with tears in her eyes from merriment, inquired if I had ever eaten one? Being told that I had devoured hundreds, and would take one now, if she would be so kind as to give it to me, the Indian girl seized the wawa, amidst continued roars of laughter.

'I'm blowed if I know.'

'Are you a Catholic?' said the examiner.

'Oh, no,' was the response, 'I am sure I'm not that, for I hate the Pope like blazes, and I delight in steaks on a Friday.' (Roars of laughter.) The judges declared he was a Protestant.

Morning Chronicle.

TUESDAY, MAY 8, 1855.

RAILROAD MEETING.

The Annual Meeting of the Great Falls & South Berwick Branch Railroad, was held on Monday morning, at Central Hall in South Berwick.

The Report of the Directors exhibited the Road in actual operation, but in an unfinished state, needing more depot accommodation. It is run in connexion with the Great Falls & Conway Railroad. Trains commenced running February 4th, with arrangement for one year. The business, both in travel and freight, was represented as encouraging, and at least equal to expectation.

The Report was read, accepted, and ordered to be placed on file.

The Officers were then elected:

Clerk, John Plumer.

Directors, D. G. Rollins, I. G. Jordan, M. C. Burleigh, John N. Goodwin, Richard Jenness, W. H. Y. Hackett, B. Barker.

Auditors—I. Goodwin, T. F. Jewett.

Richard Jenness, Esq., one of the Directors, then made some statements, of the obstacles which had stood in the way of this road, and the cost and trouble by which they had been been overcome; of the value and importance of the road to the people on the line, and in Portsmouth; and of the means whereby the road can be made more actively and efficiently useful and profitable. He urged the importance of an Independent Railroad from Brock's Crossing into Portsmouth, the union of this road with the Great Falls & Conway, and of the junction of the Great Falls & Conway with the Cochecho Road at Rochester.

Messrs. Goodwin and Hackett also spoke on the same subject.

This debate resulted in the passage of a Resolution, by which Messrs. R. Jenness, T. F. Jewett, and Jona. Goodwin, were appointed a Committee to enquire whether any legislation is needful, to empower this company to build a road into Portsmouth, and if so to apply to the Legislature of Maine for that purpose, or to make other arrangements to facilitate the business over the road.

Another resolution was also passed, recommending a junction of the Conway and Cochecho Roads, at Rochester, as beneficial to both roads, and as a public convenience of which the citizens of the two States ought to avail themselves.

We are gratified to see this avenue of intercourse with the interior, opened at last, in spite of delay and difficulty—and we do not doubt its progress, with increased power, and ultimate prosperity.

WAGES.—In New York a gentleman recently applied at the office of the Commissioner of Emigration for twenty stout girls, promising to give them good and steady employment at fair wages. A satisfactory selection from those supported by the Commissioners was made. In reply to the demand what wages he intended paying, the gentleman stated that they should all have comfortable homes, and receive four dollars a month each. The offer was refused by every soul of them, six dollars being in their opinion the value of their services, which if they could not obtain, they preferred living a life of idleness at the expense of the city. They were promptly dismissed with the assurance that henceforth no aid would be extended to them. This altered the complexion of affairs, and they were ready to accept the four dollars—but it was too late, and they left with the impression that this was anything but a free country.

The most independent way to live, is for American wives and daughters to wait upon themselves, and do the housework up nicely. Then, when, as it sometimes happens, they must have help, it might be by intelligent female helpers, as intelligent as themselves. But if American women choose to ape foreign ladies, and have servants, then they must generally have foreign servants too, who will serve them, in many cases, with ignorance and servility, falsehood and filth. This is not universal; we have seen and had some excellent exceptions. But it is too generally true.

MONTHLIES FOR MAY.—Felerhen & Co. of Boston, send us, via J. P. Morse of this city—

Graham's American Monthly: frontispiece, Paul Ernstein's Game; second picture, lady with a Nine Flounced Red Dress; and another with a Fifteen Striped Skirt, supposed, if we could see all round, to contain thirty stripes, for the new American flag. $5 per annum.

Household Words, for May, published by Dix & Edwards, 10 Park Place, New York. The neatness and promptness with which this American reprint of Dickens' popular journal is issued, commend it to the regards of the American public. Messrs. Dix & Edwards are the new publishers of Putnam's Monthly.

Peterson's Ladies' National Magazine.
Godey's Ladies' Book.
Putnam's Monthly.
Harper's New Monthly.

The four latter works, have all been previously noticed in the Chronicle.

THE SCHOOL HOUSE.

Messrs. Publishers:—Permit me, among the many others who have made suggestions through the columns of your paper, respecting the locality of the new School House, which is to be built to accommodate the scholars of the two high schools in this city, to present my views upon the subject.

It seems to be the opinion of a great many of the tax payers of this city, that the building of a School House should be dispensed with the present year, as they are not earning enough to meet their expenses, owing to the unprecedented high prices of all the necessaries of life. In their opinion the present rooms will answer as well as they have for the last ten or twelve years, and they do not wish to be burdened with more taxes.

But if a new house is to be built, economy as well as convenience, should be considered; and it appears to me that to move the Court House on the west side of the lot where it now stands, and to build the new house in the centre of the lot, would be miserable economy. The cost of removing the Court House would make it a costly lot, and would not remove the objection which is now urged against having the female high school in so close proximity to the Court House, to say nothing about its spoiling the lot if the city ever should want to build a large building for a City Hall, &c.

I hope and trust that the members of the Common Council will take time, consider the matter well, and look out for the best locality, before they pass the resolutions sent to them by the Board of Aldermen, on Thursday evening last; for it appears to me that the committee who reported on the subject, acted hastily in the premises. According to their report, they only enquired about or examined, one place besides the lot they reported to build upon.

I have been informed that the Academy building can be purchased for a reasonable sum. If this is the case, a slight alteration of the interior would make the building suitable for the pupils of the two high schools. There is no place in the city so eligible, central, and so well adapted to this purpose. It is the opinion of many tax payers that it would give general satisfaction for the city to purchase the building, as it would be the most economical plan in every point of view.

The cost of removing the Court House and the building of a new house, will not fall far short of $17,000; when if the Academy building can be purchased for about $6,000, with an outlay on the interior of about 2000 more, the city will have a good substantial building that will answer its purposes for a long term of years, and that is located in the very centre of the city, at less than half the expense of building on the Court House lot. By partitioning the room now occupied by the pupils of the female high school, the southern part of it will answer for the primary school now kept in one of the rooms in the Temple, for which the city is now paying rent, and thereby save expense; and the northern room will make a good place for the storage of property belonging to the city, which is very much needed.

A. J.

☞ The above thoughts are entitled to consideration. It seems to us that there is no need of destroying the Court House at all; nor is there any need of having public buildings crowded together so as to destroy all the beauty of architectural effect.

Land, unoccupied, is not so scarce and dear that we cannot get it, in proper places. If the Academy or the Catholic Church lot, or the stable lot, cannot be had at a reasonable price,—there is a fine piece of ground in Middle street, at the end of Cabot street, which can be had, and is one of the best locations in town. There are others on Wibird's Hill.

One word as to the expense, the hard times and the high prices, alluded to by several writers. It is not to be supposed that the whole expense of a large School House will be put into one year's taxes, and that year 1855. It should rather be put, as it will be, into 20 or 40 years. The new school house is not to be a shanty, to be taken down next year, but a good building, which will stand, fires excepted, half a century or a whole one, as the case may be.

Build it in the centre of a good large lot, and its chances of standing a hundred years will be greatly increased.

For the Chronicle.

Messrs. Editors: I do not approve of the plan proposed, and somewhat seriously talked of, to move the Court House to the west side of the lot it now stands on, and close up the balance of the lot by erecting a building on the east side. I hope it may never be adopted, as it would close up the only direct way to and across the south millpond. By opening a street direct from Court street across the pond, the city not only secures six acres of good building ground offered by John Elwyn, Esq., as a gift; but also opens to the public an avenue to the best building lots in or about the city. Besides this, the pond itself may be made into dry land in two weeks, by filling it as proposed by C sometime since.—I would much rather defer building any school-house this year, than to close up such advantages as are here offered to the city, by draining the pond as soon as it can be done at a reasonable price, and keeping open such privileges for future enlargement and public advantage.

C.

☞ The present city government, we doubt not, will build a good schoolhouse this year—and begin it as soon as the question of location is settled. No time has been lost on this question, as yet; and its thorough discussion can do no harm.

Our wooden court house and school room have cost about $10,000, as we are told by a past selectman. If we move the building at all, it must cost $1000, and probably $1500. "Better let it be," as a monument of economy, in erecting a poor, cheap building on a fine lot.

And now let us search till we find a lot, large enough and dry enough—there erect a good large school-house, with substantial brick walls and slated roof, so heavy as not to be hauled away in ten years.

☞ A Well Wisher to the Schools, who is well posted up on buildings and finances, would respectfully advise the city government to purchase a good lot, of ample size, high and dry; and thereon to erect a good plain building of brick, for a girls' high school only,—leaving an open space on every side, for air, light, and pleasant view.

☞ Rev. Isaac Adrian, an Advent preacher, lectured on Sunday evening in the Temple, to a large audience. His subject was, the Prophecies in the 11th chapter of Daniel, and the History connected therewith. Aside from the peculiar views of the lecturer, and those of his sect, the lecture was an interesting and instructive performance, above the ordinary level of lyceum lectures, and giving to the hearer a connected series or chain of Historical events, in the order of time, from Daniel's down to our own.

The Temple.—"Brown's Dioptric Views,"—a rare and justly celebrated Exhibition, opened last evening. Every one who is fond of the beautiful, in nature and art, and desires to hear pleasing music, in short who wishes to pass a pleasant evening, should visit the Temple during the time Mr. B. can remain,—(only two more nights.)

On Wednesday afternoon there is to be an exhibition for the Schools and Families—on which occasion children only will be admitted for 5 cts. You may visit the Seat of War, witness Uncle Tom's Cabin, feast your eyes on scenes of surpassing loveliness and beauty (many of the changes are truly magnificent,) listen to good vocal and instrumental music, and laugh to your heart's content, go say we and enjoy one of the most unexceptionable entertainments we ever saw.

PRESTON'S MEDICINES.—Wm. R. Preston, the well know chemist, druggist and apothecary, of this city, has just fitted up a handsome two-horse carriage, to supply customers abroad with his Medicinal and other preparations, etc. The painting is from the establishment of Messrs. Swasey & Rowell, and is very fine; the trimming from Mr. Larrabee's excellent saddlery establishment. The driver is Mr. D. L. Stover, and those who are in want of any thing in his line, will find him prompt to supply from the full stock he carries. Dr. Preston manufactures about forty different preparations—among which his Catholicon occupies a chief place; and always keeps a large assortment of the manufactures of everybody else in his line, native and foreign—all of the first quality and done up in the best style. His team is to start out this morning, with the motto inscribed on its shield, "I come to bring you joy and health!"

☞ A correspondent who is sometimes inconvenienced by a straight street's having two or three different names, dividing it into as many imaginary sections,—wishes to have the name of Islington changed to Congress, on the street from the Academy up, at least, if not the name of Daniel street also changed to Congress—so that this name shall continue from the river to Greenland. It certainly tends to confusion to have streets named in this way; and we think the change of Islington (sometimes pronounced Islington) to Congress would be an improvement—but we should prefer for Daniel street to retain its present name.—Our friend can try his plan by circulating a petition to the Aldermen, to the above effect, for the signatures of dwellers on Islington street.

DEATHS.—The record of mortality in Portsmouth, for the month of April, is thus reported by Mr. Robert Bell:

Males nine—aged 1 year, 2 years, 10, 17, 46, 50, 54, 56, 57.

FOURTH OF JULY.—A correspondent wishes us to bring the matter of celebrating the seventy-ninth anniversary of the day on which the United States were declared to be independent, before our citizens. He says we might have a fine Floral Procession in the morning, and a social collation for everybody in a large tent, at small cost—ample funds for which could easily be raised by subscription. Our city fathers having made no appropriations as yet, of course nobody knows whether the City is to help celebrate the Fourth, or not. We should like to see a grand floral display, whatever amount of patriotism and gunpowder is expended in other ways. If we wish to excel all former displays in this line, it is not too early to begin to make preparations. Who will move in the matter?

THE VEGETABLE PULMONARY BALSAM has become the most popular medicine ever put forth, for the cure of Coughs, Colds and Consumption. That it is worthy of its high reputation is made sufficiently evident by the immensity of its annual sales.—Messrs. Reed, Cutler & Co. are above quackery, depending alone upon the intrinsic virtues of their medicinal preparations for their disposal.—Humbug is so plentiful that it gives us real pleasure to offer this trifling and gratuitous tribute of our recommendation to a Medicine we know to be of real merit.—Vermont Burlington Sentinel.

Would you have Health?

USE LAWRENCE'S VEGETABLE PHYSICAL JAUNDICE BITTERS; and Cure your Cough with his PECTORAL. a12 1jl

ARE YOU SICK?

Then you can't be cured too soon. Don't delay until your complaint is incurable, and then mourn when it is too late. Four fifths of all the diseases which people the church yards might be cured by Ayer's Cathartic Pills, if taken in season. Don't go dragging through the Spring, faint, sleepy and listless, because your blood is loaded with bile. Don't wear the headache, heartburn, and their kindred disorders, because your stomach is foul. Don't parade yourself around the world, covered with Pimples, Blotches, Ulcers, Sores and all or any of the unclean diseases of the skin, because your system wants cleansing. Don't show yourself about, lean, haggard, all eaved in, because your stomach and bowels need strengthening into healthy action. Ayer's Pills set these things right as surely as water quenches fire. They purify the body and blood, and restore their functions into healty activity which you can feel as quick as they are taken. They are the one great medical wonder of this age, recognized by all who know their virtues, and many thousands know them. Take the Cherry Pectoral for a Cough and the Pills for all derangements requiring a purgative medicine.

HAVANA, April 28th.—The U. S. steam frigate Princeton, Commander Engle, got to sea this morning, and went out of port nicely. There had been some sickness aboard, but of very light character, and all the cases were reported convalescent. Nothing malignant.

It is said that the "San Jacinto" will remain here until she is relevied, when the Commodore gets weary of our amusements, in which however he does not participate much. A magnificent dinner was given in dompliment to Commodore McCauley by General Concha, where were invited some of the principal State officers. Capts. Stribling and Engle attended Commodore McAuley; and an American gentleman, of Philadelphia, commended to the attention of the Captain General by the Spanish Legation at Washington, was also present. The only Spanish citizen at the table not attached to some branch of the public service, was Mr. Morales, the active business head of the house of Drake & Co. The entertainment was, of course, enjoyed, as there is no one so competent as Gen. Concha, assisted by his charming lady, to give social value to the exquisite feast they cater for their guests:—having the oversight of Bernard, the prince of French cooks. We have nothing new in relation to the State prisoners. The health of Havana continues good. No questions have been asked by Commodore McCauley.

WASHINGTON, May 6th.—Secretary Dobbin is still at Fayetteville, and slowly recovering. He is expected to be here about the last of the month.

Public debt redeemed for the past week $10,700. The number of land warrants applied for during the week amounts to 12,600.—The whole number of applications thus far are 120,800.

The Union denies that Mr. Wise has applied to the President to remove Gov. Reeder.

NEW YORK, May 6th.—Hon. John Savage, formerly Chief Justice of the State, has given his opinion on the prohibitory liquor law, in reply to a request of the Mayor of Utica, taking the ground, that imported liquors may be sold in the original packages, but not with the freedom allowed in the opinion of the Corporation Counsel of this city. He regards the search and seizure clause as constitutional.

MATTERS IN CHINA.—The last accounts from China represent affairs as waxing worse. The Revolutionists had not strength enough to conquer the Imperialists at once, while the latter could not effectually resist the revolution, which seemed destined finally to triumph over all opposition. Canton was said to be surrounded by pirates, who co-operated with the Revolutionists only for the sake of plunder.

STREET ACCIDENTS.—Andrew J. Hart was found in Kneeland street, last night, with his head badly cut and one ear partly torn off. The cause of his misfortunes is attributed to an attempt to forestall the new liquor law.—Dr. Gay dressed the wounds.

BUY THE BEST SPRING MEDICINE.

THERE is no article now before the public that contains the medical properties of PRESTON'S CATHOLICON, and as a Spring

Blood Purifier and Appetiser,

It has no equal. The experience of thousands, and its constant manufacture since 1848, fully prove all that can be written or said in its favor. Numerous articles are offered for all diseases that flesh is heir to; many of them are worthless compounds, and put up to evade the Maine Liquor Law—consisting of poor Rum or Gin, sweetened with molasses, strongly tinctured with Sassafras and Stoughton Bitters, and thus the innocent who wish to purchase an article of Medicine of real worth, are duped by the extravagant advertisements of a worthless article and spend their money for that which is naught.

Purchase a Bottle of

PRESTON'S CATHOLICON,

And if you are not satisfied with its effects, call upon the Agent and receive your money again.

Manufactured and sold by WM. R. PRESTON, Druggist, Portsmouth, N. H., to whom orders for Agencies may be addressed. a26 3w9.

This is no exaggeration—it has been fully tested by responsible individuals in this city, who have been severely afflicted and they have been thoroughly cured.

The Great Specific of the Age.

OXYGENATED BITTERS!

THE ONLY SURE AND SAFE REMEDY EVER DISCOVERED

For the cure of

DYSPEPSIA,

IN ALL ITS VARIOUS FORMS; as well as Liver Diseases, Fever and Ague, Bilious Complaints, Bronchitis, General Debility, and all diseases of a kindred nature.

Read the following testimony from Dr. Henry E. Morrell, a skillful physician of N. Y. city. He says:—"The most effectual medicine to improve the tone and energy of the stomach is that prepared by Dr. George B. Green, of Windsor, Vt., and called the Oxygenated Bitters."

The Oxygenated Bitters do not contain a particle of alcohol in their composition, and are, of necessity, highly concentrated, to prevent the injurious action of the temperature of different climates. Each bottle, when diluted according to the directions, makes nearly half a gallon of medicine, as pleasant to the taste as lemonade; and as to quantity, quite the CHEAPEST MEDICINE.

I have employed them in a multitude of cases, and have uniformly found that, when used according to the directions, they gradually, but surely, remove, one by one, the various distressing symptoms which cluster around the confirmed Dyspeptic, restore the stomach to its lost energies, and thus lead the patient back to the enjoyment of permanent health and strength.

It has also been used by the following persons, and received their unqualified approbation:—

Prof. A. A. Hayes, M. D. State Assayer, Boston

Prof. E. E. Phelps, M. D., of Therapeutics and Materia Medica, Dartmouth College.

Hon. Myron Lawrence, Ex-President of Massachusetts Senate.

—IN—
Rotary Planing, Tonguing and Grooving Machines.

PATENTED NOVEMBER 21st, 1854.

THIS Improvement has been thoroughly tested and found to possess just what is necessary to perfect the rotary planer.

My machine will plane very much faster and better than any other now in use. I would particularly call the attention of those in want of machines for size work, or for planing very thin, cross-grained or knotty material, to these machines, as it is impossible for them to tear or throw out loose knots.

My Clapboard Machine will plane and joint as fast as the clapboards can be put into the machine, and perform the work without sorting them so as to plane with the grain, upon any quality of clapboards, in a very superior manner, without tearing the thin edge.

Applications for rights and machines, or for further particulars, can be made to the Patentee,

HERTS BROTHERS
PENS.
WARRANTED NOT TO CORRODE.

HERTS BROTHERS, having been many years engaged in the manufacture of Metallic Pens, and during that time, having devoted their unceasing attention to improving and perfecting that useful and necessary article, the result of their unceasing efforts and thousands of experiments has been the construction of a Pen on a principle entirely new, combining all the advantages of the elasticity and clearness of the Quill, with six times the durability of the Steel Pen; and thus entirely obviating the only objection that has hitherto existed against the use of Steel Pens.

This Pen will be found an invaluable article in Offices, as they never need wiping, also to Banks and Bankers, as they will not spatter nor out the thinest paper, and are warranted uncorrosive.

CAUTION.—The universal celebrity of these Pens having induced several disreputable Makers to foist upon the public a spurious imitation, it will please to be observed that each genuine Pen is stamped, "HERTS, BROTHERS' PATENT, 1853," and each box of Genuine Pens will contain a label with a fac-simile of the Manufacturers' name.

FOSTER'S PATENT
Deck-Reefing Gear.

By the application of this GEAR, the Topsails of any vessel may be Reefed from the deck with remarkable facility, and carry sail much longer than when rigged in any other way. This Gear can be readily applied to any old rig, and at less expense than any other now in use.

The following is an extract from a letter recently received from Capt. Pickering, of the ship Ocean Rover, of Portsmouth, concerning its merits:—

"It has given me perfect satisfaction, and I have only to regret that it is not applied to all the topsail yards. On the passage to this port, (Charleston, S. C.,) I experienced strong gales from the S. W. and had occasion to use it several times, and on every occasion it worked finely."

A CATHOLIC QUESTION.—"Who shall decide when Bishops disagree." We learn from a foreign correspondent that a most amusing war, full of pleasant incident and drollery is at this moment being carried on between two of the Princes of the Roman Catholic Church, the Archbishops of Paris and of Lyons. Waltz or no waltz is the great question, which rivals in the intensity of argument and interest the conflicts of Bosquet and of Fenelon. His 'grace' of Lyons holds it to be deep damnation in a man to clasp the waist of some beauteous girl, and to the merry tinkling of music, spin her round the saloon like a cheese. His 'grace' of Paris, under the gentle inspiration of Eugenie, pronounces the motion full of poetry, the exercise healthful, the result a lucrative stimulus to employment and to trade. As yet, he of Paris has it all his own way. But the question will not be confined to France, and it is not at all improbable that another conference may be held at Rome which may deprive New York once more, for a time, of the modest presence of the great John Hughes and Timon of Buffalo. The grissettes are wild in enthusiasm for the Archbishop of Paris, and some charming hats and robes 'a l'eveque' present their alluring charms in the windows of the 'rue de la Paix' and Boulevards.—Newburyport Union.

NEW YORK.—A meeting of liquor dealers and liquor consumers was held at Tammany Hall, last week. There was great confusion, and the meeting was quite in keeping with the place. Captain Rynders and Captain French were the principal speakers. Not a man of high standing in the community took part in the exercises, and the affair was ridiculous and abortive. Capt. Rynders said: "I eat what I like when I can get it, and drink what I like when I can get it. I thank God I have hitherto had what I want to eat, and as much as I needed to drink. I have no doubt there are many persons here personally acquainted with me, and who would, at any time, tell the truth in preference to a lie, that will say they know I am about as temperate as any that man can be that can be found in the State of New York. I refer to any such person to know whether in the whole course of my life he ever saw me drunk, or ever saw me make use of intoxicating liquor; notwithstanding that I stand here as the advocate of the right of people to protest against the Maine Law that takes away the rights of liquor dealers." The essence of the meeting is contained in that brief extract.—Life Illustrated.

CHICAGO.—We are indebted to friend Gates of the firm of Jewett & Gates, who attends to the branch of their business in Chicago, for a complete file of the papers of that city, containing the accounts of the late liquor riots. The liquor trials are still going on, and the city, though threatened and under martial law, is quiet. The rioters are mostly Germans, who are determined to sell in spite of law. The prompt response of the regular militia, aided by any number of volunteers and the police, and backed by the order loving native citizens, will soon put an end to the mob spirit. Two lives have been sacrificed, and a large number wounded.—Charlestown Adv.

GREEK CHURCH IN LIVERPOOL.—The Greek merchants resident in Liverpool, in number about one hundred, have taken a house on London terrace, where they worship according to the forms of the Greek Church. The officiating priest is the son of the Patriarch of Constantinople, who arrived a fortnight ago. It is said that a handsome church will soon be built for him.

A HOAX.—A paper published in Brooklyn, N. Y., perpetrated the story that Neal Dow had given $500 to the Roman Catholic Cathedral to be erected in this city. The statement is absolutely and unqualifiedly false.—Portland Journal.

HOW WOMEN WILL DECEIVE.—Our landlords are getting mighty particular about their tenants, as well as their rents. If a body has half-a-dozen children, and of course more need of a house than if he had none at all, he is very coolly told that he cannot have the premises.

"Have you children, madame?" enquired one of these sharpers, of a lady in modest black, who was looking at one of his houses just finished and in perfect order.

"Yes," said the gentle mother, "I have seven, sir, but they are all in the church yard."—A sigh and the dew of a tear gave impressiveness to the painful remark, and without further parley the bargain was closed. Her little flock were waiting for her in the church yard around the corner, and were delighted to hear that she had found a snug house so speedily. The landlord says he shall never trust a woman in black after this.

WEDNESDAY, MAY 9, 1855.

RIGHTS OF BURIAL.

What is now going on in Spain affords a remarkable proof of the small progress that has been made by Romanists in the mere accidence of toleration. Although Spain relies upon England to uphold her rule over Cuba, the government of that country has resolved to apply for the recall of the English ambassador at Madrid, because that gentleman has asked that Protestants in Spain shall be treated with common decency, and be allowed to bury their dead in peace. He does not ask that Protestants shall be placed on the same footing in Spain that Spanish Romanists occupy in England, but only that some small concessions shall be made to the dominant sentiment of the age, concessions that Spain ought to have made voluntarily, and which it is a disgraceful fact that she should be in a condition to have asked of her; and for this enormous offence on his part, Spain is willing to run the risk of diplomatic relations with a country upon which she is leaning for support, and whose fleets she expects would defend Cuba against American attacks, should the disputes between the cabinets at Washington and Madrid unhappily lead to war. It seems that the Spanish government is convinced of the justness of Howden's demands, and would readily grant them if left to decide for itself; but it fears that the fanaticism of the people, who are the bitterest Romanists in the world, would lead to a revolution should it consent to a recognition of the legal right of a Protestant father in Spain to bury his dead child. Fifteen centuries of Romanism in Spain have brought that country to such a point of bigotry that it wars even against dead people, which, however, it must be admitted, are the only sort of people against whom the Spaniards can contend with any chance of success. We are curious to see what kind of an answer the British government will make to the modest demand that has been made upon it by the rulers of the old home of the Inquisition.—What a row the Romanists would kick up if they were not allowed to bury their dead quietly in countries where Protestantism is the prevailing form of religion.—Boston Bee.

In a country where the Roman Church holds the sceptre, it is a question whether the dead body of a protestant may be buried in the ground! and she uniformly answers, No: throw the accursed heretic into the sea, or bury him below high water mark.

Now, here, in our own country, there comes up a different question. It is not, whether a Romanist may live, die, and be buried here; not whether he may have his church, his priest and his rosary.—All this is granted.—But it is, whether he and his priest shall rule here, so as to subvert our American Institutions, and introduce those of Rome, Spain or Portugal. The people of this country have been asleep over this question—but they are waking up to answer it with a decisive No!

THE CURTAIN TO BE RAISED BY THE KNOW NOTHINGS.—It is rumored in political circles that a large number of the most influential members of the dominant party are about to give up their allegiance to the order of Know Nothings, and to adopt a platform which will do away with all secresy, signs, &c., to embrace the prominent principles of the party, to hold their meetings openly, to discuss political topics, make nominations, &c., in public, with a view of rendering the party measures more satisfactory to those who sympathise in the "American" movement, but object to extra judicial oaths.—Boston Chronicle.

Well; we like open daylight; we dislike oaths, and consider that extra judicial oaths are not any better, morally, than those that are judicial. Neither can we see that they are, morally, any worse.

In a legal sense, a judicial oath, authorized and required by a statute, is binding, and a breach of it is perjury. An extra judicial oath is simply a nullity in a legal sense; its breach or violation is not legal perjury; and though Massachusetts has a silly statute against administering such oaths, any good lawyer will see that its execution would be possible only in a few scattered cases.

For the most part, extra judicial oaths are quite as well observed as the judicial.

We would say, first repeal the silly statute,—secondly, abolish nine tenths of the oaths now taken in courts, &c., and turn the rest into affirmations,—and thirdly, have neither secresy nor oath in any party.

Let Yea be yea;—and Nay, nay! All beyond is evil.

It is said there was a great rush for "Medicine" at the city agency, during the last few days of April. We hope the coming season will not prove one of unusual mortality.—Many think it best, however, to prepare for the worst.—Portland Argus, May 7.

No doubt the Argus states the case truly. A medical use, for baths and internal applications, is very extensive;—almost sufficient to account for the agency sales, generally. Much of it, however, is mistaken, and useless or worse. The date, last of April, is worthy of note. The intensified law began to operate on the 1st of May; and in Portland, Neal Dow is Mayor.

☞ Mayor Wood, of New York, has issued an order to the Police requiring special diligence in the arrest of disorderly persons on the Sabbath. It is called out by the unlimited sale of liquor on that day.

ANNA CLAYTON, or the Mother's Trial; a Tale of Real Life.—This is the title of a neat volume of 350 pages, just issued from the press of French & Co. Boston. It is evidently the work of no ordinary hand, the product of no ordinary mind: The true story of a life, told with the springing vivacity of a well written tale of fancy.

Craft, cant and hypocrisy, are made to appear as they are, odious and hateful; while virtue, self-sustained, or rather heaven-sustained, is made to endure and rejoice in tribulation, and to outlive and triumph over it.

The book came to us from Federhen & Co. Boston, via J. P. Morse of this city, from whom the work may be obtained.

POOR BUILDINGS.—Last week, says the Worcester Spy, the stable floor of Mr. Roland F. Dean, in North Brookfield, gave way, suspending his stock of cattle by the neck, and three very valuable oxen were found dead the next morning.

In Cincinnati, on the 12th inst., as several workmen were engaged in rolling a salamander safe into a banking house, the flag stones of the pavement gave way, precipitating the safe and men into the vault under the sidewalk. Two of the men were killed on the spot, and others badly injured.

Deliver us from all sham-built, tumble-down barns and banks. Build us no crazy town houses nor school houses; but make every thing strong and tight.

SUMNER AND SEWARD.—Charles Sumner was recently introduced to a lecture audience in Auburn, N. Y., by Senator Seward, in the following complimentary manner.

"A dozen years ago I was honored by being chosen to bring my neighbors residing here to the acquaintance of a statesman of Massachusetts, who was then directing the last energies of an illustrious life to the removal of the crime of human slavery from the soil of our beloved country—a statesman whose course I had chosen for my own guidance—John Quincy Adams, 'the old man eloquent.' He has ascended to Heaven; and you and I yet remain here, in the field of toil and of duty. And now by a rare felicity I have your instruction to present to you another statesman of Massachusetts—him on whose shoulders the mantle of the departed one has fallen—and who, more than any other of the great and virtuous citizens of his native Commonwealth, illustrates the spirit of the teacher, whom like us he venerated and loved so much—a companion and friend of my own public labors—the 'young man eloquent'—Charles Sumner.

The Plymouth Rock says that "Rev. Mr. Fifield, a Methodist clergyman, whose wife and children reside in Pembroke, has left for parts unknown, with the wife of one of his parishioners in Mansfield, where he has of late been stationed. A rumor is abroad with regard to another clergyman, in Hanson, but of that we cannot speak at present."

But he has spoken, and rather personally too, for there are not many clergymen in Hanson.

PEDESTRIANISM.—The annual ten mile foot race on the ice at Eagle Harbor, Michigan, came off on the 24th of April. The track was rough and cleared of snow, and a strong wind was blowing during the race,—Three Indians, two Germans, and a Frenchman (Antonie Le Duke, who won the purse last year,) started. The first mile was run by the latter in 5 ½2 minutes. After a few rounds, all dropped off, save Le Duke and an Indian. Le Duke continued to widen the gap made on the first mile, passing the stand on the 10th mile in 1 hour and 4 minutes, distancing the Indian, and winning the two purses, $100. After the race a subscription of $40 was raised and given to the Indian.

"THE ELEPHANT" ON A RACE.—An advertisement was published in the New York papers, last week, to' the effect that a race would come off in Brooklyn, between two elephants in harness, drawing German silver fire engines, for $1000 per side. A large number of spectators assembled, but saw only "the elephant," without the race. Plausibility was given to the story, by the fact that a large elephant was ferried across the East River a day or two before.

COL. KINNEY.—New York, May 7.—In the case of Col. Kinney and Mr. Fabens, Judge Ingersol ruled that the case should go on, but the District Attorney said that the law left it at his disposal to call up the case at any time during the first term of the indictment. The case therefore stands over, and the Judge released the sureties in the matter, and required Messrs. Kinney and Fabens to enter into their own recognizance, each in $1000, to appear and answer.

The District Attorney evidently has a weak case, and seems to be aware of it. It would be more manly in him to say so in season.—He must come to it at last.

☞ In the K. N. legislature of Massachusetts, on Saturday, the House indefinitely postponed the bill to demolish the militia system of the State, by a vote of 164 to 32.

The democratic legislature of New Hampshire "demolished" ours, some time ago.

A man died recently in Missouri, forbidding any administration of his estate. The administration being necessary, his son executed it, and afterwards thought he had performed an impious act. This idea got possession of his mind so entirely that he became distracted and shot himself.

LOCAL.

For the Chronicle.

THAT SCHOOL HOUSE.

Messrs. Editors: In reading your daily, I see our City government is about building a new house for the Young Ladies' High School. It appears that some eyes are turned towards the old Alms House lot, on Court St. for the site to build on. Now the city buildings on that lot, together with the lot, pay to the City the interest of $8000 per year, and have paid the Town and City that for nineteen years, and will pay that for more than fifty years to come, if not disturbed. The citizens have built elegant buildings in that vicinity, with reason to believe that the city property in that part of Court St. would not be disturbed for at least two or three ages to come.

I am in favor of the city making outlays always when its condition is going to be improved by the operation. I rejoice that the City Council think of building a house for the Female High School, and I would most respectfully recommend the purchase of three acres of land on Middle Street, and there build an appropriate building for the Young Ladies' Seminary; then those young ladies living in the vicinity of the Plains, Sagamore, Woodbury's, &c, would be among the favored, on account of the pleasant walk they would have to and from the school. The walk would give them health, strength and vigor, and these benefits would be shared by all who should enjoy the walk. A. C.

U. S. CURCUIT COURT.

Present, Hon. Matthew Harvey, Judge.

In the suit of the United States against Pike, Randlett and Clifford, sureties on the recognizance of Woodbury Gilman—judgment was rendered for the defts.

The Court still continues in session.

"BROWN'S DIOPTRIC VIEWS."—This favorite and moral entertainment which closes to-night at the Temple, should be visited by every lover of rational and quiet enjoyment. We do not hesitate to say that we consider the exhibition one of the most pleasing, instructive and amusing we ever saw. This afternoon the Schools will visit the Temple, en masse, to witness the views, and we advise such as are unable to attend this evening to drop in this afternoon. The strictest order is and will be preserved, which is a great desideratum. Mr. Brown opens in Portland tomorrow night—so all who wish to go should remember this afternoon and evening are the last.

☞ Rev. Mr. Moore will preach in the North Vestry, Fleet street, this evening, at half past seven o'clock.

CLERICAL CHANGE.—Matthew Hale Smith, Esq. late a Congregational minister, has been admitted a Candidate for Orders in the Episcopal church.

WASHINGTON, May 7.—People are anxious to see the reply of the Commissioner of Indian Affairs to the recent letter of Gov. Reeder. It is hoped the Governor will publish it.

BUFFALO, May 7, 8 P. M.—The weather is very cold and snow is now falling. The wind is blowing strongly from north east.

Michael L. Sullivant, an Illinois farmer, it is said, is about to plant 10,000 acres of land with corn. He was formerly one of the largest farmers in the State of Ohio, and, according to a cotemporary, he could ride in a direct course fifteen miles, through his own corn fields.

GOODS FOR THE KNOW NOTHINGS.

I SHALL content myself with buying a Box of AYER'S PILLS, at THACHER'S, Corner of State and Pleasant streets. m8

THE VEGETABLE PULMONARY BALSAM has become the most popular medicine ever put forth, for the cure of Coughs, Colds and Consumption. That it is worthy of its high reputation is made sufficiently evident by the immensity of its annual sales.—Messrs Reed, Cutler & Co. are above quackery, depending alone upon the intrinsic virtues of their medicinal preparations for their disposal.—Humbug is so plentiful that it gives us real pleasure to offer this trifling and gratuitous tribute of our recommendation to a Medicine we know to be of real merit.—Vermont Burlington Sentinel.

Would you have Health?

USE LAWRENCE'S VEGETABLE, PHYSical Jaundice BITTERS; and cure your Cough with his PECTORAL. a12 ¶1

ARE YOU SICK?

Then you can't be cured too soon. Don't delay until your complaint is incurable, and then mourn when it is too late. Four fifths of all the diseases which people the church yards might be cured by Ayer's Cathartic Pills. If taken in season. Don't go dragging through the Spring, faint, sleepy and listless, because your blood is loaded with bile. Don't wear the headache, heartburn, and their kindred disorders, because your stomach is foul. Don't parade yourself around the world, covered with Pimples, Blotches, Ulcers, Sores and all or any of the unclean diseases of the skin, because your system wants cleansing. Don't show yourself about, lean, haggard, all cured in, because your stomach and bowels need strengthening into healthy action. Ayer's Pills set these things right as surely as water quenches fire. They purify the body and blood, and restore their functions into healty activity which you can feel as quickly as they are taken. They are the one great medical wonder of this age, recognized by all who know their virtues, and many thousands know them. Take the Cherry Pectoral for a Cough and the Pills for all derangements requiring a purgative medicine.

FROM EUROPE.

ARRIVAL OF THE ASIA—FIVE DAYS LATER.

HALIFAX, May 7th.—The Royal Mail steamship Asia, Capt. Lott, from Liverpool, on Saturday P. M., 28th ult., arrived this evening. Flour adv. 2 or 3s per bbl. in England. Latest by Telegraph.—British accounts from the Crimea are to the 19th, and the Russian accounts to the 22d.

VIENNA CONFERENCE.—The Vienna Conference has proved a total failure. Since the 20th there have been supplementary meetings of the four powers without result.

The Plenipotentiaries assembled on Tuesday afternoon, 23d ult., and signed the protocol of the twelfth or last conference. At the meeting it was agreed, it should not be considered as a 13th conference.

A meeting of the representatives of the four powers was held on Thursday 23d, at the request of Prince Gortschakoff, when some further inadmissable propositions were made by the Russian Plenipotentiaries, and rejected on the part of England, France and Turkey.

SEBASTOPOL.—The bombardment of the city continued. The general tone of opinion in England is, that the war must continue for a lengthened period.

The policy of the Czar Alexander is spoken of by the London Times as a new and more audacious policy, and is so regarded throughout Europe.

It is difficult to form an estimate of the real progress of the siege. From comparing various accounts, an impression is produced that the fire of the Allies is superior to of the city, but the city returns the fire steadily.

The Independence of Brussels has received from Vienna, an alleged despatch from the Crimea, that the allies have suspended the bombardment. It is not stated on what day the fire ceased, but the Independence beleives that the date of the despatch is posterior to that of the last official intelligence, namely, April 22d.

Details say, on the morning of the 14th, that the bombardment and cannonade had continued day and night since day break of the 9th, each of the five hundred guns firing one hundred and twenty rounds daily. The enemy's fire is not much reduced although the Mamelon battery is silenced, and some of the Round Tower guns dismounted; yet the Redan and Garden batteries still keep up a heavy fire.

There were no signs of an immediate assault. During the night of the 14th the French destroyed the Russian rifle ambuscade in front of the Malakoff Tower. A terrible battle between a Russian sortie and the French raged during the night, perhaps the most sanguinary since Inkerman.

The situation of affairs was considered satisfactory by the French.

The French Minister of War learns that the besiegers were still advancing, and more consolidating their position.

The latest from Prince Gortschakoff on the 22d, states that after twelve days bombardment the allied fire had become weak, and caused little damage.

The telegraph is now complete from London to the Crimea, except a few miles between Bucharest and Rudschuk, but the British Government keep exclusive use of it.

Prince Menschikoff is not dead.

ENGLAND.—In Parliament much energetic questioning of Ministers had taken place on various subjects respecting the war; the scope of all the questions being to hasten matters. Sir George Grey stated that authority had been given to Governors of American provinces to enlist men for the regular army, not for a foreign legion, inasmuch as all colonists were British subjects.

Notice has been given of a motion for decimal coinage, and to invite a congress to establish a uniform decimal system throughout the world

Some notice is excited by a report that an American squadron is to make a demonstration against Cuba. It is admitted that a war between the United States and Spain would greatly complicate present European politics.

FRANCE.—It is still reported that Napoleon will command the allied armies, but the report is not generally credited. It is officially announced that his departure for the Crimea is postponed for a short time.

BUY THE BEST SPRING MEDICINE.

THERE is no article now before the public that contains the medical properties of PRESTON'S CATHOLICON, and as a Spring

Blood Purifier and Appetiser,

It has no equal. The experience of thousands, and its constant manufacture since 1848, fully prove all that can be written or said in its favor. Numerous articles are offered for all diseases that flesh is heir to; many of them are worthless compounds, and put up to evade the Maine Liquor Law—consisting of poor Rum or Gin, sweetened with molasses, strongly tinctured with Sassafras and Stoughton Bitters, and thus the innocent who wish to purchase an article of Medicine of real worth, are duped by the extravagant advertisements of a worthless article and spend their money for that which is naught.

Purchase a Bottle of

PRESTON'S CATHOLICON,

And if you are not satisfied with its effects, call upon the Agent and receive your money again.

Manufactured and sold by WM. R. PRESTON, Druggist, Portsmouth, N. H., to whom orders for Agencies may be addressed. a26 3wrn.

The Great Specific of the Age.

OXYGENATED BITTERS!

THE ONLY SURE AND SAFE REMEDY EVER DISCOVERED

For the cure of

DYSPEPSIA,

IN ALL ITS VARIOUS FORMS, AS well as Liver Diseases, Fever and Ague, Billious Complaints, Bronchitis, General Debility, and all diseases of a kindred nature.

Read the following testimony from Dr. Henry E. Morrell, a skillful physician of N. Y. city. He says:—"The most effectual medicine to improve the tone and energy of the stomach is that prepared by Dr. George B. Green, of Windsor, Vt., and called the Oxygenated Bitters."

The Oxygenated Bitters do not contain a particle of alcohol in their composition, and are, of necessity, highly concentrated, to prevent the injurious action of high temperature of different climates. Each bottle, when diluted according to the directions, makes nearly half a gallon of medicine, as pleasant to the taste as lemonade; and as to quantity, quite the CHEAPEST MEDICINE.

I have employed them in a multitude of cases, and have uniformly found that, when used according to the directions, they gradually, but surely, remove, one by one, the various distressing symptoms which cluster around the confirmed Dyspeptic, restore the stomach to its lost energies, and thus lead the patient back to the enjoyment of permanent health and strength.

It has also been used by the following persons, and received their unqualified approbation:—

Prof. A. A. Hayes, M. D., State Assayer, Boston
Prof. E. E. Phelps, M. D., of Therapeutics and Materia Medica, Dartmouth College.
Hon. Myron Lawrence, Ex-President of Massachusetts Senate.
Hon. L. H. Arnold, formerly Governor of Rhode Island, now member of Congress.

GRATITUDE OF SLAVES.—Two male slaves of the late Mr. Brice B. Brewer, of Annapolis, were manumitted by him previous to his recent death. A few days ago, however, they appeared before the Orphans' Court of Anne Arundel County, and stated that they, and their mother, who had also been manumitted, desired to serve Mrs. Brewer, their last master's widow, until she raised her youngest child, and therefore wished to be bound to her for ten years; and it is stated they appeared grieved when the court informed them they could be bound only until they arrived at the age of 21 years. They expressed their determination, however, to serve their mistress for 10 years. One is 20, and the other 18 years of age.—Baltimore Sun.

HERTS BROTHERS
PENS.
WARRANTED NOT TO CORRODE.

HERTS BROTHERS, having been many years engaged in the manufacture of Metalic Pens, and during that time, having devoted their unceasing attention to improving and perfecting that useful and necessary article, the result of their unceasing efforts and numerous experiments has been the construction of a Pen on a principle entirely new, combining all the advantages of the elasticity and clearness of the Quill, with six times the durability of the Steel Pen; and thusentirely obviating the only objection that has hitherto existed against the use of Steel Pens.

FOSTER'S PATENT
Deck-Reefing Gear.

By the application of this GEAR, the Topsails of any vessel may be Reefed from the deck with remarkable facility, and carry sail much longer than when rigged in any other way. This Gear can be readily applied to any old rig, and at less expense than any other now in use.

The following is an extract from a letter recently received from Capt. Pickering, of the ship Ocean Rover, of Portsmouth, concerning its merits:—

"It has given me perfect satisfaction, and I have only to regret that it is not applied to all the topsail yards. On the passage to this port, (Charleston, S. C.,) I experienced strong gales from the S. W. and had occasion to use it several times, and on every occasion it worked finely."

STATISTICS IN MASSACHESETTS. — The Commissioners on Insanity and Idiocy, report that there are in the State of Massachusetts, 3719 of both classes. Of the Insane 1259 are males, and 1373 females; 2007 are natives, and 625 foreigners; 2018 are incurable.—They reccommend that a third hospital be built in the western part of the State.

Of the idiots there are more males than females—the reverse of lunatics—622 of the former, 426 of the latter; 417 are supported from the public treasury; and but 44 are foreigners. The proportion of idiots to the whole population, is one in 1034 of whites, and one in 922 of blacks. The proportion of lunatics, is one in 425 of whites, and one in 1020 of blacks.

The Commissioners state that idiocy and lunacy predominate among the poorer classes, and are more difficult of cure with them. The panper class furnish 64 times as many as the independant class; and of the incurable, with the first named, there are 85 per cent, and of the second 70 per cent.

Much insanity is caused by intemperance; and that occasioned by any animal indulgences more difficult of cure than from sickness or mental excitement. Of insanity occasioned by religious excitement 72 per cent recover; by ill health 70; while that from sensuality shows a recovery of but 14 per cent. For the insane paupers the cost of the State annually is $146,000.—Newburyport Herald.

TROUBLE AMONG THE STUDENTS.— The Lebanon Whig has an account of a riot at Hanover, between the students of Dartmouth College and the cadets of the Norwich Military School. It seems that some difficulty had occurred, wherein the cadets felt themselves insulted, and they crossed the river in skiffs to seek redress. The college students met them promptly, and quite a battle ensued, in which the cadets were vanquished by the superior number of the students. Finding themselves worsted, the cadets' drew their knives and pistols, and were about to wage deliberate war, when the officers of the college interfered. Meanwhile the college boys set the boats adrift, and thus cut off all retreat to the cadets, who were obliged to travel a long distance to regain the western shore of the river. The matter is to be investigated.
